WEAKNESS IN STOCK MARKET

SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

Examiner Special

New York, Aug. 17.—The feature of the week were Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance, the cut in the price of copper metal, and the sharp decline in the stock market. Mr. Bryan's speech was ignored at first and Wall Street sneered at it, declaring that it was without market influence. A more careful study of the speech gave the big men in the street a different idea, and they saw in it elements that spoke for votes. This caused some of the big speculators to throw over stocks in large blocks. While this liquidation was in progress the first announcement of a cut in the price of copper metal was made. The result was that others with stocks to sell dumped them into the market and the sellers being more numerous than the buyers, prices at the end of the week were from 5 to 20 points lower than on Monday. The heaviest losses were made in the copper stocks, the steel issues and Missouri Pacific. The trading on the New York Stock and Consolidated Stock Exchanges was very heavy and all commission houses reported the best business for several months.

The effect in the cut in the price of copper was not felt until the day following the reduction. This was the first check in the copper market for several weeks, and traders and speculators had begun to believe that the price of copper would advance steadily to 15 cents a pound. When they realized that the demand which had kept well up with the supply, and which had caused the price to advance, had fallen behind the production, they became alarmed and the pessimists immediately began to predict that copper would once more go back to 15 certs. It seems, judging from foreign advices, that the recent rise in the metal was due as much to foreign speculation as to an increased demand by the electrical and equipment companies.

There has been a steady improvement in the iron and steel situation during the week with increased buying by the railroads and by structural companies, it will not take long for the steel makers to get back to normal conditions. Southern pig iron was decidedly stronger, most of the interests in this grade being comfortably sold up and out of the market. New England continues to be a circumspect but fairly good buyer of foundry grades. In the Pittsburg district there is a decidedly better inquiry for foundry iron, although Bessemer and Basa are weaker.

NECK BROKEN IN FALL FROM A LUMBER PILE

Fatal Accident Near Madoc—Death of Mr. W. A. Phillips.

Madoc, Aug. 17—A fatal accident befell Mr. W. A. Phillips, a well-known resident of Malone, on Friday last. He was uncovering a lumber pile which he intended loading on cars, and while removing one of the boards it broke, precipitating him to the ground and breaking his neck Mr. Phillips was an employee of McKenzie & Co. Another brother was killed a few years ago by falling from a trestle while superintending the building of a bridge. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Louis Kellar, Huntingdon Township.

To-night—First Concert of the season, Forester's Hall, Simcoe St. by the Celebrated Soanes Family. Admission 25c.

TROUT LAKE CAMPERS CHASE A FAWN

Chased by a Hound and Was Seeking Safety.

Bancroft, Aug. 17.—Special.—Some of the campers at Trout Lake had an exciting chase after a fawn one evening last week. The little fellow had evidently been driven into the water by a dog and was making for a place of safety, when noticed by a number of people who were out boating. They got close enough to him to almost touch him with a paddle.

Rich Prairie Lands Lie Beyond City Of Edmonton; Vast Resources Of The West

Mr. Jas. A. Fife Brings Samples of Grain From Far North—Oats And Wheat Over Four Feet Tall

CONDITION OF THE CROPS

Barley—3 feet, 6 inches.
Wheat—4 feet, 2 inches.
Oats—4 feet, 4 inches.

On a farm ten miles north of the city of Edmonton the above grains grew and are growing now unless reaped since Mr James Fife left that district. There is no mistake about where these grains thrived and their measurement. Mr. Fife who is on a visit of about ten days from Edmonton, plucked them from one farm ten miles north of Edmonton, not many miles from the confines of the Arctic regions. Several who were in the Examiner office this morning saw the straw measured and the above lengths are correct.

With such monuments of the resources of Canada's hinterlands lying beyond the frontiers of present western civilization, there can be little doubt as to the value of these immense regions. Mr. Fife states that the crops for miles to the north of Edmonton are phenomenal. The samples he brought to Peterborough with him are a fair average. They all come from one farm and are not single stalks of grain but bundles.

In the Edmonton district itself the crops are excellent. In Southern Alberta the wheat crop has been pretty well harvested and will average 45 bushels to the acre. On account of the dry weather the crops around Moose Jaw are shorter than usual but the yield will be a good average.

In the vicinity of Indian Head the prospects are excellent. Along the route of the Canadian Pacific through the Province of Manitoba the straw was shorter than usual but farther north the crop reports are favourable. The wheat cutting is in full swing throughout Manitoba and Saskatchewan and around Edmonton the oats and barley were out. On the whole the outlook was good.

Bobby Kerr And Others Here For Harriers' Annual Meet

Like That of Last Year Held in Brock Street Rink—A Card of Fast Events Will be Presented —Now Being Arranged For.

BE HELD IN SEPTEMBER

The citizens of Peterborough will have an opportunity of seeing the flower of Canada's athletes at a meet which the Y. M. C. A. Harriers intend to hold in September. It will be like that held in the Brock Street Rink last fall, when Tom Longboat and others were here. The next one however, will be on a larger scale than that of last year, and an evening of fast sport is promised. Bobby Kerr is practically assured, also Ed. Archibald, Galbraith, Tait, Wood, Cotter, Seibert, and others. The Harriers will also have Fred Simpson and other local men.

The club's meet last year was such a success that it should be an easy matter to get the most of the men mentioned and others it needed.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM THE DISASTROUS FERNIE FIRE

In a letter received by Mr. G. Marshall from his brother Mr. A. P. Marshall, of Cranbrook, B. C., the latter tells of some of his experience during the great Fernie fire. Mr. Marshall, who is an engineer on the C. P. R., running from Cranbrook, says, "Our escape was miraculous. I never hope to see the like again, we thought our time had come." After representing his lodge at the convention at Columbus, Ohio, Mr. Marshall intends visiting his brother here in Peterborough, some time in September.

AWOKE TO FIND HANDSOME BURGLAR HOLDING HER HAND

Milwaukee, Aug. 7.—The mysterious and elusive marauder who has been ransacking rooms in the northwestern part of the city continues his depredations.

Mrs. Henry Grappenthein, No. 928 Wright street, awoke from a sound sleep to find a handsome burglar holding her hand. Hearing stories of recent depredations in that part of Milwaukee, Mrs. Grappenthein had barred the windows before retiring. Near the window she had placed a chair. The burglar placed several boards beneath the window in order to leave no footprints. He then pried it open. Mrs. Grappenthein's hand rested on the chair, the window being close to her bed. She awoke, feeling her hand being softly pressed. "At first I thought it was my husband," she said, "but the hand that clasped mine was soft. I awoke and found myself looking into a strange man's eyes. He was a good looking man, small, about twenty-four years old and was fashionably dressed. He was standing just outside the window and was trying to get my hand off the chair so he could get in."

Mrs. Grappenthein screamed loudly and her husband awoke. Then the burglar smiled and retreated.

Several other places were visited. Albert Drews, boarding at the home of Walter Weiss, No. 978 Ninth street, returned from the theatre and found the rear door of his room open. He struck a match and saw the crouching form of a man well dressed in black and with a white bow tie. Instantly the man sprang up, blew out the match and escaped.

From Pennsylvania To This City In Automobile Tour

Thousands of miles in a touring car have been covered during the past three weeks by Mr. C. Dittman with his wife and family. Their home is in Waynesburg, Pa., where Mr. Dittman has considerable interest in the production of oil. His journey to Peterborough has been very roundabout. He went northwesterly through Ohio and Michigan, coming into Ontario near Port Arthur. He then came on down until he reached Peterborough, where he will spend a short time at Stony Lake. He is driving in a Maxwell, 40-h. p touring car.

In his long trip Mr. Dittman has passed over all kinds of roads, but believes there he has met in Ontario are as good as any.

LAW AND ORDER ARE AGAIN REIGNING IN SPRINGFIELD

Examiner Special.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—With nearly the entire force of the Illinois National Guards in control to-day, Springfield again is ruled by law and order. A careful estimate places the number of negroes who have left Springfield since the beginning of the race war at 2,000. The great mass of the scurrying blacks are still within the State.

ONLY ONE CENT TO BE CHARGED ON DROP LETTERS

A Reduction From the Two-Cent Rate—A Great Convenience.

The one cent drop rate went into effect in Canada Monday last, and Peterborough and all other cities in Canada possessing a letter carrier service shall pay a rate of only one cent per ounce on all letters for local delivery, instead of two as heretofore. This reform will be of great convenience to business men who send out a large local mail. The expense has been found so great under the old rate that many firms and business people have for some years delivered their accounts and advertising letters either by private carriers or through local messenger agencies, and the postoffice department has thus lost a large revenue. It is estimated that the increased volume of business will more than compensate for the reduction in postage.

TWELVE YEARS OF LAURIER.

(Montreal Herald.)

While there is a certain importance to be attached to the question whether a country, or a business, or an individual manages to live within the income available, year by year, that is not by any means the only question of critical interest. With the individual, for example, an equally vital question is as to how much revenue he has at command. The head of a house may find it possible to subsist his family on four hundred dollars a year. If that is all he has, a part of it must go for rent, for his family must be housed; a part of it must go for food, for the family must be fed; and a part of it must go for raiment, for his family must be clad. He may not have any left over at the end of his year, and may, indeed, owe a little to the grocer and the landlord. But if the same person can succeed to bring his revenue up to eight hundred or nine hundred, how unimportant the old question of a few dollars more or less at the end of the year looks beside the good things to be got from the extra five hundred. Shelter, food and raiment on the scale of the mere subsistence can still be had for the four hundred, and the extra money is translated into terms of things, all idea of which had formerly to be renounced. From the first of these conditions to the last is precisely the progress that has been made by the Dominion of Canada during the Twelve Years of Laurier.

The period between 1886 and 1896 was one of bare subsistence for the Dominion of Canada, in so far as related to its public revenue, and what could be done with that revenue. In 1886 there was a revenue of thirty-three millions, but Parliament had not all that to work with. Far from it. Interest charges took ten and a half millions. Provincial subsidies four, sinking funds one and a half, and the collection of the revenue cost nearly eight. Here were twenty-four millions of the thirty-three gone, disposed of, effectively out of existence, before Parliament got it at all. Parliament had to spend that year, on ordinary services, fifteen million dollars, and Parliament had nine millions to do it with. In the same year Parliament felt obliged to spend twelve millions on capital account and railway subsidies, and had to borrow the money to do it. There were just nine millions with which to do twenty-seven millions worth of work—and many good works had to be put aside altogether.

By 1886, we were not much better off. The revenue was now thirty-six millions, but interest, subsidies sinking fund and collections ran away with over twenty-six. There were ten millions left with which to run the country, and nothing left over for the seven millions spent on public works and railway subsidies.

Now we pass to the year 1906, which may be taken for convenience as the final figures for the twelfth year are not yet available, and note the difference. The revenue, that used to be thirty-three and thirty-six millions, has grown to eighty millions. The debt and sinking fund charges, like the poor man's rent and coal bill, are just what they were before, the Provincial subsidy is half as much again as it used to be, the charge for collection, thanks to greater activity on the Intercolonial and in the Post-Office, has about doubled, and there is left over, not the nine millions of 1886, not the ten millions of 1896, but just about thirty-three million dollars. We spent thirty millions that year on administering and developing the country, and had thirteen to the good after all that was done, and this we spent on works of a permanent nature, for which the demand came from all parts of the Dominion. Eighty-nine millions were spent in this way in the first eleven years of Laurier, and while they were being spent, the national debt was reduced by five millions. Canada has been equipped during the Twelve Years of Laurier, with an up-to-date plant, all paid for. That is what it means. And her revenue has been raised, without imposing so much strain as used to be imposed by the collection of less than half the amount, to such a degree that we can take on such works as the National Transcontinental, the Georgian Bay Canal, the Welland Canal deepening, the double-tracking and extension of the Intercolonial, and the further improvement of the St. Lawrence route, each in its turn, with feelings of confidence that would have been unknown to our public men twelve years ago.

WESTERN CALL FOR MEN

Preparations have commenced in earnest for the handling of the Northwest's big wheat crop, the only difficulty experienced by farmers being the scarcity of labour in the harvest fields. To induce men to go west the C. P. R. has made the remarkably low rate of ten dollars from Ontario. This fare carries the ticket holder to any point on the company's lines east at Moose Jaw; trains are run direct to Winnipeg, and the men are ticketed there for the points where they wish to work. After at least one month's work in the field, labourers are issued tickets back to Ontario starting point at $18.00. Leaving dates of Canadian Pacific excursions are Aug. 18, Sept. 1, 8, from stations northwest of Toronto, Aug. 18, 19, Sept. 1, 9, from stations southwest of Toronto, and Aug. 20, 22, 27, Sept. 2, 11, 14 from stations east of Toronto. The most important excursions are Aug. 18 and 20, and on these dates special trains will be run from all C. P. R. stations, times of which agents will furnish. The C. P. R. is the only Canadian route to the west, and the only line carrying Farm Laborers through without change. Apply to ticket agents, or C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, Toronto, for full information. 2d13-3463

MANY INQUIRIES ABOUT CHILDREN AT THE SHELTER

Since Appearance of Article in Canadian Dairyman and Farming World.

Since the appearance of the article in the Canadian Dairyman and Farming World last week, relative to the homeless children in the Shelter, Miss Morse, editor of the Household Department of that journal, has received numerous inquiries from parties in various parts of the province. The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World has a large circulation in Western Ontario, and a dozen letters or more have been received from Middlesex, Huron, Lambton and other counties for definite information. In addition to that some half dozen long distance 'phone messages have reached their office. At the Shelter Mr. and Mrs. Henry, have had two or three personal calls from people desiring to take children into their homes and also a few telephone communications.

Mr. E. L. Goodwill, secretary of the Children's Aid Society, is out of the city for a couple of weeks, and as he attends to the drawing up of the papers for placing the children those desiring to take them are requested to wait until this return.

NOT MUCH CHEESE CONSUMED

Canadians Do Not Know Real Value of Cheese as a Food—Too Many Culls Left Here.

HOME MARKET IMPORTANT

From The Canadian Dairyman

In last issue we endeavored to show why the people in our towns and cities do not consume more cheese. The majority of them do not know what first-class well cured cheese is like. They have become so accustomed to eating "rejected" and "off" flavored stuff that they think the taste and flavor of this is that of the genuine article.

Many people acquired the same false taste in regard to butter and milk. There are thousands of people in Toronto who condemn milk treated and handled in a scientific manner as is done by the large dairy companies, because it has not the color and flavor of the milk they have been accustomed to get from the smaller dairies, and which has been handled in a more or less unsanitary way. They reason that milk treated in the up-to-date fashion has lost its flavor, and is not as good as milk not so treated. The same thing occurred a few years ago when creamery butter was first introduced. People said it had a "flat" taste or no taste at all. They had false ideas as to what good butter should be, due to consuming butter with all kinds of flavors, which they naturally believed were the natural flavors of butter.

But all this has changed. There are no false notions as to what good butter is to-day. The same thing happened in regard to milk. People are gradually learning that that old "barnyard" flavor in milk is not the natural flavor but the result of uncleanly methods of milking and handling the product. The same change would be effected in regard to cheese if a sufficient quantity of well made and well cured cheese were put upon the local market to enable people to judge what it is like. If this were done, the generally accepted belief that foreign flavors, coarse texture, and leathery consistency found in so much of the cheese sold over the country to-day are inherent in Canadian cheese would soon cease to exist. There would be less wonder then as to why the Englishman has such a fondness for our product that he will buy millions of dollars of it in a season.

But the placing of well made well-cured cheese on the local market will not alone develop the home demand as it ought to be developed. Canadians as a class do not know the real value of cheese as a food. They buy cheese in pound and half-pound lots more as a luxury than anything else. Well-cured cheese is one of the most nutritious of human foods. There is more nourishment in a pound of well cured cheese than in three or four pounds of beef. And yet people will pay 18c or 20c a lb. for sirloin, and grumble when cheese sells at 16c a lb. Our people must be taught that cheese is just as nourishing food for the everyday working man as meat is, and pound for pound is much more valuable as a food.

An educational campaign should be entered upon by our dairymen. In some way the people in our towns and cities should be informed that the dairymen of this country are producing an article of food that is second to none in its nourishing properties. Then back this up by a liberal supply of well-made well-cured cheese. In some of the large cities of the old land a market ought to be found at some price for "culls" or cheese that is not up to the standard. Let it be sent out of the country and labelled for what it is. If this were done there would be less of it made. And this must needs be done if the home market is to be developed as it ought to be.

It is a question of whether the home market is of sufficient importance to warrant such a procedure. A population of 7,000,000 ought to supply a market for a large share of Canada's cheese output if it were properly looked after. One way to look after it is to give our own people the best and not the worst. There is of course the danger of Canada's reputation for fine cheese being injured by exporting "rejected." It would not be injured however if this quality was branded as second or third grade. With no local market to fall back upon, the percentage of inferior stuff would soon be reduced to a minimum. Factories would be more careful as to quality, if they could not get the same price for their "culls" from the local storekeeper or patron, as for the good stuff sent out of the country.

In last issue we pointed out that the percentage of "culls" in recent years has been greatly reduced. At the present rate of progress, a few years hence a "cull" as we formerly knew it will be hard to find. With few if any "culls" to find a market for, the time is opportune for making a special effort to develop the home market.

GIVEN TILL TUESDAY.

Then C. P. R. Will Fill Places of the Striking Mechanics.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—The following notice has been issued by General Manager Leonard of the C. P. R. to the mechanics on strike at the various points along the line:

"The company will at 12 noon on Tuesday, Aug. 18, commence filling vacancies in shops and car department. Seniority standing of employes engaged in resuming work thereafter will count only from date on which they start work."

The men profess to regard the notice as a bluff and say the company has been hard at work trying to fill the vacancies.

North Bay, Aug. 17.—The strike situation on this division of the C. P. R. favors the strikers for the Chapleau and Schreiber shops are idle, not a strike-breaker being in evidence, while at North Bay the new staff is dwindling daily, six going out Saturday. Four of these were given transportation to Montreal by the company and two were looked after by the strike committee. The strike-breakers going out state that the living in the boarding cars is unbearable and predict a general desertion.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—The Department of Labor a few days ago received a message from Moosejaw, complaining that the alien labor law was being violated at that point. A reply was sent, pointing out that the enforcement of the law was a matter for the aggrieved party and the local court. The procedure is for the person who desires to bring action to obtain leave of the Provincial Attorney-General or judge.

Slew Her Husband.

New York, Aug. 17.—Mrs. Rose Graziano, 19 years old, walked into a police station in Brooklyn yesterday, presented a loaded revolver to the detective at the desk, and announced that she had shot her husband, Dominick Graziano, an Italian barber.

"I killed him because he wanted me to become an immoral woman," Mrs. Grasiano said to the detective. "Do you think I did wrong?"

CANOE CLAIMS TWO.

Thessalon and Day Mills Men Drown In Lake Waquekobing.

Thessalon, Aug. 17.—John Willan of Thessalon and Charles Pinder of Day Mills were drowned Saturday.

They had been across Lake Waquekobing in a canoe, taking Mrs. Willan with them. She was picking berries while they went for some logs, telling her they would return within an hour.

After waiting till near dark Mrs. Willan walked around the road several miles to her home at Day Mills and reported the matter. James Harris found the canoe upside down on the north side of the lake.

Yesterday morning letters were found floating on the lake, which had evidently dropped out of Pinder's pocket when the canoe overturned.

Three Are Stabbed.

Boston, Aug. 17.—During a fight on Atlantic avenue early yesterday morning between the crew of a train on the Union Freight Railroad, a local transfer line, and a number of Italians, Peter Needham, a switchman, was stabbed to death, Thomas Morse was probably fatally cut, and Thomas Curley, the engineer of the train, was slightly wounded.

The railroad men claimed that the Italians obstructed the train, and that in an attempt to clear the track the Italians pulled knives.

Three of them were arrested.

Overcrowding Trains.

London, Ont., Aug. 17.—William Mullen of Dorchester fell from a Pere Marquette Railway train and was killed, and the coroner's jury, while holding the officials guiltless, says:

"We feel that attention of the Dominion Railway Commission should be urgently called to the violation of the laws of the land by railroad companies in allowing passenger trains to be overloaded much beyond their capacity, and that more stringent measures should be adopted and put in force, so as to improve the safeguarding of human life."

Hill Nearly Loses Hand.

St. Paul, Mich., Aug. 17.—James J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern Railway, met with an accident Saturday at Grasston, Minn. His hand was caught in an automobile wheel and nearly torn off.

Dr. Wild Very Low.

Calls Off Labor Day.

Windsor, Aug. 17.—There will be no Labor Day celebration here this year. The reason is that expressions of discontent have been heard from some merchants who in other years have always given the prizes. Many of the men will celebrate the holiday in Detroit.

BUSINESS METHODS IN FARMING

Farmers Should Know What Their Cows Are Returning—Provide Against Loss.

DANGEROUS FARMING

From The Canadian Dairyman.

"How many of you farmers can tell me what it costs you each year to feed each of your cows, and how much each of your cows is returning you in the way of profit," asked Mr. N. G. Somerville, of Brockville, Ont., at a picnic held recently at Hartley, in Victoria county, by the patrons of the Eldon creamery. "If you cannot," continued Mr. Somerville, "you are farming on a dangerous basis."

"There are a lot of people in Ontario who are not making as much money out of dairying as they might, and as they ought. They look so closely at the cheese board prices each week, they forget to watch the production side of their business. They cannot tell what it costs them to feed their cows, or what their cows are yielding, and by this lack of knowledge, they lose more money than they realize. Very few dairy farmers know whether their cows are producing 3000 lbs. or 4000 lbs. of milk a year. A merchant who continues to pay more for his goods than he sells them for, soon fails. The farmer who cannot tell whether he is paying more to keep his cows than his cows are paying him for their keep, is farming in a dangerous manner.

"Two years ago I visited some 75 farmers in Eastern Ontario, and asked them what it cost them to keep their cows each year. Many of them could not tell me. Finally, by picking it out of them, I got their estimates. I found that one herd, owned by Brown Bros., of Lyn, Ont., averaged 6600 lbs. of milk a year from each cow. The factory returns from each cow averaged $62 a year. In the same section there was another farmer producing milk for the same factory who, after I had talked the matter over with him, estimated that it cost him $33 a year to keep each of his cows. When we got his factory returns, we found that the revenue from each cow averaged only $14.70 a year. That man was astonished when he saw the figures, but he could not dispute their correctness. Many other farmers would be equally astonished were they to figure out their returns in the same way.

"Our farmers should realize that it does not pay to keep a cow that gives less than 6000 lbs. of milk a year. Some farmers seem to think that if a cow has horns, a tail and a hide, that is about all that is necessary to enable it to be kept with a profit, regardless of the care they give it, and the feed it receives. It is a great mistake. The cow is a machine that will give returns in proportion to the feed and care it receives. The only way to tell what your cows are doing is to watch each cow carefully. The milk of every cow should be weighed. If you have not been doing this, it is altogether likely that you are keeping cows at a loss. Is it not time for you to look into this matter, and find where you stand?"

GRADING OF CREAM IN AUSTRALIA

Compulsory There—Quality Approaches The One Standard.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

In Queensland, Australia, the grading of cream is compulsory. The system has only been in force a few months and is working very satisfactorily. Other states are now considering the adoption of similar legislation.

While no one would have the hardihood to advocate compulsory grading of cream in Canada, the butter industry would be benefitted if more of our creameries adopted grading. It would have a more sanitary effect upon the patrons. Every patron would strive to have his cream grade No. 1.

Wherever grading cream has been practised for a length of time, the quality of cream received gradually approaches the one standard. In other words, after a time all the cream received qualifies for first grade. This makes the work of grading less onerous, as it would be only occasionally there would be any second or third grade cream to make up.

But when this condition is reached it would not do to give up grading. It is because grading is followed that the quality of cream received is so uniform. If grading were discontinued after being established, patrons, or at least many of them would soon return to the old order of things.

Will not some of our creameries try grading and report the results to The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World?

NOT MANY PATRONS USE ICE FOR MILK

From The Canadian Dairyman.

We were surprised recently in visiting some of what are considered the best dairying sections of Eastern Ontario, to find that in some large factories not more than two or three patrons had put in an ice supply for cooling purposes, although a good quality of ice could be secured conveniently near the farms. If farmers appreciated the necessity for cooling their milk and cooling it quickly, they would be more careful to make provision for doing the same.

It is not absolutely necessary to have a supply of ice for cooling purposes. If farmers would only utilize the facilities which they have or could secure at little cost for cooling with water, a marked improvement would result. Ice is, of course, better than water for cooling purposes, but water answers the purpose very well.

C is in receipt of letter from Ernest Thompson Seton, from his summer home, "Wyndygoon", Cos Cob, Connecticut advising him that Hamlin Garland the famous writer of Western stories, will visit Edmonton toward the end of August or the beginning of September, in search of material for a new book he purposes writing. Mr. Garland is one of the cleverest of American novelists, and will be entertained by the Canadian club on the occasion of his visit to this city.

THE LATEST INVENTIONS IN THE ELECTRICAL WORLD

Electric News Service

Schenectady, N.Y., Aug. 17.—Berlin police are taking steps to prevent the best streets from being disfigured by electric signs. No objections are offered to the erection of street signs in ugly or confined spaces, but they will be excluded from the best streets.

Although milking cows by electricity was at first ridiculed, it has been demonstrated that it can be successfully and profitably accomplished.

Marconi is working upon a system of wireless telegraphy by which wireless messages can be sent both ways at once. He is also experimenting with a device to locate the direction from which a message is coming.

One of the inventors of the General Electric Company has patented a device for holding the recording instruments on electric vehicles. Until this device was produced, the watt-meters and other meters were not accurate on account of the vibrations. The new attachment does away with all this trouble.

A large system of electric signals has just been completed along the line of the Caledonian Railway, Glasgow, which is the first installation of its kind in Scotland.

The colours of lightning flashes vary from white to blue. Red is the commonest in forked lightning, with blue closely following, and orange and green less frequent. White is seen oftenest in sheet lightning, red and yellow coming next. Hail usually comes in a thunderstorms with blue lightning.

By adopting the electric drive in English rolling mills, the output of the mills wherever that power has been installed has been more than doubled.

A Chicago church has installed electric footlights on the floor at each corner of the pulpit to obviate the objections of the pastor to the light falling on him from above.

The transmission of pictures of the drawing of pictures, so to speak, by wireless telegraphy, after the system invented or devised by H. Knudsen, the German scientist, is giving satisfactory results, and promises to become of practical use. By the same system, Knudsen asserts that he can operate a typesetting machine anywhere within the field of the station's operating capacity.

The success of electrically-driven pumps for supplying water for irrigation purposes on lands lying along transmission lines of suburban railways having been demonstrated by the Puget Sound Railway and Power Company, between Seattle and Tacoma, the irrigation in that way of such lands, where irrigation would be an important help to farming, is being suggested as a new and profitable field for central station managers to exploit for promoting the sale of electrical energy in territory tributary to their lines.

Electric cookin gutensils in kitchens of railway dining cars do away with the danger always involved where glowing coals and open flames are the rule. The necessary current for electric cooking can be produced by a dynamo driven by a small Curtis steam turbine located in the baggage car.

Clarina Church Concert Attended By Lake Visitors

MANY PERSONAL ITEMS

Examiner Special

Crowe's Landing, Aug. 16 — The annual tea meeting and concert of the Carmel Methodist Church at Clarina, near here, was held Friday night, and as usual was a red letter event for the summer visitors at lake, who for many years have attended in large numbers and invariably contributed to the programme Friday night's affair was in no wise different from its predecessors inasmuch as there was a very large attendance of the cottagers at the east end of the lake and they gave the greater part of the programme.

The affair was a great success in every particular. The attendance was very large and the programme was most enjoyable, the numbers being enthusiastically received by the audience. The finances of the church will be increased to the extent of $94.

Tea and a most sumptuous repast t proved, was served in the church grounds and the campers with their appetites sharpened by the Stony Lake breezes did ample justice to the many good things provided by the ladies to whom the greater part of the success of the affair is due.

Rev. Dr. Marvin acted as chairman and the following programme was rendered:—

ISABELLE TURNER, ACTRESS, IN THE MAZES OF THE SHEATH

Isabelle Turner has had her troubles with the sheath gown in Muncie, Ind. She sends the following letter from that city to the New York Clipper, the well-known theatrical paper:

"No doubt many people saw in yesterday's papers an account of my arrest for wearing a sheath skirt on the street in Muncie. I ordered a gown from New York, and wore it for the first time in Muncie. I liked it very much because of its comfort and coolness for summer, and it is a very neat affair.

"I wear little purple satin leggings, the skirt being open about eight inches from the hem. In walking it will show just a little of the ankle and foot, and I am sure all ladies having a pretty foot and neat ankle will adopt this style of skirt for hot weather.

"But the people of Muncie objected to such a costume being worn on the streets, and had me arrested for outraging them on the public streets. I felt terribly humiliated this morning to appear in court. And yet it was amusing to see some of the citizens there, who do not know the difference between a skirt and overalls.

"I was rather angry at the prosecuting attorney, who, I thought, asked unnecessary questions just because I was an actress. But when he confessed that he himself rather liked the dress, and thought the leggings the cutest things he ever saw, I forgave him."

WOULD LIKE TO HAVE HATS REMOVED

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir—I rise to a point of order and I think it is entirely out of order for the ladies to attend such places of amusement such as the Crystal and neglect or refuse to remove their hats, but persist in shutting out the view of all others who do remove their hats. Every person pays for the pleasure of attending this lovely place of resort and entertainment and why should their view be obstructed or their pleasure lessened by reason of hats running in size from a candy pail to a washtub. In the opera house if they neglect to remove their hats they are requested to do so by the audience and I have noticed that they generally comply with the request, and why not at the Crystal? Let us have this matter attended to and there will be no more fault finding.

LONG SUFFERER.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. The New York Ladies' Tailoring establishment have removed their parlours and workshop from 658 George street to 387 Reid street, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral, for the better accommodation of their patrons, and are prepared to take orders in any line of ladies' garments. AN ALLEGED JOKE AT EXPENSE OF THE JUDGES

Was There Really and Truly a Laugh at Their Expense at Chemong Park?

What do the judges at the Chemong regatta know about this from the Lindsay Free Press?

A funny story is told about the Chemong regatta, held on Thursday last, which reflects credit on Warner, the clever paddler. Warner pushes an 18-foot canoe, and several persons from Peterborough told him he would be disqualified. He paddled at once over to the judges' launch and when within a few feet of them protested about 18-foot canoes, and pointed out a certain paddler in another canoe, asked to have him ruled off the course. The judges told Warner to take his place in the race if he wanted to, but they would not listen to any protest. After Warner took his place the news spread around and everybody had a good laugh at the expense of the judges.

As a matter of fact, the judges were surrounded by a multitude of protestes during the afternoon and paid as little attention to Warner's alleged bogus kick—if he made it—as to any of the others. They were not at all serious. But, anyway, who can see the joke in the above "funny" story?

The Company's Show at Franco-British Attracts Much Attention.

The splendid exhibit which the Grand Trunk have put up at the Franco-British exhibition is attracting a great amount of attention and the English people are getting an idea of what a Canadian Railway really is. The views of the double track scenes, the heavy motor power, the splendid equipment and the beautiful reproductions of photographs from scenes along the line, together with the specimens of trophies of fish and game, which are on view, are both pleasing to the eye, and attractive to the mind of the visitor. The total attendance in the Grand Trunk building from May 14, (the opening day) until July 23rd, amounted to 106,807 people. Letters have been received from Canadians and others profuse in their praises of this handsome building and exhibit, which is a credit to the railway and a big advertisement for the Dominion. 1d13-3462

SOLOMON AND THE QUEEN OF SHEBA

Subject of Sermon Yesterday by Rev. Dr. Foster at St. John's Church.

Following up last Sunday's sermon on "Solomon," Rev. Dr. Foster at the morning service yesterday took "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba" as his subject. After pointing out that the Queen of Sheba spent a vast quantity of money in taking a journey that meant more exertion than did a trip around the world to-day, in the pursuit of knowledge, Dr. Foster contrasted the attitude of many people of to-day who were so taken up with the fripperies of so-called society that they gave neither time nor thought to the simplest matters of religion.

At the evening service, taking as his subject "The Crystal River" (from a text in the book of Revelations), Dr. Foster traced the history of the church as being like to that of a river, the church of God, being as necessary to the true Christian's spiritual life as the water to the thirsty bodies in our earthly life.

The holiday season in no way interferes with the choristers at St John's, the services being as fully musical as in winter. The anthems were finely rendered both morning and evening, the singing of the boy sopranos, Cyril Devey and Arthur Morsfield, in the solo parts of "Now the Day Is Over" being especially good. Rev. Dr. Foster, heartily thanked the choristers for their splendid work.

FIRST CONCERT OF THE SEASON

—The celebrated Soanes Family of eleven pieces will appear in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, this (Monday) evening. I. C. R. PUBLICATIONS APPRECIATED

Many Requests From Far Away Places For Guide Books and Hunting Literature.

Some idea of the manner in which the attractions of the Intercolonial Railway have been exploited during the past few years may be gathered from the increasing number of requests for the guide books and descriptive folders issued by the railway that are daily being received by the general passenger department. Each mail brings many of these, the bulk of inquirers being residents of the United States. Of late there has been a big increase in the number of requests from the Western States, but the officials were most pleasantly surprised recently when a gentleman residing in Honolulu wrote asking for a copy of "Tours to Summer Haunts" and the various publications on hunting and fishing. A great many applications also come from people living in the Canadian West, which apparently indicates an increasing desire for knowledge concerning the East. The I. C. R. publications have now a very wide circulation, due largely to the fact that they are ably edited and contain much that is readable and instructive. The Government has conducted that tive. Like all other great railways, printer's ink is the best lubricant for rolling stock, a conclusion reached after plain evidence that the scenic attractions of the line and the splendid train service are becoming known in sections hitherto far removed.

WEDDING BELLS

O'DONNELL—MURDUFF

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral this morning, when Miss Carrie Murduff, daughter of Mr. Sylvester Murduff of Lakefield, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Wm. O'Donnell of Peterborough. The bride was assisted by Miss Cecelia Crough, while Mr. Jos. O'Donnell acted as best man. The bride was attired in white silk with hat to match, while the bridesmaid wore cream lustre and hat to match. After the wedding nuptials the bridal party drove to the residence of the groom's brother, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast awaited them. The wedding breakfast concluded, Mr. and Mrs O'Donnell left on the C.P.R. train for Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, and on their return will reside at 581 Stewart street.

TO-DAY'S RAIN STORM WELCOMED

A Relief After the Sultry Condition of the Atmosphere All Day.

Mother Nature came to the relief of sweltering humanity with cool, refreshing rain. About half-past one, after Tom, Dick and Harry had asserted to their passing friends that it was going to rain before night, the north reverberated with thunder a herald of the approaching storm.

The cloud seemed to be giving this city the "merry bee-haw" but finally with but scant warning the fringe of the storm swept through the streets.

The immediate forerunner was a grand wind display. The dust was whirled and swayed and blown by the wanton blasts forming dense clouds in the streets running east and west, which for nearly a minute shut off the vision to one standing on George street. And then the rain fell and people scurried to shelter like mice before the approach of a dreaded cat.

The main street was utterly deserted like Kent street, Lindsay, on Monday at 10 a.m. It reminded one of the scene in Kolb and Dill's laughable show "Lonesome Town."

And then when the flood gates of heaven resumed their normal level, the rain passed and once more the sun shone with more intense brilliance and the hum of the city's life again resounded.

POSSESSES A SPLENDID VOICE

Mr. Wright's Singing Appreciated at St. Paul's Church Yesterday.

Whilst Mr. R. W. Grubbe was walking along Aylmer street a few days ago, his attention was drawn to a voice emanating from a house at the corner of Aylmer and Simcoe streets. The voice was that of a man, and was of such extraordinary sweetness and vigour that Mr. Grubbe determined to make further inquiries in regard to the owner of it.

The owner, he found, was Mr. Wright, a young man who is an employee of the Peterborough Creamery Company, anxious, for his sake, to get an expert opinion Mr. Grubbe enlisted the friendly offices of Mr. John Crane, of the Dominion Bank, with the result that last Sunday Mr. Wright sang both morning and evening to delighted congregations at St. Paul's Church.

Mr. Wright's voice is a high baritone of rare power and, no doubt, now that he has come so prominently into public notice he will be in great demand at our local musical and other functions.

Important Sale Made By Saskatchewan Land Company

Dispose of 12,000 Acres of Land to St. Paul Company—Unique System of Placing Farmers In The West.

$132,000 IS THE PRICE

The Saskatchewan Land Company have completed a sale of land in the West involving the immense sum of $132,000. They have sold 12,000 acres of land in Saskatchewan, township 37, ranges 19 and 21, to the Lege Land Company of St. Paul, Minn.

The magnitude of this company is worthy of mention. It is capitalized at $500,000 and has a system that is unique in disposing of its lands in Western Canada. It owns its own trains and takes regular excursions from St. Paul to Saskatchewan in order to locate farmers who purchase from it. Like circuses, it pays railway companies for the right-of-way over the tracks of the latter to its destination. The company does its own cooking, owns its own tents, as well as horses and vehicles, with which it transports its buyers from the railway stations to the various points on its property. The immensity of the scale on which it carries on business is a revelation to those who have never heard of such a scheme.

The Saskatchewan Land Company, which is composed almost wholly of local capitalists, has only been organized since 1905. The president is Dr. Carmichael, the vice-presidents are Messrs. Wm. Eyres and C. H. Moore, and the secretary is Mr. W. C. Austin.

PHYSICAL COMMITTEE OF Y.M.C.A. ACTIVELY PURSUES FIELD SPORT

During the past summer a noticeable increase in the local Y.M.C.A.'s interest in athletics has been experienced, and the physical committee intends to pursue the same lines. While the "Y." has always been to the fore in this respect in some lines of sport, there has been a slight falling off. However, a baseball team was entered in the City League this summer and the players gave a good account of themselves. A lacrosse team was formed in conjunction with the T.A.S., but gave way to the Peterboroughs, who are now playing in the Trent Valley League with almost the same men on the line-up. The Y.M.C.A. Chieftains in junior ball won the Guild League, and in football the "Y." team was on a fair way to winning the Midland League, when it was forced to drop out.

It is now proposed to form a rugby team, and during the coming winter a hockey team will likely represent the institution. In track athletics, the "Y." has done and continues to do good work in bringing out men. The gym. this season should be successful under Mr. Collins, the new physical director.

Mr. Archie Frowde has taken special interest in the field work and has worked hard for the baseball team.

Many Special Prizes For The Peterborough Industrial

The directors and officers are diligently working to make the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition the best ever. They have something good to offer prospective exhibitors, as will be seen by their prize lists, which have just been published and which may be obtained from Secretary F. J. A. Hall, either by personal or written application.

The array of special prizes has never been superceded. The Quaker Oats Company, is offering special premiums for the best home made bread manufactured from Quaker Oats flour. The winner will receive a barrel of the flour; the second will get half a barrel, and in addition to smaller prizes each exhibitor will receive a package of toasted corn flakes.

The prizes are better than last year and will be worth while working hard for.

THE COMMON APPLE A GREAT SOURCE OF HEALTH

Few people there are but enjoy a ripe, juicy apple. But how many realize that it is a medicine as well as a treat?

Apple juice has a very marked effect on the kidneys, increasing their power to throw off the waste products of the body, called uræ, and thus prevent Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, and similar troubles that come from poisoned blood.

Similarly, other fruits stimulate the action of the liver and bowels—others of the skin. Combined, they keep the blood pure—the body clean and healthy.

To get this effect, however, one must eat a great deal of fruit, or better, eat a little fruit and take "Fruit-a-tives."

"Fruit-a-tives" are tablets in which the juices of ripe fruits, with their medicinal value intensified, are combined with valuable tonics. THE LIBERAL MAJORITY GROWING Premier Scott Has Twelve by Latest Returns From Polls.

BETTER THAN ANTICIPATED

Magnificent Victory of Government Is Tribute to Scott Administration—Campaign of Personalities and Abuse Ends in Vindication—Moosejaw County Goes to Sheppard—Estimates 25-15.

County, which has been claimed by both parties, has finally gone Liberal, Sheppard being elected by a majority of 28. This makes Scott's majority 12, or one better than the Liberals hoped for before the campaign. The estimate was then 26 to 15.

The smoke of the battle has now cleared from the recent election, and the electors have endorsed the progressive policy of the Scott Administration in most emphatic terms. It is, indeed, a magnificent victory for the Liberals over a solid and aggressive Conservative organization of the entire Dominion who made a dead set on making Saskatchewan a stepping-stone to the success they hoped for in the Federal elections. It is one of the greatest tributes to Premier Scott and his policy which has ever been given by a Canadian province to its Government. Premier Scott comes back triumphant with a greatly increased majority as an answer to the campaign of personalities, abuse and charges of malfeasance in office waged by his opponents.

Lloydminster, which up to last night was in doubt, has gone Liberal by a small majority.

MANY TRACKMEN INJURED

Five Are Now In Hospital From Their Wounds Received From Bottles Thrown at Them — Woman Shoots Into Mob, Injuring One —Two Hoodlums Are Caught —Eight Escape Arrest.

Port Arthur, Aug. 17.—Word was received here from a small place east of here that when the train carrying harvesters to the West stopped for water on Friday a number of men swarmed off. Sighting a small shack of a section man they ran to it and endeavored to dump it over off an embankment. A woman and some children were inside at the time Failing to dump the shack the men were planning some further development when the woman went back to the house and secured a revolver, and when they made a dash at the place she shot into the crowd. One of the men received a flesh wound in the neck. They then all ran for the train.

It has become necessary for section men engaged along the line to get to cover before the arrival of trains, as they become targets for bottles, etc. West of here many have been injured and five are in Fort William Hospital suffering from severe injuries caused by the throwing of empty bottles from the trains. The men are acting like madmen.

At larger places like Port Arthur and Fort William the men have been kept in subjection by police officers who are out to meet all trains. Some of the men on the trains state that some of the cars are continual scenes of disorderly conduct.

Winnipeg, Aug. 17.—Two of the gang of harvesters who have been committing outrages along the Canadian Pacific, were placed under arrest on reaching Winnipeg on Saturday. They were Charles McLean and William Gill, both of Truro, N. S. The specific charge is breaking indicators along the railway. They were involved in trouble at Chalk River. Instructions were wired from Fort William to have the depot closed at Winnipeg, so that others could be arrested before they escaped into the city, but the instructions were not followed, and eight other men wanted got away clear. They may be picked up later.

The gang comprised about the toughest-looking outfit that ever pulled into the C. P. R. depot. The majority looked as if the only water in sight along the route had been in the little lakes along the railway. Many were without hats, collars or ties, their clothing was torn and disheveled, and with the exception of a couple of dozen, all were dirty to a degree. Evidences of the drunken orgies were not lacking, and several black eyes were very much in sight.

Respectable passengers on the train had taken possession of a couple of coaches, and had prevented the drunks from molesting them. In these coaches the women had been collected, so that they had not been greatly disturbed, but all agreed that it was a trip long to be remembered. It was a constant nightmare of drunken rackets and fights.

SPRINGFIELD HAS REIGN OF TERROR

Four Deaths Result From Illinois Mob Outrages.

TWO NEGROES ARE LYNCHED

More Than a Hundred Are Wounded In Fierce Race War at Springfield Ill and Troops Are Called Out to Quell Disturbance — "Black Belt" Burned — Negroes Are Fleeing to the Country.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—Two white men were killed, an unknown negro was lynched and nearly a hundred persons were injured and two scores of houses, mostly occupied by negroes, were burned Friday night as the result of an attempt by a mob to lynch a negro who had assaulted a white woman. After a night of riot, arson and slaughter the state troops were called out by the governor and succeeded early yesterday in restoring a semblance of order and stopping the fire. One thousand militiamen, including three companies from this city and companies from Bloomington, Decatur, Peoria, Pekin and Pontiac, are patroling the streets, and it is believed that further disorder will be prevented.

The First Infantry of Chicago was also ordered yesterday to Springfield on the first train that could be made to carry them. When this organization arrived the town was protected by three full regiments.

The negroes are well armed and showing a spirit of determination. The whites are in an ugly mood and farmers and men from adjoining towns are constantly arriving.

Citizens are leaving town and women and children are departing on every train and interuban cars for places of safety.

The rioting was precipitated by an assault committed early Friday morning by a negro upon Mrs. Mabel Hallam, wife of a street railway conductor.

Order was maintained yesterday only by the presence of 25,000 armed soldiers.

The race rioters who terrorized the city Friday night were held in general restraint on Saturday by the troops that were hurried to the city, but on Saturday night an 80-year-old negro, William Dinegan, a cobbler, and respected as a simple and unoffensive citizen, was murdered in cold blood, without cause or excuse, by a mob.

A crowd who tried to get at a party of negro refugees in the Armories was only dispersed by the use of fixed bayonets on the part of the troops.

BACKSTOP BERT LANG PLAYS WITH WINNING WESTERN TEAM

Bert Lang, known in local baseball and hockey circles, and now in Macleod, Alta., is doing great work as backstop for the Macleod team, which has won the championship of the Crowe's Nest Pass Baseball League. Out of ten league games the team with which he plays have won eight. Five exhibition games were played and all were taken by Macleod. The standing in their league now is:

	W.	L.	To play.
Macleod...	8	2	2
Lethbridge	5	5	2
Taber...	5	6	1
Pincher Creek... ...	3	7	2

Although the league is not yet concluded, it will be seen that Macleod cannot lose first place.

Nanton has won the championship of another league near there, and the two will likely play off for first place in baseball in Southern Alberta.

After 14 innings of sensational ball at Taber Saturday afternoon, in the second game of the Crow's Nest League series, Macleod won by two runs, this being the only score. It was a pitcher's battle throughout, with honours evenly divided till Stokes weakened in the fourteenth. Murphy, Macleod's slab artist, is aged 18. He has splendid control and speed throughout.

TOM LONGBOAT DEFEATS SIMPSON

In Three Mile Race at Bobby Kerr's Meet in Hamilton.

Messrs Dick Baker and Fred Simpson returned from Hamilton on Saturday night, where they were attending the athletic meet in honour of Bobby Kerr. Simpson expected to have run a five mile exhibition race but instead of that was matched against Tom Longboat for three miles. Longboat won by about 25 yards in 15.24. Simpson ran 12 pounds heavier than normal weight and considering the fact that he had not a running shoe on since the Marathon, and that he has never gone in a 3-mile race before did well.

Bobby Kerr's meet was a great success there being more than 3,000 present.

The summary is as follows—

100 yards—W White, Hamilton, 1; J T Murphy and H R Fraser, Hamilton. Time, 10,3-5 seconds.

One mile—Chas. Skene, Toronto, 1; Chas Selby, Toronto, 2; John Roe, Toronto, 3. Time 4 minutes, 30 seconds.

220 yards—Cal COgilvie, Hamilton, 1; W White, Hamilton, 2; H Fraser, 3; Time 23 3-5.

Running broad jump—Geo Barber, Toronto, 19 feet 11 inches, 1; Langstaff, Toronto, 19 feet 8 inches, 2; J. R Muss, Hamilton, 19 feet 5 inches, 3.

440 yards—O Ogilive, Hamilton, 1; H R Fraser, Toronto, 2; O W Thorley, Toronto, 3. Time 58 4-5.

Five-mile race—Fred Meadows, Rockwood, 1; J. Near, Toronto, 2; R. Holden, Beamsville, 3. Time 27.20. N Dyment, Toronto, Wallace Muirhead, J Cook, T Ellis and J Caffery also started.

Pole vault—E Archibald, Toronto, 11 feet 6 inches, 1; J Eccles, Hamilton, 9 feet 10 inches, 2; Langstaff, Toronto, and L Brown, Toronto, tied for third at 9 feet 8 inches.

SHRUBB WILL LOWER THE RECORD

THE ENGLISHMAN WILL BET

It is doubtful if there is a man living who can make any kind of a showing against Shrubb for ten miles, but at any distance over that Alfred is not so much. Tom Longboat should be able to make him look sick at fifteen miles or over, while Tom Coley, in shape will give him a good argument at any distance over twelve miles.

When Shrubb was here last year he offered to wager that he could lower the record around the bay made by Sammy Mellor in The Herald race in 1904. His offer was quickly taken up by several sporting men, but Shrubb was suddenly called away, and never returned, although he promised to come back and do the trick.

It was thought that he had flunked, and his actions certainly made it look as though he was afraid to make the attempt.

Friday however a man who claimed to be acting in Shrubb's behalf came to the Herald office and said that he was willing to wager $2,000 that Shrubb could beat Mellor's record, and that the little Englishman would do the trick just as soon as any person cared to cover the money.

Of course money talks and the defi would look more serious if Shrubb or his representative would put up the money, and there is little doubt that the men who offered to cover it dust fall are still open for engagements.

Shrubb got away with the bluff last year, and Hamilton people will not take his latest challenge seriously until he puts up the money. He claimed last year that no living man ever ran around The Herald course in such time as Mellor is credited with, but there are too many people around here who know the time to be correct to listen to Shrubb's guff about the matches.

Last year the first ten miles of The Herald race was run in 54 minutes, which is three minutes and 20 seconds slower than Shrubb's record for that distance. When it is considered that Shrubb's record was made on a track, it is doubtful if he could run to the ten-mile post much faster than Coley and Adams did last year, and one thing is certain, he could not run the remaining nine miles and 168 yards any faster.

WILL RUN AGAIN NEXT SATURDAY

Simpson and Longboat to be Present at Miss Lewis' Meet.

As the big feature of her big athletic meet at the Jones Club track on Saturday, August 22, Miss Jeannette Lewis this morning succeeded in getting the consent of Fred Simpson, the big Hiawatha Indian, who finished sixth in the Olympic Marathon, to run Tom Longboat a matched race at any distance agreed upon. Miss Lewis has already secured Longboat's consent to a race, and having spent a day this week in Toronto, when Tom Flanagan promised to send his whole team to Hamilton for the big Sick Children's Hospital benefit. Longboat, Sellen, Marah and the rest of the Irish-Canadians will be here, the Irish chieftain having promised to do all in his power to make the meet a success.

Miss Lewis was equally successful in getting the consent of the Central and West End Y.M.C.A. authorities to send their teams to Hamilton, and Ed. Archibald, Lou Sebert, Bredin Galbraith, Lister, Jack Tait and the rest of the Olympic men, in addition to the other members of the various teams will be on hand, guaranteeing keen competition. With all the Hamilton boys entered in the various events, the largest entry list of any athletic meet ever held here should result.

In addition to the regular running races, bicycle races, horse racing, both running and trotting, and automobile racing will complete an exceptionally fine bill, with Bobby Kerr entered in the events.—Hamilton Herald.

AN INDIAN WONDER FOR A HUNDRED YARDS DASH

Manitobawase Said to be Able to Travel It in 9 Seconds.

Fort William, Aug. 15.—Special.—N. McDougall, Indian agent, who recently returned from a trip to Nepigon House, says he has discovered an Indian who can run 100 yards in nine seconds.

Mr. McDougall states that this Indian recently defeated a number of ex-Toronto sprinters at Nepigon House, and at the finish of the 100 yards he was in the lead by 10 yards. The Indian's name is Manitobawase, and he resembles Tom Longboat, being tall and slim.

IT'S "TO THE WOODS" WITH THE SPIT-BALL

The spit ball—a baseball disease, and it is spreading like the bubonic plague.

It has no relation to the honestly earned curves and drops.

It depends upon its slimy filthiness for its effectiveness, and baseball is supposed to be the cleanest professional sport on earth.

The baseball rules prohibit the rubbing of a clean ball in the grass, but allow a pitcher to regurgitate slime upon it.

The infielder, receiving a grounder from a hit spit ball has to wipe his hands on his pants before he can field it. This is an inspiring sight.

The spit ball put three Buffalo catchers out of business just when they were most needed, and caused the slump which has made local fans gloomy and sore.

If the use of the spit ball is continued it would be much more sanitary to have each so-diseased pitcher equipped with a pocket tank of mild mucilage.

The pitcher using the saliva heave practically spits in the catcher's face. The receiver's mask cannot prevent this insult from reaching home.

The spit ball causes more fouls than have ever been knocked in baseball heretofore, and delays the game.

The spit ball is a nuisance, and there should be a baseball ordinance making its commission in public punishable by fine or suspension, or both. —Buffalo News.

Y. M. C. A. INSTITUTE CAMP

WORK BEING DONE THERE

The Summer Institute of the Provincial Young Men's Christian Association now in session at Geneva Park has been favoured with excellent weather and a goodly number of secretaries and other workers from all parts of the province have availed themselves of the practical instruction there given, combining with it at the same time a delightful outing. In many ways the school is much stronger in its programme and more helpful in its fellowship this year than during any previous year.

The total attendance at the camp thus far has been 67, with 22 students taking the regular class work. The Bible Study work by Mr. Harry W. Arnold, Religious Work Secretary of the International Committee of New York, was extremely helpful in its relation to the organization of Bible classes in churches. Dr. Fisher, of the International Committee, gave a series of lectures on Social Service, and made a deep impression upon his hearers. Mr. T. H. Billings, National Students Secretary, spent Sunday with us, and spoke of the significance of the recent students conference at Tokio. Mr. Frank Ober, editor of Association Men, New York city, conducted the twilight service in addition to speaking to the Toronto Boys Central Camp. Mr. D. A. Budge, General Secretary of the Canadian section of the International Committee, is with the camp this week and will discuss fully the organization and relationship in the different associations. Mr. Henry Yeigh, of Brantford, is spending the full two weeks, and is endeavouring to keep the camp supplied with fish. The Camp Disturber is edited by Mr. A. M. Hague, and bids fair to rival the Toronto papers from the standpoint of popularity.

Among those present were: Seymour W. Collins, Toronto; F. G. Hassard, Mrs. F. G. Hassard, G. L. Gooley, E. A. Frowde, Peterborough; Walter S. Maguire, Montreal; H. A. Pearson, Peterborough. — Orillia Packet.

REFRESHMENT BOOTH NECESSARY ON THE RIVER

That a refreshment booth was required on the shore of the Otonabee for the accommodation of canoeists and other boaters has been justified by the reception with which that of Mr. Wm. G. It is located on the Otonabee shore across from Crawford's Grove, and is nightly the stopping place for many tired boatmen on their way up to the city after a trip down the winding Otonabee.

HONOUR TO REV. R. EMBERSON

ARE RETURNING TO JAPAN

Examiner Special

Benefort, Aug. 17.—The home of Mr. John Emberson was taken completely by storm on Friday evening, the 14th, when a few of the many friends of the Rev. Robt. Emberson, B.A., and wife gathered to say farewell to them on the eve of their departure to the far-off mission fields of Japan, this being their second term, they having already served seven years of laborious mission work, and now, after a year's much-needed rest, they go back refreshed and encouraged to their chosen and loved work.

Everything having been done very quietly, Bro. Emberson was much surprised about 8.30 to see friends gathering from different directions, until the house was filled to overflowing. After spending a very enjoyable hour in conversation, looking at Japanese curios, of which they have a very large and interesting collection, asking and answering questions in regard to Japan and her customs, and listening to sweet music, the ladies announced that tea was ready. On adjourning to the lawn, which was gaily decorated with Japanese and Chinese lanterns, and over which a beautiful moon cast its soft rays, about one hundred and twenty-five sat down to a sumptuous spread, to which all did ample justice.

The most important part of the evening's work was then taken up, it being the presenting of an address and valuable gold watch to Mr. Emberson and an autograph quilt from the ladies of the W. M. S. to Mrs. Emberson. In the unavoidable absence of the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Weatherill, through illness, the address was read by Mr. Wilbert Wood, and the watch presented by Mr. Everett Wood.

Rev. Mr. Emberson was so much overcome that it was a rather difficult matter for him to make a reply. Mrs. Emberson also felt very much the ladies' kind remembrance of her, and expressed herself so in a few well chosen words of thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Emberson and their two little daughters are leaving with the very best wishes of a host of friends.

The address was as follows:

Rev. Robt. Emberson, B.A.

Dear Sir and Brother, — Knowing that the time is very near when you must say good-bye and leave us to resume your important and much loved work in the far-off Empire of Japan, a few of your many friends have gathered to-night to express our esteem and love for you and to say it is with reluctance that we part with you.

It was with joy that we welcomed you upon your return home a few months ago, after many years of hard and faithful work for our dear Lord,—work inspired by His presence and crowned with His glory.

Your stay has been too brief—we wish it could have been longer, for your gentleness and courtesy, your sincerity and humility, have made for you a large place in all our hearts. Those who knew you in your boyhood have been delighted to find that position has not destroyed that unaffected and manly spirit which they admired in the earlier years of your life.

We are much delighted to gather here in this home where you spent the happy days of childhood and from which you went out to preach the gospel of Christ.

We shall follow with earnest prayer and deepest interest your life and work in the foreign mission field.

And now, dear friend, as a slight token of respect, kindly accept this watch. And the ladies also beg Mrs. Emberson to accept this quilt as an expression of the love they bear toward her, hoping the names inscribed upon it will help to keep in remembrance her many friends in Benefort. May the Divine care be over you and yours, preserving you in health, and bring you again to your native land and very precious friends.

Signed on behalf of the friends,
Mrs. Freeman Thompson.
Mrs. John Smyth.

LAWLESSNESS NOT YET SUBDUED

Situation in Springfield However is Not Very Serious

Examiner Special

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 18.—That the mob spirit has not been entirely subdued in Springfield was evident last night and early to-day when, despite the presence of thousands of militia, there were outbursts of lawlessness in many sections of the city. None of them were serious, however, being confined to disturbances caused by groups of two or three men.

Examiner Special:

Buffalo, Aug. 18.—Seolique Bertrand at one time a wealthy provision merchant of Montreal, died in Erie county hospital in this city yesterday penniless and alone. He is said to have a wealthy sister and a married daughter in Montreal, but they fail to answer telegrams sent them, and unless some member of the family is found he will be buried in the pauper burying grounds.

BAND CONCERT AT THE PARK TO-NIGHT

Splendid Programme Arranged—National Anthems for Various Countries

The following programme will be rendered at the musical festival given by the Salvation Army Band to-night in Victoria Park:

March, "Southall."

Selections, "Songs of Scotland," by request.

Inst. sextette, "Bugle Calls."

March, "Marching on."

Selection, "Mercy." This selection won first prize in the competition of 1906.

Hymn, "Nearer My God, to Thee."

Finale, "Songs of All Nations." This is an exceedingly fine arrangement in which is introduced the National Anthems for different countries, arranged into one grand selection, with a finale of "God Save the King."

This should be one of the best programmes that have been given by the Salvation Army Band. Next week, which will finish the evenings in the park, they intend giving a special programme, which should prove very interesting.

BOWLERS' EXCURSION TO COBOURG ON THURSDAY

Horse Show is on in Lake Shore Town —Many Expected to Go

The Thursday afternoon excursion to Cobourg is appealing to many of the citizens, and especially to those who have the afternoon off. It is being run under the auspices of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club, and as the Cobourg Horse Show is in session now there should be a big crowd go down. The special train leaves Peterborough at 1 p.m., and returning, leaves Cobourg at 9.30 o'clock.

HON. GEORGE P. GRAHAM TO BE HONOURED ON OCCASION OF HIS VISIT TO CITY OF PETERBORO'

Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, comes to Peterborough on Thursday next, and he will be given a civic reception, in addition to being met by city officials at Gore's Landing, and entertained by them on the steamer "Beaute Butler," on the sail up the Otonabee.

At the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council held last night Mr. J. H. McClelland informed His Worship Mayor Rush and the aldermen of the coming visit of the Minister, accompanied by Mr. M. J. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals and Chief Engineer of the Trent Canal.

Dr. Morrison, president of the Board of Trade, happened to be present, and said that the citizens should recognise the visit of the Hon. Mr. Graham in some manner, and at the same time impress upon him the necessity of the hasty completion of the Trent Canal. Speaking on behalf of the Board of Trade, he would assist the council in whatever they intended to do.

Ald. Elliott suggested that the mayor and council meet him at the wharf and escort him through the city.

Ald. Turner considered that a public demonstration of some kind should be given him and allow all who desired to attend.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., suggested an informal meeting in order that the city authorities should have an opportunity of putting forward the claims of the Midland district for the early completion of the canal. The more faith shown he more will he be impressed with the cause.

City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall said that it might be better to meet Hon. Mr. Graham at Hastings and point out what the city desired on the sail to the city. Ald. Neill thought that a memorial ought to be presented to him, and that definite answers should be obtained. It was finally moved by Ald. Bradburn and Johnston that the mayor and a representative of the Peterborough Board of Trade meet the Honourable Minister at Gore's Landing, and come with him to the city, and that a public reception, prepared by the Reception Committee, be tendered him on Thursday evening.—Carried.

On Friday morning Hon. Mr. Graham leaves on the steamer "Beaute Butler" for the northern portion of the canal.

PLUCKY ACTION OF YOUNG MAN SAVED BOY FROM DROWNING; HE PLUNGED TO THE RESCUE

Peter Butler, the eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Butler, East City, had a very narrow escape from drowning in the Otonabee River last night. Only the brave and prompt action of Mr. Jesse Airriess, 88 Medonel street, averted a serious accident.

Young Butler, with a number of chums, was bathing near the foot of Douro street, at the east side of the river, and just above the old raceway. He is just learning to swim but when a companion in boyish parlance "stumped" him to swim across the channel, he refused to accept the dare and attempted to swim. When half way across, however, his strength gave out and he began to sink. The other boys realized his danger, but were powerless to help him. Screaming with fright they ran to look for help. Fortunately Mr. Airriess was fishing about fifty yards away and came to the rescue. Stepping only to throw off his coat he plunged into the water, and swimming out to the drowning lad he raised him and got him safely on shore. The little fellow grabbed his rescuer around the neck and handicapped as he was by heavy clothing and booted boots, Mr. Airriess had a hard struggle to make the rescue, but he pluckily persisted until he got young Butler out of danger. The little fellow soon revived and is none the worse for his adventure.

SCORES OF LIVES LOST IN MICHIGAN MARINE DISASTER

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 17. — A despatch from Petosky to the Evening Press says:

The resorting steamer Leelanau was blown up on Carp Lake this morning with a loss of 11 lives.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 18. — There are three known to be dead, a dozen or more are missing and supposed to be drowned; two are fatally injured, and many were seriously hurt.

The only identified body is that of Mrs. Isabel Labonta, Traverse City Mich. Mrs. Ralph Hastings and H. Cook, both of Traverse City, were fatally injured.

Two of the three names mentioned above are those of persons known by Mr. R. J. Macdonald, of the Quaker Oats Company, who resided there at one time.

Lawn Bowling Club Ordered To Remove Their Banner

There is a by-law on the statute books of the city prohibiting the erection of banners across the streets and at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole last night a deputation was there consisting of Dr. Boucher and Mr. W. M. Lang from the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club protesting against the partiality in this respect.

Dr. Boucher asked why it is that the Peterborough Bowling Club should be asked to take down their streamer which they has erected across the street advertising their excursion to Cobourg. Other bannners advertising excursions, the Peterborough Fair, etc., had been allowed to remain and he wanted to know why it is that the Bowling Club should be authorized to take theirs down.

The mayor said that there had been a number of complaints about the streamers and the chief of police had spoken to him of them and as it was contrary to an existing by-law, the chief ordered the removal of the banner.

But as other organizations were allowed to leave their streamers up it was moved by Ald. Phelan and Tovey that the banner of the Peterborough Bowling Club be allowed to remain until after Thursday, the date of the excursion.—Carried.

ANOTHER ESTABLISHMENT TO BEGIN OPERATIONS HERE

By the first of September the Collier-Cunningham Company and the Diamond Caulk Horseshoe Co. expect to have some twenty-five men employed in their new manufacturing establishment on Simcoe street in the building they recently purchased from the Peterborough Cereal Company and which was partly destroyed by fire some time ago. The Messrs. Collier, it will be remembered, on purchasing the building, manufactured the Canada Flakes under the name of the Canada Flakes Company. But since the fire, the Collier-Cunningham Company have decided to manufacture electrical apparatus in their Simcoe street building, as well as the Diamond Caulk Horseshoe.

On beginning work in a couple of weeks' time, they expect to employ about twenty-five men. The new manufacturing establishment will, therefore, be of more benefit to the city than the old. Although the Canada Flakes will not be manufactured here, the office of the company will be situated in the same building.

NEW COMPANIES MAKE REQUEST

Desire That By-Law Governing Peterborough Cereal Now Govern Them

Messrs. Adam Hall and W. H. Meldrum, representing the Peterborough Cereal Company, and Messrs. W. H. and H. B. Collier, of the Collier & Cunningham and Diamond Caulk Horseshoe Companies waited on the Committee of the Whole Council last night to request that the by-law governing the Peterborough Cereal Company, which was burnt out some time ago, now govern the Electrical and the Diamond Caulk Horseshoe Companies, which intend to do business in the same establishment.

The by-law, which was passed some time ago, allows the Cereal Company a specified quantity of land, providing they employed thirty hands. Since the fire occurred, however, this was found to be impracticable, and with the establishment of the two new industries which will be in operation in the Canada Flakes Company's building in the course of a few weeks, the new companies desire that the by-law govern them. They wished to know from the committee if the city would allow them the privilege of operating under the same by-law passed in favour of the Canada Flakes Company, as to free site, fixed assessment, etc.

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that this matter be referred to the Finance Committee to report.—Carried.

Mr. Adam Hall also referred to the difference existing among the city, the Peterborough Cereal Company and Col. J. Z. Rogers regarding the water front and asked that some definite arrangement be made at once.

THE ELECTION OUTLOOK.

If the Conservative papers see fit to apply to the Saskatchewan election the argument they have so freely applied to the provincial elections in New Brunswick and Ontario, they will be driven to concede that the west is still solid for Laurier. It is a poor rule that does not work both ways. If the Federal elections were presently to be announced, therefore, an interesting comparison might be made as to the strength of the opposing parties, in view of the elections that have taken place. British Columbia, now solidly Liberal at Ottawa, has gone Conservative in Provincial politics. Assuming that to give the Conservatives an advantage, it is still true that the four out of seven Liberal members who are likely to stand for re-election will take a lot of beating, and will probably win. In Alberta there is every indication that the Conservatives will be doing well if they pull through with one member out of seven. In Saskatchewan we see what has happened, and it would not be surprising if, in a general election, the whole ten ridings went Liberal. The fibre of the Manitoba Liberals is too well known to admit of anybody's believing that they will be beaten in all the ridings. Putting the case at the worst they will hold five seats, despite all Mr. Roblin and his list manipulators can do. Allowing three for British Columbia, five for Alberta, eight for Saskatchewan, and five for Manitoba, we have, on a moderate estimate a Laurier strength of twenty-one from the west.

Passing to the other seaboard, Nova Scotia stands at present seventeen Liberals to one Conservative. There are three other seats where a hard contest would put the issue in doubt. Fourteen, however, is a perfectly safe count for Nova Scotia. In Prince Edward Island the score stands one Liberal to three Conservatives. For purposes of reckoning it may be left at that. What hope may be based upon the election of Mr Hazen in New Brunswick does not appear, but assuming it can be taken as a presage that the present Liberal majority in the Federal representation will not be maintained, it seems at least certain that five Liberals will be elected; if their opponents can get eight seats they will consider themselves lucky. Altogether, therefore, it seems again a moderate estimate to count twenty seats for Laurier in the Maritime Provinces. That, with the West, makes forty-one. Quebec showed it disposition last June. It is fairly deducible from what happened in the June election that the Liberals can take fifty-five out of the sixty-five seats it they want to. Nobody would give them less than fifty. Taking the lower number, the Government comes to Ontario with a minimum of ninety or ninety-one, and twenty Ontario seats out of the eighty-six would give the necessary majority. The present Liberal strength in Ontario in thirty-nine. If it can be maintained, Laurier is morally sure of a majority of nearly forty in the new Parliament. It would have to be reduced below twenty for the Government to be in danger. Is it likely to be? That is the question which contains the essence of the election. Evidently the Liberal party is in no mood to lose one of its thirty-nine seats. Ontario is to be made the battle ground of the campaign. Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Graham are going together on a tour of the Province, and it is estimated that Mr. Fielding, Mr. Fisher and Mr. Lemieux will follow, with of course, Mr. Aylesworth, Mr. Paterson and the other Ontario leaders. And what have the Opposition to present by way of resistance to this formidably host? After all, Mr. Foster cannot be everywhere.—Montreal Herald.

TWELVE YEARS OF LAURIER.

Montreal Herald

A section of the Canadian press has for some time past been devoting itself to the development of two lines of argument. 1 That too much is taken in taxes by the Laurier Government from the people, and 2. that the customs tariff is too low to afford sufficient protection to native industry. The fact that the arguments are mutually destructive does not in the least interfere with the severity of the condemnation. It is the fact that the customs tariff is lower than it used to be, which is only another way of saying that the tax rate upon all articles entering into general consumption is lower than it used to be. It is also the fact that under this lowered tax rate more revenue flows into the public treasury than formerly did. How much better off would we be if, after being taxed more for everything we use, less and less of what we paid were to find its way into the public treasury?

Leaving economic theory aside, however, it is useful to note what has been the progress of the receipts from what can properly be called taxation, for it is important to remember that only part of the Dominion's annual revenue represents taxation, another and very large representing payment for passenger and freight services on the Intercolonial, payment for the services of the post office officials and for some other services. The taxes are derived altogether from the customs and excise services. A man is not being subjected to increased taxation if the buys three postage stamps where before he bought two, or if ships three tons of freight over the Intercolonial where before he shipped one. Out of eighty million of total revenue in the fiscal year 1906, sixty millions came from taxes, of which fourteen millions came from excise, representing heavy taxation on liquor and tobacco, and forty-six millions from the customs, representing the taxation on everything else. When people talk about the growing revenue and about taxation it is well to have it understood that this is what they mean, even if they do not know it.

The progress of the revenue in the customs department is something of which the Laurier Cabinet and the Liberal party have every reason to be proud. In the year 1886 the revenue from customs taxation was nineteen million dollars. During the next ten years Mr Foster was showing what he could do, and in 1896 it was still nineteen millions, (nearly twenty), although it had gone up to twenty-three and come down again. (Native industry, it may be remarked in passing, was at its lowest ebb.) The Laurier Cabinet found the customs revenue at under twenty millions, lowered the tariff, and in ten years the revenue had grown to forty six millions, just twice what Mr. Foster got in his best year with his highest tariff. It has meant a great deal to this Dominion to have that extra twenty-three to twenty-six millions at hand to keep up with the demands for expenditure arising out of the unprecedented development. What chating there would have been, in such a time, if money had not been available. True, we might have borrowed, but how much better it is to have been able to put eighty millions into improvement of the national plant without borrowing.

The excise revenue which was under six millions in 1886, and eight millions in 1896, rose to fourteen millions in 1906. What reproach has any one to utter against the Laurier Government over that indisputable evidence of the greater spending power of the Canadian people?

* * * *

Of the twenty millions of revenue other than that derived from taxes, it need only be said that, in the year 1906, six millions came from post office receipts, and eight millions from railways, canals and public works. The record of the post office all by itself during the Twelve Years of Laurier would be worth boasting about. In 1886 the receipts from the post office were two millions; in 1896 they were three millions. That is spelling progress in pretty big letters. But the tale does not end there. In 1886 the post office was run at a loss of $800,000. In 1896 it was run at a loss of $700,000. In 1906 it brought in a surplus of a million dollars. There is quite a difference, and the difference means efficiency under Laurier. So with the public works, railways and canals owned by the Dominion. We have had them a good while, but it is only now, after Twelve years of Laurier, that they begin to bring in a volume of revenue in some degree proportionate to the millions spent upon them. From these sources, in 1886, the treasury received three million dollars; in 1896, three and a half millions; in 1906, just under eight and a half millions. There has been something doing during the Twelve Years of Laurier.

SHIPBUILDING BUSY IN SCOTLAND

Though Not Up to the Tonnage in July of Last Year the Month Shows Increase Over June.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES

The output of tonnage from Scottish shipyards during July shows a advance on that recorded during the previous month, and though the figures do not at all compare with those of the corresponding month of last year, when something like 67,000 tons of new shipping were floated on the Clyde alone, the month now closing must be reckoned as an average one so far as launches are concerned. Altogether twenty-seven vessels of 27,577 tons were launched from Scottish yards. The total for the Clyde district is twenty-two vessels of 25,387 tons, or the same number as last month, but an increase in tonnage over that period of over 10,000 tons. In July 1907, there were launched on the Clyde forty-three vessels of 66,849 tons, but an unusually large number of vessels were floated during that month, two being of over 10,000 tons each. No ships of that size have been launched this month, the nearest approach to them being the Makura, of 8,200 tons, built by Messrs. A Stephen & Sons. Other six steamers range from about 6,000 to 1,100 tons, while the remainder are mostly small steamers, tugs, and barges, etc. During the month Messrs. Yarrow & Co., Scotstown, launched a torpedo boat destroyer from their new yard, and thus for the first time the Clyde statistics include tonnage built by this well-known firm. The output for the seven months on the Clyde consists of 165 vessels of 175,536 tons, as compared with 214 vessels of 369,696 tons in the same period last year—a decrease of forty-nine vessels and 194,260 tons. The labour troubles which handicapped work during the earlier part of the year are happily over for the present, and peace prevails all round.

FROZEN WHEAT TURNS OUT WELL

Western Farmer Sells It and Has Splendid Luck—Mr. Spence Home

Mr. John Spence, McDonel street, accompanied by his wife, returned home last night form Manitoba. He states that in many places through that province the crops are excellent, while in others they are not quite up to the average.

The train that brought Mr. and Mrs. Spence home met no less than four excursion trains carrying hundreds of farm hands to the prairies of the West. They were all fine looking young men, he states, and should make good.

Many of the farmers in the West made mistakes in buying wheat for seeding purposes. One farmer whom he knew sowed wheat that had been frozen, and he had one of the finest crops possible.

BROTHERS ARRAIGNED IN COURT

Hains Brothers Are Arraigned on Charge of Murdering Annis.

MRS. HAINS HAS CONFESSED

Statement of Wife Regarding Relations With Dead Man Will Be Main Feature of Defence of Prisoners—Case Promises to Have More Sensational Features Than the Celebrated Thaw Trial.

New York, Aug. 17.—Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., who shot and killed W. E. Annis at the Bayside Yacht Club on Saturday, and his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, seemed but little disturbed yesterday when they were arraigned before Magistrate Gilroy in the First District Court in Long Island City. The two brothers, handcuffed together and followed by a crowd of men and boys, were compelled to walk all the way from the magistrate's court to the county court house, a mile away. Capt. Hains was arraigned on a charge of murder, and his brother, who kept back the crowd with a revolver while the captain slew the man he asserted had ruined his home, was charged with being an accessory. General Peter C. Hains, father of the young men, sat in the court room and nodded to his sons, but did not have much opportunity to talk with them. A remand of a week was asked for and granted.

District Attorney Darren will vigorously oppose any attempt to secure bail. He says that he will present the case to the October term of the grand jury and will endeavor to have the case disposed of by a speedy trial.

Before the arraignment yesterday Harvey G. Rockwell, who had been a close friend of William Annis, the slain man, turned over to the district attorney of Queen's county a package of letters received recently by Annis, in which he was warned that his life was in danger. It was said that the last letter received cautioned him against visiting the Bayside Yacht Club Saturday.

General Hains, a tall, erect, splendid figure of a military man, stated that he had no fear of the outcome of the case and neither had his sons.

"The defence? Well, Annis was the man who ruined my son's home and was named as co-respondent in his divorce action. I guess that supplies both motive and defence."

Attorney Percy at this point made the direct statement about the defence which the old general had hinted at.

"We have in our possession," he said, "the signed confession of Mrs. Hains. We expect it to be our principal defence. I cannot make the confession public or even intimate closely its nature, until it has been examined by prominent criminal lawyers who will be associated in the defence."

From all indications the trial of the brothers will be even more striking as a legal battle than either of the Thaw trials, for it seems that no plea of insanity is to be made. Discussing the case, District Attorney Darren said: "I cannot see how the men can plead impulse or insanity—since the shooting was apparently planned hours, if not days, before it took place. They cannot put up a Thaw defence."

CENSURE FOR OFFICIALS.

Magistrate Says Restitution In Col. Leslie's Case Was Illegally Secured.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—Sharp words of censure on the neglect of Mayor Oliver and the police authorities to prosecute Col. J. K. Leslie when the original shortage of $10,000 was discovered was spoken by Magistrate Denison on the resumption of the preliminary enquiry yesterday.

Col. Denison made some biting references to the advice given the mayor by Corporation Counsel Fullerton, wherein the latter said that the city's first duty was to recover the money and that there was no obligation to prosecute. The magistrate reaffirmed his belief that illegal means had been taken to obtain restitution.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Aug. 17.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Aug. 15 were 2211 cattle, 1224 sheep and lambs, 1305 hogs and 295 calves.

The offerings this morning for local consumption consisted of 850 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 500 hogs and 100 calves.

A stronger feeling prevailed in the market for cattle, and prices, as compared with a week ago, show an advance of 15c to 25c per 100 lbs. This was due to the fact that the supply was fully 850 head smaller, and good to choice beeves were somewhat scarce. There was a good demand from local and Quebec buyers for the best beeves, and a fairly active trade was done.

Choice cattle sold at 5c to 5¼c; good at 4¾c to 4¾c; fair at 4c to 4¼c; common at 3½c to 3¾c, and inferior at 2¾c to 3¼c per pound.

In spite of the continued small arrivals of lambs, a weaker feeling has developed in the market of late and prices are lower, sales of small lots this morning being made at 5¼c to 6c per pound, and at $3 to $5 each. The demand for good to choice sheep for export account is fairly good, but as supplies are limited the volume of business doing is not large, and prices rule firm at 4c, with the culls selling at 3¾c to 3¾c per pound. Calves are scarce, for which the demand is good, and prices are firm, with sales of good to choice at $8 to $10, and the lower grades at $6 to $7 each.

Altho the supply of hogs was small, there being only 700 head on the market, a weaker feeling prevailed, and prices ruled 20c to 25c per 100 pounds lower than a week ago. This was due to the fact that packers were fairly well supplied, and in consequence the demand was not very keen, even at the reduction, as sellers in some cases found it difficult to find buyers, and the indications were that some would be carried over for a later market.

Sales of selected stock were made at $6.80 to $7 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Aug. 17.—Cattle—Receipts, 3750 head; butchers and stockers and feeders active and 10c to 15c higher; prime steers, $4.25 to $5.50; shipping, $5.35 to $5; butchers', $4.50 to $5.65; heifers, $3.50 to $5.30; cows, $3 to $5; bulls, $2.75 to $4.50; stockers and feeders, $3.25 to $4.50; stock heifers, $3 to $3.50; fresh cows and springers in good demand and strong, $39 to $56.

Veals—Receipts, 1500 head; active and 50c lower, $6 to $8.

Hogs—Receipts, 13,000 head; fairly active and 10c to 25c higher; heavy and mixed, $7 to $7.15; yorkers, $6 to $7.10; pigs, $3 to $5.50; roughs, $5.25 to $5.75; stags, $3.75 to $4.25; dairies, $6 to $6.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 5000 head; active and steady; lambs, $4.25 to $6.25; a few, $6.35; yearlings, $4.50 to $5; wethers, $4.50 to $4.75; ewes, $4 to $4.25; sheep, mixed, $2.50 to $4.25.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Beeves—Receipts, 2984; steers fairly active and steady; cows firm; bulls 10c to 15c higher; native steers sold at $5.10 to $6.00; oxen, at $4.15; bulls, $2.75 to $3.85; cows, $1.25 to $4.25.

Calves—Receipts, 3483; veals active and 25c higher; buttermilks, grassers and western calves steady to 25c higher; common to choice veals, $6.50 to $8.75; culls and throwouts, $4 to $5; buttermilks and grassers, $3 to $4.25; westerns, $4 to $6.25.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 10,324; sheep steady; lambs 25c to 25c higher; common to prime sheep, $3 to $4.50; a few choice, $4.75; culls, $1.50 to $2.50; common to choice lambs, $4.65; one car at $6.85; culls, $3 to $5.25.

THE HAPPIEST WOMAN

The happiest woman in the world is she who is contentedly serving those she loves.

That is the truth in a nutshell, and any honest woman who looks into her own heart with understanding eyes will confess it.

What is life anyway, but service? All of us find that out, sooner or later. And the woman whose privilege it is to minister to those she loves—whose place in the world is to make life glad for those who love her, is the happiest woman in it.

It is a privilege not given to all. But let those to whom it is given—the sweet homemakers, the loved wives and mothers and sisters—awake to their joy while they yet have it, and sing all through these glad days of summer, for theirs is the happiest lot on earth.

DON'T BE AFRAID OF

Thinking before you act.
Doing a friend a good turn.
Doing more than is required of you.
Admitting when you are in the wrong.
Doing your best; even that is not too good.
Telling the truth; it is part of your honour.
Thinking out new ways; originality is valuable.
Failure; keep on, though you fail a dozen times.
Overtaxing your strength; work kills very few people.

Steel is iron free from dirt, air or foreign substance fused with carbon. Carbon gives toughness strength, keenness and life.

Thirty year's study of the razor situation has shown a way to add the highest per cent of carbon to a Carbo Magnetic razor blade through a secret process of ELECTRIC TEMPERING giving it a uniform diamond like hardness—something absolutely impossible with fire tempered razors, and they are Hamburg ground.

Put Test this UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED razor at home—or have your barber use it on you—for thirty days WITHOUT OBLIGATION TO PURCHASE.

DOCTOR BOB ARMSTRONG KNOWS THE HAUNTS

Examiner Special

Jubilee Point, Aug. 18.—The champion amateur guide of Rice Lake is Doctor "Bob" Amstrong of Ottawa. He can show you where to still fish, trawl for the largest lunge, or get the best perch and eat-fish on the lake. While he is doing this, Mrs. Armstrong gets a lunge every time she is out. This is a fact, for this season, at least.

Mr. Lou Dobbin came on Saturday to spend this week with the family at the Point.

Mr. M. Brackenridge and family have returned home.

A party of Americans arrived on Saturday and anticipate a great two weeks' fishing.

Proprietor Gilman of the Jubilee House is receiving a very large percentage of the business of the lake, and deservedly so.

WESTERN CALL FOR MEN

Preparations have commenced in earnest for the handling of the Northwest's big wheat crop, the only difficulty experienced by farmers being the scarcity of labour in the harvest fields. To induce men to go west the C. P. R. has made the remarkably low rate of ten dollars from Ontario. This fare carries the ticket holder to any point on the company's lines east at Moose Jaw; trains are run direct to Winnipeg, and the men are ticketed there for the points where they wish to work. After at least one month's work in the field, labourers are issued tickets back to Ontario starting point at $18.00. Leaving dates of Canadian Pacific excursions are Aug. 18, Sept. 1, 8, from stations northwest of Toronto, Aug. 18, 19, Sept. 1, 9, From stations southwest of Toronto, and Aug. 20, 22, 27, Sept. 2, 11, 14 from stations east of Toronto. The most important excursions are Aug. 18 and 20, and on these dates special trains will be run from all C. P. R. stations, times of which agents will furnish. The C. P. R. is the only Canadian route to the west, and the only line carrying Farm Laborers through without change. Apply to ticket agents, or C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, Toronto, for full information. 2d13-3463

ON THE MIDWAY AT THE TORONTO EXHIBITION

An Avenue of Amusement—Pony and Monkey Circus.

The Avenue of Amusement, or Midway, at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, has received special attention with a view to bringing it up to the highest standard yet reached. While there will be nothing objectionable, there will be a variety of shows that will amuse and delight old and young alike. Trained animal shows are always wonder-creating, and there will be one seen here that has been the centre of attraction on its own account, apart from any other features, for several years in the larger cities of America. A vaudeville will be another centre of attraction, and so will be Frank Fraunfelter's animal curios, a special feature that is entirely new. A pony and monkey circus will be another crowning feature in the Amusement Avenue, and so will the Seven English Roses, a bunch of exceedingly pretty girls, who give a bright pantomimic entertainment. Some seals and sealions lend themselves for admiration by their intelligent acts. "The Lilliputian Village," with the widow of the late General Tom Thumb as the bright particular star, will delight the youngsters and astonish the older people. Besides these, there will be many old favourites, including The Little World, The Temple of Illusions, Glass Blowing and other things which contributes to the making of an entertaining and amusing whole. One of the latter will be a fat woman, supposed to be the fattest woman in the whole world, weighing nearly forty-two stone, or nearly five hundred and eighty pounds.

Appropriation Money For Board Of Works Getting Small

Only About $2000 Left---Repairs Wanted on King Street---Sidewalk Past Institute---Request of Mr. Houedry ---Creek Diversion Money.

At a meeting of the Committee of the Whole last night, several questions of importance were attended to in rapid order.

Those present were his Worship the Mayor, Ald. Phelan, Johnson, Bradburn, Tovey, Turner, Neill, Buller, Morgan, McIntyre, Elliott, and the City Solicitor, E H D Hall; City Engineer T A S Hay and Street Commissioner Evans.

The mayor was informed by the chairman of the Board of Works that the appropriation set apart for the construction of streets and bridges had been heavily drawn upon. Only about $2,000 was left.

City Treasurer Adams stated that if the appropriation money went as fast as it had gone during the past month it would disappear before the end of the month.

Ald. Neill considered that the question of granting extras to the Board of Works should be very carefully considered. An estimate correct as possible should be made at the time of the appropriation, and he questioned the policy of having to make further demands.

On account of the heavy expenditures in connection with the firehall equipment, the Fire, Water and Light Committee's appropriation is also getting small.

The chairmen of the two committees were asked to report on what extras they required to complete the work decided upon.

Ald. Elliott pointed out that there were many trees in the parks and along the streets that should be trimmed this season, but the committee thought this work would have to remain over.

King St. Repairs

Mr. Wm. Rudkins addressed the committee on the unsatisfactory condition of King street. It was one of the rejected and dejected streets of the city, and the city had stopped fixing it almost where they should have begun. A walk had been put down a year ago, and a bridge with concrete flooring had been constructed over the creek, but otherwise the street—one of the most central of the city—had been neglected. There was no crossing for the many travelling between the two stations, there was no sewage there, and every householder except a few had to use well water. The work had not been nearly finished yet.

Sherbrooke St. Factory

Ald. Buller reported that the officials of the German card-board factory, in course of erection on Sherbrooke street, were wanting sewer connection, and unless granted, they could not proceed with the work.

"They will get the connection as soon as the law allows it," Ald. Phelan stated, and that question was also left with the Board of Works.

The Watering Trough

Ald. Morgan asked why it was that the water trough on Hunter street, East City, was not yet connected with the sewer, as had been ordered at a previous meeting. It had caused sickness in that vicinity and was liable to cause more if it were not attended to immediately.

Street Commissioner Evans said it was not advisable to connect with the sewer the way it was at present, since there was no sound foundation to work on.

An Institute Sidewalk

The Board of Education wants a sidewalk constructed past the Collegiate Institute on McDonel street. Dr. Morrison was a deputation from the Board to make the request. School re-opens in a couple of weeks, and there are no sidewalks to protect the grass and boulevards from being trampled upon. The Board of Education had expected the Council to construct a walk all along the southern side of McDonel street, but owing to the lateness of the season this would now probable not be feasible. The Board, however, felt that a walk should be laid from the point where the path through Central Park crosses McDonel street, to the girls' entrance, along the south side of McDonel street.

Cost of Creek Diversion

Ald. Phelan read a communication from W. R. Tiffin, of the G. T. R. offering the sum of $300 towards the Aylmer creek diversion along the company's tracks. The chairman of the Board of Works said that the sum spoken of was $500, and not $300, but he though: the latter amount should be accepted.

It was moved, therefore, by Ald. Bradburn and Elliott, that the sum of $300 be accepted from the Grand Trunk.—Carried.

Mr. Houedry's Request

City Engineer T A S Hay reported that the erection of a shipping building by the Houedry Bros. on the street would not be an inconvenience. Ald. Buller and others objected to it going on the street. It was also pointed out that a portion of the Houedry building was already on the street, and that it should be removed.

Moved by Ald. Phelan and Neill, that the matter be left in the hands of the Legal Committee.—Carried.

THE SENSATIONAL MURDER IN NEW YORK CITY HIGH LIFE

HOLDS BACK THE CROWD

New York, Aug. 18.—Special. — A case almost on a par with the Thaw case, but with less that is sordid in it, arose late on Saturday, when Captain Peter Conover Hains, Jr., U.S.A., son of Brigadier-General Peter Conover Hains, U.S.A., retired, fired five shots of a revolver into William E. Annis of New York, owner and publisher of Burr McIntosh's Monthly and other magazines. The tragedy was enacted on the landing stage of the Bayside Yacht Club, Flushing, Long Island. Annis, whom Captain Hains' brother accused of having been improperly attentive to the captain's wife, died in the Flushing hospital a few hours after the shooting.

Were Disembarking

Capt. Hains, accompanied by his brother, Thornton Jenkins Hains, well known as an author and amateur yachtsman, walked to the landing stage of the club as Annis and a club member named Harway were disembarking from a boat, and at once opened fire. Annis attempted to get behind Harway, but Captain Hains, reaching under Harway's arm, emptied his revolver upon his enemy, five shots taking effect.

Immediately there was commotion on the club verandah, where Mrs. Annis had fainted, and a dozen yachtsmen rushed to the float to the assistance of Annis. Before they could get to the side of the wounded man, however, T. J. Hains, the captain's brother, had whipped out a revolver and threatened to shoot the first man who interfered.

Brother Helped Him

"This is an affair between these two," he said calmly.

Annis, with two bullets in his abdomen, one in the arm and two in his legs, was rushed to the Flushing hospital.

Captain Hains and his brother, neither of whom appeared in any way disturbed, awaited the arrival of the police on the club float, where they surrendered themselves.

At the police station the captain refused to divulge the motive that had prompted him to shoot Annis, but his brother declared that Annis had paid improper attentions to his brother's wife, and that the latter had no other course open to him but to kill Annis.

Victim Wouldn't Talk

Annis, shortly after arriving at the hospital, revived sufficiently to say a few words, but soon relapsed into unconsciousness. To the hospital authorities who questioned him as to the causes which had led to the attack upon him, replied that he preferred to say nothing. He died at 7.16 without regaining consciousness. Dr. Amber, coroner of Flushing, arrived at the hospital after the wounded man had lost consciousness and was unable to obtain an ante-mortem statement.

After examining a number of witnesses, the coroner ordered Captain Hains and his brother held for arraignment before a magistrate on Monday.

Prisoners Reticent

Police Captain Ruthenberg, in command of the Flushing precinct, was unable to elicit any statement from either of his prisoners, both declaring that they would have nothing to say until after they had consulted their lawyer.

Annis was about to take his wife and two friends out sailing, when he was intercepted on the landing stage of the club. He had just brought his sailing yacht, the Pam, to the float, preparatory to taking his guests out on her, when Capt. Hains opened fire on him.

Distinguished Persons

Captain Hains is attached to Fort Hancock, as Quartermaster, having entered the army at the finish of the Spanish-American war with the rank of 2nd Lieutenant of Artillery. He is a graduate of the Naval Academy of Annapolis, but left the navy in 1906, shortly after graduation. His father, Brigadier-General Peter Conover Hains, is a West Point graduate with a distinguished war record.

Divorce proceedings instituted by Captain Hains, in which it was said Annis' name figured, were pending at the time of the shooting.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys every three minutes.

They work night and day to daily remove about 500 grains of impure matter. If they fail some part of this impure matter is left in the blood, bringing on pain in the back, headache, dizziness, irregular heart, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gravel, dropsy, deposits in the urine. Booth's Kidney Pills make the filtering right and overcome kidney trouble. Hundreds of Peterborough County residents have found this out.

Mrs. John Wallace, of No. 323 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., says: "I had suffered with many painful and annoying symptoms of kidney trouble for over two years and could find nothing that would benefit my condition. My back was weak and a dull, heavy pain settled across the small of it, extending into my sides and shoulders. I could not sleep at night as the kidney secretions were so frequent and irregular that I would have to leave my bed a number of times. I was dizzy and weak and would usually awake with a dull headache. Booth's Kidney Pills procured at McDirmid and Jury's drug store, cured me when all else failed. I am stronger and feel better generally. I can conscientiously recommend Booth's Kidney Pills, and I would not be without a box in the house."

Sold by dealers. Price 50 cents. The R. T. Booth Company, Limited, Fort Erie, Ont., sole Canadian agents.

MR. BAILEY'S CANOE NOT SAFE

The following letter has been received by the Chief of Police, who states in connection with it that he is not guilty of begging or borrowing from Mr. W A Bailey; that he never broke into his house; that he never swindled or insulted him, or slandered him in his newspaper (for he hasn't got one) :—

Sir,—Because someone was using my canoe I moved it further down the river. Mr. Stocker, who camps opposite, informs me that some youths were using it last night, and that I should have lost it if he had not stopped them. You beg and borrow my money, break into my house, swindle me, insult and slander me in your newspapers. Is it not unfair?

Yours obediently,

Aldermen Talk Of Erection Of New Smith Street Bridge

Chairman of Board of Works Says Permanent Structure Must Replace Old One—Present Hunter Street Bridge May be Used.

REPAIRS TO BE MADE

The Smith street bridge again presents trouble for the city council. Ald. Phelan said at the council meeting last night that some move would have to be made towards erecting a permanent structure in place of the present bridge. He read a communication from the city engineer, which stated that only yesterday morning a serious defect was discovered in the second section of the bridge, and that it would have to be attended to immediately. The estimated cost would be $140, which would be expended more for labour than for material.

Ald. Phelan, who has previously urged action in the erection of a new brige, considered that it was something indispensable. The sooner the council moved in the matter the better. The engineer reported some time ago that the bridge would only last about one year, and at that rate if would not hold out any longer than a few months more. Something, therefore, should be speedily done.

Ald. Turner understood that in January the engineer was to have gone into the matter of estimates. There was no occasion for a delay for six or seven months. He proposed that when the engineer was estimating the cost of a new Smith street bridge that the Street Railway Company be conferred with, as it might be possible that the latter might desire to consider the construction of a bridge for a car line.

Ald. Neill said that it was not the intention of the Street Railway Company to enlarge their line in that particular district, but suggested that the city authorities find out from the Minister of Railways and Canals whether it is the government's intention to deepen the water up to the Quaker Oats Company or not, with a view to allowing vessels from Lake Ontario to arrive at their mills. If that were done the present Hunter street bridge would have to be removed and it might replace the old Smith street bridge and thus save expense.

Ald. Elliott stated that if it was the government's intention to deepen the river for the purpose of allowing large vessels to come up to the Quaker Oats Company it would be necessary to have a swing on the present C. P. R. bridge.

It was finally moved by Ald. Tovey and Bradburn that the Board of Works proceed with the necessary repairs to the Smith street bridge.—Carried.

EAST END COTTAGERS HELD MOST SUCCESSFUL REGATTA AT CROWE'S LANDING, YESTERDAY

Big Attendance and Warmly Contested Races Were the Features—The Weather Was Bright and Breezy.

THE LIST OF WINNERS

Special Staff Correspondent.

Crowe's Landing, Stony Lake, Aug. 17.—The second annual regatta of the Upper Stony Lake Cottagers' Association, held this afternoon on the course off Belvidere, was a great success in every way, maintaining the high standard set in the initial venture last year, and comparing very favourably with the similar events at Juniper Island, Chemong and Sturgeon Point. The attendance was large, the races drew out large fields and were warmly contested, and the events were pulled off promptly with none of the tiresome delays that generally characterize water sports.

The lower part of Stony Lake was well represented, many coming up on the regular lake boats, while the "Alberta," "Gladhaiken," "Maida Vale," "[illegible]ney" and "Estelle" brought large contingents. The people from down the lake took part in the races too, and carried off a number of the prizes. It was Norwood's Civic Holiday and a big crowd drove up from that village. When the events started the high shores at the Landing, which afford a splendid view of the course, were thronged with people, who watched the events with interest.

The weather was threatening in the morning, but before noon a merry breeze chased away the clouds and the sun shone brightly. The wind increased rapidly, and by the time the sailing races were due to start there was a stiff breeze blowing from the west. The rough water was not at all to the liking of the canoeists, but no one backed down on that account, and the races were fought out to the end in spite of the heavy breeze. A head wind blowing down the stretch did not help things any, but the paddlers stuck at it gamely.

The breeze was pretty near heavy enough for the yachtsmen, and they had plenty of fun in their events. Mr. Roxborough's boat blew over on her way across to the Landing, and was out of the race. The "Miss Fidgety" went to the rescue and towed her in, but the crew could not get her rigisted in time to be able to enter the open events.

The open sailing brought out four entries: Harold Knapman, S. A. Shaw, Cameron and Ferguson, and Norman Greene entering their boats. The course was a triangular one, six miles around and the sail boats had to travel around twice. Mr. Shaw's boat won by a good margin, with the Boshank boat, Messrs. Cameron's and Ferguson's craft second. Knapman's boat, the Cygnet, met with an accident to her mainsail and had to drop out.

The dinghy race had to be called off, there being only one entry, but the canoe sailing event was a great success. It was captured in handy fashion by Jack Roxburgh, who makes a special of winning such events. Percy Stock, whose canoe upset before the start and who had to go ashore to get rigged up, came in second, beating two other canoes that had obtained a good lead.

Two of the best races on the programme were the men's single canoe race and the men's tandem skiff race, in both of which there were big fields and great contests ensued.

To the regatta committee, which consisted of Messrs. J R McKelvie, chairman; J E Roxburgh, secretary; C W Waters, treasurer; H G Buck, J W Rork and E P Coffee, and to the judges, Messrs. Alex. Gibson and H. Lebrun, the greatest credit is due for the magnificent success of the occasion, and for the promptness in which the events were pulled off.

The list of events and winners follows:

In the evening a masquerade ball was held in the pavilion, which was largely attended, many of the down-the-lake visitors remaining over for the event, which was a great success. Judge Hudspath of New York acted as chairman, and the prizes were presented by Hon. J R Stratton and Mr. J Finley, M.P., both of whom congratulated the upper Stony Lake Cottagers' Association upon the success of their regatta.

The dance which followed was most enjoyable, although here were not many masqueraders. Miss Smith of Norwood provided the music, and the light fantastic was tripped until midnight with satisfactory results. Among those in costume were the Misses Pentland of Peterborough, Miss V. Johnston, Montreal; Miss Edna Winch, Montreal; Miss Edna Cunniff, Peterborough; Mrs. A C Bliss of Buffalo; the Misses Collins, Peterborough; the Misses Sanderson of Peterborough, and Miss Dot Hackett of Peterborough.

Sand Again To Be Removed From Romaine Street Sewer

Seldom is it that a council meeting slips by without the discussion of the question, "What shall be done with the Romaine street sewer" Last night's meeting of the Committee of the Whole was no exception to the rule. It is still the chronic trouble as in months gone by and several opinions were expressed last night regarding what should be done.

"Dig it up and put down a new one," remarked one of the aldermen.

"It will be cheaper to let it lie there and construct another," suggested a second one.

Street Commissioner Evans said that it could be lifted and relaid properly.

"It would be cheaper to build a sewer on another street," remarked Ald. Bradburn.

"Whatever is done the frontage tax must be considered as the people do not want it o pay a second time," said Ald. Phelan.

Ald. Neil—The city will have to bear any extra expense.

Street Commissioner Evans—If the sewer isn't cleaned out before the recommencement of school it will soon be choked up and cause trouble in the basement.

Mr. Evans stated further that the sand could be cleaned out at a cost of $20 or $25 and the sewer would then probably last until spring and it was decided to have the sewer cleaned.

Yesterday's Weather Almost As Sultry As On Marathon Day

According to Mr. Dick Baker, the weather yesterday was the nearest approach there has been for some time to that of Friday, July 24, the day of the Olympic Marathon. Everybody can appreciate what that means and can form some idea of what the Marathoners had to contend with. It was, in fact, more sultry than our yesterday, for there was a slight breath of air here, and the sun was not so dazzling nor so warm. Walking was in itself a labour yesterday, but from Windsor Castle to the Stadium on that memorable occasion, the breath died out of the runners, and the stimulants sufficed but little to maintain the energy and staying powers of the athletes. Under such conditions, the slow time made by the first men home can be well understood.

ELECTRICAL STORM DOES DAMAGE

Many Ontario Districts Sustain Considerable Damage.

INDIAN FAMILY WIPED OUT

Falls Power Company of St. Catharines Loses Entire Transformer Plant — Weston G. T. R. Depot Destroyed — Goderich Tempest Swept With Costly Damage—Waterworks Loses Chimney.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—The electrical storm early yesterday frightened the citizens of Toronto and did much damage throughout the province.

The tower at the Mercer Reformatory, Parkdale, was struck by lightning shortly after midnight. Cowen avenue firemen were called, and without alarming the inmates the fire was extinguished with $50 damage.

The G. T. R. station at Weston, built in 1857, was struck and destroyed. A passing train crew raised the alarm.

Lightning struck the Thorold bridge on the Welland division of the N., St. C. & T. Railway over the Welland Canal, and did about $100 damage. The transformer station of the Falls Power Co. in St. Catharines was struck, and the whole equipment reduced to scrap. The damage is estimated at $6,000 to $8,000, partly covered by insurance.

The damage to fruit in the Niagara district was small.

Around Goderich trees were uprooted and broken branches are strewn in all directions. The roof was partially blown off the McLean block on the Square over the stores occupied by W. C. Pridham and H. Edwards. The Wheel Rigs Co.'s plant was badly damaged, windows blown in and the roof half taken off.

The Brantford waterworks plant was struck and the chimney, 86 feet high, was damaged to the extent of $1,400. The top was split and the fluid plowed a course from top to bottom, cracking the outside shell.

At Hamilton $50 damage was done in a private house, where the lightning ran in on the wires and a maid servant at T. Peacock's residence fell down stairs while hunting for cover from the vivid flashes and was badly shaken up.

George Bowman's barn, at German Mills, was burned; loss $2,000.

Alexander Barnet, lumberman, of Kingston, has had reports from his men at the headwaters of the Soulange river, in Quebec, telling him of the wiping out of a family of Indians by lightning. They had gone to an island to wash when a storm arose and lightning struck a tree under which they sought shelter. A babe in a cradle held by the mother escaped.

DOUKHOBORS HERETICAL.

They Reject James Sharpe Who Professed to Be Their Saviour.

Winnipeg, Aug. 18.—The crusade of James Sharpe, the leader of the band of fanatics who created a sensation by invading Canada from the United States about a month ago, declaring they had a divine message to the Doukhobors, has ended as was foreseen. The Doukhobors refused positively to share Sharpe's hallucinations that he was Christ, or that his wife was the Virgin Mary, and he, in turn, true to his declaration, has decided to shake the dust of Canada off his feet.

Crazy Mother's Crime.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Mrs. Ida Spooner, a widow while temporarily insane, gave her four children morphine Sunday night and attempted to shoot herself next morning.

Gardner, six years old, is dead; Eastmain, aged 9, and Morris, aged 16, are in a serious condition in Vassar Hospital. Mattie, 10 years old, is out of danger.

Mrs. Spooner shot herself above the right ear with a 22-calibre revolver and may have taken some of the poison also. She is in the hospital conscious, but irrational.

Drowns in Water Tank.

Elm Creek, Man., Aug. 18.—Chas. Trimmer, 18 years of age, was drowned here.

He was engaged in filling a tank with water and in some manner the tank overturned and held him in the water.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Two Hundred Are Jailed For Springfield Outrages.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 18.—Two hundred are prisoners in jail for rioting and stand to be charged with murder by the special grand jury, which the state's attorney is to request today.

A careful estimate places the number of negroes who have left Springfield since the beginning of the race war at 2,000. Of this number nearly three-fourths have gone out of the county on railroads and interurban lines. The rest have gone by wagon and on foot and are located in the rural districts.

All day 5,500 national guardsmen have been on duty and Springfield is again ruled by law and order.

The claim of George Richardson, the alleged attacker of Mrs. Hallam and one of the negroes spirited out of Springfield before the rioting reached an acute stage, that he could prove an alibi in the accusation against him, is generally credited here.

One more victim has been added to the death list as a result of the riots. G. W. Scott succumbed to a gunshot wound in the lungs. W. H. Bowe, city clerk in the county treasurer's office is expected to die at any time. His friends say if he does die he will be avenged.

"Wait till the troops go" is the slogan passed about among the citizens.

GORE BAY LOSS HEAVY.

Damage In Sunday's Fire Amounts to $75,000.

Gore Bay, Aug. 18.—The most disastrous fire in the history of the town started at 1.20 Sunday morning somewhere behind Mutchmore's general store, and in a few hours most of the business section was wiped out.

The total loss is estimated at $75,000. There is nothing standing between J. Russell McGregor's stone block and the Gamey building on one side of Meredith street. Across the road the fire made a clean sweep between Dr. Johnston's drug store and the small building owned by John Goodmurphy. In all, about twenty buildings have been destroyed.

Arrested a Funeral.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Because a funeral drove over a boulevard, Policeman William Hallman arrested it. He took the corpse, hearse and 27 carriages full of mourners to the police station, and it was held there thirty minutes until the police captain of the precinct ordered the funeral's release.

At the station the mourners became so angry that a rush was made to attack the sparrow cop. He drew his revolver and held the crowd at bay until eight policemen came to his rescue.

Confesses to Burglaries.

Guelph, Aug. 18.—Berd Tryon, 20 years of age, yesterday morning pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking into the office of M. F. Gray, a coal dealer and James Goldie, a miller. This clears up the mystery of a half dozen attempted burglaries that have been attempted within the last three months. Gray's office was entered no less than four times and Goldie's twice. In all his attempts the amateur cracksman has not succeeded in getting more than $12.15. He was remanded for a week.

Earl Grey Leaves.

Runaway Rector Resigns.

Kingston, Aug. 18.—The wardens of the St. Mark's Church have received the resignation of the Rev. J. H. Nimmo, who eloped with Miss Stewart, whom he married in Rome, N. Y. He requests that he be deposed from the ministry, and he will be formally deposed as soon as authority is received from the bishop, now in England.

Horse Thieves Caught.

Hamilton, Aug. 18.—Three alleged horse thieves were captured yesterday. Two of them at Waterdown, and County Constable Tufford rounded up another later in the day. The prisoner's name is Parker, and it is alleged that he stole a horse and outfit in Brantford. County Constable Kerr took him to Brantford last night.

To Talk Over Power.

Whitby, Aug. 18.—Mayor Jackson is inviting municipal councils of places east of Toronto as far as Cobourg to meet in conference at the earliest possible date in order to have the Niagara power transmission line serve this part of the province constructed under the McGuigan contract.

Fire at Mt. Pleasant.

Bradford, Aug. 18.—Mount Pleasant, two miles north of here, which two weeks ago was badly wrecked by a windstorm, was yesterday the scene of a fire which did considerable damage. The entire property of Richard Thorpe was completely destroyed, his loss being more than $4,000, with insurance of $3,000.

The Mt. Pleasant school house and the residence of Mr. Beswetherick were also damaged to a slight extent.

THE ENGINES SAID TO BE GIVING OUT

A FEW GO BACK TO WORK

Majority of Mechanics Maintain That Ultimatum Giving Men Till To-day to Avoid Losing Jobs Is Only a Last Card — They Say Motive Power Is Steadily Becoming Worse In Condition.

West Toronto, Aug. 18.—Among the striking machinists here the leaders made a canvass of the men yesterday and report that not one will go back as a result of the company's ultimatum.

The threat of filling the shops with men from the old land is not taken seriously as it would take two weeks to bring these out, and another week to distribute them over the system, and during that time what would become of the company's rolling stock?

All the best mechanics in Britain, said a strike leader last night, belong to unions and they would not come out, and they are welcome to the other kind, but we think that the agitation by Mr. Trotter of the Dominion Trades Congress will prevent many of these even from coming out to this country. They all know now what the labor conditions are in this country.

The company paid the striking car men and round-house men yesterday, as well as the engineers.

The official bulletin from Winnipeg says there are seventeen engines "dead," or out of commission, at Chaplean. The strikers claim there are nine at John street round-house, Toronto, and men on the inside at West Toronto shops assert that there are ten there. Among the latter lot are two of the big "1100" passenger class, and another is said to be going to pieces. There are only seven of these big passenger locomotives in the Ontario division."

In talking of this a leading striker said last night that there are over 150 cars of freight stalled in West Toronto yards for lack of engines to pull it out.

The report is also going the rounds that the C. P. R. has lost the carrying contract they had with the Armour people in Chicago to carry their meat products through.

Montreal, Aug. 18.—The feature of the strike news yesterday was the reports to the effect that the Ottawa Government was to intervene and put an end to the strike. It soon became apparent that there was nothing in this story and that the men and the company will be allowed to fight it out on their respective lines.

The men persist in the declaration that the ultimatum is a bluff, and it is said that very few men were yesterday induced to return to work in any of the departments.

Last night Vice-President McNichol announced that all men who were not at their posts to-day at noon will be considered discharged from the company's employ.

Hockey Player, In Police Court.

Brantford, Aug. 18.—William Taylor, hockey and lacrosse player, appeared at the Police Court here yesterday morning charged with brutal assault on his wife and also with having also drawn a revolver on her.

Raps International Unions.

Montreal, Aug. 18.—Dr. P. Pelletier created a sensation at Sherbrooke when he denounced international unions at the meeting of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union.

For Canadian workmen he believed in local unions, but what did the carpenters of the Southern States care for the carpenters of Sherbrooke? But the latter would have to go out or leave the union if international officers say so, even if no grievance was felt here.

Policeman Badly Beaten.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—P. C. Pat Lyons of No. 6 division was brutally set upon and beaten by a gang of Brockton hoodlums in Francis Carey's backyard, 55 Delaney crescent, while taking one Woods into custody.

The officer was knocked down and kicked about the head and face. One of his cheek bones is fractured, and he will be laid up at his home for some days.

Barnardo Boy Drowns.

Smith's Falls, Aug. 18.—A young English youth, a stranger here, named George Gatteridge, was drowned while bathing in the Rideau river yesterday. Some boys who were near him saw him disappear and when he did not come up one of them dived for him and found him lying in the bed of the river. Though not more than five minutes elapsed from the time he went down two hours of skilled work failed to resuscitate him.

Dock Strike Settled.

Brockville, Aug. 18.—The strike of the Prescott longshoremen employed at the coal docks, which took place over three months ago, has at length been satisfactorily adjusted, and the Italians who took their places at the time have been retired.

Woollen Mill Closed.

To Vote on Sunday Cars.

London, Aug. 18.—The City Council last night, by a vote of six to five, granted a petition sending the question of Sunday street cars to the people for a vote.

Coal Company Fails.

Scranton, Aug. 17.—The Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Co. has assigned, with properties worth $26,000,000 to offset liabilities of half that sum.

HARVESTING IS ON.

Cutting General In Manitoba—Crop Will Run 18 to 20 to Acre.

Winnipeg, Aug. 18.—It looks as though the crop in Winnipeg will average 17 to 18 bushels to the acre.

Wheat cutting was general yesterday in Portage Plains, the Brandon district, Indian Head, parts of the Soul line and everywhere where the crop is not late.

Several trainloads of harvesters are being sent out to-day from this city, and the demand by farmers is brisk, wages being about the same as last year, $1.75 per day and $45 per month up.

Trains with harvesters from Ontario coming in report no more trouble, though several were stoned in passing by irate sectionmen and construction gangs, smarting under the insults and indignities they had received from the lawless crowd from the Maritime Provinces.

Slashed Victim's Face.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—Seated astride his victim and slashing at his face like a demon with a broken butcher knife, blood covering both their faces, John Flynn, 190 West Adelaide street, was pulled off the writhing body of Joseph Noonan of 97 Sackville street by P. C. Saunderson on West Adelaide street last evening and locked up in No. 1 police station.

Noonan was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where it was found he had five slashes in his head and face and a bad wound in his shoulder, requiring 24 stitches.

Negligent Trainman Flees.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—The Railway Commission has received reports upon the fatal railway accident near White River on July 27.

This was a rear-end collision, a section of the Transcontinental crushing into a preceding section.

It proves to have been a bad case of negligence, the brakeman of the forward section, L. Atkinson, not having gone the proper distance to the rear to signal the approaching train.

Atkinson is reported to have fled the country.

Fernie Inquest.

Fernie, B. C., Aug. 18.—A general inquest is being held to-day on all the bodies of those who perished in the Fernie disaster.

HOW BOBBY KERR BROKE THE WORLD'S 220 YARD RECORD

Five thousand necks craned.

Ahead of him, twelve—yes, fifteen—yards, another tense figure in green trimmed white running costume, bowed on all fours—Lambert, a Hamilton sprinter of no mean ability.

Bang! The starting signal.

Lambert sprang upright in the first pace and dashed madly ahead. Kerr, kick-off pitching him almost on his face, strode out like lightning to prevent a spill. He ran crouched for 10 yards, squared his stride away, and with arms whipping back and forth in the air in rythm with his legs, sailed after the flying leader. Not inch by inch, but foot by foot, the wonderful sprinter mowed Lambert down. He walked right up on him like an America's cupper would on a fishing schooner in a wind-jam.

At the stretch head, when Kerr squared away for home, and showed the blood-red maple leaf of the Olympic team, Lambert was beaten, and quit, "and his day's work was done." He had pulled Ruddy Robert to the limit in the first hundred, and he left him to plough home alone. On came Kerr, never flagging an instant. He struck the final curve with unabated speed, carried around it without a mis-step, that gained him another yard.

"What do you make it?" he inquired. He showed his watch.

"Let's ask Billy Sherring," said the Tiger president.

The Marathon winner thoughtfully chewed the end of his cigar and surveyed Kerr. You never can tell what Billy Sherring holds against his chest.

"There she is, boys," said Bill Sherring, holding up his watch.

"Same here," chorused the other two timers.

"Same here," meant 21 1 5 seconds.

Beaten it by four yards!

"I always said 220 was Bobby's distance," soliloquized Sherring.

Of course, the record does not go: Kerr's run was only an exhibition, while record time must be established in open competition.

These times were made at Britannia Park, Hamilton, on Saturday, at "Bobby Kerr's athletic meet." — Toronto Star.

Many Runners Are Already Training For Examiner Race

The Examiner Road Races on Thanksgiving Day promise to be the most successful on record, judging by the interest that is already being taken in the event. A number of promising runners are already in training and indications point to a good classy field. The juniors especially are enthusiastic and many of them are hard to work to get into shape. It is not too early to begin training for the events and many athletes are realising that fact and getting busy accordingly. It is likely that several Indian runners will be found in both senior and junior events.

The success of Fred Simpson has made the other Indians ambitious and some great runners may be developed before Thanksgiving Day.

LONGBOAT TO RUN IN HERALD RACE

How He Defeated Simpson on Saturday in the Three Mile Run—Sprints Last Fifty Yards.

SECOND MILE IN FAST TIME

The Hamilton Herald says:—

The feature race of the day between the two famous Indian runners, Tom Longboat and Fred Simpson, was not as interesting as it was expected to be. From what has been heard of Fred Simpson's training in England it was thought that he would give the Onondaga a good argument. Neither man was in the best of shape and it was decided to run only three miles instead of five as had been previously agreed upon. Longboat took the lead from the start and for the first mile Simpson hung on gamely and many thought that he was merely staying behind to have the benefit of Longboat's pace, but after the first mile had been covered Tom started to draw away and at the finish was over half a lap ahead of the Peterborough Indian. Just by way of showing that he was still something of a runner, Longboat made a nice sprint the last fifty yards that brought the people in the stands and bleachers to their feet, and he was cheered to the echo. He has, if anything, improved in style, and still has the long even stride that won the Herald race for him two years ago, when he made his debut in the athletic world.

The three miles were covered in 15.24, but Longboat could have done much better if he had been pushed. After he drew away from Simpson he did not extend himself any more than was necessary until he made the final sprint. He covered the first mile in 5.20, the two miles in 10.20, and the three miles in 15.24. The second mile was his fastest and was covered in five minutes flat. Longboat will run in the Herald race this fall, and his performance on Saturday will change the minds of many people who thought that he was a "has been" simply because he failed to finish in the Olympic Marathon.

A CRIME THAT IS NOT PUNISHABLE.

How many people reading this article have gone into a drug store and asked for some well known and highly tried medicine and some unscrupulous druggist has said, "Yes I we have that, but have you ever tried this remedy, it is just as good and costs less." Any druggist doing this has not the interest of your health at heart, but the interest of his pocket, as he can make more profit out of the cheap substitute.

For the protection and benefit of the public, we wish to say that DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY has been used in thousands of homes for the past sixty-three years and has never failed to give prompt relief and cure in all cases of Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Stomach Cramps, Summer Complaint, Sea Sickness, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus and all Fluxes of the Bowels. When you buy DR. FOWLER'S, you are not experimenting with a new and untried remedy, but are getting one that has stood the test of time.

Miss Lettie Reid, Vivian, Ont., writes: "Last year I suffered untold agony from cramps in the stomach and did not know what to do until a friend suggested I should try DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY and as I was glad to try anything I purchased a bottle.

"When I had taken four doses I found relief and since then I never fail to keep a bottle in the house."

WILL PLAY TORONTO ON THURSDAY

Peterboro' Cricket Club Will Journey There This Week

At an enthusiastic meeting of the cricket club held last night at the Showden House it was decided to go to Toronto on Thursday to play an eleven representing the Toronto Cricket Club. The local team will leave on the early C. P. R. train Thursday morning. They have been practising faithfully and should make a good showing, at any event they will have an enjoyable visit as the Toronto club have the reputation of being capital entertainers.

HOME AND HOME GAMES TO DECIDE

Peterborough and Lindsay Will Come Together in Near Future

The tie existing in this district between Lindsay and Peterborough in the Trent Valley Lacrosse League will be settled shortly by home and home games between the two clubs, goals to count. The dates have not yet been decided upon but the games will be pulled off in the near future and will likely attract big crowds, as there is great rivalry between the two clubs. Two great games should be the result when the two get together.

SPORTS COMING OUT OF THEIR SHELLS SHOULD SIT DOWN

Advice of "Easy" to the Sporting World —A Lover of Alfred Shrubb.

To the Sporting Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—In reading your paper of yesterday I came across a few remarks about Mr. Shrubb, dealing with the question as to whether he could beat the Hamilton record. The article is the first one I have read this year that gives anything like a truthful account of time over long distance, and as the time was made by Shrubb at Ibrose Park, Scotland, some years ago, you will see it is not a difficult matter for them to be exact. Now, sir, as Shrubb is about to arrive in this country from America, where, I believe, he has met with the best of treatment, it will become the sporting amateurs to American such things as gulf and bluff the man who holds the records from one and a half miles up to one hour's run. In conclusion, I might say these record timers and record establishers sent our men over to London firmly convinced that there was nothing to beat them, and what was the result? If it had not been for Bob Kerr, who came here as a boy from the Old Country, we should not have got anything, and good luck to the same boy. He does not "bluff" nor "guff." My advice to the sports who are coming out of their shell again is to go away back and sit down for at least ten years.

Thanking you in anticipation, Mr. Editor, I remain, etc.,

EASY.

Sporting Comment

Joseph Guerin, of Peterborough, who took part in the four days walking match in Port Hope in July, is anxious to arrange a bet on the Toronto-Port Hope walk. Joe states that if he is given $3 to $1 he will endeavour to accomplish the undertaking in thirty-three hours.—Lindsay Warder.

Much interest was taken in the appearance of Tom Longboat, who ran for the first time since his return from the Olympic games. Longboat met Fred Simpson, the Peterborough Indian, who finished sixth in the Marathon race. Longboat appeared to be in fine shape, while Simpson was hog fat. The pace was set by Longboat, who did the first mile in 5.20. He increased his lead in the second mile, the time of which was 10.20. In the third he steadily increased his lead, and won by three-quarter of a lap, his time being 15.24.—Hamilton Times.

The state into which so-called "amateur" ball has got itself in regard to amateurism has been a topic of conversation among sporting men for a long time. Recently, however, the subjete has received the attention of some of the men in authority. Before very long it will undoubtedly be sufficiently before the general public to warrant the application to it of the term, "a real live topic." The question will be probably threshed out before the opening of the season next year.

It is well known that with many of our ball clubs and leagues, the word "amateur" is nothing short of an ornament, and sometimes a blind. It is quite generally used, in many cases, in conjunction with professionalism, either open or partially hidden. The term, as largely used to-day in Toronto, simply seems as a distinction between those of our local boys who play ball and those men hired by the Toronto Ball Club, who make their living at the business. The spirit of money-making in both cases is identical.

Now comes the hint of the drawing of a line. From a remark dropped this morning by one of the governors of the C.A.A.U., the amateur standing of the players in the city and other senior baseball leagues throughout the Province is being quietly investigated by the Registration Committee of that body. From what the gentleman hinted, there is a probability that the players in these leagues will be refused registration by the C.A.A.U. In that event, they would be unable to enter into any amateur competition held under the auspices of the governing union. Many clubs, and leagues are recognised as strictly amateur, and, of course, these would receive prompt recongition in the event of action being taken.—Toronto News.

CANADIAN BOWLERS IN ENGLAND

How They Were Received in Reading—Given Royal Reception

The Reading Standard of Reading, England, gives the following account of the visit of the Canadian Bowlers to that city:—

On Tuesday, the Canadian Bowlers who, representing, the Canadian Association are making a playing tour of the Mother country, visited Reading. Needless to say, they were accorded a welcome the cordiality of which could not be mistaken, and the only thing they thought upon with regret was probably the fact that the Reading Club defeated them though, as their captain put it later in the day, it would have been base ingratitude on their part if they had tried to win after the generosity with which they had been received. The remark, was of course, greeted with laughter, for the visitors were keener on their game than on their entertainment, if that could be so.

On arrival, the Canadians were met at the station by the members of the Leading Bowling Club, including Mr. C. Henwood, president, Mr. H. Childs, hon. sec., and practically the whole of the committee, and were taken through the Forbury Gardens to Abbey Ruins, in the inspection of which they were greatly interested. They then paid a visit to Messrs. Huntley and Palmers Buiscuit factory, returning subsequently to the Queen's Hotel, where they were entertained to lunch by the mayor, Mr. W. M. Colebrook, who had invited a few friends to meet them, the party numbered some 60 or 70. After lunch a short toast list was gone through. The Mayor proposed the loyal toast, and Alderman J. W. Martin gave that of "The visitors" to which Dr. Russell responded, and in turn proposed the health of the Reading Club. Mr. Henwood replied to the last-named. The party was then driven in brakes to the Bowling Green in Kendrick road.

At the time fixed for the commencement of the match a sharp shower was in progress, but later the sun shone out and the scene was a picturesque one. The green itself is beautifully situated. Its turf is like velvet, across which the sunshine sends shimmering gleams. The green is surrounded by flower beds charmingly laid out and backed with evergreens and after the refreshing showers were looking at their best. Added to this natural beauty was the charm of the modest creations worn by the many ladies present. The company was a large and fashionable one, and the course of the play was followed keenly.

PETERBORO RINKS ARE WINNING

Dominion Bowling Association Games on in Toronto

Toronto Aug. 18.—The sixteenth annual tournament of the Dominion Bowling Association was opened by his Worship Mayor Oliver yesterday afternoon under favourable conditions. The greens were good, and some 300 players took part in the opening day's play.

Mayor Oliver rolled the first ball down the alley. John Bain and J S Russell, the two oldest bowling enthusiasts of the country, as well as S B Brush, the president of the association, also assisted in the initial ceremonies.

Twenty-eight greens were occupied, four defaults being registered, namely, C B McKeown of Orangeville, F Ramsay of Dunville, Dr. Holmes of Owen Sound and J A Sword of Rusholme.

Dr. McGregor of Elora, the holder of the Walker Trophy, is here, with almost the same rink, Fisher taking the place of Harvey as lead, being the only change, but John Rowan's quartette were twoo much for them and they are now in the association. All the stand-bys are present, including D. Carlyle, Dr. Hawke, J S Willison, Dr. Moore, McCurdy of Stratford, Eccleston of St. Kitts, John Bain, and many others are present from the east as far as Ottawa and west as far as London. Greenwood of the Canadas swamped Dr. Orr's trophy ambitions to the tune of 33 to 6. Eccleston of St. Kitts put Dr. Moore out, while Dr. Hawke, with Thomas and John Rennie, were put out of the running by Readman's Balmy Beaches, and the score wasn't even close. His Worship the Mayor fell under the strong rink of T. Carey of Rusholme. A bunch of comers under the guidance of Lou Laing of Kew Beach, showed Dr. Dame a few points about the game, finishing strong and winning out on the last end. Eddie Forbes of Kew Beach, whose rink, skipped by W N McEachren, won the recent Tuistle tourney, started off at their own pace and trimmed Charles Caldwell of St. Matthew's with a majority of 13 shots.

The Ontario winner, W B Smith of the local Victoria Club, was defeated in the first round by Carey of Rusholme. Swabey and Forbes are the only local trophy winners who survived the day's play.

Following were the results of the first day's play, so far as Peterborough rinks were concerned:

WEDDING BELLS

REID—STEWART

In the presence of the immediate relatives of the interested parties a quiet house wedding was held at 10 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride's parents, 514 Aylmer st., when Margaret E. Retta, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stewart was united in marriage to Percy S. Reid, son of the late Edward Reid and Mrs. Reid, of this city.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. A. Pearson, of the George Street Methodist Church.

The bride was given away by her father and was attended only by the ringbearer, her sister, Miss Eva, who wore a dress of cream mull and carried a basket of pink roses.

The bride was attired in a semi-princess gown of cream mousquisette over taffeta trimmed with satin and lace and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss V. Palmer provided the wedding music. The groom's present to the bride was a hoop of pearls and to the ring bearer and pianist gold bracelets.

The bride's travelling costume was a suit of navy taffeta with hat and gloves to match. Mr. and Mrs. Reid left on the G. T. R. noon train for Charlotte, N. Y., where they will take an R. and O. steamer for a trip down the St. Lawrence and on their return will reside at 227 Wescott street. The presents were numerous and useful and included a cheque from the parents of the bride and a china tea service from Mr. F. J. Might, of the Turnbull Co., and Mrs. Might.

ESCAPED MEN WERE NOT THERE

Police Were Led to Believe They Might Find Some of Them in Central Park

The police were given a tip this afternoon that a couple of men answering to the description of some of the prisoners who recently escaped from the Toronto gaol, had been seen in Central Park, but the alarm proved to be a false one. Chief Rossel and P. C. McGinty made a tour of Central and Victoria Parks but failed to find anybody who looked like Rose, Churchill and Company. However, they soared some of the loungers who were taking an afternoon siesta under the trees.

For the carriage of the mails between Canada, Liverpool and Hong Kong, the Canadian Pacific Railway gets a subsidy of $125,000 a year from the Canadian Government and another of $100,000 a year from the British Government.

The editor and publisher of the Marathi(India) weekkl Vihari, has been convicted of publishing a seditious article and sentenced to two years' imprisonment and a fine of 1000 rupees ($350) The article exhorted Indians to die on the battlefield, says the London Times. The number of persons receiving state relief in India has fallen (June 28) to 1,367,000.

FINE OF $100 AND COSTS IMPOSED

Young Man Who Carried Liquor on to the Hiawatha Reserve Gets Minimum Fine

Examiner Special

Hiawatha, Aug. 19.—In the liquor case tried here yesterday, the young man charged with an infriction of the Indian Act in bringing liquor onto the reserve, pleaded guilty.

The case was tried before Mr. Edmison, police magistrate, of Peterborough, with Crown Attorney Wood of Peterborough prosecuting. Mr Gordon appeared for the defence. The minimum fine of $50 and costs was imposed, with a warning that on a second conviction a more severe penalty would be inflicted. It is to be hoped that henceforth white men will refrain from like demoralization of the Indians of the reserve.

SURVEYORS LEAVE FOR LINDSAY

New Lock, Dam and Bridge to be Constructed There

Still the work goes on along the route of the Trent Canal. To-day Mr. R. A. Davey, accompanied by Messrs. Rutherford, Montgomery and Bert Armstrong, left for Lindsay to survey for the new lock, dam and bridge to be constructed there. They will open a temporary office in Lindsay and prepare the plans and specifications for the improvements mentioned. As soon as these are completed tenders will be called for, and in the course of due time the contract will be let.

The work of surveying and preparing plans and specifications for the work at Hastings is nearing completion, and tenders will be invited presently.

BOX CAR SHUNTED TOO FAR TORE UP TIES

Record Meeting of the Peterborough Board This Morning—An Estimate of the Value

BEST PRICE OF THE SEASON

The termination of the Cheese Board meeting this morning was more like the conclusion of the piece de resistance on the programme of an appreciated concert. The cause of the outbursts of applause was due to the fact that the sale was unique. Three thousand eight hundred and eighteen cheese were boarded and all but twenty-five were secured by Mr. G. A. Gillespie. It was possibly the shortest sale on record, as not more than half an hour elapsed between the boarding of the first factory and the rush for the door.

The price, too, was very much appreciated, being 12 7-16c. per pound or 7-16 cents better than a fortnight ago. At the corresponding sale last year only 2,986 cheese were boarded, the best price being 11 5-16c.

The bidding began at 12c. and ran rapidly up to 12 7-16c. Mr. Gillespie began calling the factories at the top of the board and made a clean sweep. He offered the same price to Oak Leaf, Montreal inspection, but Oak Leaf refused, or he would have had them all.

Seldom is it that one man distributes as much money throughout Peterborough County as Mr. Gillespie will in ten days' time. Rough calculations indicate that the 3,818 cheese will bring in the neighbourhood of $40,000 for the farmers, which forms some idea of the magnitude of the dairy industry in Peterborough County.

Reception Committee Make Necessary Arrangements

Hon. Geo. P. Graham Arrives on Thursday Evening at Seven O'Clock—To be Met by Civic Officials

SPEAKERS DECIDED UPON

The manner in which the Honorable Geo. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, would be received on his arrival in the city on Thursday evening was the only business discussed at the meeting of the Reception Committee of the City Council last night.

The Minister will arrive at seven o'clock from Gore's Landing on the steamer "Bessie Butler," accompanied by the Deputy Minister, Mr. M. J. Butler. He will be met at Gore's Landing by His Worship Mayor Rush and Mr. W. H. Denham representing the Board of Trade. On landing at the wharf in the city he will be conveyed by cab through the city to see the various manufacturing establishments. A public meeting will afterwards be held in the Council Chambers, where a number of prominent business and professional men will be asked to make short addresses, their remarks principally to touch upon the necessity of the early completion of the Trent Canal. Previous to the speeches His Worship the Mayor will read an address of welcome to Hon. Mr. Graham.

The speakers who will be invited to give brief addresses are Messrs. R. H. Hall, M.P.; W. H. Denham, T. F. Matthews, W. H. Meldrum, E. C. Patterson, D. Hughes Charles, Robt. Neill, D. W. Dumble, W. H. Moore, J. H. Burnham, John Carnegie, Ald. Geo. Elliott and Hon. J. R. Stratton. Only between five and ten minutes will be allowed for each speaker, on account of the number. Hon. Mr. Graham will reply.

There were present at the meeting last night, Ald. Elliott, chairman of the Reception Committee; Ald. McIntyre and Turner, His Worship the Mayor, and Mr. T. F. Matthews of the Board of Trade.

Several suggestions were offered as to the best method of holding the reception.

Ald. J. J. Turner did not think it could be too imposing. He said the 57th Regimental Band, as well as the city authorities, should meet the Minister at the wharf and escort him to the place where the meeting was to take place. On such an occasion he deserved an enthusiastic welcome, and Ald. Turner thought the Minister should be honoured with a fine display.

Mr. Matthews, the chairman, Ald McIntyre and the Mayor also made suggestions, and finally decided on the above-mentioned arrangements.

MANAGER CROCKER TO BE PRESENT AT Y.M.C.A. BANQUET

The Y. M. C. A. will hold a big athletic banquet on Wednesday, the 26th of August, in the Association Hall. It is expected that over one hundred men will be present to hear Mr. J. H. Crocker, who managed the Canadian Olympic team in England recently. This will also be made the occasion to present medals to the winners in the Howden and Eastwood trophy competitions, and the cups will also be presented to the winners. The Bradburn trophy, won by the Y. M. C. A. Chieftains in the Junior Church League, will also be presented. In addition to this several local speakers will be present and a good musical programme will be given. The cost will be 35 cents per plate.

MORE NORTHERN LIGHTS VISIBLE

Rev. Dr. Marsh Explains the Cause of These

The aurora borealis were again visible last night, especially before the rising of the moon. In the early part of the evening they were particularly pretty, long rays of light shooting at times as far up into the sky as the north star.

On inquiring from Rev. Dr. Marsh as to their cause last night, he stated that yesterday there was a very large disturbance in the centre of the sun. There was also a large disturbance on the western limb and a cloud upon the faculae on the eastern limb. Any of these would be responsible for the northern lights.

The Wellingtons and P.A.S. of the City League are settling the argument which has existed between the two teams and their supporters for so long, by an exhibition game at Riverside Park this afternoon.

THE TRENT CANAL.

Most of us remember when so far as Trent Valley Canal navigation is concerned, the route from Trenton to Lake Simcoe was a mere chaosm—a locked water stretch. Now there is continuous navigation from Healey Falls to the furthest northward shore of Lake Simcoe. There are only fifty-eight miles of canalized streams to be made navigable, and upon thirty miles of this, from Campbellford to Trenton, work is being rapidly pushed, and surveys have been made of the northern missing link, which, when completed, will open up continuous barge navigation from Fort William and Port Arthur, the present distributing point of Northwest wheat, to Liverpool, the chief ultimate market. This will give a route for our wheat, and for an expenditure of ten or twelve millions, four hundred or five hundred miles shorter than the Erie Canal, which will require the expenditure by the United States of $101,000,000 to make it of even inferior carrying capacity to the great Trent waterway.

CHEAP POLITICS.

Our enterprising contemporary is achieving a reputation for cheap politics, consisting of nasty little insinuations and school boy fault findings. It writes "W.O."-ful letters to itself and disparages the visit of the Minister of Railways and Canals, insinuating that this visit is made for political purposes. Hon. Mr. Graham's visit to this district is in conformity with the policy he has pursued since he took office, that of seeing for himself the conditions associated with the work for which he and his Department are responsible. Mr. Graham has not visited the Trent Canal route since he became a Minister. He has been busy settling himself in harness, and has been occupied with the duties of a session of Parliament—the longest in the history of the country. What is more natural than that he should take the first opportunity after the session to make his long-contemplated and long-promised visit. He takes the completion of the Trent Canal seriously and seizes the first chance that presents to see the conditions on the spot. If he waited till after the elections, the date of which is not even fixed or known, there would be undesirable delay and he could be fairly charged with stealing the Conservative policy—trifling with the work of Trent Canal construction, and of using it as a mere political expedient, as the Review is doing by writing letters to itself and denying to the council the right to show courtesy to one of His Majesty's visiting Ministers, and thus show its interest in a work with whose completion the material interests of Peterborough are far more closely connected than with the political success of the editorial engineer of the Review. Before writing its little letter to itself the Review did not evidently read the proof of its council report, which appeared in its columns the same day as the letter. It would have seen that Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., was not delegated to write the address. The matter of a civic address was left in the hands of a reception committee to prepare an address to be read by the Mayor. This trifling matter is not worth the space given it, except to show the peanut nature of the politics the Review practises—as small as it is possible to conceive. From the city council's point of view the reception of Hon. Mr. Graham is entirely non-political, a purely civic welcome due to a responsible Minister, to whom the city and district have to look for the further measures of a completion of a work so essential to the progress of the city and district, and any citizen who interjects a discordant element is to that extent a public enemy, seeking petty political profit at the expense of the public at large.

TWELVE YEARS OF LAURIER.

While the increase in the volume of export trade in the products of Canadian farms was the most notable single event in the Twelve Years of Laurier it is worth while noting that in at least three other great industries the progress made was also very remarkable. Too much stress cannot be laid upon the increase in the value of farm products exported, from forty millions in 1891 and sixty millions in 1896 to a hundred and twenty millions in 1908-7-8. All the same, it is rather flattering to the spirit of Canadians to find that the export of manufactured articles, which in 1896 was only nine millions has now grown to twenty-eight millions, or more than treble. Those who declaim about Mr. Foster's wonderful mastery of tariffs, and who light-heartedly assumed that present tariff is constructed without due regard for the success of Canadian industry might take note of this three-fold increase.

In the export of products of the mine, also there has been a splendid development. In 1896, when the Laurier Government came to office this trade was worth eight millions a year. It is now worth thirty-nine millions or within an ace of five times the amount. Nobody is going to argue that the Laurier Government put the minerals there (but what it is quite fair to concede is that, at the instance of the Laurier Government, Parliament has spent the money necessary to follow up every great discovery and to promote the development of the territory, in which it was made. Facts like that should be borne well in mind when free and easy criticism of expenditure is indulged in. It would have been a just reproach to Parliament if, having the money to spend it had failed to do all in its power to promote this great development, with railways, tetegraph lines, facilities for carrying on the government, and the rest. There is no room for such reproach, and the multiplication five times over of the record of 1896 tells why.

Finally, there has been a notable augmentation in the value of forest products exported, that is to say, from twenty-seven millions in 1896, to forty-four millions in 1908. The fisheries in which the increase has been least notable, show a gain of two millions, or thirteen in 1908 to eleven in 1896.

As told, in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1908, after just about Twelve Years of Laurier, the export of Canadian home produce reached the magnificent total of two hundred and forty-seven millions, as compared with one hundred and nine millions in the year 1896. The record is one with which Sir Wilfred may well be content to face the electorate.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Liquor License Commissioners in the city of Ottawa exclude the press from their meetings when license transfer applications are received. This action has a shady look.

For a day or two the suckling Conservative press sucked great comfort from the illusive fact that the Saskatchewan elections gave Premier Scott, the Liberal leader, a majority of only two. But the lemon was sucked dry in a very short time. The real truth soon came out, a Liberal majority of from ten to fourteen, a pretty good working majority in a house of forty-five. However, the Toronto News tries to break the force of these numbers by asserting that there will be protests, and that Liberals may be unseated. In its simplicity, it infers that there is no possibility of protests against Conservatives—innocent as a lamb, is the News.

The Toronto News says that Mr. Borden, the Conservative leader stands for the restoration of the public lands to Alberta and Saskatchewan. It is held that, for purposes of colonization and development, it is in the national interest that the Dominion should retain control of the public lands. The lands cannot be "restored," for the Provinces never owned them—the Dominion bought them from the Hudson Bay Company and paid for them. The Dominion pays a subsidy in lieu of the lands. The Provinces don't want control of the public lands—the subsidy is more convenient. Saskatchewan has declared that she doesn't desire it. Mr. Haultain made the public lands for the Province the chief plank in his platforms, and the electors shattered his platform in pieces.

According to the report of the Ontario Department of Lands, Forests and Mines for the year ended December 31 last, the output of mines and minerals in 1907 was of greater aggregate value than in any previous year, exceeding the output of 1906 by $2,618,190. The largest item in the total of $25,006,492, was the production of silver, of which the mines at Cobalt camp yielded 10,028,259 oz., valued at $6,157,871. The total amount of silver produced in the Cobalt mines up to the end of 1907 was 18,088,256 ounces valued at $11,297,812. The shipments of ore to the same date amounted to 22,446 tons, so that the average contents of silver were 806 ounces per ton, worth $503. The next in importance to silver is nickel, the output of which was 10,972 tons, having a value in matter of $2,271,616. Accompanying nickel was copper to the extent of 10,972 tons, worth $1,045,556.

FEEBLE OLD FOLKS

There are Many in Peterborough Who Should Read This Article

With old age comes feebleness and loss of power, the senses are not as acute as in former years, the organs act more slowly and less effectually; the blood is thin, sluggish and watery, the appetite is poor, the digestion weak, and the waste of life forces outstrips the addition.

To all such feeble, elerly people in Peterborough and vicinity, we want to suggest our delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, which is rich in the elements of life.

When the powers of life are low, Vinol promotes a restorative process in the system, and furnishes nourishment to the body. It strengthens the digestive organs, increases the appetite, repairs worn tissue and replaces weakness with strength. We have many grateful letters from old people whom Vinol has benefited.

This is because Vinol is made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers, combining with peptonate of iron all the medicinal, healing, body building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

Vinol cannot bring back lost years, but it will brighten those that remain, and we ask elderly people of Peterborough to try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails to give satisfaction. McDermid & Jury, druggists, Peterborough, Ont.; also the Market Drug Store.

NOCTURNAL FOOT RACE ON LINDSAY STREETS

Constable Takes Hand in the Game But is Outdistanced

As the midnight bells were tolling last night there appeared two men on the corner of Lindsay and Kent streets, dressed in running attire. On close inspection they proved to be Messrs. Leonard Nesbitt and Joe Cain, two of Lindsay's famous sprinters. Their idea was to run a hundred-yard dash. Just as they were contemplating who they would have to act as referee, Constable Shortt came along, and as the worthy policeman was in bygone days a good runner himself, he was chosen to act as starter. At the crack of the pistol the sporting race began, and it was a hard race all the way. Leonard Nesbitt, however, proved to be the faster of the two and he was given the decision. The time in which the race was run is not known, but it is said it was a record-breaker. It is said that the starter had a lingering desire for the company of the two gentlemen, but he was distanced.—Lindsay Post.

BEER AND BIGOTRY THE CAUSE

Hamar Greenwood, M.P., Says That's What Ails England.

ALL RED ROUTE CERTAIN

Canadian Member of British House Is on His Way to British Columbia—Says Liquor Evil and Church Have Nation by the Throat—Clergy Stand For Feudalism—Route Round the Empire.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—"England to-day suffers, and suffers grievously, from beer and bigotry." This statement was made last night by Hamar Greenwood, the Canadian member for the City of York in the Imperial House of Commons, who is in the city and who chose to make a few observations in reply to numerous questions.

"England," he went on, "is the richest country in the world and her fiscal policy is all right, but the beer lords and the State Church parsons are working hand-in-glove against the present Government, which is fighting and which will fight for the well-being of the nation as a whole above the miserable interests of an unscrupulous trade and a privileged Church. In short, the battle being waged by Mr. Asquith and millions of strong men is a battle against the monopolizing and degenerating power of the drink traffic, and against the idea of a State Church that attempts to socially ostracize here and damn hereafter those who disagree with it, and against the still strong vestiges

"I am certain the all-red route is bound to materialize," Mr. Greenwood declared emphatically, "and I am equally certain that all the talk about a line of 25-knot steamers is out of the question. I have every reason to believe that before the present old country Government goes to the country there will be a steamship and railway route around the Empire subsidized in fair ratio by the English, Australian, New Zealand, and Canadian Governments, and possibly by that of South Africa. My own impression is that existing lines will be used for this purpose, perhaps with the addition of some 18-knot steamers."

London Hotelmen Charged.

London, Aug. 19.—Early yesterday afternoon Inspector Golpin lodged charges against twenty-five hotels in this city for violation of the liquor license act.

This is the outcome of the happenings on Aug. 2, when the old boys were here.

It is understood the inspector's hand has been forced by the temperance league, as the hotels were unmolested in previous reunions.

Oil Well on Fire.

Mexico City, Aug. 19.—The great fire which has been raging in the oil well near Tampico for 43 days, has baffled all attempts to extinguish it. From a hole eight inches in diameter, the well has widened into a volcano, with a crater 100 metres across.

It is estimated that the flames reach a height of 500 feet. The amount of oil consumed is about 20,000 gallons a minute.

Boys Steal Papers.

Thorold, Aug. 19.—Two boys, William Randall and David Comfort, appeared before Magistrate Munro charged with stealing a number of bundles of Toronto morning newspapers from the Grand Trunk station. A plea of guilty was entered, but the boys were let go on suspended sentence.

Loss Five Millions.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—Further reports received by the Canadian Pacific Railway of forest fires on their property on Vancouver Island indicate that up to the present the timber loss will reach close to $5,000,000, and the fires are still burning.

Three Fishing Schooners Gone.

Paris, Aug. 19.—(C. A. P.)—Great mourning at Cancale for three fishing schooners, the Bordelaise, Alice-et-paul, and Marceillaise, which sailed for Newfoundland in March are given up as lost. The crew numbered 78.

Abused Sister-In-Law.

Belleville, Aug. 19.—Albert Greaves, a married man, was arrested here at midnight Monday night on the charge of brutality towards his sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Renfrew.

EXTRAORDINARY BEAR HUNTING FEAT OF AN INDIAN GUIDE

Four Grizzlies Fall to One Rifle—Some Wiles of the Hunter to Escape Death

A BIG SKIN AS A TROPHY

Examiner Special

Vancouver, Aug. 18.—When Mr. A. F. Gwin of the Pacific Mine and Timber Co., Limited, Homer street, Vancouver, went off on a prospecting trip in the interior of British Columbia, he did not go as a hunter of big game, but he has returned with a budget of adventures and experiences such as any Nimrod might recount without blushing. He brought back with him several fine mineral specimens and a bear skin which is now in the hands of a taxidermist, in process of being made fit to adorn a room in Mr. Gwin's home.

It was an Indian named Charles James who made the kill, and the bear whose hide is now in Mr. Gwin's possession is but one of four animals which fell to the rifle of Charlie. The Siwash is in the service of the firm. Mr. Gwin and he went out from Keefer's, about 250 miles up the C.P.R., and went into the mountains prospecting. On Tuesday evening of last week they were eating supper, when the Siwash called the attention of the other to four bears which were passing about 150 yards from the tent. The Indian darted out to head them off. They were a mother, evidently, and three cubs, the latter well grown, sturdy beasts. The Indian fired at the old bear as they came up, hitting her on the shoulder. The bullet did not stop her, however, and the Siwash having disappeared, she began to make for the camp. Mr. Gwin was unarmed, and when he saw the bear approaching he began to look wistfully on the nearest tree. The Siwash, however, was between him and the oncoming bear, and the Siwash was behind a tree. When the bear was about thirty yards away the Siwash fired, striking the bear in her forehead. She dropped in her tracks.

The young ones kept coming. The Siwash dropped one of them at about thirty-five yards distance. The other rose on its haunches, and as it rose the Indian shied his hat at it. The bear caught the hat and dropped to the ground. The hunter waited till it came close and then shot it out of hand. There was no trouble about despatching the fourth.

The prospector was puzzled by the act of the Indian with his hat, and when the pair got back to camp he asked him about it.

"You throw your hat or cap," said the hunter, laconically. "He tear it all up. You shoot him."

Another statement the Indian made was that if a man is pursued by a grizzly, and falls down, lying as if dead, the beast will pass over him or run past him.

The bear skin in Mr. Gwin's possession weighs about sixty pounds. The Indian retained the others. They are smaller, of course, but more valuable, as the springborn cubs did not seem to have shed their hair, and were in fine condition. Mother Bear weighed about 600 pounds, and the largest of the rising family about 130 pounds.

THE SONS OF SCOTLAND HOLD SPECIAL MEETING

Decide to Go to Belleville to Attend Big Scottish Gathering

An enthusiastic meeting of the Clan Alpine Camp. No. 36, was held in the Orange Hall, Simcoe street, on Monday evening to make arrangements for attending the Scottish gathering, being held on the 26th inst in Belleville. All the members appeared anxious to go and it is fully expected that about forty members, besides their friends, will take in the trip.

It was at first thought than an excursion might be arranged for, but owing to the limited time it was found that this could not be done. The meeting was brought to a successful close with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

PICTURE OF DORANDO BEFORE ENTERING STADIUM

Mr Harry Clarke has a picture showing Dorando, the Italian Marathoner, just before he entered the Stadium, towards the finish of the race. He secured it from one of the finishers of the Eastman Kodak Co. of Rochester, who have a complete set. Mr. Clarke will have the picture framed and placed in the jewellery store window.

EMERGENCY DANGER

When a Harsh Catarrhal Cold Fastens on the Breathing Organs a Life is Threatened

There are times when a Hyomei outfit is worth a life and having it at hand will save a life, no safer precaution can be suggested than calling at Wm. Madill's drug store and getting a supply for use in following cases.

When a child shows the first sign of croup a breath of Hyomei through the inhaler will check the trouble permanently.

When through catching cold you seem to be choking up, difficulty to breathe, pain or soreness over the lungs and other symptoms of pneumonia, the instant relief from Hyomei air is marvellous.

It penetrates quickly to the inner recesses of the bronchial tubes and lungs where no liquid or moist medicine can reach.

When an asthmatic condition presents unusual wheezing and oppressed breathing, Hyomei will bring rest, complete outfit $1.00.

THE OPPOSITION LEADER WAS EDUCATED HERE

Mr. Haultain Attended the Peterborough Collegiate Institute

The Manitoba Free Press, in brief autobiographies of men prominent in Saskatchewan elections, gives the following about the leader of the Opposition:

Frederick Wm. Gordon Haultain, B.A., K.C., (S. Qu'Appelle), a son of Lt.-Col. F. W. Haultain, Royal Artillery, is of English descent. He was born November 25, 1857, at Woolwich, Eng.; educated at Montreal High School, Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Toronto University, B.A., with first class honours in classics. He was called to the Ontario Bar in 1882, K.C. in 1902, elected member for Macleod in 1888 by acclamation and at each election since; elected to N. W. Council 1887; member of the Advisory Council, 1888; member first Executive Committee, 1891. Under the new act he became territorial premier October, 1897, and was re-elected Attorney-General and Commissioner of Education; represented the N. W. CONTRACT NOW LET FOR THE NEW FURNITURE FACTORY

The contract for the new furniture factory to be erected in East City, has been let to Mr. Wm. Main. The proprietor of the factory is Mr. T. W. Oke, who recently sold the premises in which he is now manufacturing to the Peterborough Lubricating Company. The concrete foundation of the new building is being constructed now and will be completed in a few days, Mr. Main will then begin his portion of the contract.

The factory will be about 60x20 feet in dimensions, which is almost similar in size to the present one. It will, however, have a basement, so that actually it will be one story larger.

Mr. Oke expects to have the new building in shape to enter it about October 1st. His business is growing rapidly and large orders are coming in weekly.

CITIZENS TALKING OF HIGH LEVEL BRIDGE ACROSS OTONABEE

Business men of the city are talking of the probable construction of a high level bridge to replace the present Hunter street structure across the Otonabee. The idea is, of course, to permit the great lake barges and tugs to sail up to the Quaker Oats Company's establishment for freight. At present this is impossible, especially during high water time, when the water is not many feet below the bottom of the bridge. But whether it would be feasible or not to raise the structure four or five feet or erect a high level bridge is something to be considered.

The matter was referred to at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole on Monday evening, and at the Reception Committee meeting last night, in connection with the visit of the Hon. Mr. Graham this week. In order to allow lake boats to make their way to Peterborough it was pointed out that something of this nature would be necessary.

A high level bridge would, of course, be erected (with a view to the safety of foot and vehicle passengers and would have to be begun several yards from each end of the present construction.

MANY ATHLETIC CELEBRITIES FOR Y.M.C.A. INDOOR MEET

As will be seen in another column, the Y. M. C. A. Harriers big indoor meet will be held in the Brock street rink on Sept. 18th, and local lovers of athletics may count upon the greatest treat in this line that has ever been given here. It will be marked by the appearance here of a good representation of the Canadian Olympic team, including Bobby Kerr, the 200 metre champion of the world and Canada's pride just now. Peterborough people will be glad that they will have an opportunity of welcoming the fair-haired Bobby to this city. The visiting contingent will likely include Ed. Archibald, the crack Canadian pole vaulter; Jack Tait, Canada's representative in the 1500 metres; Lou Sebert, the grand 400 metre man of the Maple Leaf team, and others of the athletes who have just returned from their trip across the pond.

WE ARE TOO HIGH UP THINKS MR. W. A. BAILEY

Should Get Down to a Proper Level—Boys Get too Many Holidays

Dear Sir,—Mr. Redmond's complaint is quite justifed. There seems to be no respect for law and order. The boys have too long holidays, which may be the cause. But waving the banner of patriotism on all occasions only encourages ruffianism. Let us get down to our proper level.

GARDEN PARTY AT THE POINT

In Aid of St. Aidan's Anglican Church—Receipts Amount to $130

WAS A COMPLETE SUCCESS

Examiner Special

Young's Point, Aug. 19.—The most optimistic expectations were more than realized as the result of the garden party held last night, under the auspices of the St. Aidan's Church Tea was served from 5.30 to 7.30 on the spacious lawn of Mr. Reid's residence, who had kindly placed it at the disposal of the church officers.

After justice had been done to the inner man, the Lakefield Citizens Band discoursed excellent music and a number of speeches were given. Upon the request of the incumbent, Rev. C. R. Spencer, Rev. Rural Dean Langfeldt acted as chairman, and expressed his pleasure at being present at such a most successful and so well attended church social.

Rev. W. J. Creighton, of Lakefield, gave a short, felicitous address, followed by an address from Mr. R. R. Hall, who congratulated the church people on having the evening's social so successful. He spoke on the great possibilities of the country, and the privilege of being Canadians. His speech was received with great applause.

Mr. J. H. McClelland, Superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal, and Mr. W. H. Meldrum also spoke.

Lastly, the Hon. J. R. Stratton made a decided "hit," when he ascended the platform and auctioneered some fancywork that was left unsold at the fancy table. His persuasiveness procured high prices and eager bidders, and a goodly sum was realized. Mr. Stratton had come from the lakes with a party of friends in his yacht, "Alberta." He complimented the Young's Point people on their spirit of unity which had brought all sorts and conditions of people together to spend a social evening. His address was gladly received and loudly applauded, showing how much Mr. Stratton is appreciated by the people of Young's Point.

Rev. A. J. Reid, of Campbellford, happened to be present as the guest of Rev. Dr. Langfeldt. He said a few words of greeting.

Rev. C. R. Spencer closed the event by thanking the people for their help and co-operation. With three cheers for the King, Rev. C. R. Spencer, Messrs. R. R. Hall, J. R. Stratton, the band and the chairman the happy gathering dispersed.

The total receipts amounted to about $130.

Grain Shipments To Be Diverted To The Dominion

Montreal Harbour Commissioners Cut Rates on Rail-Carried Grain Almost in Two—New York State is Slow

BARGE CANAL ONLY HELP

Montreal, Aug. 19.—Special. — The Montreal Harbour Commissioners have established a new rate for hauling rail-carried grain, which will reduce the transhipment price by more than three-quarters of a cent per bushel, in fact the old rate is almost cut in two.

"The effect of the new regulations governing f.o.b. charges on export grain in the port of Montreal is to reduce those charges from one and five-eighths to nine-tenths of a cent per bushel," explained Major Stephens, president of the Harbour Commissioners.

This concerns export grain brought to the port by rail only, and is carried out to meet the prevailing terminal charges for similar service at New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Asked what the new rates meant to Buffalo and eastern ports generally, Capt. J J H Brown of Brown & Co., vessel agents in the Chamber of Commerce, said bluntly that it meant that Canada was alive and New York State wasn't.

"The new rates," said Capt. Brown, "mean that the Canadian route will have all the grain it can possibly handle when the rush sets in, and the ports of New York, Boston and Philadelphia will get the overflow." One-quarter of the cut that was made would have brought practically the same result. Ocean-going vessels will load at Montreal instead of at United States ports, taking on all they can load at the floating elevators there, and in some cases going on to Quebec, where there are two feet more of water, and taking on more grain.

"The fall grain from Chicago and Duluth will be shipped to Montreal by rail and thence across the Atlantic, instead of coming to New York and other eastern ports via Buffalo. If we had the barge canal opened it might be different. Then we would have a competing water route through to the seaboard. As it is, this most important of all public works has been suffered to drag. The barge canal act was passed nearly six years ago and all that has been done is to scratch the surface here and there. Long before it is finished at the present rate the Canadians will have a new Welland canal to further divert grain shipments.

"The Canadians are fully alive to the importance of securing this vast shipment of grain from the West, and are making every effort to secure it. Of this, the action of the Montreal Harbour Commissioners is a fair sample. Our hands are tied while the railways are allowed to block the construction of the barge canal. The Canadian authorities are alive. In New York State too much time is spent over petty questions."

THROWING STONES WILL NOT BE TOLERATED BY THE MAGISTRATE

Wm. Jakes, erstwhile of Cobourg, pleaded guilty at Police Court this morning to a charge of being drunk in a public place. The magistrate recognized him as coming from Cobourg, but that did not save Mr. Jakes, who was assessed $2 to be paid forthwith.

Albert Parrish, a young man, with a strongly-pronounced English accent, was face to face with the same charge and had the same answer of "guilty" ready.

"I came back from the woods yesterday and am going back Friday," he informed the magistrate.

"Well, you had better go back to the woods, or stay away from barrooms," commented the magistrate, as he marked down a $2 fine against Parrish.

The latter shelled out two simoleons and departed, after thanking the magistrate.

Neil Morrow was the next name called, and as the charge against Neil was that of breaking a window in the bakeshop of Mrs. E. Hall, the magistrate looked somewhat surprised when a stoutly-built, middle-aged man made his way to the front.

"Are you Neil Morrow?" asked the magistrate.

"No; but I am his father," was the reply.

"What are the circumstances?" asked Mr. Dumble.

"The boys were throwing stones at a chimney and broke the window," replied the father.

"Two dollars," was the magistrate's laconic rejoinder. "We must put a stop to this abominable practice of throwing stones."

Ray Weatherstone was up against a similar charge, and as in the preceding case, his father appeared for him.

The city's finances were increased to the extent of $2.

John Donoghue was charged with having attempted to procure liquor while he was blacklisted, and the case was enlarged till to-morrow. The magistrate interpreted the law to mean that a blacklisted man must be found with liquor on his person or under the influence of liquor on the premises of a license-holder, while the Chief and License Inspector Stewart were of the opinion that it did not matter where he was found. The matter will be referred to the Liquor License Department for an opinion.

Bridgenorth Farmer Has Phenomenal Turnip Crop

List of Breezy Items From the Smith Village—Splendid Water In Chemong Lake

THE REGATTA AFTERMATH

Examiner Special

Bridgenorth, Aug. 19th— Harvesting is well nigh completed and the threshing crews have commenced work.

The water in Chemong Lake is unusually high this summer, which is a great convenience to the cottages The fishing is up to the average, but no miniature whales are likely to be captured here this season. The big fish are taking cod liver oil in an attempt to grow stout and to be fit candidates for the Examiner prize, but are heading for Peterborough where the fishermen are more numerous.

Last spring Mr. Herb Scott burned a hardwood fallow which was exceptionally clear when the fire got the job done, and he was advised to sow turnips on it broadcast. He did so, and now a thriving crop is to be seen where a few months ago large maple and beech trees swayed with the wind. This is certainly a fast age.

We are glad to note that Miss Alberta Udy has been successful in the junior matriculation examination at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

The Gilmour Sunday School always has "the" excursion of the season. That event this year is from this place to Stony Lake on Sept. 1st by the commodious steamer Otonabee of Peterborough. An effort will be made to have a band in attendance, which is a new feature and a very enjoyable time is anticipated.

Some of the visitors on Regatta Day were heard to remark that we have a clean, tidy little village. They certainly have good judgment.

On Monday last the school bell gave forth those notes which are so distressing to children between the lawful ages of six and fourteen years.

Already the rush for the great west has started and Messrs. Fred Galvin and Robt. Adams are well on their way by this time. Several others from this vicinity will follow in a few days.

The local stores are doing a good business with Chemong Park this summer and the staff of clerks will soon be large enough to form a union.

Regatta Notes

The best weather ever.

The representation of country people in attendance was much larger than in former years, partly due to the rain at noon and partly due to the increased interest in aquatic sports.

The large city of Peterborough holds its civic holiday on that of the Stony Lake Regatta, so in like manner the small village of Bridgenorth enjoys its holiday on the Chemong Park Regatta Day. Imitation is contagious.

On Regatta Day Bridgenorth is Chemong and vice versa so far as the entries in the sports are concerned.

Rob Roy—Did you hear about Hopkins choking Hollingshead?

Miss Fidgety—Gracious, no! That makes me nervous.

The welcome of Harry Simpson of Lakefield in the paddling events would have been a welcome one. In view of the Stony Lake episode, his non-appearance looks at this distance somewhat like a case of default.

Farmer lads can pull turnips and they can also pull a skiff to victory.

To "paddle your own canoe" seems to be a family trait with the Knowlsons of Sturgeon Point.

In the crab race "chance" has "skill" all smothered out, especially when there are at least ten entries in a narrow space.

A good share of the prizes remained with the home contingent, and being all of real value they are much appreciated by the winners.

One Under the Auspices of the Bridge Street Sunday School Here To-day

Peterborough was invaded this morning by a large excursion from Belleville under the auspices of the Bridge street Methodist church of that town. The crowd was one of the biggest that has visited here this season, and they were apparently having a good time. The day was spent in sight seeing, the lift lock and Jackson Park proving favourite spots with the visitors from the Bay of Quinte city.

"THE NIGGER IN THE WOOD-PILE"

Thousands of people go through life feeling more or less miserable without ever knowing the reason. They suffer from headaches, indigestion, pains in the back, and at the slightest chill get rheumatism or neuralgia.

They try to cure these separate outbreaks, never suspecting that the root of the whole trouble is the failure of the bowels to move regularly, and in many cases the sluggish action of kidneys and skin. The result, of course, is that the whole system gets clogged with impurities, which soon turn to poison, and show their presence in various ways.

"Fruit-a-tives"—or fruit juice tablets—promptly stir up the sluggish liver, regulate the bowels, and stimulate the kidneys and skin to do their work properly. Thus they cure all these troubles by removing the cause, and make it possible to really enjoy life. 50c a box—6 boxes for $2.50. Trial size 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THREE PERISH IN A BIG FIRE

London Chief and Two Others Perish in Collapse of Store.

BODIES STILL IN THE RUINS

As Fire Chief Clark, Sergt. Cockburn and Firemen Wynne, Ferguson and Dean Are In Burning Building Floor Gives Way—Last Two Are Carried Out Alive — Clark's Predecessor Met Same Fate.

London, Ont., Aug. 19.—Fire Chief Lawrence Clark, Fireman Wynne and Sergt. Cockburn of the Royal Canadian Regiment were killed last night while fighting a fire in the premises of the Westman Hardware Co. at 121 Dundas street.

Fireman Cole was with the party in the building, but had a miraculous escape, being dug out of the ruins at 10 o'clock not seriously hurt.

How Cole escaped he cannot say. He became separated from his fellows and was pocketed under a canting floor, saving his life.

The fire broke out about 5 o'clock and was apparently confined to the basement. There was dense smoke and it was not until about 7 o'clock that the firemen began to enter the building.

A minute later there was an ominous rumble and then the second floor collapsed, taking the first floor with it to the basement and burying the firemen in the debris.

In the confusion it was not until nearly 10 o'clock that it was definitely known that the chief was among the dead. At midnight the three men were still in the ruins and no hope is held that they have survived.

It is a sad coincidence that Chief Clark's predecessor, Chief Noe, was also killed while on duty. That was four years ago. Clark was formerly on the Hamilton Fire Department, and has been very popular and successful here.

Cockburn, who is well-known to the firemen, had been lending a hand in the emergency and was with the squad.

The fire loss will run about $100,000, divided:

Westman Hardware Co., loss $50,000; insurance, $26,000.

Darch & Hunter, flour and feed, loss $25,000; insured.

Morrison Shoe Co., loss $5,000; insured.

Cowan Hardware Co., loss $5,000; insured.

John Friend, confectioner, $1,000; insured.

P. Cronin owns the building, a four-storey one, which is valued at $20,000.

Springfield Quiets Down.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 19.—That those in authority believe that the danger of serious trouble in the race war is over was made evident last night when Governor Deneen issued orders that the First Infantry of Chicago shall return to that city to-day.

Resolutions were adopted for the protection of citizens regardless of color or nationality.

Col. Buchan Honored.

London, Aug. 19.—(C. A. P.)—Col. Lawrence Buchan, C.M.G., A.D.C., O.C., Quebec command, Canadian militia, is attending the cavalry manoeuvres at Aldershot. He has been made an honorary member of all the military and naval clubs in London, his name being proposed by Lord Roberts.

Survey Parties Out.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 19.—The Public Works Department, Ottawa, is sending out two survey parties to survey the shoals and rapids on 60 miles of the St. John river, between Woodstock and Fredericton. This is preliminary to their removal, so as to make the river navigable to Woodstock.

FAMOUS PREACHER DIES.

Dr. Wild Once Noted In Canada Is Dead In Brooklyn, Aged 74.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Rev. Dr. Joseph Wild, formerly of Toronto, died last night at 10.30 at the home of his son, Dr. Zimmerman Wild.

Dr. Wild had a stroke of paralysis while visiting his son, C. Wild, at Piqua, Ohio, one year ago last June.

Joseph Wild, M.A., D.D., was born at Summit, Lancashire, England, on Nov. 16, 1834. He received his early education in England in the Metho-

THE LATE DR. WILD,

One of Canada's Most Famous Pulpit Orators.

He came to Canada, where he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church and was stationed at Hamilton. After his Concord graduation he preached at Goderich for a year, and then spent another year traveling in Europe. On his return he was stationed at Orono and Belleville, remaining nine years at the latter place, and acting there as professor of oriental languages in Albert College.

From Belleville he went to Brooklyn, N. Y., where he joined the Congregationalists and labored for eight years. In 1880 he accepted the call to Bond street Church, Toronto.

His ministry there for fifteen years made him one of Canada's most famous preachers.

Dr. Wild's great hobby was the identification of the Anglo-Saxon race with the lost tribes of Israel of the Bible.

Fraternal Congress Meets.

Put-In-Bay, Ohio., Aug. 19.—The International Fraternal Congress embracing sixty-five fraternal societies and representing eight million persons in the United States and Canada, has begun its twenty-second annual session here. E. T. Essery, president of the Canadian Fraternal Association, addressed the congress.

An attempt will be made, it is said, to get the recommendation of the congress for a uniform bill to regulate and control fraternal beneficiary associations as is done in Ohio.

Nearly Swims Channel.

London, Aug. 19.—Of the many attempts to swim the English channel none has come nearer in resulting in success than that made by T. W. Burgess, the blacksmith swimmer.

Burgess was compelled to give up his attempt within one mile of Cape Grisnez, on the coast of France, because of the adverse tide and the currents, which carried him miles out of his course. Burgess remained in the water for 20 hours and 11 minutes. This is the sixth unsuccessful attempt Burgess has made.

Unknown Man Killed.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—An unknown man was cut in two by G. T. R. train No. 776, north bound at about fifty feet north of the King street subway at 8.40 last night.

From the story told by the engineer, John McCarthy of Stratford, it would appear that the victim deliberately suicided, as he was noticed walking along the side of the track until almost abreast of him, when he suddenly stepped in front of the engine.

Cobourg Horse Show.

Cobourg, Aug. 19.—The fourth annual summer horse show opened yesterday under favorable conditions with one of the finest strings of horses ever shown in a Canadian ring. Among the prominent out of town exhibitors were Miss Milkes and H. T. Roche of Galt, Crowe and Murray, Dr. Young, Mrs. H. C. Cox, James Milne, George Pepper, Hugh S. Wilson and A. J. Rogers of Toronto.

Aeronaut Killed.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Arthur Lane, an aeronaut who has been making ascensions at a local amusement park, was so badly injured Monday night that he died early yesterday.

Lane, who was clinging to a trapeze bar, perhaps 25 feet from the balloon, was carried by a strong breeze against the theatre building and losing his hold, fell 30 feet to the ground.

Clever Swindlers.

Welland, Aug. 19.—The police are looking for Robert Yard, with his wife, who have mysteriously left Welland. Yard came here a stranger and purchased a large house from Colbeck, making a small payment. He furnished it luxuriously on the installment plan, and opened a tailoring shop. Then he mortgaged this unpaid for stuff, and after mortgaging it again, sold part to Will Knew, a town official. The couple left in the early hours.

MEN ARE STANDING FIRM AGAINST C.P.R.

Very Few C. P. R. Strikers Heed Company's Ultimatum.

TWO HUNDRED TAKEN ON

Men Laid-Off During Slack Times Go to Work at Angus Shops—Strikers Living In Company's Houses at North Bay Are Told to Move—Men Want No Arbitration, Says Representative Hardy.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—Yesterday was a particularly busy one about the union headquarters, and hundreds of the men from the various Angus shops were around during the morning anxious to see what reports came in from the different men doing picket duty. As noon approached, and it was seen that the men were standing pat and ignoring the ultimatum of the company, the joy of the men knew no bounds, and cheers started in the hall were taken up by those on the street, and men wildly raised their hats.

Bell Hardy, on behalf of the union officials, issued a statement that the men had not asked for any action by the Government, and did not want any arbitration of any kind.

The C. P. R. yesterday took on 200 men at the Angus shops, most of whom were hands laid off some time ago when the slack times began.

North Bay, Aug. 19.—The notice of the C. P. R. Co. that the men must return to work yesterday or their places would be filled failed to break the strikers' ranks here, not one man responding. Trespass notices have been posted up on the company's property as, notwithstanding the police patrol system, the strikers have had access to all parts of the property. The strikers living in houses owned by the company have been notified to vacate immediately.

An unusual incident occurred at Chapleau. Superintendent Brady and Assistant Superintendent Way were on the platform when a harvester excursion pulled in. The harvesters took Mr. Way for a strike-breaker, and pitched the assistant superintendent into the ice box, following this up by turning the hose on him and then tossing him up in the air.

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—Not one of the local C. P. R. strikers returned to work yesterday on expiry of time allowed by company. Strikers have not yet been paid.

HOODLUM HARVESTER.

Fight Is Precipitated In Winnipeg When Bluenose Is Arrested.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—What came near developing into a serious riot took place yesterday morning at the C. P. R. depot when fifteen hundred harvesters tried by force to prevent the arrest of one of their number, James Forrester of Truro, N. S.

The man was one of the motorious maritime contingent and was behaving indecently and using foul language when arrested. Five policemen had to fight their way out through the angry crowd, literally battling an avenue with their clubs. When they got outside they hustled Forrester, who was fighting desperately, into a rig, but the crowd hung on to the vehicle until dispersed with whip lashings.

They followed, however, to the police station, and only on a threat of further arrests did they retire.

Several trains pulled out for the West yesterday afternoon and as no more are due from the east for a day or two the situation will be relieved.

ORGY CRAZES HER.

Wild Trip West With Harvesters Sends Woman Insane.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—Journeying on a harvest excursion to join her husband in Edmonton, a woman was driven mad by the saturnalian orgies on the train.

She was taken care of by the C.P.R. physician at Winnipeg, or the Winnipeg officials would have returned her east. She appeared to be suffering from delusional insanity. Her husband was communicated with and finally the woman was placed in the care of friends.

PLANS MAY BE STOLEN.

Secret Details of Halifax Fortifications Have Gone Astray.

Halifax, Aug. 19.—The fortifications works here are delayed and some trouble is being experienced owing to the non-arrival of the details of the defence scheme at Halifax.

It has leaked out that the important and valuable file has been lost or stolen between here and the militia department at Ottawa. It is said to have been despatched to local military authorities by post, but evidently has never been received.

If the plans be stolen they are of considerable value if in the hands of a foreign country.

DRIVE NEGROES OUT.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Another mining camp near Jellico was cleared of negroes yesterday by an armed band.

Notices have been served on all negroes within a thirty mile radius to get out in three days, and even Jellico and La Follette are threatened.

It is reported that a cabin has been burned and six negroes cremated.

Will Plead Insanity.

New York, Aug. 19.—Friends and acquaintances of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., and of his brother, Thornton Jenkins Hains, at Fort Hamilton, are convinced that a plea of insanity will be offered in defence if the captain at his trial for the slaying of William E. Annis. They have reason to believe that the defence will follow much the same line as was followed in the Thaw case, with justification for the killing of the victim always in view.

DROWNS WHILE SAILING.

Mrs. J. E. Lount Loses Her Life In Capsized Boat at Beaumaris.

Beaumaris, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Lount of Bracebridge, wife of J. E. Lount, registrar of Muskoka, lost her life by drowning on Monday.

Mrs. Lount with Mr. Lount and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diggle of Orillia, were out sailing. When off Columbia Island the boat was struck by a squall and capsized. All except Mrs. Lount succeeded by a desperate struggle in clinging to the boat until help arrived. Mrs. Lount in some way lost her hold. The body was recovered late yesterday morning and taken to her home in Bracebridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Lount were occupying a cottage at Gibraltar Island.

TERRIER CHEWS WOMAN.

While Toronto Woman Lies In a Fit Dog Gnaws Her Face.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—With a lust that was terrible to behold and a fierce snarling, a little pet black-and-tan dog was literally eating the face off from Mrs. Aileen Sherwin, 26 years of age, 59 Sydenham street, when Mrs. Edward Durnan, a neighbor, rushed into the house in response to the unfortunate woman's screams. Then the woman's left eye and side of the nose had been destroyed.

Mrs. Sherwin had been seized with an epileptic fit while preparing supper and as she fell on the kitchen floor the canine, which had been under the stove, pounced upon her.

Drowned In Two Feet of Water.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—Seized with an epileptic fit, Cecil Whitefield, aged 19, fell into two feet of water in an island lagoon opposite Chippewa avenue yesterday and was drowned.

He was employed by Mrs. Gray, and when she missed him her son went out to make search, finding the body, probably about an hour after death occurred.

Dutch Can Wallop Castro.

The Hague, Aug. 19.—With the single proviso that no military occupation of territory must occur, the Government at Washington is understood to have given the Cabinet of the Netherlands a free hand to deal as it sees fit with President Castro of Venezuela.

Early Morning Fire at Oshawa.

Oshawa, Aug. 19.—Fire broke out at 36 West King street, Oshawa, at 4 a.m. yesterday, completely riddling the premises of W. O. Derrant. The cause is unknown. The fire was controlled in half an hour.

Fugitive Caught at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—Detectives yesterday apprehended Edward Craven, a young man who recently arrived in Ottawa, and was about to open up a wine manufacturing business. Craven is in reality Edward Cottingham, defaulting treasurer of the Union Traction Co. of Tipton, Indiana, who left that town about two months ago after embezzlements which total between $4,000 and $5,000.

Extorted Money From Men.

Hamilton, Aug. 19.—Giovanno Transillo, an Italian foreman at the steel plate, was arrested yesterday on two charges, one of carrying a revolver and stiletto and a second of obtaining money from his fellow-countrymen by threatening them with these weapons. It is alleged that he forced his compatriots who worked under him to contribute money to him.

Miss Eva Booth Is Ill.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 19.—Overcome by the intense heat after addressing an audience of four thousand persons at the Winona Lake Bible Conference, Miss Eva Booth, commander of the Salvation Army of the United States, fainted just after leaving the auditorium, and is under the care of physicians.

Woman Disappears.

Hamilton, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Syer, wife of Charles Syer, Bartonville, gardener, disappeared from her home last Saturday while her husband was at the Central Market. She left three or four children. She is a young woman and quite pretty. The boy has been dragged.

Charged With Attempted Murder.

Hamilton, Aug. 19.—At Hagersville, Samedo Pano, an Italian, was committed yesterday for trial on the charge of attempting to murder Joe Colls, an interpreter. It is alleged that Pano struck the interpreter on the arm with an axe.

SKIP FITZGERALD'S RINK IN LAST EIGHT FOR WALKER CUP; LOCAL BOWLERS' FINE WORK

In the second round for the Walker Trophy in the Dominion Bowling Association games, skip R. Kerr of Peterborough, lost to skip T Hastings, of the Canada rink, by 20 to 13, but skip J. E. A. Fitzgerald gave E. Wood of London, a bad trimming with the score of 21 to 8.

A Toronto despatch says:—

Great progress was made in the Dominion bowling tourney at Woodbine Park yesterday. Two rounds in the Walker Trophy were played, and two in each of the Association and consolation events. The keenest competition took place in the trophy events. Jas. Knox of Alexandra easily disposed of Laing's Kew Beach rink. Forbes of Kew Beach played the feature games of the day. In the second he put away Wilson of Granites in a romp, but the game against Creelman of Guelph was a corker. It was nip and tuck, all the men playing well, with the vice and skips of both rinks showing a little to advantage. The lead in points changed eight times.

On the seventeenth end Creelman lay three, but Forbes' draw was short. The eighteenth end was a repetition. Creelman lay two, and Forbes' last bowl was a perfect shot and lay by the kitty, making shot and game.

Fraser of Georgetown did not have much difficulty with Shields of Brampton. McNee of London had quite a hard struggle to keep ahead of Rogers of St. Kitts, although he had the lead all the way. Only eight rinks are left in the fight for the Walker Cup, namely:—J McNee, London Thistles. Fitzgerald, Peterborough, Swabey, Toronto Victorias; Hastings, Canada; Knox, Alexandra; Forbes, of Kew Beach; and Fraser, Georgetown.

In the Ontario Cup A O Hurst of Canada barely won out from Ecclestone of St. Koitts. Both quartettes bowling well, but the Toronto men had a little more luck.

In the third round of the Walker Cup skip Fitzgerald's rink defeated skip J P Rogers, R O Y C rink by 20 to 15.

In defeating skip S Well of London by 21 to 8 in the second round skip Fitzgerald won an notable victory over one of the best skips in Western Ontario.

In the second round of the Ontario cup Skip Kerr of Peterborough defeated skip Caraiyle of Prospect Park by 15 to 14. And on the third round of the same competition defeated skip Tovell of St. Mary's by 22 to 15. Both Peterborough rinks are making a splendid showing.

CHAMPIONS WHO LOST TITLES AT RECENT OLYMPIC GAMES

The Toronto Star says: This year's Olympiad at London marked the actual loss in competition of more titles as world's champion than any meet of the kind in athletic history, no less than ten champions going down to defeat in their respective specialities. Jimmy Lightbody of Chicago University had the misfortune to lose two Olympic brackets—the 1500 metre run that he won at Athens in 1906, and the 3200 metre steeplechase, which he has held since St. Louis in 1904.

The 1500 title passed to Mel Sheppard, while the fence-clearing honours were taken from the gritty Chicagoan by Russell of Britain, the record holder. Though Lightbody was in poor condition to run on account of a badly bruised kneecap, he went in and did his very best. There is no disgrace in losing to men like Sheppard and Russell under any condition.

Paul Pilgrim of the New York A.C. was shorn of two titles at London. His sensational sprinting finishes in the 400 metre and 800 metre runs at Athens were the sensation of athletic 1906, and won for the spindle-shanked West Sider undying fame. In those races Pilgrim passed in the stretch Halswelle, the present British Olympic champion, and beat him to the tape easily, much to everyone's surprise. This year Pilgrim fell an easy victim in the 400 metre race, being put out in the first heat by Montague of England.

Con. Leahy of Ireland was another Athens champion of 1906 who passed up his title to a better man this year. For the last few years Leahy has been absolutely invincible in the high jump, (winning Olympic, British, Irish, American and Canadian titles at will, but, as Mike Murphy says, "It's the pitcher that goes to the well once too often that gets broken." Last summer Harry Porter, the former Cornell University athlete, made his appearance in competition again and was at once grabbed by that mill that grinds out so many Olympic title men — the Irish-American A. C. Well, to make a long story short, Porter is now the invincible one and has Leahy's scalp three times over.

Harry Hillman lost an Olympic title this year, too—the 400 metre hurdle championship that he won at St Louis four years ago in such dashing style. Though this year's race was the same distance as the St. Louis event, the hurdles were each three feet in height instead of two feet six inches, and this may account for Hillman's defeat. Hillman never shone at high hurdling, and there can be no doubt that the London obstacle "got his goal." He is able to strain over a real low hurdle without hurdlebreaking his speed perceptibly, while the three-foot variety requires a jump to clear each one. After the ten jumps, Baker was a bit stronger than Hillman, and that's how the Olympic title passed.

In spite of his glorious showing in the discus events, Martin Sheridan lost a title at London. Before the Shepherd's Bush meet, Sheridan was champion shot-putter — not record holder—of the world. At Athens he won his event with a measly put of 40 feet 8 inches, and it was no surprise when he failed to place against the galaxy of stars that gathered round the seven-foot circle at London.

For the loss of the "shots" Martin had to "get hank" on someone, and the victim turned up in Jaervinin, the thick-cheated Finlander, who won the Greek discus throw at Athens in 1906. Sheridan not only took the Finn's title away from him, but wiped out Jaervinin's Olympic record by over nine feet as well.

In the team events at London two titles changed hands. America lost them both and England got them. These were the three-mile team race and the tug-of-war. Uncle Sam won both of these events on his own heath in 1904, but had to give them up to John Bull this year.

CITY RUGBY LEAGUE TALKED OF BY LOVERS OF STRENUOUS GAME

Rugby enthusiasts are already beginning to talk of the prospects of the great fall game, and it will not be long before the knights of the padded trousers will be out in full force. Among the younger players of the city there is much excitement over the fact that it is altogether likely that there will be a strong city league formed this season. There is plenty of material for enough teams to make things decidedly interesting in such an event, and the number of likely men that will undoubtedly be turned out will be found of great benefit to the senior club. Nothing tends to develop senior players better than a first class city league, when the young fellows have a chance to learn the game and show what they can do. Some steps should be taken at once to get such a league started, as it will prove a wise move to get going as quickly as possible. It is to be hoped that some one will interest himself in the matter and see what can be done.

Seven Of The Petes To Play For Wellington To-morrow

The Peterborough Baseball Club will be well represented at Wellington to-morrow, when the Wellington team will play a league game with Bloomfield. Things are red hot down in the "Canning League," and Bloomfield will import an eastern league battery for the occasion. Catcher Edmunds, First Baseman Lawson, Second Baseman Anderson, Pitcher Hawkins, and Outfielders Murphy and Burns, of the Petes, and Short Stop Shea, of the Athletics, will play for the Wellington team.

Edmunds and Anderson are in Trenton to-day, playing for the Frankfords against the home team. The Petes players are much in demand just now and Freddy Clements, the clever twirler, who has pitched the Johnstonites to so many victories this year, will be on the firing line for the Toronto Park Nines in their city league game on Saturday.

A FOOTBALL GAME FOR EXHIBITION

With Four Teams One Should be Arranged for R. R. Hall Trophy

With four Association football teams in Peterborough county, there should easily be a match arranged for the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. The R. R. Hall trophy has been won only one year by the Peterborough Quakers, and unless they defend and win it again it will fall to some other team.

Warsaw, Havelock, Norwood and the Quakers are all eligible to play for it and the county championship. If there should be one of the first three make a bid, the chances are the Quakers may re-assemble and give them a game. Communications from any of the clubs will be received by Secretary F J A Hall of the Peterborough Industrial.

ENGLISH RUNNERS MAY BE HERE

Efforts are Being Made to Have Them Take Part in Indoor Meet

Friday, September 18, is the date set for the big Harrison meet to be held in Brock street rink. An effort will be made to have several of the Olympic team here for the occasion, including Longboat, Simpson, Bobby Kerr, McGrath, Archibald, J. Tait, E. Wilson, T. Coley, and the much-talked-of team of English long distance men, namely, Appleby and Duncan. The meet promises to surpass anything ever held in Peterborough.

SPIT BALL PLAGUE IN AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Pitchers Cannot Get Along Without It in Big Leagues

Southpaws have overrun the American Association this year, and the fact has been the occasion for much comment along that line, but the nearside flingers are a little passe from the notoriety standpoint and their places have been taken by the spit-ball crowd, says the Louisville Courier-Journal.

The delvers in the moisture field have eclipsed the left-handers, and nearly every club is stocked with two or three hurlers who flirt with the wet stuff.

Pitchers who have had ordinary success with the usual amount of puzzlers have added the "spitter" to their assortment, and are now pounding along winning right and left. There are a lot of hurlers in the A. A. who have never tried it until this summer.

Bill Steen never attempted it until recently. He has been getting away with it. Bill Lattimore is another disciple of the moisture floater. Grover Gillen, a former adherent, uses it in a pinch now and then.

Milwaukee has a squad of the wet boys. Dougherty uses the "spitter" altogether, while Curtis relies on it occasionally. So do Bateman and Pape. Oberlin, Fiene and Wilson are the Millers who couldn't get along without it.

Of the Kansas City twirlers, Carter and Brandom wouldn't do it if it wasn't for this strange ball. "Wish" Egan has it in stock for emergencies. Leroy, of St. Paul, practises the "spitter" a lot. Louis Durham, over at Indianapolis, flings nothing else. Clyde Goodwin monkeys with this puzzler for Columbus, and Poole, Adams, Puttmann and Jim Durham for the Colonels.

Brandom, Louis Durham, Oberlin and Carter are the extremes of the league, and they use hardly anything else but this filthy shoot.

They shortened the game when they passed the foul strike rule, but the spit ball has nullified the effect of the legislation, and the games now require more time to play than they ever did before. No one would weep much, unless it be those fellows who have to rely on the wet slant, if the rulemakers would legislate the nefarious curve out of baseball.

LINDSAY MAY HAVE A RUGBY TEAM

Are Already Discussing the Advisability of Getting a Team Together

The Lindsay Warder says:—

A certain article in Lindsay's third daily reflects discredit on Mr. A. A. Hollingshead, who won the dinghy race at Chemong. It is insinuated that Mr. Hollingshead fouled Bruce Hopkins and won the race in an underhand way. As a matter of fact Lindsay and Sturgeon Point sports look upon the race as won fairly and there is no kick coming. Mr. Hollingshead is a good fellow and a sport and there was no kick coming from him when he lost the race at Sturgeon Point, though he complained that the second buoy had been moved a considerable distance by the wind. The feeling of the town is not represented by the unsportsmanlike article above mentioned.

Sporting Comment

They're going to play Rugby in Lindsay this fall. Of course, some will put up a holler about the game being rough, but you'll find that it is generally those who have never played the game that have so much to say about the rough side o' it.—Lindsay Warder.

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder says:

The football season is fast approaching.

With the end of the baseball league sport will begin to "look down," so to speak in Lindsay.

Soccer football has never been a favourite sport in this town, but once and a while the Rugby fever starts and seems to hold on better with Lindsay sports than its twin, soccer. Preliminary talk always necessary before any undertaking is commenced, has been hinting that indications point to the formation of a team here this fall. As a nucleus there are fully half a dozen players who have been in the game for years. The good material is plentiful, which, before the end of the season, would be whipped into fairly good shape.

Herb. Hopkins, McHugh, Costello, Sylvester, F. Green, B. Green, Joe Killen, are merely a few who can play the game. There are number of others and a few "finds" can be counted on to turn up.

What about getting the ball a-rolling?

Organization Meeting Of The Dummer Liberals

Held on Wednesday Evening in Town Hall, Warsaw—A Largely Attended Meeting—Officers Elected and Committees Appointed

Examiner Special

Warsaw, Aug. 20.—A largely attended meeting of the Liberals of the Township of Dummer, was held last night, in the town hall here. There were present about one hundred Liberals, from every part of the township. Some of the older Liberals expressed regret at the lack of organization in the riding generally, and in Dummer in particular, and dwelt on the importance of thorough organization in order to give fair play to the Liberal strength of the township and riding. They were pleased at the present effort being made to secure such a degree of organization as would result in the polling of the full Liberal strength in case of an election, whenever it might come. There were many Liberals at the last election who did not manifest sufficient interest to poll their own vote, not to speak of active work in the interests of the party and country. After thorough discussion organization was effected by the election of the following officers:

President—E. Hawthorne.
Vice-President—C. J. Darling.
Secretary—Fred Morgan.
Treasurer—Jacob White.

Committees were also appointed for each polling sub-division.

GYPSY SUPPOSED TO HAVE DECAMPED WITH AN OPS FARMER'S HORSE

Lindsay, Aug. 20th, Special.—Chief Vincent has been informed by a member of the band of gypsies camped near Ops swing bridge, that one of their number had decamped with a horse.

The Chief has lost no time in setting the machinery of the law in motion. He immediately telephoned to four important centres, and had 50 cards struck off giving a description of the alleged horse thief as well as the animal stolen, and had a number of them mailed to outside points all within a few hours.

The following is the description printed on the card; Man, short; age 20 years; lot of light bright curly hair; light featured. Has stolen bay mare 14 1-2 hands high; little sore on front feet; dry in hair; red geared buggy; shafts wired on; has Boston bulldog following him, brindled and white.

To-day Chief Vincent received a message that the alleged horse thief passed through Port Perry and it is thought that it will be only a matter of a few hours until he is captured.

VITAL SPARK OF LIFE GONE FOR FIVE MINUTES RESTORED AGAIN

New York, Aug. 20. — Special.—A man who from every medical standpoint was dead, and had been dead for five minutes, was brought back to life last evening in the Eastern District Hospital in Williamsburg. An experienced nurse watched him apparently pass away. She applied all the usual tests for life and found none. Then the house surgeon examined the man carefully, and he, too, after a lapse of a few moments, decided that the vital spark had gone permanently.

Yet a tenth of a grain of strychnia, injected into the body as a matter of experiment brought back the pulse, and six hours later the man was in better condition than he had been an hour before those functions ceased.

Oscar Culver, a ward patient, suffering from tuberculosis and rheumatism, is the man who had the amazing experience. He probably will not recover, since his tuberculosis is far advanced. But he is in no immediate danger of death.

Miss Josephine Ryan, senior of the ward, and skilled in medicine and surgery, is the nurse who first pronounced the patient dead, and whose opinion did not change when he began to breathe again. It was Dr. Michael Jaffer, head surgeon of the hospital, who positively decided that Culver had passed away, and who often experimented with the strychnia injection. The tenth of a grain which he injected into Culver's veins was enough to kill healthy persons.

"It is the most wonderful case I ever saw or heard of," Dr. Jaffer declared several hours afterward. "I still believe the patient was dead. I was so sure of it that I ordered his body removed to the hospital morgue. I feel that I can say with certainty that the man actually had passed away. Yet, the strychnia, and some manipulation for artificial respiration brought him about."

Culver was an iron moulder before his tubercular condition precluded further work. He was a fairly powerful man and is about 40 years old.

CHARGES AGAINST TWO BLACKLISTED MEN HEARD TO-DAY

Two cases, in which men on the blacklist were charged with offences under the liquor license act, were heard at the police court this morning, and in both the defendants were dismissed.

John Donoghue was charged with having, after being served with a notice that he was blacklisted, procured or attempted to procure liquor from a local hotel man. The prosecution were unable to prove that Donoghue had attempted to procure liquor, and the case was thrown out.

Another young man was charged with having been found under the influence of liquor while he was a blacklisted person.

Magistrate Dumble construed the law in question to mean that to constitute an offence under the clause, the person must be found under the influence of liquor on the premises of a licensed holder. City Solicitor Hall argued that that only applied in the case of a blacklisted person lingering or loitering on the premises, but that if such a person was found under the influence of liquor anywhere he was liable to be punished.

"The law does not go that far," remarked the magistrate, "it has not yet been made a crime to be drunk."

There was a long argument over the matter, but the magistrate remained by the decision, remarking that an appeal might be made.

The prosecution decided, however, to attempt to prove the case, but were unable to do so. No evidence could be obtained as to whether or not the man was under the influence and the case was dismissed.

PULP WOOD AND ITS PROBLEMS

The Examiner thanks the Globe for a valuable pamphlet, consisting of a reproduction of the series of letters on "Pulpwood and Problems," published in the Globe between July 11th and Sept 20th, 1907. They are written by a member of the staff, Mr. Wm. Banks, Jr., and cover every phase of the conditions obtaining in Quebec, New Brunswick and a part of Ontario. The letters contain the views upon the questions of pulpwood exploitation and conservation, of a large number of prominent and informed Canadians, assumed to have the special knowledge of the aspects of the subject on which they spoke, that would make their remarks authoritative and of consequent value. Those who followed the letters during their publication will retain the impression of their timely nature and of their value as contributing to the more intelligent discussion of one of the most important economical subjects that can engage the attention of Canadians. The reproduction of these letters, therefore, in a quasi permanent form, represents at once a tribute to the enterprise of the Globe, and to its sense of responsibility in the matter of its relations to a great national interest. Attention will again be recalled to a subject whose national importance cannot easily be exaggerated. If the Dominion and Provincial Government authorities cannot see their way clear to immediate and definite action, tending to the conservation treatment of our pulpwood resources, they certainly would pave the way to such action and arouse a popular or general interest in the subject by purchasing and freely distributing copies of the letters referred to in pamphlet form, which may be procured from the Globe at ten cents per copy.

TWELVE YEARS OF LAURIER.

When the Conservative party left office in 1896, after eighteen years of a fair trial of their ability to forward the development of the country, the export trade in the Dominion's own products had reached a value of a hundred and six millions; foreign products exported stood for six millions more. It is a great deal to be able to say that in the fiscal year which closed on March 31st last, these figures were more than doubled (two hundred and sixty-three millions all told), but even that does not give us the measure of what the Twelve Years of Laurier have meant to Canada. A much more instructive calculation may be made, and one that will help us to account for many other features of the most notable period in the history of Canada. Taking the record of exports for 1895, the top notch of Conservative performance, let us see how the Laurier record compares. The figures year by year are available in the blue books, and need not be set out here. Suffice it to say that in every year of the twelve there was an increase; that in home produce the least increase in any one year was thirteen millions in 1897, and the greatest increase a hundred and forty millions in 1906; that in eleven years and nine months the aggregate increase over the high level of 1896, was 917 millions for exports of home products alone, and the increase in exports of foreign produce was eighty-three millions; that, therefore, the Twelve Years of Laurier have meant to the people of Canada, in the value of export trade, a clean, neat thousand millions of dollars.

It we were in search of a test of efficiency, perhaps it would not be worth while to go beyond this. There is no record at all approaching it in the history of Canada. A thousand million dollars to the good in twelve years, less three months. If Sir Wilfrid wants to go to the country this autumn, he could hardly ask for a more conclusive argument than these figures provide. A regime that brings a thousand millions of betterment is surely worth continuing, particularly as we seem to be still going forward.

What influences were exerted by the existence of the thousand millions it will be useful to examine later. For the present we may well be content to note the fact of their existence, and to ponder its import.—Montreal Herald.

THE PRICE GERMANY PAYS.

An incident which seems worthy of attention in the campaign between Free Trade and Protection in England, has been the publication of a yellow book of formidable dimensions, which analyzes in impartial detail the conditions as to hours, wages and prices which rule in protectionist Germany. With the figures, which represent inquiries into the state of the skilled trades in thirty-three German cities, with a total population of nine millions, a comparison is made between the relative positions of the German and British working men. As compared with his fellow in Great Britain, the German workman receives, on an average, seventeen per cent. less money in wages, works for this lower wage ten per cent. longer hours, and has to face, in food, rent, and fuel, a bill which is one-fifth higher. The work that brings a shilling to the family purse in Great Britain brings only ninepence in Germany, and when the German workingman's wife goes to the market she finds that her ninepence is worth only sevenpence half-penny, according to the British scale of prices.

In practice, this means that the German workman, besides the burden of longer hours, has to face a lower standard of existence. He lives in tenements behind wealthier houses in front, and he knows little of sun and air. He has to content himself with a parlour, bedroom and kitchen, and the latter, the report observes, is too small for a living room. The British workman of the same rank would have a separate house of four or five rooms and scullery. The German workman's staple food is sour black bread and sausages, and an increasing admixture of horse-flesh. Unemployment dogs his heels as relentlessly as it does his British confrere. The inquiry that elicited these facts, which are published by the British Board of Trade, was undertaken to show that a protective tariff does not necessarily mean higher wages. This is no doubt true, although the condition of the workingman both here and in the United States is very much better than that of his fellow in Great Britain, and far in advance of the German. But the report is valuable from a cosmopolitan standpoint, for the light it throws upon the conditions under which the commercial progress of Germany is being achieved—the price her people are required to pay to enable the country to conquer in the world's markets.

BRITISH VIEW OF OUR OIL FIELDS.

The editor of the Petroleum World of London, England, has made a personal inspection of the Ontario Oil fields and has contributed to his journal an interesting article descriptive of present conditions and future outlook. He declares that the oil situation here indicates an activity which shows that oil men are at last appreciating the importance of our fields. The fact that a well can be drilled and equipped in Canada for £500, the oil production being regular and a ready market at hand for all the oil produced, coupled with a benefit in the form of a Government bounty of 52 1-2 cents per barrel, is regarded as of prime importance in development. Dealing with the Dominion at large, our visitor says there are vast tracts of oil-bearing territory in Canada, including the far north-west, and, given the right men and capital for exploitation purposes, in the near future will bring highly remunerative results.

The stipulation enforced by the farmers of the Tilbury district, that the failure of a lessee to drill in a given time involves a penalty of 25 cents per acre per annum, is regarded as a healthy one, showing their confidence in the wealth of oil stored below. One instance is cited of a farmer obtaining on the basis of one-eighth royalty as much as £180 in a single month. The importance of the occurrence of natural gas in the Ontario fields is emphasized. Apart from its use as a fuel for manufacturing and illuminating purposes, it is always closely connected with petroleum, a porous rock being required as a reservoir. The demand for natural gas for manufacturing purposes is also dealt with. Hundreds of millions of cubic feet are consumed daily and its importance is shown by the rapid growth of cities in proximity to natural gas fields. Manufacturers flock to the points where they can get cheap fuel. Canada's possibilities never fail to impress any observant visitor, and the best time for improving these opportunities is always now.—Globe.

The Detroit News-Tribune is not surprised because ocean-going trade is being diverted from New York to Montreal. It asserts that "of all the great ports in the world, New York has done the least to provide suitable dockage." Yet the Philistine Conservative journals, when the harbour improvements at Montreal and on the St. Lawrence, made by the Dominion Government, are mentioned, raise the cry of "graft." Little Canadians do their best to stay the progress of Canada by raising little clouds of dirty dust.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

That Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a Canadian of whose character, talents and achievements all Canadians should be proud, is, says the Hamilton Herald (Independent), generally conceded, and it is long since his urbanity, fair-mindedness and broad Canadianism blunted the edge of Ontario prejudice against him.

The Conservatives seek to show themselves mighty solicitous of the public lands of the country, and complain that the Liberals do not reserve the land for the settler. Yet the Conservative Government, when it had the power, voted to railways the enormous quantity of 56,087,072 acres. The Liberals in twelve years have not so voted a single acre to railways.

The outcome of the Saskatchewan election in favour of the Liberal Government is, in part, due to popular satisfaction with the record of the Scott Government, and a desire not to interfere with the policy of the Liberal Government of the Dominion in promoting settlement of vacant lands, increasing population, developing resources, and contributing to the solution of the transportation problem.

Saturday Night, Toronto, has the following: "It may not be out of place for Saturday Night to say that we have no belief that any present combination of Provincial premiers and local disaffections will suffice to cause the defeat of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He has been unfortunate in many of his lieutenants—too many, by far—but he remains a public figure, splendid and alone in the imagination of the people. He cannot be beaten in a young and impressionable country by such forces as now oppose him.

The fact that the Scott Government has withstood mighty combinations and has been returned to power on a straight party appeal proves, remarks the Halifax Chronicle, the great popularity and strength of Liberalism in the West. The hopes of the Federal Opposition, who have been boasting so loudly about what they were going to do in the West, have been dashed to the ground. Mr. Haultain did not dare to face the electors as a straight party leader, and he has been beaten on his own battleground. The West will stand by Laurier.

The Toronto News should get weary of telling the people of Saskatchewan how to vote. They refuse its behests, and decline to have issues thrust upon them for which they have no sympathy. The News has persistently essayed to convince the new Provinces that the legislation conferring autonomy upon Alberta and Saskatchewan was oppressive and undesirable. Twice has Saskatchewan expressed its opinion at the polls in a general election, and twice has it approved of the Autonomy Bills. Twice has it had a chance to declare, as the News said it would do, that it wanted control of Dominion lands within its boundaries, and it has not said so. The News will possibly wake up some time to the fact that the new Provinces do not take their politics from the East.

The canard that Hon. Mr. Scott Premier of Saskatchewan, brought on the general elections at the order of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was given currency by the Conservative press to cover the interference of Mr. Borden, Conservative leader, in the domestic affairs of Saskatchewan. It is stated by those who know, that if Mr. Borden had as little to do with the Saskatchewan general elections contest, Mr. Haultain, instead of having fourteen Conservatives in the House, would have been lucky to have had half a dozen. the whole riding was overrun by Conservative hosiery and grafters from Manitoba, and there is no small amount of evidence that employment, the "substantial" argument, was not omitted. The Ministment, was not admitted, the Ministers, Hon. W. R. Motherwell and Hon. J. A. Calder, attributing their defeat solely to the use of money in the interest of their Conservative opponents.

Proof is inexhaustible that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures female ills and carries women safely through the Change of Life.

Mrs. Letitia Blair, Cannifton, Ont., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was sick for five years. One doctor told me it was ulceration, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor, and advised an operation. No one knows what I suffered, and the bearing down pains were terrible.

"I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"It has cured me of all my troubles, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me to pass safely through Change of Life."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

FIRE CHIEF CLARK WAS WARNED

London's Chief Had Intended to Inspect Building.

COLE'S ESCAPE MIRACULOUS

Rescued Fireman Tells Thrilling Story of How He Lay Fighting For Life With Hose and Could Hear the Prayers of His Comrades—Mrs. Clark Takes Sad News Like a True Fireman's Wife.

London, Ont., Aug. 20.—The victims of Tuesday night's fire will be buried with full honors, Chief Clark and Fireman Wein by the fire department and Sergeant Cockburn by the military.

CHIEF CLARK.

The collapse of the building, following as it does the Crystal Hall disaster of a year ago, has naturally created a lot of talk as to whether the course of building inspection then decided on has been carried out.

David Cowan of Cowan & Co., hardware dealers, who are among the fire sufferers, said yesterday that only on Monday last Chief Clark had told him that he with Inspector Nutter would soon inspect some of the stores along Dundas street, including the very block where he was killed, having heard that some merchants were carrying too much stock on the upper floors.

Fireman Cole is resting as easily as can be expected. One side of his face, his back and his foot and ankles are badly burned. Doctors are unable to say yet whether he is internally injured or not, although it is feared his lungs may be crushed.

The total loss is estimated at $116,200, the heaviest loser being Westman & Co., whose loss is $50,000.

Fireman Cole says the quartette had got nicely inside the door when they were met by stifling smoke, but pressed on. With a crash the front part of the building came down. They dashed to the back when the floor went down beneath them and when Cole came to he found himself on his back with the wreckage bridged above him and scarcely touching him. By a kind turn of fate the nozzle of the hose was beneath his arm. It saved his life, for with the nozzle gripped in his hands he played the life-saving water on the flames around him.

"It was pitch-dark, and near me, I could hear someone praying. I think it was the chief and sergeant. One of the men was saying, 'Oh, God I am dying; Father, forgive my sins, and relieve me from this terrible agony."

The breaking of the news to the dead chief's wife was one of the most pathetic incidents of the terrible calamity. She went home after watching the fire and waited and waited for his home-coming. She telephoned several of her friends and asked to be told the worst. "I am brave," she said. "Tell me all."

Finally she was told that the worst had happened, but proved herself a woman worthy to be the wife of a fire-fighter. She was dazed for a moment; her eyes welled up with tears, and then she said to Mrs. W. G. Abbott, whose father Chief Roe was, killed four years ago, "You know what it is to go through this. It has come at last."

Hitch In Welcome.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 20.—Early this morning a thin veil of smoke on the horizon signalled to the watchers on the coast the approach of the United States warships.

A sensational hitch of international importance has arisen in connection with the ceremonial procession of the American sailors through the streets of Sydney on Friday.

The nature of the hitch is "strictly confidential for the present."

Not a Popular Alliance.

Shanghai, Aug. 20.—The Sin Wan Pao, a leading Chinese newspaper, comments unfavorably upon the suggested alliance between the United States and China for the purpose of jointly opposing Japan. The paper declares that China must rely upon internal reforms, and not foreign alliances.

Killed In the Alps.

Innsbruck, Austria, Aug. 20.—As Leontine Roman, a Polish actress, and Posselt, a violinist, were ascending the Gerlos peak yesterday, they fell over a precipice. The actress was killed. Posselt was severely injured.

Fatal Fall.

DOUBLE EXPLOSION.

Dynamite Disaster at Amherstburg Fatally Injures Workmen.

Amherstburg, Aug. 20.—Stephen Austin had his skull fractured by falling steel in the dynamite explosion which destroyed the dredge Destroyer yesterday morning. He is not expected to live. Twelve others were less seriously hurt. The accident was caused by a misunderstanding between the day and night shifts. Just before knocking off for the night the men had been engaged in sinking a cartridge into a newly-bored hole. The day crew, supposing that the hole had not yet been charged, inserted a new cartridge. An explosion followed, wrecking the dredge. Almost immediately after the small stores boat towed behind the dredge exploded with a concussion that floored every man in the neighborhood and caused blood to issue from their ears. Craft nearby came at once to the rescue and picked up all the injured men and brought them here.

CALLS HAULTAIN'S A FAKE PARTY

Premier Scott Says Conservatives are Going Under Fake Name as Provincial Righters—Money Used Against Government

GOT NO AID FROM OTTAWA

Regina, Aug. 19. — The citizens of Regina celebrated the victory of Liberal principles in the recent election by a monster gathering at the city hall, a torchlight procession and a fireworks display.

The meeting at the city hall was marked by the wildest enthusiasm the audience rising and cheering Premier Scott as he entered, also Messrs. Bole, Martin, Calder, Motherwell and other prominent members of the party. The premier said he hoped the campaign would put an end to a fake Provincial Rights party, which was manifestly a fake name in view of Mr. Haultain's appeal to the Conservative party at Ottawa.

Speaking of the defeat of the Hon. W. R. Motherwell and the Hon. J. A. Calder, he ventured to say that the results would hardly bear investigation. Mr. Motherwell says that in North Qu'Appelle the issues of the day or the policy of the Scott Government was never taken into consideration. It was purely a case of money against himself.

Thirteen in it

Discussing the results of the election yesterday, Premier Scott said: "I seemed to feel in my bones that number thirteen would be recorded in the outcome.

"I find now that instead of thirteen Opposition seats it will come in by way of a majority of thirteen for the government.

"I certainly regret the defeat of Mr. Calder and Mr. Motherwell, yet these are comparative minor incidents of the result as a whole. The emphatic approval of the government expressed by the province is to be attributed very largely to the splendid work done since 1905 by Mr. Calder and Mr. Motherwell.

Non-partizan Cloak

"As I pointed out at Saturday night's meeting, it will scarcely be possible, after the exposures and confessions of this campaign, for Mr. Haultain any longer to wear a non-partizan cloak. But for the desperate use made of the forces sent hurriedly to his aid in response to the appeal he sent to Mr. Borden the first moment he learned of dissolution, Mr. Haultain would have carried only five or six seats. They made it really a Federal party contest, and their organization centre was not Regina, but Winnipeg.

"On our side the Liberals at Ottawa left us entirely to our own resources. They did not raise a finger to assist us. In fact, I did not ask them to do so.

"The story of Sir Wilfrid Laurier instructing me when I visited Ottawa in July to come on home and bring on the elections at once is too absurd to need an answer. Surely nobody thinks an election can be held on a day's notice."

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. The New York Ladies' Tailoring establishment have removed their parlours and workshop from 658 George street to 387 Reid street, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral, for the better accommodation of their patrons, and are prepared to take orders in any line of ladies' garments. FALLING HAIR STOPPED

Baldness Cured by Destroying the Parasitic Germ That Causes It

Baldness follows falling hair, falling hair follows dandruff, and dandruff is the result of a germ digging its way into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality of the hair. To destroy that germ is to prevent as well as cure dandruff, falling hair, and, lastly, baldness. There is only one preparation known to do that, Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new, scientific discovery. Wherever it has been tried it has proven wonderfully successful. It can't be otherwise, because it utterly destroys the dandruff germ. "You destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c and $1. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

UPPER STONY LAKE COTTAGERS' ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING; NEW OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

Mr. H. G. Buck of Norwood is Now President of the Flourishing Association—Mr. Rich. Lees is Secretary

NEW REGULATIONS ADOPTED

Special Staff Correspondence.

Crowe's Landing, Aug. 18—The annual meeting of the Upper Stony Lake Campers' and Cottagers' Association was held in the pavilion at Crowe's Landing to-night at eight o'clock. There was a good attendance of both ladies and gentlemen, although it was remarked that many of the members were absent that should have shown greater interest in the meeting.

The President, Mr. J. E. Davidson occupied the chair and pointed out the importance of the meeting. He briefly explained the satisfactory financial position of the Association, regarding the pavilion property of which they had secured a lease for twenty-five years.

They would also be called upon to consider the provisions of new articles of agreement for regularly constituting the Association in a properly organized and legal manner; and also to deliberate on a form of by-laws, rules and regulations for the proper conduct of their business.

The officers had been instructed to engage the services of the law firm of Messrs. Hall, Medd & Davidson, of Peterborough, for this purpose and Mr. Walter Davidson was present to submit a draft of these for their consideration.

In the absence of the secretary, Mr. Craig, on motion, Mr. Duffield, of Norwood, was appointed secretary, pro tem.

Mr. Walter Davidson, on behalf of his firm was requested to read the prepared articles of agreement and the rules and regulations. The provisions of each paragraph were then thoroughly discussed seriatim and on motion of Mr. John Finlay and Mr. H. LeBrun, received the unanimous assent of the members, including several amendments and additions thereto.

Financial Statement

Mr. Duffield read the annual financial report which embraced a detailed statement of receipts and expenditures of the year, summarized as follows:—

Receipts	$793.63
Expenditure	788.66
cash on hand	4.97

On motion of Mr. Alex Gibson and Mr. R. Lees the report was received and adopted.

Election of Officers

The President requested the meeting to decide upon a new set of officers for the ensuing year, and asked for instructions as to how they were to proceed in their election. It was decided that an executive committee be elected; to consist of a president, secretary treasurer and three other members; after further discussion, it was moved by Mr. J. Finlay, seconded by Mr. A. Gibson, that nominations be made and a ballot be taken to decide the choice of the meeting, which was carried.

After the appointment of a scrutineer, the following was the result of the ballot:—

President—Mr. H. Birch.
Sec. Treasurer—Mr. Rich. Lees.

Messrs. Alex. Gibson, John Roxborough, and Chas. Waters were elected the three other members of the Executive.

Vote of Thanks

At the conclusion of the regular business it was moved by Mr. Alex. Gibson, seconded by Mr. Rich. Lees that this meeting tender a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davidson for their very active and efficient services on behalf of the Association.—Carried.

Mr. Davidson thanked the meeting for their kind expressions after which the meeting adjourned.

Race Between Longboat And Simpson May Be A Feature Of Peterboro's Big Exhibition

Directors Met Last Night and Made Plans for the Fair—Night Performance Decided Upon

SOME OF THE FEATURES

One of the probable big features for the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition this year will be a matched race between Tom Longboat and Fred Simpson, Canada's two most famous Indian runners. The fair directors decided last night to try to bring the two men together here on one of the days of the fair, and if they are successful in their efforts the event will prove a grand drawing card. There should be no difficulty in arranging the matter as the men are anxious to get a crack at one another. Longboat beat our Indian runner in a three mile race at Hamilton on Saturday last, but Simpson was not in shape then, and would like to meet Flanagan's protege when he is feeling fit. There is no better track than the half-mile one at the exhibition grounds, and the meeting of the two famous redskins will prove very popular.

The fair directors are making every effort to make the exhibition this year the best on record and judging by the attendance and the enthusiasm shown at the meeting of the directors last night, they will not meet with much trouble in accomplishing their aim.

There were present at the meeting the following:

President Leary, Secretary F. J. A. Hall, Ald. Elliott, Ald. Geo. Gillespie, Messrs. W. E. Conway, Jas. R. Bell, Dr. Johnston, Jas. O'Shea, Dawson Kennedy, Wm. Collins, J. J. Bennett, Jas. Baptie, J. H. Larmonth, John Brown, S. Deyell, W. B. Stewart and J. H. Garbutt.

After deciding upon endeavouring to match Longboat and Simpson here, the directors went on to deal with other matters in connection with the affair. The president and Ald. Elliott were appointed a committee to wait upon the hotel men of the city to secure financial assistance from them.

Mr. Collins asked if anything had been done in regard to the railway service for the fair, and pointed out that the people of the Hastings section were handicapped because the last train of the day for Hastings left at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Secretary Hall stated that he had written the Grand Trunk in regard to the matter, and they were willing to put on a special train if the directors would guarantee $46.

It was decided to accept this offer, and accordingly on Saturday, Sept. 19th, the last day of the fair, there will be a special train for Hastings leaving here at 7.30 o'clock.

Both railways have agreed to give a single fare rate during the exhibition, and similar conditions will exist on the steamers.

It was decided, after some discussion, to hold a night performance on the 18th, the second day of the fair, and a splendid programme will be obtained for that night.

Arrangements are being made to use a moving picture plant for the night, and there will be a big performance in front of the grand-stand. The grounds will be well lighted for the occasion.

Some decidedly clever and entertaining acrobatic turns and other vaudeville performances are being arranged for, and it is the intention of the directors to make the fair of 1908 the best yet.

Other business done by the directors last night was the appointment of judges for the different classes. It was decided not to publish the the exhibition.

Stop that Scratching!

Just as long as you have dandruff your head will itch. It's the little microbes that are gnawing down into the hair roots. It may take a long time for these pesistent pests to get down to the vital part but when they do they will destroy the life of the hair in a very short time.

"My hair was falling out rapidly and becoming gray when I heard of your guaranteed Hair Restorer, and, after using one bottle my hair stopped turning gray. The first application removed the itching, my hair stopped falling out and I now have a new growth of hair, and it is soft, glossy and pliable." Carrie Williams, 844 Clinton Ave. South, Rochester, New York.

Parisian Sage, the delightful Hair Restorer is guaranteed by Wm. Madill to stop falling hair, to cure dandruff and all diseases of the scalp or money back. It is the most refreshing hair dressing in the world. Ladies use it extensively because it makes the hair beautiful, soft and luxuriant—50 cents a bottle at Wm. Madill's or by express from Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont.

Senior Y.M.C.A. Boys Break Camp And Return To City

Editor Examiner.

Well, here we are at home again, all safe and sound, and the Y.M.C.A. camp for 1908 is nothing but a very pleasant memory now. We have only one regret, and that is that we were unable to stay up there any longer, but even the best of outings must have an ending some time, and so our camp broke up yesterday.

The last week was certainly a dandy, better even than the first. We had two additions to our camp, Gus McGibbon of Port Hope came up on Monday, and Fred Hall came up from Peterborough on Tuesday.

We all attended the regatta on Monday and spent a most enjoyable time. In fact, some of our friends from Port Hope found such an attraction up there that they couldn't tear themselves away until after the midnight had left, taking their lady friends with it.

Earlier in the evening, however, "Wally" announced his intention of rowing home some of our friends from up the line, but unfortunately, he forgot which seat to row from and became so tangled up in the stern that two of the young ladies had to row him home.

On Thursday some of the fellows went around to the Chemong regatta and spent a very pleasant time. The rest of us built a large bon fire at the camp and invited all the neighbouring cottagers down to spend the evening. Two of our young lady friends very kindly came down and made a huge pan of maple cream for us, which we enjoyed very much, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

On Friday, the camp started to break up. "Duffy" had to leave in the afternoon, and Saturday morning Fred, Will and Gordon also left, while, in the afternoon, Tom and Gus went down. We were all very sorry these boys could not stay with us to the end of the camp.

On Sunday evening a song service was held at "Woodside," which some of us attended, and enjoyed very much.

On Monday afternoon we were the guests of some friends at a picnic to Perry's Creek, near Burleigh. We walked up there, and found a very pleasant spot on the bank of the creek, where we partook of the numerous good things the girls had provided for us. George created a great sensation by the amount of sardine sandwiches and marble cake he was able to put away, besides many other dainties. Mr. Gerald Wood kindly took us home again in his yacht, at least, all but two of the party, who somehow got separated from the rest of us, and didn't show up again in time, and as a result, had to walk home. If you want any further particulars about that just ask "Wally" about the water-lilies and other kinds of lilies up there.

Just here it is only fitting that I should say something to show our appreciation of the treatment accorded us by the nearby cottagers. They were kindness itself. Wherever we went we met with a most cordial reception. Special mention might be made of Miss Brown, who made us a splendid cake which was greatly enjoyed, and Mrs. Fitzgerald, who was especially kind to us, doing nearly all our cooking for us after Tom left. As for the girls, well, we all feel that we will try mighty hard to get up there again next summer, if there is a chance of meeting the same again.

Tuesday morning was spent in packing up and making our last farewells, and in the afternoon the last of us arrived home safely, looking like a bunch of Indians.

So ended the senior Y.M.C.A. camp for 1908, and now my letter must end, too, as I will say good-bye for another year. I remain,

CAMP JOLLIER.

SOME SPLENDID WHEAT FROM NANTON

Fife Wheat Has 85 Grains on a Stalk—Shown to Examiner

Mr. Alex. Dawson, of 92 Dufferin street, East City, brought in some samples of Alberta wheat to the Examiner this morning, which was grown near Nanton, fifty-five miles southeast of Calgary.

The wheat, which was sent to Mr. Dawson by his sons who are resident in Nanton, is of three varieties, the Turkey Red, Jones Fife, and Odessa. To any who are inclined to doubt the optimistic forecasts of the wheat experts in regard to the Western wheat crop the following may prove interesting reading:

One each of the three varieties measured and stripped, showed these results:

The Odessa, five inches in length; 67 grains.

The Jones Fife, five and three-quarter inches in length; 85 grains.

HEAD OF A BIG 'LUNGE MOUNTED

One of the Largest Ever Seen by Peterborough Taxidermist

Mr. M. C. Tooley, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, has had the head of the big 'lunge mounted, which was captured by Mr. John Doris in the Otonabee, near Campbelltown, a few weeks ago. It is one of the biggest heads that Mr. Elcome ever mounted and it is attracting considerable attention at the Queen's. Mr. Tooley has a number of large heads in his bar, each of them containing electric lamps, but none are nearly so vast as the latest addition.

It may be seen in the window of "My Valet."

SKETCH OF CAREER OF DR. WILD

His Chief Object Was to Prove That the Anglo-Saxons Were Descendants of Lost Tribes of Israel

HAD AN EVENTFUL LIFE

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Special—Rev. Dr. Joseph Wild, formerly of Toronto, died Monday night at 10.30, at the home of his son, Dr. Zimmerman Wild. He will probably be buried by Doric Lodge in Toronto.

Dr. Wild had a stroke of paralysis while visiting his son, C. Wild, at Piqua, Ohio, one year ago last June. He recovered somewhat and was taken to the house of his son, Dr. J. Zimmerman Wild, and daughter, Mrs. Wm. F. Gillesby, in Brooklyn. His recovery continued, so that he could get about fairly well. After two months he was able to visit in Toronto and pass on to Port Sandfield and spend the fall at Ed. Cox's hotel there, where he had been an honoured guest for many years. His daughter, Mrs. Wm. F. Gillesby, who has spent the summer there for the last eighteen years, was with him.

A Dropsical Ailment

While still showing the effects of the paralysis, he returned to the home of his children in Brooklyn in the late fall in fairly good shape. During the winter hopes were entertained that he might regain some of his original health and strength. However, in May, he was taken to his bed, caused by a general decline. His decline since then has been persistent and steady. About July 1 a dropsical condition set in, and it was evident to his physicians that his end was gradually but surely approaching. Since that time he has required attention day and night.

In Comatose Condition

About August 1 his mind began to wander, and it was thought he could not possibly live the week out. He revived somewhat, however, for a week, and has since been falling slowly, bring in a semi-comatose condition.

Dr. Wild was born at Summit, Lancashire, England, on November 16, 1834. He received his early education in England in the Methodist College, but completed his theological course at Concord, N. H., at a later day, after being stationed at Hamilton, when he took the advanced courses. Before this, however, he had been an apprentice to civil engineering. After three years he decided to enter the ministry and gave himself to study.

A Methodist First

He was licensed to preach by the Primitive Methodist Church of England, January 16, 1850, and after five years came to Canada, where he joined the Methodist-Episcopal Church; and was stationed at Hamilton. After his Concord graduation he preached at Goderich for a year, and then spent another year travelling in Europe. On his return he was stationed at Orono and Belleville, remaining nine years at the latter place, and acting there as professor of Oriental languages in Albert College.

From Belleville he went to Brooklyn, N. Y., where he joined the Congregationalists and laboured for eight years. In 1880 he accepted the call to Bond Street Church, Toronto.

A Popular Period

The long and successful ministry, the eloquence of the Bond street polymath, as he came to be known, the crowded evening services, the novel though never unseemly pulpit methods, are fresh in the minds of thousands of Toronto people, who heard him during the palmy days of those palmy fifteen years. His sermons were reported weekly and printed in the Advance and widely copied. His question box became a feature of great interest, and much good advice and valuable information was dispensed by Dr. Wild in this way. He had an unfailing fund of good common sense, which was always at the disposal of enquirers.

Went to California

When the break came with Bond street Dr. Wild took a rest for some time, and was then called to California, where he remained five years. Returning to Toronto he occupied the pulpit of Clinton Street Church for two years, and afterwards preached in Concord Avenue. Both these churches were sold, and Dr. Wild preached for a season in Massey Hall and a year later in the Majestic Theatre. He was a good lecturer and platform speaker, as well as a preacher.

In 1889-1890 he was chairman of the Congregational Union of Canada.

For his vacations he used to go to Muskoka, where he could angle, a pastime of which he was very fond.

Leaves Three Children

Dr. Wild married August 15, 1859, Mary Victoria Hixon, Bronte, Ont. She died, leaving two sons, one a medical doctor and one a dentist, and a daughter, Mrs. Gillesby. They all live in Brooklyn.

The Bronte farm was for long his favourite residence, and he was very proud of the beautiful homestead. He considered it the largest farm devoted entirely to fruit in Ontario. At one time he was offered $20,000 for it. This he refused, yet when litigation ensued over a $7,000 mortgage on the 45 acres, he let it go to the disputants.

His Great Hobby

Dr. Wild's great hobby was the identification of the Anglo-Saxon race with the lost tribes of Israel of the Bible. He never wearied of this theme and seldom failed to allude to it in his addresses. His series of lectures on the subject appeared in book form and were regarded as a standard work upon it. He had no sympathy with the critics who asked for proof of the existence of the original tribes.

Funeral in Toronto

Mr. Palmer, of the Palmer House, was informed of the demise of Dr. Wild.

"A day or two ago," he said, "we received a letter from Dr. Zimmerman Wild, the eldest son, stating that his father had requested that the funeral services be under the direction of the Doric Lodge, and to be held in Toronto, and that he requested that a number of private papers in our possession be forwarded to New York, which we accordingly did."

A Former Local Bank Manager Talks On Canadian Issues

The following from the Montreal Star is what Mr. F. W. Taylor, former manager of the Bank of Montreal, Peterborough, has to say regarding Canadian issues offered for sale in Great Britain:—

"Canada is free from criticism financially, so long as she refrains from offering issues that are in the undesirable class," said Mr. F. W. Taylor, manager of the London branch of the Bank of Montreal, who is at present in the city.

Mr. Taylor went on to say that there is a feeling in London that Canada has been a very heavy borrower in the past three or four years and was likely to be a still heavier borrower in the future. It was, therefore, very necessary that the confidence in Canadian securities and Canadian credit should not be impaired in any way.

"Is there a strong demand in London for Canadian securities," was asked.

"I don't think there is, in spite of so many reports to the contrary. In fact, it is very difficult to borrow money in England, or dispose of Canadian securities outside of Dominion and Provincial Government and good municipal and railway bonds, and even with regard to the latter there is at times great difficulty.

"I may say, however, that I believe that the British investing public will in time, become educated to a better appreciation of the intrinsic merits of water power companies and general industrials, but at the present time they are not easily attractive and that is the reason the Bank of Montreal, when acting as a medium for the sale of securities, evinces the utmost care.

"There are many high-class Canadian industrials which, if publicly offered would not be looked at by the British public, consequently the accumulation of such securities on the hands of the underwriters, for which there would be no real market, would be in the end prejudicial to the interests of Canada as a whole."

CHARGE AGAINST THE CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING COMPANY

At police court to-day the Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company were charged with selling liquor to unlicensed person, knowing that the same was to be sold illegally. The case arose out of the recent raid made by License Inspector Stewart upon the alleged "blind pig" in North Monaghan. Mr. W H Moore, K.C., conducted the prosecution and Mr. Jas. Harrison, Toronto, appeared for the defendant.

Mr. Jas. Drain, secretary and bookkeeper of the Company was called by the prosecution, and gave evidence in regard to the quantity of lager and ale purchased by the proprietor of the establishment near the brink of the river.

The quantity purchased was comparatively small, at first but on July 20th the man had purchased 12 cases of lager. Getting suspicious at such a large quantity to an unlicensed person, Mr. Drain testified, that he made inquiries of the man and was informed that he was purchasing it for other people: for a number of campers. This explanation was satisfactory and the witness remarked that if he had known that the man was re-selling the liquor he would not have sold it to him.

At the conclusion of Mr. Drain's evidence the case was adjourned until 2.30 o'clock this afternoon.

The Peterborough County Visitors See The Lift Lock

The Peterborough Lift Lock is undoubtedly one of the best advertisements this city could possibly have. Everybody knows about it, and every day new eyes see the vast structure. A liverman, speaking to the Examiner this morning, stated that the number of visitors to the lock this year was more than ever, if his business was any criterion. Visitors from a distance, who spend their summer holidays at Stony Lake, invariably make it a point to see the lift lock either on their way up or while going home.

This morning, like others, was a busy one for the liveryman. At 10.30 o'clock every cab in his barn had been ordered and all were going to the lock.

"I could not fill another order," remarked the liveryman to the reporter.

YOUNG MAN WAS ASSESSED $6.10 FOR CRUEL TREATMENT OF HORSE

A $2 fine and $4.10 worth of costs was the penalty handed out by Police Magistrate Dumble at this morning's court to a young man who was charged with cruelly treating a horse, on Sunday, July 26th. The defendant pleaded guilty to the charge but the magistrate thought that some evidence as to the nature of the offense should be given, and accordingly two witnesses were heard.

Jas. Akey, liveryman, and owner of the horse, testified to hiring the animal to the defendant and to finding whip marks and other signs of ill-usage on its return.

Dr. Johnston, V.S., testified that he saw the defendant driving the horse on Hunter street, and that he was sawing its mouth and pulling it from one side of the road to the other.

After hearing this evidence the magistrate inflicted the above fine, giving the defendant ten days in which to raise the amount.

TEACHERS FOR COUNTY DISTRICTS HARD TO GET

So States Trustee—Young Ladies Prefer Villages

A school trustee from a rural district informed a reporter yesterday that school teachers for schools not in villages are difficult to obtain. They all, he said, seem to have a desire to get into a village where there is a post office handy and plenty of company. He was secretary of a school section with a village school and had obtained two female teachers quite easily. He knew of other sections in outside districts, however, here the 17th of August passed by and no teacher appeared. The holidays there were unavoidably extended.

WEDDING BELLS

BRAY—GREEN

On Wednesday, August 12th, Abbey Cottage, Stratford, the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Stoll, was the scene of a very quiet and pretty wedding, when Mrs. Stoll's sister, Miss Mary E. Green was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Bray, of Campbellcroft. The ceremony took place at half-past one in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, the Rev. Mr. Salton, of Trowbridge, being the officiating clergyman.

The bride was gowned in white mull trimmed with lace and insertion. The bride entered the room leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. W. Green, of Peterborough, who conducted her to the alcove where the groom awaited his bride. After the usual congratulations the company repaired to the drawing room, where a dainty wedding dinner was served. They received many handsome, as well as useful presents. The groom's gift being a crescent pin with pearls.

Among those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. W. Green, of Peterborough, and their daughters, Lilian and Gladys; Mr. and Mrs. R. Green, of Cayuga; Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Johnston, of Silcote.

Mr. and Mrs. Bray left by G. T. R. for Toronto, at which place they made a brief stay, returning to Campbellcroft where the groom's sister awaited them. The bride's travelling costume was blue cloth with waist of lace over cream silk with hat to match.

SEVENTY KILLED IN A MINE

Gas Explodes in Maypole Colliery at Wigan, England.

EVERY HOPE IS GIVEN UP

Not a Single Man is Believed to Have Escaped Death of Between 68 and 70 Underground at Time of Accident — Women Await News at Pit Mouth — Rescuers Driven Back by Volumes of Smoke.

Wigan, Eng., Aug. 20.—It is not believed a single man of 70 miners who were entombed by an explosion, which occurred Tuesday in the Maypole Coal Mine here, survived the disaster.

The ventilating fan, which was put out of order by the explosion, was repaired yesterday morning, and the mine having been cleared of gases a reacue party descended.

The sight which met their eyes was horrifying. Not far from the bottom of the shaft 18 bodies were found, all frightfully mutilated, legs and arms being blown off and heads battered almost beyond recognition.

The management of the mine declares that between 60 and 70 men were under ground at the time of the explosion and that there is no hope that anyone will be brought out alive.

Women and children, however, who had remained at the pit head all night refused to leave until the bodies of their dead are brought to the surface.

The search parties yesterday afternoon were driven back by the fire. A number of the rescuers were overcome by the fumes from the burning coal, but were safely brought to the surface.

It will be impossible to make a thorough examination of the workings until the fire has been subdued and the air purified.

The election of officers resulted: Alex. Cowan, P.H.C.R., Caledon East; J. T. Scott, H.C.R.; Clarence Bell, Toronto, H.V.C.R.; R. D. Niddrie, M.D., Creemore; Alex. Stewart, Toronto, H.T.; A. N. Smith, G. C. Albery, Meaford, H.C.; auditors, A. N. Smith, Meaford; R. N. Cuthbert, Toronto.

Brampton was chosen as the next place of meeting.

HAINS IS DEGENERATE.

New York, Aug. 20.—The World prints the following special from Winthrop Highlands, Mass.:

The motive for the murder of William E. Annis at the Bay Side Yacht Club last Saturday by Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., U.S.A., aided by his brother, Thornton Jenkins Hains, is to be found in the filing of a suit brought by Mrs. Peter C. Hains against her husband.

In this suit Mrs. Hains alleges that her husband is a morally degraded person and charges are made of the most sensational character. At the same time the complainant demanded in her petition that the case itself be tried in open court.

CAPT. PETER HAINS.
Slayer of William E. Annis.

It was admitted yesterday that the defence will be insanity. To what extent the insanity theory can apply as a defence for T. Jenkins Hains' part in the tragedy is not clear, however, although it is known he brooded over his brother's marital troubles to a considerable extent.

The mystery of the so-called "threatening letters" written by Captain Peter C. Hains to William E. Annis, his victim in the Bay Side tragedy of Saturday was cleared up last night.

The letters were challenges to a duel. In them the army officer demanded that he be allowed "a gentleman's satisfaction" by meeting on the field of combat the wrecker of his home.

A PROFITABLE CROP.

Hundred Acres of Peaches In Essex May Clear $14,000.

Windsor, Aug. 20.—The fruit crop in Essex County will surpass in value the yields of any previous year, according to experts who have examined the orchards. This is particularly true of the peach crop of which there has been a large increase in the acreage. One farmer has an orchard of 100 acres and he expects that his peach crop will bring him a profit of $12,000 to $14,000. Essex farmers have found that fruit is far more profitable to them than any other crop they can raise.

The corn crop also promises to be remarkably fine.

Charged With Arson.

Brantford, Aug. 20.—Rose Ehrlish, a resident of Burford, was arrested yesterday afternoon by County Constable Kerr on a charge of arson.

The barns of Aaron Ehrlish, a brother-in-law, a mile distant from the woman's house, were burned on the morning of Aug. 3. Evidence to the effect that the woman was seen leaving the place at the time of the fire will be submitted. She is the wife of a Jewish farmer.

The recovery of insurance is said to be the motive of the alleged crime.

Terrible New Explosive.

Munich, Aug. 20.—A new high explosive of a power beyond anything hitherto used in the German army was tested near here in the presence of the artillery proving commission from Berlin, representatives of the Bavarian War Ministry, the imperial navy and the fortresses and ordnance departments, with what are described as sensational results.

Three shells, exploded by electricity, tore Krupp armor plates to pieces. The explosive is the invention of Fritz Gehr.

Fires at Vancouver.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 20.—The worst bush fires of the summer in the vicinity of Vancouver are now raging. Probably the most damaging fires are burning in Squamish Valley and on Bowen Island, and there is a blaze at Point Grey, which threatens to cause considerable loss.

The city waterworks plant at Capelano is threatened.

Reorganization Rumored.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Persistent rumors, says an evening paper, declare that Attorney-General Foy will reorganize his Department, and appoint J. Seymour Corley of Toronto provincial prosecutor, Erie Armour city crown attorney, and Police Inspector William H. Davies as chief of provincial police staff.

TABLET WAS UNVEILED AT HALIFAX

Commemoration of Representative Government at Halifax.

MANY NOTABLES PRESENT

Splendid Ceremony Attends Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of Her First Legislative Assembly in 1758 —German Cruiser Freya Contributes Officers and Sailors to Brighten the Ceremony.

Halifax, Aug. 20.—Nova Scotia yesterday recalled the glories of her past, when, amid the pomp of military ceremonial, Lieut.-Governor Fraser unveiled a tablet in commemoration of the establishment of the first Parliament in this province 150 years ago. Tribute to Nova Scotia was paid by speakers from all the Maritime Provinces, and Quebec.

On the platform erected in the enclosure were representative public men, statesmen, jurists, officers of the German warship Freya and of the Canadian forces, and members of the Maritime Board of Trade.

At 9 o'clock the ceremonies commenced with salutes fired from the German cruiser Freya and the Citadel. At 10 o'clock a guard of honor from the Royal Canadian Regiment and an escort of the 63rd Rifles arrived.

The tablet is of brass, and bears the names of the first representatives in the first Assembly of the province, together with the names of the officers, and the first governor. It reads in part:

"1758-1908. This tablet is to commemorate the convening of the first General Assembly of Nova Scotia, which met for the despatch of business at the Court House at Halifax on Oct. 2, 1758."

No Coal Strike Coming.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—President Francis Feehan of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, said yesterday the Western Pennsylvania coal miners will not strike because of the failure of operators and miners to agree on the check-off system. He said the operators violated their agreement when they limited the collection of union dues to 50 cents a month, and that although he proposed to submit the question to arbitration the operators refused.

Since that time no word has been had from Miss Peck or the two Alpine climbers who accompanied her.

Caracas, Aug. 11, via Willemstad, Aug. 20.—A sensation has been caused in diplomatic circles by the refusal of President Castro to permit the Brazilian Minister to take charge of French interests in Venezuela, although Dr. Jose Paul, the Venezuelan Minister of Foreign Affairs, had originally agreed to the arrangement.

A SECOND ULTIMATUM.

C. P. R. Gives Men Until To-day to Return—More Taken on at Angus.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—The C. P. R. officials claim that old railway hands are returning to work. At the Angus shops yesterday 200 additional men were taken on, making 2,100 in all now at work there. Of the 200 presenting themselves for work yesterday morning eight were old men who had returned. At least this is the contention of the officers at the works, whereas pickets state that no such number of men have returned.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—The company has issued a notice that those not returning to work to-day can never work for the C. P. R. again, but the men say they will stand firm.

Arrested County Constable.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Leading a fourteen-year-old prisoner around handcuffed at the end of a chain, County Constable Loughlin McBean of Cannington was arrested by P. C. Reburn on Station street yesterday on a charge of being drunk.

Slipped Over Border.

St. Catharines, Aug. 20.—Some fifteen Polish women were rounded up at Merritton Tuesday afternoon by an immigration officer from Niagara Falls. In some manner it seems they had got over the border. Toronto, Aug. 20.—The victim of Tuesday night's accident at the King street subway has been identified as William Blatherwick of 68 Montrose avenue. He was a tailor and an Englishman. He had been despondent for some days and was about to return to England. His son maintains that the death, however, was accidental.

Yesterday Skip Fitzgerald's rink, by defeating Skip Van Valkenburg in a hard game, went into the semi-finals of the big event. Skip Kerr was defeated in the fourth round of the Ontario Cup competition by 23-11 by Skip J. H. Rowan of the Queen City Club, but Skip Waddell won his game in the fourth round of the Toronto Cup by 19 to 14 from J. H. Reaton of the Alexandras.

Peterborough bowlers are also doing remarkably well in the doubles and singles. In the preliminary round of the doubles Waddell and Kerr of Peterborough beat Brush and Mitchell of the R.C.Y.C. by 14-5, and in the first round of the same competition Fitzgerald and Marshall of Peterborough won from Boulter and Hayward of the R.C.Y.C. by 28-11.

In the singles, A. Talbot of Peterborough won by default from R N Brown of the Granites, and R. Kerr of Peterborough beat E. T. Lightbourne of the Granites by, 14-12.

A Toronto despatch says:

Dominion Tournament

Rain yesterday morning held back the Dominion bowling tourney slightly, but nevertheless good progress was made. One round of the Trophy, two rounds in the Association and Consolation, as well as the preliminary and first rounds of the singles and doubles were done with.

Interest naturally centred around the Trophy event. McNee of Londons beat Knox of the Alexandras, and at one stage of the game led by 17 shots, but the remaining three games were excellent, especially that between Swabey and Hastings, an extra end being required.

Forbes' quartette of Kew Beach look as if they will be there at the finish. Yesterday they showed their class against Fraser of Dundas, although they were never behind. In the sixteenth end Fraser lay four, but Skip Forbes ran the end, cutting out Fraser and laying shot. His second was a perfect draw, making a difference of six shots on the end.

Van Valkenburg of Balmy Beach had hard luck against Fitzgerald of Peterborough. "Van" had the lead by four shots on the sixteenth, but Fitzgerald ran the shot in the seventeenth, with Van laying two shots. Bake to the ditch went the kitty, and when the smoke cleared the Peterborough men lay five shots. The Beachite made a perfect draw, to the ditch and it looked as if he lay shot, but just then an extra puff of wind came and edged his ball over, leaving the eastern men one up. The last end was a heart-breaker. First Van Valkenburg lay short, but Marshall put down a beauty, cutting in on the jack. Orr came back and edged in. But again Skip Fitzgerald came to the rescue and ran another end, wicking out Orr's, and laying shot Van Valkenburg was narrow with his last, and the game went to the Peterborough quartette, who play McNee of London on Thursday in the semi-finale.

The score was—

Peterborough—	Balmy Beach—
R J Soden	W J Lawson
A Cottrell	A M Sinclair
Dr. Marshall	W E Orr
J E A Fitzgerald	M H Van Valkenburg
Skip..... 17	Skip..... 15

Van Valkenburg... ... ...22011110002102110—15

The doubles and singles got off to a good start. Many veterans went down, and many new-comers showed up. To-day all rink matches, singles and doubles, unplayed, will be pulled off at 9 a.m. sharp. In the semi-finals of the Walker Trophy, Forbes of Kew Beach meets Charles Swabey of Victorias, while McNee of London, with his youngsters, plays Fitzgerald of Peterborough, the winners playing in the afternoon in the finals.

Percy Sellen Shows Heels To Longboat In Five Mile Run

Percy Sellen of the Irish-Canadians won the five-mile open at the police games at the Island, Toronto, yesterday, and in so doing broke his own Canadian record of 26.25, reducing it to 26.21. The track was rough and slow, and Sellen's performance was a remarkable one in more ways than one. He gave Tom Longboat a beating, and made his own pace after the third mile had been covered. Sellen is running stronger now than ever.

Longboat ran with the winner as far as he could, but Sellen had the Onondaga where he wanted him from start to finish, and ran away in the last two miles. The Indian was beaten by 200 yards. Longboat's race with Simpson in Hamilton does not appear to have done him any good, and the manner in which Sellen forced him out after a lapse of only a few days and in time that chopped the record perceptibly was more than Tom could stand. He complained of his stomach and was a sick man when he reached his dressing-room.

Bobby Kerr ran an exhibition, covering 253 yards in 26 1-5 seconds. Joe White of the West End "Y." was set out on the ten-yard mark to make pace, but the world's champion nailed him before he had gone 100 yards, and tramped away from him like an express from a freight drag. Both Kerr and Longboat were given flattering receptions, as was also Sellen when it was announced that he had clipped four seconds from his record for the five miles.

Looseness of The Bowels.

It is very seldom during the summer months that most people are not troubled with "looseness of the bowels."

Sometimes it only goes that far, but generally it develops into Diarrhoea, Dysentery or Summer Complaint and has a tendency to weaken the whole system.

When the bowels get loosened up in this way and you wish to check the unnatural discharge without bringing on constipation, there is only one remedy to use, and that one is DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. This remedy is not an experiment as it has been used in thousands of families during the past sixty-three years.

When you ask for DR. FOWLER'S be sure you get it, as many unprincipalled druggists will try to palm off a cheap substitute on you.

Miss M. Hopkins, Roseview, Sask., writes: "I have used DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY and found it is all it is recommended to be for Diarrhoea and Summer Complaint. We would not be without a bottle of it in the house."

ART BURN BLAMES THE WAYSIDE DRINK

Says He Took Refreshments From an Unknown and Felt Dizzy

Ottawa, Aug. 19—Art Burn, the former Ottawa runner, who took part in the big Olympic Marathon race is again on his way to the West Art renewed many acquaintances in the capital yesterday, and was congratulated on all sides on his healthy appearance. Burn go a right through to Calgary and will get after Harold Parsons, the Neepawa runner, for a matched race. Many Western people believe that Parsons can defeat Burn, but Arthur is out to prove that he is still entitled to the name "champion of the West."

Burn attributes his collapse in the Marathon, not so much to the heat as to some wine which was handed to him on the road. Art had little to eat on the morning of the race, and while right up with Lawson Cotter, Longboat and Simpson, some one came out from the roadside and offered him a drink. Burn was thirsty and hungry at the time, and without paying much attention to what the glass contained, drained it. His tongue was swollen at the time, and anything in the way of drink was welcome. Art finished the wine, and a few minutes later took sick at his stomach. Then the heat became intense, and he knew that it was all off. Burn kept it up however, and left many of the Marathon runners behind him.

"I think I would have been right up in the front rank had I not taken that wine," said Burn yesterday. "I do not know who gave it to me. I only know that I was terribly thirsty at the moment, and that I was glad of something to ease my throat and mouth."

Burn speaks in high terms of Dorando's running. The Italian, he says never spoke a word but continued to run, run, run, until he fell in a heap a few yards from the winning post.

Burn will probably come east to Hamilton in October to run in the Herald road race. He is anxious to have some of the Eastern long distance men go West and meet him.

Sporting Comment

Balmy Beach and Peterborough had a close struggle.

In the first two ends Van Valkenberg piled up 4 points against 0, and kept ahead of his opponents until the tenth end. The score tied again in the thirteenth end, with 11 all. Van Valkenberg ahead, and at the end of the sixteenth stood 15 to 11. Peterborough made 5 in the eighteenth and won. It was anybody's game throughout.

Not a whisper has come across the lake so far this season regarding the possibilities of Canada Cup races off Charlotte next summer.

In other years the Canadians have been earlier than this in the field with a challenge, or at least with a proposal to negotiate terms to be followed by a formal challenge as soon as an agreement would be reached.

Twice the yachts of the Rochester Yacht Club have successfully defended the international trophy against the fastest yachts the Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto could procure from the most famous of British designers, and it has been expected that the neighbours across the lake would be saying before now, "You'll have to do it again." But they have not.

In 1905 it was the Temeraire from the boards of Fife that met defeat by the Iroquois, designed by the younger Herreshoff, and in 1907 it was the Seneca, designed by the elder Herreshoff, that walked away with her fleet Canadian rival, the Adele.—Rochester Post Express.

Local runners are already beginning to take an interest in the Examiner road race, and people who have occasion to drive along the Lakefield road in the evenings generally meet one or two white-garbed runners out for a training run. The boys are already beginning to get in shape for the big event, and all indications point to the biggest field of entries in the history of the race. The county will be well represented, as a number of outside runners will make their debut on Thanksgiving Day.

The Examiner race has already produced one of the best Marathon runners in the Dominion in the person of Fred Simpson, and other good runners may be uncorked this season.

The Y.M.C.A. Harriers, who have twice captured the senior race with Ray Best and Ernie Wilson, will be well represented again this year, and Dick Baker will undoubtedly have a dark horse or two to spring on the public.

FASHION AND FAT

Isn't it fortunate that when fashion demands slender gracefulness of women who have to break corset laces to make themselves even presentable, that science steps in and makes their task easy?

For dieting and exercising it has substituted a pleasant, wholesome mixture that can be obtained at small cost from any druggist, viz.: 1-2 ounce Marmois, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 4 3-4 ounces Syrup Simplex.

One teaspoonful of this mixture after meals and at bedtime will take off four to seven pounds of fat a week without causing wrinkles, interfering with the diet, or distressing the stomach in the slightest.

CALLS THE LOCAL PRESS SWINDLERS

Mr. W. A. Bailey Pays a Tribute to the Newspapermen

Mr. W A Bailey is at it again. By "it" is meant writing letters to the chief of police. To-day the chief received a letter and a post card from Mr. Bailey in which that gentleman shows his appreciation of the press.

The postal card was as follows:—

Box 614, Peterborough.

Sir—I have a lot on McGill street and this morning found some children playing and two bull dogs chained. I was actually told to take my own dog off my own land, and some one has cut the grass on the lot but like the $2.00 for Mrs. Ayres' fund, I shall have to whistle for the money. What a row there would be if I looked even at some peoples' property.

W. A BAILEY.

The letter reads thus:

Chief of Police, Box 614, Peterborough.

Sir,—You thought fit to send my letter to the papers, but you must have known I did not mean you personally.

However, you have $2 obtained from me by one of you associates towards paying a fine.

You obtained $10.35 under the threat of imprisonment and calling it justice, whereas your collector of fines served me with no notice. You delayed the summons until I was about to go abroad.

By your association with the press you become an accomplice of swindlers.

Yours obediently,

W. A. BAILEY.

HON. GEO. P. GRAHAM ASSURES COMPLETION OF TRENT CANAL

Heartening Speech of Minister of Railways and Canals at Civic Reception---Work on Canal Will Continuously Progress Until Completion is Reached

THE QUESTION OF TRANSPORTATION DEALT WITH

"The great problem is to provide facilities by which products can get from the producers into the hands of the consumer in the least possible time and in the best possible condition."

"The City of Peterborough should be thankful for its portion. It has at its doors as cheap water power as can be found in North America."

"A good live optimist is worth forty-seven pessimists."

"The work of connecting these lakes will never cease until it is completed."

"It would be absolute madness after expending over $6,000,000 on the work to make it merely a local waterway."

"I believe the scheme is all right, and as far as I am concerned will be pushed to completion."

—Hon. Geo. P. Graham

From a Peterborough city and district point of view, and from the point of view of all interested in the early completion of the Trent Canal, the civic reception tendered Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, and his deputy, Mr. M. J. Butler, C.E., in the City Council Chamber last night, was most successful. It was a purely business affair, well managed, of business-like brevity and directness. Mr. Mayor Rush showed good judgment in selecting the gentlemen to deliver addresses of welcome and comment; and the local speakers showed good judgment in speaking briefly and to the point. The address of the Minister was also very much to the point, although it was sufficiently discursive on the general subject of transportation, to furnish justification of the action of the Liberal Government of the Dominion in adopting the completion of the Trent Canal, from Georgian Bay to Trenton, as a fixed item of its policy. The Minister's declaration upon this point was direct, clear and unequivocal. There would be, he declared, no cessation of work upon canal construction till, so to speak, the last spike would be driven. Mr. Graham's earnestness upon this point is but a complement of his optimistic temperament, which opens his mental vision to the great future of Canada. His tribute to the resources of the country and their variety and practically limitless character, was effective and should be as an inspiration to the younger element of our people and a reproof to the little Canadians, who regard partizan interest and partizan success as the ideal motive of action, and belittle every ambition and enterprise beyond the conception and appreciation of small minds.

The attendance at the reception was necessarily limited to the capacity of the place of meeting, but it was representative of the best element of the citizenship of Peterborough.

Mayor's Address

Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals.

On behalf of the City Council of Peterborough, and the citizens generall, I extend to you a cordial welcome to our city on the occasion of your first visit, and to congratulate you upon your appointment to the important position of Minister of Railways and Canals, and we feel certain from the attention you have given your duties, that the choice has been a good one.

Regarding the Trent Canal, that long talked of project, we appreciate what the department has already done and propose doing on it in our vicinity, and we would like to impress upon you the importance, not only to the city of Peterborough but to the whole country, of its early completion.

H. RUSH,
Mayor.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum

Mr. (W. H. Meldrum, the first speaker, thought that the fact that Mr. Graham was inspecting the canal was evidence that he had worthily taken up the mantle of his predecessor. Mr. Meldrum pointed out the importance of the completion of the canal with regard to the difference in freight rates. Peterborough would never be the grain centre that it was destined to be until the canal was finished. The development of water power was another important consideration. The speaker called attention to the conservation of the waters which he considered decidedly important, not only to manufacturers, but to navigation.

He referred to the promises made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the last Dominion election and also to those of Mr. Hall which he thought had been faithfully carried out. He commended the efforts of the Hon. Mr. Stratton who he said had always been in the fore front in the matter, not only personally but in the Examiner.

In conclusion he spoke highly of the manner in which the Superintendent and his staff had carried out their duties. He hoped that Mr. Graham's department would see that they were given remuneration enough to "allow them to sometimes have bacon and eggs for breakfast." (Laughter.)

"At what time of the year?" inquired Hon. Mr. Graham, laughingly.

Mr. W. H. Moore

Mr. (W. H. Moore was pleased to see the Hon. Mr. Graham in Peterborough, as it afforded him the opportunity of witnessing one of the most progressive cities of the province. It also gave him the opportunity of finding out for himself the resources of the district contiguous to the Trent Canal and its benefits when completed. The history of the canal goes back over the past 50 years but it was only during the past 25 years that the project was seriously considered by the people of Peterborough. Neither political party could claim the honour for the work. Both parties were united in the advancement of the scheme which tended to the promotion of the interests of the people as a whole.

Mr. Moore had no complaint to make with the present Government with respect to the work on the canal. It had done well and too much money has not been expended

JOSEPH LEVASSEUR IS CHARGED WITH PERJURY IN CONNECTION WITH THE BLIND PIG CASE

Joseph Levasseur, the North Monaghan young man who was last week charged with keeping a "blind pig" on the river bank, and in whose case judgment will be given on September 1, is now facing a still more serious charge, that of perjury. The case arises out of the liquor case, and Levasseur's arrest followed upon the charge against the Calcutt Company, which was heard yesterday. At the conclusion of the case, Levasseur, who was present as a witness, was arrested and charged with perjury. He did not elect or plead, saying that he wished an opportunity to talk to his counsel. He was remanded until Tuesday morning, and His Worship placed the bail at $1,000, in two sureties of $500 each.

The Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company was fined $20 and costs by Magistrate Dumble yesterday afternoon for selling liquor to Levasseur as an unlicensed person, with the knowledge that it was being re-sold illegally.

Two young men testified to having visited Levasseur's place on two Sundays and to having purchased liquor there.

WORK IS PROGRESSING WELL AT THE BLAIRTON MINES

Examiner Special:

Blairton, Aug. 21.—The diamond drill which is operating on the mining property here has just completed a test hole which is over 500 feet in depth, and is now being moved to another place a few hundred feet away, where it will soon start on hole No. 7. The "cone," about one inch in diameter now, is taken care of, being placed under lock and key, and consequently the result of the drilling as regards the value of the finding is necessarily confined to the knowledge of the company and those immediately concerned.

There has just been at our works here, Capt. T. Roberts of Millbridge, a Cornishman, who has been mining in many parts of the world. Captain Roberts comes of a noted mining family and from the most flourishing mining district in Cornwall, and he is himself a practical miner whose judgment on mining prospects is of much value.

HOUSEBREAKERS SENTENCED; PERCEVAL GETS SIX MONTHS

Frank Percival, alias Chas. Peace, and his eighteen year old companion Forbes, who were convicted on Friday last of breaking into Mr. E. G. Patterson's house on August 1st, appeared before Police Magistrate Dumble this morning for sentence.

The prisoners were asked if they had anything to say, and when they replied in the negative Perceval was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison and Forbes to two months in the county gaol.

In imposing sentence the magistrate remarked that advices from Buffalo had given the information that there was no steamer called "Thomas Perry," on which Perceval said that he was employed. It was evident, remarked Mr. Dumble, that they had commenced plundering as soon as they arrived in town.

The prisoners apparently took their sentence philosophically and Perceval was observed to shake hands with himself when he heard of his term of confinement.

Wrestling Championship Of The World May Be Decided Here

Peterborough may see a world's championship wrestling match pulled off here this autumn, nothing less than a match between Frank Gotch, who now holds the title, and Yankee Rogers, ex-champion of America, in a catch-as-catch-can match for the heavyweight championship of the world. This announcement was made to the Examiner to-day by Mr. W. H. Naylor of Montreal, the manager of Yankee Rogers, who is the authority for the statement that the two men have signed articles for a match this autumn. It was Mr. Naylor's intention to have the match take place in his own rink at Sherbrooke, Quebec, but this will not be possible, and it is quite likely that the two will meet here.

COMPLAINANT TOO SENSITIVE; MAGISTRATE DISMISSES CASE

Joseph Huard, Joseph Primeau, Gilman, Joseph O'Toole and Thomas Collins, five East City young men, appeared in the police court this morning on a charge of breaking the by-law which prohibits the throwing of stones and other missiles in the city. The information was laid by a young man.

The latter testified that he was driving through East City on Monday night, and when he was passing the defendants, who were at the corner of Burnham and Hunter streets, something was thrown which hit the back of his buggy. His young man, who had been with him, corroborated the evidence.

Thos. Collins, one of the defendants, stated that none of them had thrown anything at the complainant.

"You were evidently up on your dignity," remarked the magistrate. "You were not hurt, your buggy was not injured. All you know is that somebody, you don't know whom, threw something, you don't know what at you."

The magistrate dismissed the case, remarking that he considered the defendants too respectable to do anything of the nature alleged.

WHAT SIR WILFRID SAID.

Apropos of the visit of Hon. Mr. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, may be reproduced the statement made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the occasion of his visit to Peterborough during the general election of 1904. The following is reproduced from the report of the Examiner of October 27th:—

The great statesman closed his magnificent speech amid the prolonged cheers of an enthusiastic audience and as he resumed his seat after the cheering had subsided, a voice in the hall asked, 'What about the Trent Canal? When is it to be built?" That, said Sir Wilfrid, is an easy question. The greater part of the canal has been built already, but if we were to leave it as it is, it would be a canal without an issue. (Laughter.) The first thing that a sane government must do is to give the canal an outlet at both ends—at Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario. We are at the present time prosecuting surveys to determine whether the outlet should be at Port Hope or Trenton. That is a question to be determined by engineers. But let me tell you this, whatever Government would be in power will be derelict of its duty—will be criminal, which having commenced a canal would leave it without an outlt at all. Therefore the canal must be prosecuted as quickly as possible until completed. (Applause.)

For the corollary of these statements, the report of Mr. Graham's address last night may be consulted.

PROMISE AND PERFORMANCE.

For clear-cut definiteness of statement, the declaration of Hon. G. P. Graham at last night's civic reception, in relation to the completion of the Trent Canal, is one of the most conclusive and satisfying of any statement made heretofore by any responsible authority in regard to the prosecution of work on this great enterprise. Mr. Graham's declaration, however, is but a confirmation of the declaration made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in this city less than four years ago, the voice of the contractor, the responsible Minister in charge, of actual work, announcing the completion of the plans of the Chief Engineer. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking upon the subject in the Brock street rink in Peterborough on October 27th, 1904, said:—"THE CANAL MUST BE PROSECUTED AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE UNTIL COMPLETED." Hon. Mr. Graham said last night: "THE WORK MUST NEVER CEASE TILL IT IS COMPLETED * * * AND SO FAR AS I AM CONCERNED IT WILL BE PUSHED TO COMPLETION." Here we have promise and performance, placed side by side and indeed blended in action, for the work of completion is being vigorously prosecuted. From Healey Falls to Trenton the route is in the hands of the contractors, and before the year is finished a million dollars will have been expended in the work of of completion of the southern stretch of this long waterway. The Trent Canal is beyond the stage of speculation, conjecture and hope, and the advanced stage of realisation is reached. For half a century the project has been in the air; now it is down to bed rock, and there is no reasonable doubt that if the present Government is given the opportunity it will complete the canal in the shortest possible time. The Liberal Government has taken the project seriously, treated it as a national business enterprise. Since Confederation and up to the end of the present year, six million dollars have been, or, will have been expended upon this waterway. Of this amount four millions, or two-thirds, have been spent in twelve years, certainly satisfactory evidence of the good faith of the present Government. Public opinion as reflected in Parliament has been converted. No opposition was made to the inclusion of a million dollars in the last estimates. The Minister's present journey over the route will have an important bearing upon the work of completion of the northern uncompleted section. The surveys are performed and the preliminary steps to effecting contracts taken. The time of argument, expostulation and entreaty has passed and the hour of action has struck. The work of canal completion is in the hands of business energy and capacity.

It's a long time since Mr. Borden's voice was raised demanding "adequate protection." Has the result in Saskatchewan made the leader canny?

POST OFFICE ADMINISTRATION

As settlement progresses and population increases, the expansion of the mail service and the fact that mail service to meet the changing conditions bears a cost out of all proportion to the revenue, makes the problem of keeping the postal service self-sustaining a difficult one. The administration that not only does this but makes the postal service yield a surplus, must be a very good one. In 1896, the last year of Conservative rule, the revenue of the post office department, with an expenditure of $3,665,011, showed a deficit of $700,997. After six years of Liberal rule, with an increase of annual expenditure of $340,167, or an expenditure of $4,105,178, there was a surplus of $292,654. Both expenditure and revenue—and surplus—increased in the succeeding years till the surplus in 1906, was $1,011,765, and in 1907, the surplus, with a lessened total of expenditure, amounted to $1,082,171. Yet the Conservatives denounce the Liberal expenditure in the postal, as well as other departments, forgetting to be fair enough to indicate that extension and increased efficiency of the service, have demanded and justified increase, and also forgetting the fact that with the increased expenditure, there have been great surpluses to offset the increased expenditure. It is, however, to be noted that, if from the expenditure of the highest Liberal post office year, the surplus is deducted the net expenditure is some $500,000 less than that of the last year of Conservative rule, adding the deficit of that year, the largest surplus in the history of the department, namely, $1,082,171, was achieved in 1907, with an expenditure of $3,979,557, or only $314,556 more than in the last Conservative year, when the expenditure was $3,664,011 and the deficit $700,997. It must be remembered to appreciate the tremendous contrast in conditions that the Liberals reduced the rate of postage on letters one-third, gave Imperial penny postage by reducing the rate to Great Britain and the colonies from 5 to 2 cents, with the number of postoffices and length of mail service, mileage greatly increased. In 1896, when the Conservatives went out of power, there were 9,103 post offices in Canada. In 1907 the number had grown to 11,377. When the Conservative press and pamphleteers accuse the Liberal Government of extravagance, they should be fair enough to state the qualifying conditions—to state both sides of the case. That, however, is too much to expect.

THE LAND FOR THE SETTLER.

The Winnipeg Free Press answers effectively the charge that the Dominion lands intended for the settler have been permitted to pass into the hands of speculators, who buy for a song and sell for a high price.

All odd-numbered sections in the west were many years ago withheld from homesteading settlement by the Macdonald Government, as a reserve from which the railway land grants were to be made. When the present Government assumed office it found that comparatively little progress had been made in the selection of the many millions of acres of railway land grants. The Laurier Government had to satisfy the grants authorized by its predecessors, but at the same time it determined in future no more land should be granted to any railway. This policy has been rigidly adhered to. First of all the odd-numbered sections are thrown open to actual homesteaders, and afterwards they are offered for sale at the statutory price of $3 an acre to men who have absolutely homesteaded, and who can only acquire title by fulfilling settlement conditions. The odd-numbered sections being thus obtainable only by actual settlers, it is easily seen that the speculator is rigidly excluded.

As regards the even numbered sections, apart from the 250,000 acres sold with conditions of settlement, to the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company, the results of which sale have amply justified it, not a particle of this area has been sold by the present Government, except to actual settlers. True, some even-numbered sections have passed without settlement conditions, to holders of half-breed scrip, but this procedure was fixed at the time the now prosperous western provinces were taken into the Dominion.

In the matter of free homesteads given to settlers during the period the present Government has been in office, the showing is most gratifying. The official annual reports cover six calendar years up to 1900, when a six month's period intervened in order that the immigration year and the fiscal year might be made to synchronize. In 1906 it was decided to have the official year in all Government departments coincide with the fiscal year. The following were the free homestead entries for each of the years named:

1898	4,848
1899	6,689
1900 (six months)	7,426
1900-1901	8,167
1901-1902	14,673
1902-1903	21,383
1903-1904	26,073
1904-1905	30,819
1905-1906	41,859
1906-1907 (nine months)	21,647
1907-1908 (nine months)	26,582
Total	221,860

Each of these 221,860 homesteads consists of 160 acres, so that it will be seen that from Jan. 1, 1879, to Dec. 31, 1907, no less than 35,501,600 acres were given free to settlers.

In striking contrast is this showing with that of the Conservatives while in office from 1879 to 1896. The official figures of free homestead entries during that period are:

1879	4,063
1880	2,074
1881	2,753
1882	7,483
1883	6,063
1884	3,753
1885	1,853
1886	2,657
1887	2,036
1888	2,655
1889	4,416
1890	2,996
1891	3,523
1892	4,840
1893	4,067
1894	3,029
1895	2,304
1896	1,957

That is, in eighteen years there were 62,199 entries, which means that grants totalling 9,952,840 acres were made in that period to actual settlers by a government which gave many millions of acres to railways.

The record clearly shows that, instead of giving away land to speculators, as its enemies allege, the present Liberal Government has been true to its promise to keep the land for the settler.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In 1896, when the Conservatives went out of office, Brantford's factories employed 2,928 hands, who received $965,412 in wages. Last year our factories gave employment to 6,000 hands, who received $2,724,262 in ewages. Yet the Courier told us, says the Brantford Expositor, twelve years ago, that a vote for Laurier would be a vote to close all the industries in Brantford and Paris.

Mr. J. G. O'Donoghue, has been nominated for South Toronto as a candidate for the Commons by the Independent Labour party. Mr. O'Donoghue, who is a son of the late Mr. D. J. O'Donoghue, "fair wage" officer of the Dominion Government, has long taken a deep interest in all questions affecting labour, and would be of great service to the working classes if sent to Ottawa. Yet the Conservative journals of Toronto are preparing to "knock" his candidature by asserting that his nomination is part of a Grit scheme.

FIGHT WITH ITALIAN.

Officers Have Desperate Battle With Escaped Convict.

Parry Sound, Aug. 21.—Constable Knight and District Constable Madigan had a desperate fight with an Italian who escaped from jail here. Learning that Frank Sporanco, one of a trio that escaped, was working in a field near Byng Inlet, the constables went to the place, Sporanco had stolen a repeating rifle, and as the constables advanced toward him he opened fire.

The Italian fired five shots, the constables replying with their revolvers. Constable Knight, feigning to have been hit, fell to the ground among some bushes. Constable Madigan, imagining his companion was killed or seriously wounded, started for Byng Inlet to procure assistance. Meanwhile, as soon as Knight was satisfied the Italian had emptied the rifle, he got up and advanced toward the man, who, turning to run, was struck in the thigh by a bullet from Knight's revolver.

As the constable closed on him the Italian attacked Knight with the rifle, striking him over the head and cutting it so badly that five stitches were necessary to close the wound. The constable, however, felled the Italian with the butt of his revolver. He was just able to handcuff his prisoner before he became exhausted from the wounds on his head.

ADAMITES SENT BACK.

Second Party of James Sharpe's Followers Tried to Enter Canada.

Lethbridge, Alba., Aug. 21.—Another party of Adamites, followers of the famous Sharpe who caused the trouble in Saskatchewan, attempted to enter Canada at Twin Lakes (twenty miles south of Cardston), Wednesday. They were turned back by Immigration Agent Humphreys of Lethbridge. The party included John Bennett, wife, two sons, aged 19 and 17, and three daughters, younger.

Bennett says he believes the world has had nineteen hundred years of night, and that Sharpe is the first man to behold the dawn.

The origin of the fanaticism due to a meteor falling on Sharpe's farm, after which he had a vision. A party of 31 separated at Wilburton, Okla., Sharpe's going to Canada by Dakota. Bennett came by Alberta and another party is entering by British Columbia. The Bennett party has been traveling from Oklahoma for two and a half years with a team of superannuated horses.

YANKS AFTER ISLAND.

Syndicate Are Said to Be Trying to Buy Anticosti.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—A special from Quebec says that it is rumored in the ancient capital that an American syndicate is about to take over the Island of Anticosti, which has been the property for some years past of the French Chocolate King, Monsieur Menier.

It appears that a party consisting of Mr. Gimson, Mr. Meniers, lawyer, Capt. Belanger, formerly of the Savoy, and a Mr. Philipp, said to be the head of the purchasing syndicate, has just left Quebec for the island on board the fine yacht Vadis.

Yachtman's Terrible Trip.

Milwaukee, Aug. 21.—Beaten about by a storm from Monday night until Wednesday night, the little yacht Juniata of Milwaukee, with David Beebe and the dead body of his sailing companion, Philip Thompson, on board, was picked up in mid-lake Wednesday and towed to the harbor here.

Thompson had been steadily at the tiller for hours, when in the height of the rain and windstorm he arose to put on a coat. Without a word he dropped to the bottom of the boat dead.

"Another Bomb," Said Leslie.

Toronto, Aug. 21.—Mayor Oliver says he is determined that the Board of Control shall investigate the channels through which the exhibition funds handled by Col. J. K. Leslie made their disappearance.

Early in the day he was credited with some apparently insignificant remarks in which he hinted that there would be "another bomb exploded," but when questioned last night he disclaimed any further knowledge concerning the shortage than he has already made public.

Domestic Tragedy.

Detroit, Aug. 21.—Philip Weir, 34 years of age, shot and killed his wife yesterday afternoon at their home, and then committed suicide by swallowing carbolic acid.

Weir had been married previously. The couple quarrelled yesterday when Mrs. Weir challenged the validity of this marriage.

Murdered on Public Road.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 21.—With his throat cut and his skull crushed in with rocks, the body of Morris Bender, aged 40 years, a well-to-do mining man of Orwin, was found lying along the public road by his son Wednesday night. The Danger Bugbear Of Electricity Passing Away

Electrical Engineers Dispel Common Illusions in Regard to the "Dangers" of the Subtle Current. Lightning Not the Kind of Electricity That Lights Our Homes

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 18— The havoc wrought by lightning every year is in no small way responsible for the natural fear of electricity. The blinding flashes of the static discharges and the crashing reports of ominous thunder strike terror to the stoutest hearts, and the fear resulting from electrical storms contaminates everything electrical. As a result people are afraid of lighting circuit, the telephone, the trolley wires and of everything which depends upon electricity as a source of power.

The folly of this is apparent to every electrical engineer, but they take little pains to educate the people to the fact that electricity is just as safe as any other kind of power.

In the first place the electricity in the clouds is not the same kind as turns the wheels of the electric cars or makes incandescent the filaments of the electric lamps. Lightning is static electricity—electricity that is not in motion except when it leaps from one overloaded object to another. When a cloud becomes overcharged with static electricity a discharge takes place. The electricity used for heat, power and light, is always in motion; it cannot be kept quiet. It is generated by magnetic machinery and differs materially from static electricity, which can be generated by friction—by rubbing glass with silk.

There is no reason to be afraid of the ordinary incandescent lightning circuit such as is used in house illuminated with electricity. This circuit ranges in voltage or pressure from 110 to 118 volts. Incandescent lighting current is not at all dangerous. If a person should pick up the naked wires of such a circuit with his bare hands he would get but a trifling shock, if his hands were reasonably dry. If he should pick up the same wires with wet hands and take a firm hold he would get a jolt mu. nothing dangerous. The precautionary measures now used in installing electric lighting systems and the general improvement in all lines of electrical engineering make it practically impossible to get a shock from a lighting circuit. The wires are heavily insulated making them proof against sparking, and when installed by competent electricians the fire danger is eliminated. For this reason it is now quite impossible to mulct insurance companies by blaming suspicious fires upon electricity.

In electrical engineering circles any voltage below 700 volts is called "low" and anything above that figure "high voltage." Broadly speaking nothing below 700 volts is dangerous.

The ordinary street-car systems use electricity at 500 volts although there are a few in this country using more pressure than that.

Touch one side of a 500-volt circuit lightly with the finger, while making contact with the other side, either through a ground or by actually touching it; the sensation is similar to receiving a violent blow in the chest; a small burn that is deep but not painful, will be found on the finger where the contact was made.

Making a better contact, as by touching the circuit with a piece of metal held firmly in the hand, and the blow will be strong enough to knock the experimenter down. It is probable that no burn will result, as the current has a large surface through which to enter the hand; in rare cases the person may become unconscious for a short time.

Grasp the wire firmly in the hand, and for a time at least it will be impossible to release it. Serious burns are made where the wire touches the hand, and unless the victim succeeds in wrenching himself free or help is quickly rendered, the result is likely to prove fatal.

The last case is of a very rare occurrence. It is rather peculiar that the 500-volt shock will, in the majority of cases, kill a horse. It is well to remember that in case of a falling trolley wire that standing upon a dry board will give full protection; that while sitting in a car there is no danger of shock from a broken wire or other cause if one does not touch metal or wet wood; raising the feet from the floor, that may be wet or dirty, will do as an additional precaution.

If one wishes to remove a wire to avoid shock or for other reasons, it may be done with safety while standing upon a dry, clean board, or with several thicknesses of dry paper (a newspaper), or, in case of emergency, a bundle of dry clothing. As it is difficult to get the latter perfectly dry, a shock may be received when this is attempted, but the resistance will be so high that the shock will not be very severe.

The "deadly third rail" also operates at 500 volts, and is no more deadly than has been already shown, except for the probability of a person, who is thrown down by the shock, falling across the rail and becoming unconscious. This, of course, is as serious a case as that of the man who is unable to let go of the wire.

Wires used for street are lighting may always be regarded with suspicion; they are exceedingly likely to carry a current of 2,000 volts or more. This will in most cases give a fatal current, and the pressure is so great that the precautions previously described are not to be depended upon. One would be reasonably safe, however, if standing upon a chair or stool with perfectly dry wooden legs.

As wires of 2,000 volts or more are quite common in city streets, there are many chances for other wires to come in contact with them, and so receive a dangerous current. It is, therefore, unwise for an inexperienced person to touch any outdoor wire, however harmless it may appear.

Lines for transmitting power across country operate on voltage all the way up to 100,000. Precautions are taken with such wires, and special warnings are printed on the poles. Lines of 10,000 volts or over may be recognised by the fact that large clay or porcelain insulators are used in place of the glass ones generally seen.

Persons rendered unconscious by a shock may frequently be revived by inducing artificial respiration in the manner used for reviving persons apparently drowned, but, of course, without the attempt to expel water from the lungs.

Electricity in lighting for buildings is less dangerous than gas or oil. It cannot explode, it does not vitiate the air, and the chances of fire from improper installations is even less than any other form of artificial light in this day of engineering skill and careful attention to installations. Electricity as a fire bugaboo is no longer considered; and so far as personal danger is concerned, it is no more risky than a thousand other things used every day without a thought of accident or danger.

IMPERIAL AMBER IN THE LEAD

Average Yield of This Wheat Shows Best Results in Experiments With Autumn Sown Crops

GET GRAIN FREE OF CHARGE

Three hundred and seven farmers throughout Ontario conducted experiments with autumn sown crops during the past year. Reports have been received from twenty-six of the counties of the province. Those counties which furnished the greatest number of good reports of successfully conducted experiments were Bruce, Norfolk, Middlesex, Grey and Halton. The experimenters deserve much credit for the good work they have done for themselves and for the farmers generally. (Average results of the carefully conducted co-operative experiments with autumn sown crops are here presented in a very concise form.

Winter Wheat.—Three varieties of winter wheat were distributed last autumn to those farmers who wished to test some of the leading varieties on their own farms. The following are the averages in yield of straw and of grain per acre: Imperial Amber, 1.4 tons and 25.9 bus.; Abundance, 1.2 tons and 23.3 bus.; and No 5 Red, 1.2 tons and 22.2 bus.

Not only did the Imperial Amber give the greatest yield per acre in the co-operative experiments throughout Ontario in 1908 and in 1907, but it also came first in popularity with the experimenters in each of these years. The Imperial Amber will again be distributed throughout Ontario this autumn as one of the three varieties for co-operative experiments. The Dawson's Golden Chaff, which we distributed for co-operative experiments throughout Ontario in each of twelve years previous to the autumn of 1906, and which is probably grown more extensively in Ontario at the present time than all other varieties of winter wheat combined, has not been included in the co-operative tests since 1906.

Winter Rye—Of the two varieties of winter rye distributed in the autumn of 1907, the Mammoth White stood first in average yield of grain with 34 bushels, and the Common second with 28.6 bushels per acre. Last year the Mammoth White surpassed the Common rye by an average of 5 bushels per acre throughout Ontario.

Fertilizers with Winter Wheat—In the co-operative experiments with different manures applied in the spring of the year, the average yields of grain per acre for the past five years are as follows: Mixed Fertilizer, 27.0 bus.; Nitrate of Soda, 25.8 bus.; Muriate of Potash, 25.7 bus.; and Superphosphate, 25.3 bus. The unfertilized land gave an average of 22.4 bus. per acre. The Superphosphate was applied at the rate of 320 pounds and the Muriate of Potash and Nitrate of Soda each 160 pounds per acre. The Mixed fertilizer consisted of one-third the quantity of each of the other three fertilizers here mentioned. The usual cost of the fertilizers, as used in these experiments, is between four and five dollars per acre.

Fodder Crops—In each of five years, the seed of Hairy Vetches and of Winter Rye has been distributed throughout Ontario for co-operative experiments in testing these crops for fodder purposes. In the average of the five years' experiments, the Hairy Vetches produced slightly the largest yield of green fodder per acre, but in 1908 the largest yield was produced by the Winter Rye.

Distribution of Material

As long as the supply lasts, material will be distributed free of charge in the order in which the applications are received from Ontario farmers wishing to experiment and to report the results of any one of the following tests: 1, three varieties of Winter Wheat; 2, two varieties of Winter Rye; 3, five Fertilizers with Winter Wheat; 4, Autumn and Spring Applications of Nitrate of Soda and Common Salt with Winter Wheat; 5, Winter Emmer with Winter Wheat or Winter Barley; 6, Hairy Vetches and Winter Rye as Fodder Crops. The size of each plot is to be one rod wide by two rods long. Material for numbers 3 and 4 will be sent by express and that for the others by mail. Apply to C. A. Zavitz, O.A.C., Guelph.

Hon. Geo. P. Graham Assures The Trent Canal Completion

on the work as it must be completed to be of value.

It is generally conceded that canals are absolutely necessary to carry the wheat and other grain from the great Northwest. It is not necessary to impress the advantages of the canal on the Honourable Minister as he already recognizes its importance. We look upon this great waterway as a great national work and not merely as something advantageous to the people of Peterborough.

Mr. D W. Dumble

Mr. D W Dumble joined with the other speakers in extending a hearty welcome to Peterborough. If the humblest citizen of the land came to Peterborough and said a good word for the canal, he would be gladly received and therefore a Minister of the Government bringing promises of power was doubly welcome.

Mr. Dumble in a reminiscent mood told of being on the survey of the old Midland Railway in 1853 and the finding of stones which were said to have been dug from the Trent Canal. "That was before I was born" remarked the speaker, "and I am three score years and ten now. God knows when it will be finished."

There was, however, the speaker thought, some hope. The great West was bringing a pressure that could not be resisted. The map of Ontario was the best argument in favour of the canal. When one considered that two-thirds of the distance between the Georgian Bay and the Bay of Quinte was provided for by natural waterways, he could not help thinking that a people that would not complete the other one-third was a most peculiar people.

Mr. Dumble thought that after Hon. Mr. Graham had looked over the canal he would send back an answer that would be a paraphrase of Caesar's famous message, "I came, I saw, I WAS conquered."

He thought that the capacity of the canal would compare most favourably with the new Erie Canal, pointing out that a small tug could carry along a flotilla of barges on the lakes which constituted the greater part of the canal.

In closing, Mr. Dumble pointed out that the canal would be used from the first day of its completion, instancing the Quaker Oats Company which would use 600,000,000 bushels of grain.

Mr. W. H. Denham

Mr. W. H. Denham, superintendent of the Quaker Oats Company's factory, quoted from a pamphlet published some years ago giving reasons why the Trent Canal should be concluded as soon as possible. The development of our resources in the Midland district necessitated the immediate completion of the waterway. The waterway system of carrying freight was the most economical; the route was the shortest between the Great Lakes; it meant practically the extension of the Montreal Harbour through to Midland; the resources—lumber, minerals and grains—of the district through which the canal extended were of such a character that more waterway rates were needed; the Government at a small cost would be able to provide a means for carrying freight cheaply at a small cost; it would be the all-Canadian route from the Great Lakes to the seaboard; the Trent route will be the poor man's route as large vessels are not necessary to carry produce and 450 miles of the waterway are inland, thereby lessening the danger to freighters from storms.

The Quaker Oats Company's plant uses in 24 hours from 22 to 23 cars of grain. The daily output is about 1,800 bbls. of flour and the same number of rolled oats. At times for lack of freight equipment on the railways the grain or products could not be handled and the Company was forced to shut down for a time. This affects the citizens of Peterborough as well as the Company. The Quaker Oats Company was therefore very much interested in the completion of the canal at both ends.

Mr. R. R. Hall M P.

Mr. R R Hall, M.P., said that in common with the other citizens of Peterborough, he was glad to welcome the Hon. Mr. Graham and Mr. Butler, to Peterborough. He stated that Mr. Graham did not come as a gentleman who had to be persuaded as to the completion of the canal, for at the first session of the house he had had $750,000 placed in the estimates towards the work.

When the speaker had entered upon his duties as representative of the people of Peterborough, the canal was not considered a matter of national importance. He, Mr. Hall, had found that the people of other parts of Canada were not as enthusiastic; that they characterized the canal as a ditch and that it would not be of any service.

Mr. Hall stated that this fact had been realized and steps had been taken to remedy this state of affairs. The control of the waters had been transferred from the Ontario to Dominion Government, a change that had been of the greatest benefit. Before that time the waters had not been conserved and as a result navigators found that they had not enough water just at the season when it was most needed.

After the change, a vast improvement in this respect had been made, and therefore when the Kirkfield lift lock had been opened they had not been afraid to invite the press gallery to inspect the work. The large sums of money voted upon the canal had not met with one single adverse criticism throughout Canada. He thought that if Mr. Graham undertook to spend $2,000,000 on the canal during the next year he would be applauded throughout the Dominion as a broad-minded statesman.

Mr. T. E Bradburn

Mr. Bradburn extended a hearty welcome to his friend, Hon Mr. Graham. The Minister was in Peterborough to go over the canal route, and he felt that he, with Mr. Butler, the Deputy Minister, would obtain sufficient enthusiasm in their voyage to see to it that the canal was speedily completed.

Ald Geo. Elliott

As chairman of the Reception Committee of the City Council, as well as a citizen, Ald. Elliott had much pleasure in welcoming the Minister to Peterborough. He congratulated him on his recent appointment, and felt that Peterborough was honoured by his presence. He did not desire to say anything further on the necessity of the early completion of the Trent Canal, but he considered that the whole Midland district, regardless of politics, was a unit regarding the completion of the waterway.

The Minister of Railways and Canals

"It affords me great pleasure to be in Peterborough," said Hon. Mr. Graham, in commencing, "if only to have the satisfaction of visiting Mr. Hall, to pay him back for the visits he has paid me almost every half hour for the past six months."

Speaking of Peterborough, Mr. Graham stated that it was not his first visit here, and said that in going around the city he had been struck with the fact that Peterborough was blessed with a number of nice parks. The people of the city should, he thought, revere the memory of those who had assisted in giving those breathing spots.

"The city of Peterborough should be thankful for its position," said the speaker. "It has at its door as cheap power as can be found anywhere in North America, and any disadvantage that it may labour under in regard to transportation is offset by its power opportunities."

The Transportation Problem

"The transportation problem is the question for the solution of the Canadian people just now," continued the Minister. He went on to point out that what was necessary for the success of a nation was, first, a good country; secondly, a good class of people, and, thirdly, transportation.

"The great problem is to provide facilities by which products can get from the producers into the hands of the consumers in the least possible time, and in the best possible condition," remarked Mr. Graham.

"I have been called an optimist," he considered, "but I think one good live optimist is worthy forty-seven pessimists. We have spent millions on the transportation question, but I believe that in years to come we will have a bigger return therefrom than from any other source."

The Minister referred to the fact that although a billion had been spent in Canada on railways, yet the cry went up every year that there were not enough cars, that it was not possible to handle the products. The Grand Trunk Pacific would assist this year with seven hundred miles of road over which to haul western grain as far as Winnipeg. There were two lines from ocean to ocean, and the probability of a third, the Canadian Northern, but even then he did not believe there would be enough.

Over a Hundred Millions on Canals

The Dominion of Canada had spent $93,000,000 on canals since confederation, and altogether there had been spent in Canada in that department of transportation, $120,000,000. It was a large amount of money to expend, but Canada would have to spend still more money to the same end.

Six millions had been spent on the Trent Canal, four millions of that sum in the last twelve years.

"This year $1,000,000 is the appropriation for this work," announced the speaker, amid long-sustained applause.

"The work of connecting these lakes will never cease until it is completed. It would be absolute madness after expending over six millions to make it merely a local waterway. That cannot be thought of. I believe the scheme is all right, and so far as I am concerned, it will be pushed to completion."

The Paramount Problem

The transportation problem in Canada is the paramount one in connection with its welfare. The ideal condition of affairs exists only when money is made both ways. Empty cars and empty vessels, going back after being relieved of their burdens, was not the thing desired. When grain is brought east, there was a lack of package freight to go west. But this deficiency, was fast disappearing with the rapid increase in the population of Canada. The tonnage through the Canadian canals was advancing in leaps and bounds. During the past twenty years the tonnage through our canals had increased 623 per cent. It was also gratifying to know that during the year ending December 31 last the tonnage through Canadian canals was 100 per cent. higher than the year previous. These figures prove that waterways are very essential. They will be used as long as the season lasts. They insure cheap rates and a healthy regulation of freight rates the year round.

Should Know Canada Better

Hon. Mr. Graham had a fault to find with the young men of the Dominion of Canada. They know very little of their country. It is a vast land, and unless we keep going and studying all the time, we are apt to get behind. He ventured to say that not more than ninety-nine out of a hundred knew what the Peterborough lift lock was for. In Canada we have vast inland waterways—in fact, the greatest in the world—but we don't appreciate them, and do not use them the way we should. Years from now when the future young men grow into manhood, they will wonder at our negligence.

"If the young men of Canada would take a night off each week from their other arduous duties, and study our country and its vast resources, they would not think for a minute of leaving, for," said Mr. Graham, "you can't get a better under the sun. (Applause.)

Power Development

Another prominent problem of the country was the obtaining of water-power to keep going our industries. It is difficult for a government to know just what to do in this regard, as there is always the danger of interfering with the transportation facilities. The Government always wants to give power as cheaply as possible, but legal rights very often made it difficult.

Tourist Traffic

By opening the canal from the Bay of Quinte to the Great Lakes to the north there should develop an astonishing traffic by reason of the tourists. In the State of Maine last year the summer visitors left $16,000,000 behind them. The people of Maine got that money, and they got it from persons who had plenty of it.

"Maine," said Hon. Mr. Graham, "hasn't anything as pretty as you have on the route of the Trent Canal."

Concluding his address, the Minister said that the work on the Trent Canal was a matter of business. It was started, and the Government would see that it was completed, so far as he was concerned.

"The Government will not recede, and just as soon as possible it will complete the Trent Valley Canal," were his parting words.

His Itinerary

Hon. Mr. Graham spent Wednesday night in Peterborough, leaving in the morning for Hastings, where he began his voyage over the canal. While in Hastings he was waited upon by deputations from Campbellford, Hastings, Stirling, etc., regarding the completion of the canal. With the Deputy Minister, Mr. Butler, he left there on the steamer "Bessie Butler" and came by way of Gore's Landing to Peterborough. The various wharves, and the locks and bridges as far as the lift lock, were inspected, and about 6.30 o'clock the "Bessie Butler" had gone over the lift lock. The "Water Lily" came down as the "Bessie Butler" went up, thus giving the Minister an ample opportunity of seeing the working of the big lock.

Mr. Graham spent the night on board the steamer, which this morning at 6.30 left on her voyage for Fenelon Falls. To-morrow the party will sail through the Gamebridge, Balsam Lake and Lake Simcoe division of the canal to Orillia. To-morrow night Mr. Graham will leave again for Ottawa.

WOMEN WITH ECZEMA

Read This Cure by Zam-Buk

Why continue to suffer from eczema when nature has provided a certain cure? Zam-Buk is a combination of vegetable essences and juices so refined, so purified and yet so powerful that the diseased or injured skin absorbs it greedily and rebuilds from it new healthy tissue.

Miss Susan Peake, Edward street, Toronto, says:, "My arms and face broke out with eczema, which was both very painful, and very unsightly. I used various kinds of salves and ointments, but received no benefit until I began with Zam-Buk. The first application proved it different to other ointments used; it relieved the terrible itching, and also soothed the pain. In a very short time after commencing with Zam-Buk I was cured entirely of eczema, and my arms and face are now as smooth and clear from any pimples and sores as they ever were."

Zam-Buk also cures ulcers, abrasions, itch, insect stings, blood poisoning, scaling sores, and all skin diseases and injuries. For piles also it is fine! All druggists and stores at 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 3 boxes for $1.50.

TO HONOUR MEMORY OF MRS. NICHOLLS

Citizen Suggests Building a Cairn in One of the Parks She Founded

Editor Examiner.

The city of Peterborough has been particularly fortunate in receiving such legacies as the magnificent parks and public institutions from the estate of the late Mrs. Nicholls.

We, the citizens of this beautiful city, partake of the advantages of these gifts with rarely a thought to the donor. We enjoy them. We may appreciate them. But there seems to be no evidence of gratitude.

For some time I have felt that some line of action should be taken which would enable every citizen to participate in an expression of a grateful thought for Mrs. Nicholls. My idea is a very simple one, and would permit the humblest citizen, without exception, to take part.

I would suggest that a certain day—say Thanksgiving Day—be chosen, and every man, woman and child carry a stone to a suitable spot in either Nicholls Oval or Jackson Park, and there build a cairn. Possibly a suitable retaining wall of modest proportions should be first constructed and properly inscribed.

I trust, sir, that you will endeavour to secure the fullest discussion of this matter, that thereby some tangible result may follow.

Yours respectfully,
HERBERT B. COLLIER.

SOME HAPPENINGS AT THE POINT

Fishing is at its Best—Several Events and Doings

Examiner Special:

Jubilee Point, Aug. 20.—Last evening the weekly hop took place, campers gathering at Jubilee Point from different islands and points along the banks of the beautiful Otonabee, spending a very pleasant evening in dancing and singing. Professor John Butcher of Peterborough presided at the piano. The singing of a duet by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hellenis was very much appreciated. The well-known yacht "Tootsie" brought down a jolly crowd from the Anglers' cottage.

The repairs to the Hotel Gilman have been completed, under the supervision of Miller Bros.

Mrs. C. H. Hellenis landed two nice lunge this morning.

Mrs. (Dr.) Armstrong also brought in three lunge this morning.

Mrs. Lou Dobbin landed, alone, a nice 12-pounder last evening.

A jolly party is camped at Jubilee, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell and Miss Irene of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Yule, Miss Nellie and Master Grant of Colborne, and Mr. Thos. Mitchell, Cobourg.

A moonlight from Harwood and Gore's Landing comes to Jubilee on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Butcher, on their yacht "Wee-Wee," spent Wednesday and Thursday at the Hotel Gilman.

Miss Lizzie Hillier is holidaying with her sister, Miss Sadie, at the hotel.

Mr. Allen, of the "Tootsie," treated the guests of the hotel to a trip to the head of the lake to-day.

The "Tootsie" towed the houseboat, with a jolly party from Toronto and Peterborough, from the Point to Gore's Landing last night, their own tug breaking down, due to a defective ejector.

250 Peterboro People Visited Cobourg Show

The special train from here for Cobourg, under the auspices of the lawn bowlers, pulled out from the Grand Trunk station at 1 p.m. yesterday with about 250 aboard. About fifty more boarded the train at intervening points, Garden Hill furnishing about half of that quota. The train arrived at Cobourg in time for the third day of the Horse Show, which has attracted considerable attention throughout the Province. Cobourg, always beautiful, was at its best. From its varied attractions, it has become one of Canada's famous summer resorts. Among the transients, our Yankee cousins predominate. With their numerous automobiles and other equipments, supplemented by a plethora of cash, they contributed their share to the success of the show. The day was an ideal one, as were the grounds, and there was nothing wanting to make the show an unqualified success, which indeed, it was. The 48th Highlanders' Band of Toronto was present, resplendent in their Highland costumes, even though parts of it were scant, and, with their superb music, interspersed with the drones of the bagpipes, inspiring enough to "soften rocks, or bend the knotted oak," rounded of the tout ensemble. There were about three thousand people in attendance, composed largely of ladies, robed in their holiday attire of variegated colours, some with hats and some without hats. Well, I will not attempt to describe some of the wonderful creations. The most popular and exciting feature of the show was jumping the hurdles, which, alone, was worth going to see. Peterborough was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Achil Turner, who acquitted themselves creditably in their respective classes, that of driving single rigs.

Mrs. Smith, proprietress of the Columbian, who is deservedly popular, secured several prizes for her horses and her own driving, and honoured the event by giving a dance to her guests in the evening.

The special train left Cobourg on schedule time, but owing to a long wait at Port Hope, until the arrival of the late train from Peterborough, it did not reach this city until 11 o'clock.

Sunken Crib Of Oak Timber Said To Be Worth Thousands

Is Found Above the Shore of Lake Scugog—Was Sought For Many Years—Lindsay Men Locate It

FROM $15,000 TO $65,000

Lindsay, Aug. 21.—Some thirty or forty years ago great quantities of oak and elm timber were cut and squared in this district and floated to Quebec for shipment to England. When for any reason, such as low water, or a dispute as to price with the prospective buyer, it frequently happened that cribs were held over for several seasons, the result was loss by sinking.

For a number of years past there has been a tradition among old timber men in town that a fortune awaited the discoverers of a sunken crib of white oak timber said to have gone down in Goose Lake or in the bay near Pleasant Point, near Sturgeon Lake. Various parties have taken soundings of the lake bottom at these points, and no longer ago than last autumn it was reported that a Kingston man, who came here and employed a diver, had located the timber, but the talk died away into the "I told you so" order.

About three weeks ago Messrs. Bert McGrath, Dave Watson and W. Raymond of Water street, south ward, happened in the vicinity of Bruce's Landing, Lake Scugog, about thirteen miles south of the town. Their business there was the raising of sunken sawlogs belonging to local lumbermen, varied with fishing when the weather was favourable. On the morning in question their punt was blown in close to the shore and the fishing line fouled on a snag where no obstruction of the kind was looked for, owing to the nature of the bottom. Having a pikepole and a peavee in the boat, McGrath's curiosity led him to lift the end of the log in order to free the bait. What! Surely not!! Eureka!!! the hooks were fast in a white oak log. On prodding into the mud in the vicinity the pikepole disclosed the presence of other logs, and it was at once surmised that the long-lost crib of white oak had been located.

The discoverers at once took into their confidence Mr. I. E. Weldon, who visited the spot in a tug, satisfied himself as to the bona fides of the case, and then proceeded to back the discoverers in the matter of preliminary expenses. Half a dozen men were sent to the scene, along with one of Rustard's stump-pullers, and it is reported that the work of salving the huge sticks of timber is proceeding apace. The value of the "find" is estimated all the way from $15,000 to $65,000.

The Baldwin-Aboud Assault Case In County Police Court

Before Magistrate Edmison—Knife and Club Figure in Evidence

CHARM STOPS THE BLOOD

Evidence in the assault case in which Jas. Baldwin, of Cavendish, and Abraham Aboud, an Assyrian peddler, from Norwood, are concerned, was received this morning by County Magistrate Edmison, until 12.30 o'clock when the case was adjourned until two o'clock. Baldwin is accused of assault and the theft of money from Aboud and the Assyrian has a charge against him of attempted assault with a knife.

The two charges against Baldwin and the one against Aboud were considered all together. Mr. R. F. McWilliams for the former and Mr. D. O'Connell for the latter, pleaded 'not guilty,' and elected to be tried summarily.

Dr. Frazer, of Lakefield, testified that he made an examination of the injuries received by Abraham Aboud in the affair. He had sustained two nasty cuts in the head and had been bleeding considerably. His clothes were blood-stained and he looked pale and faint when the doctor visited him. The cuts were made behind and on the top of the head presumably by a club and not by any sharp instrument. Considerable force would be necessary to inflict such wounds. Aboud had also been bruised on the wrist, which was somewhat swollen, as if he had been trying to ward off blows.

Baldwin's Story

Mr. Hugh Cochrane, of Cavendish, knew both Baldwin and Aboud. The former is a labourer there. He saw Aboud on the occasion of the alleged assault at his home about 1 o'clock and at that time he was all right. He left towards the south. The witness also saw Baldwin the same day between 5 and 6 o'clock. The latter stated he had gotten into some trouble with the Assyrian who had drawn a knife on him. He, Baldwin, then took a club to defend himself. The dispute arose about a dollar he owed the Assyrian. Aboud asked Baldwin to pay him the dollar, but the latter told him he hadn't it and with that the Assyrian said he would not owe another man a dollar and drew the knife.

To Mr. O'Connell the witness said that Baldwin resided about a mile north of this (Cochrane's) house and that the trouble between the two men occurred about a quarter of a mile below his residence. Baldwin was picking berries. The witness that afternoon was working on his property down the road about half a mile, arriving there about 2 o'clock. He did not see either of the men on his way, but observed some marks on the road, presumably where the two had met. He spent a couple of hours at the ranch.

To Mr. Wood the witness said he gave Baldwin $3 the following day. Baldwin wanted it to secure a lawyer to defend himself.

William Smith

Wm. Smith was next called.

"I'm Wm. Smith," he replied, "but I did not receive any papers."

"If you're Wm. Smith you're bound to take the witness box," the magistrate ordered.

He saw Aboud at Westlake's and found him in pretty bad shape. He then went to his mother's house (Mrs. Baldwin's), to see what the trouble was about. Baldwin was there and he asked about Aboud. Baldwin told him the same story as he had related to Cochrane, except that Aboud said he would call around in a month's time for the dollar.

Mrs. Jno. Westlake

Mrs. Westlake saw the Assyrian first in front of her residence, as he lay on the grass. He told her that he had been beaten and robbed of his money by Jim Baldwin.

"Are you sure it was Jim Baldwin?" she asked, and Aboud answered "Yes, I was talking to him. I asked him to stop beating me and take my boxes. He said, "I don't want your boxes, I want your money."

Charm Successful

Mrs. Westlake also stated that she had tried a blood-charm to stop the flow of blood from Aboud's head, and that it had proved successful.

"This woman has been here before your Worship, and you know as well as I do how much her evidence is worth," said Mr. McWilliams.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. McWilliams, I always tell the truth," retorted Mrs. Westlake.

"I object to Mr. McWilliams insulting me, and I don't wish to be brought here and to be insulted by him," interjected Mrs. Westlake.

Mr. McWilliams' objection was overruled, but Mrs. Westlake didn't care to tell anything about Baldwin's character or occupation.

This concluded her evidence and the case was adjourned until 2 o'clock.

STRIKE-BREAKER ROUGHLY HANDLED IN HAVELOCK

Refused to Join Mechanics' Ranks—No Break There Yet

The ultimatum issued by the C.P.R. on Saturday, which was taken to mean that if striking mechanics did not apply for re-engagement by 12 o'clock on Tuesday they would lose their seniority standing, had no effect among the strikers here, nor, in fact, at any point on the system.

They declare that not one of the old men have applied to be taken back. Many of the strikers predict an early settlement, claiming that the company cannot put up with present conditions much longer. A number of the strike-breakers who were employed here have joined the ranks of the mechanics, and it is said that one who refused to do so was roughly handled the other evening.—Havelock Standard.

THE ROD AND GUN FOR SEPTEMBER

Duck Shooting Dealt With—Some Splendid Short Stories

Duck shooting has a mighty fascination in September and Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada, published by W J Taylor, Woodstock, Ontario, deals in a generous manner with the duck hunter in its September issue. Eastern, Central and Western Canada contributes duck hunting stories, and the differences in the conditions under which the sport is pursued in various parts of the country are well brought out. Every duck hunter will sympathize with the work of the Brandon people in making a collection of the native wild fowl and trust their example will be followed in various parts of the Dominion. Fishing and big game hunting expeditions and accounts of the adventures of a chipmunk in "Helping to Make a Railway," and the story of "The Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron" are articles to which particular attention may be directed. The story of "The Alpine Club's Third Annual Camp" is told in an article by a special representative and care is taken that those interested in outdoor life in any of its phases are not neglected. There is plenty of variety scattered through the pages of an excellent number, not only in the Departments, but also in the numerous articles and stories making up the issue.

COW RUNNING AT LARGE CAUSE OF AMUSING COURT CASE TO-DAY

A cow that had been allowed to run at large was the cause of the appearance at the police court this morning of two East City ladies with Irish accents and tempers not of the best, with the result that the court room frequenters, including the magistrate, were much edified, not to say amused.

One lady owned the cow, and the other was a witness, and it was evident from the beginning that there was no love lost between the two. The lady who was the witness, testified that the cow had been at large three times last week and that it had been allowed to pasture right at her front door.

His Worship threw out a suggestion that it might do in place of a lawn mower, but it was not received in the spirit in which it was offered.

The owner of the wandering bovril in its raw state, was called upon to give her side of the case. "I never told a lie in my life, Mr. Dumble," she remarked when asked to take the oath.

"We never had any trouble until she moved onto the commons," was the neat little tribute she paid her neighbour. "She's afraid of the flies off the cow, and envies me because I own it."

She admitted that the cow might have slipped its rope off the stake and on that understanding the magistrate fined her $2, which she paid promptly.

"We'll see if we have to be chased down the sidewalk by drunken men," she remarked as she left the court. Whatever was the point of the allusion, the neighbour evidently understood it.

THINK THAT IT WOULD DO NO GOOD

London Dealers See No Benefit in Removal of Embargo.

IT WOULD INJURE SCOTCH

Big English Cattle Firms Also Declare That It Would Not Result In Any Appreciable Increase In Number of Store Cattle—Canadian Exporters Makes as Much at the Present Time.

London, Aug. 21.—The opinion of prominent dealers in Canadian meats at the central market, Smithfield, differ somewhat as to the advantages to be reaped by them through the removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle, but all agree that the Scotch and English farmer would be benefited by the removal of restrictions.

Among several interviewed were Gartons, who handle largely colonial meat; they doubted if the dealer would derive any benefit, but the removal would allow more meat being supplied. Canadian store cattle were far ahead of Irish, as they fattened and made better meat.

Canadian exporters of live cattle were at present making quite as much if not more than they would be shipping store cattle.

Duckworth & Son, while allowing that the free importation of Canadian stores would benefit trade in many ways, yet as it is not the quantity they deal in but quality; and if the restriction were removed Canadian cattle could be sent to Scotland, and there fed up and sent to London as Scotch meat which would hurt the Scotch trade, as the Scotch is considered the best sent to London.

The Cooper Co. are satisfied that the Scotch farmer would benefit by the removal of the embargo, but not the meat dealer. It was a very large question, and an exceedingly difficult one on which to express an opinion, but if the removal of the restriction cheapened meat he was then in favor, as at present meat is too dear.

Madman Attacks Mayor.

New York, Aug. 21.—Attacked by an insane man armed with a knife in his office yesterday, Mayor Stoil of Hoboken had a narrow escape from death and was saved by the arrival of his bodyguard, a detective, at a critical moment.

Wm. Carmedy, who was released from an insane asylum a few days ago, entered the office when the mayor was alone and brandishing a knief, demanded pay for his time spent in the asylum.

Tailors to Strike.

New York, Aug. 21.—Thirty thousand members of the United States Brotherhood of Tailors have been ordered on strike. They want 20 per cent. increase in wages.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The Athletics of St. Catharines have challenged New Westminster Lacrosse Club for the Minto Cup.

G. A. Nicholson, a delegate to the Oddfellows' convention, was struck by a street car at Montreal.

Howard McPhee, son of the Indian agent, was drowned at the junction of the Severn and Black rivers. He was 22 years of age.

In response to an advertisement for three vacant positions on the teaching staff the Merriton Public School Board received 57 applications.

Miss Peck Safe.

Lima, Peru, Aug. 21.—After suffering terrible hardships Miss Annie S. Peck of Providence, R. I., the mountain climber, returned from her trip up Mount Huascaran Wednesday.

No word had been received from her since Friday afternoon, when she signalled her arrival at an altitude of 25,000 feet.

Miss Peck was accompanied by two Alpine climbers and it was because of the sickness of one of these men that the party was prevented from reaching the summit of the peak.

CORDIALITY REIGNS.

Sydney, N. S. W., Gives American Fleet Splendid Reception.

Sydney, Aug. 21.—Rear-Admiral Sperry, commander of the United States fleet, in an interview yesterday on the arrival of the vessels of his command, said:

"The enthusiasm of the welcome accorded us is almost beyond belief, and it seems evident that such a demonstration of kindly feelings must have more back of it than mere curiosity and excitement. It is pleasing to me to think that this indicates a real and heartfelt sympathy between the two English-speaking nations which are united not only by the ties of blood, but by great commercial interests in the Pacific and elsewhere."

The reception was for a time threatened with a hitch. The imperial regulations forbid the landing of armed men in Australia. This fact was communicated to Admiral Sperry, who, in reply, informed the Government that he would not allow his men to participate in the processions and reviews unless they came ashore armed.

It was finally announced that the Government had granted permission for the American sailors and marines to land armed, but without ammunition.

DOUBLE INSANITY PLEA.

Hains Brothers Both Plead Paranoia —First Time In History of U.S.

New York, Aug. 21.—District Attorney Darrin of Queen's County, who has charge of the prosecution of the Hains brothers in connection with the killing of William E. Annis, announced yesterday that Queen's County would not tolerate a great expenditure of money in trying the case.

"The trial of the Hains brothers will not be a repetition of the Harry Thaw case," he said. "To begin with, I do not think the Queen's County jury will stand for a brainstorm defence. I expect that my application to Governor Hughes, asking for a special grand jury, will be granted, and that the governor will name a judge to preside, who will see that the Hains brothers have a fair and impartial trial, but at the same time with no unnecessary delays."

Both will go on trial for their lives, under the dual plea of insanity — a defence unprecedented in the history of American crime.

Eight Children Burned.

Colfax, Wash., Aug. 21.—Six children are dead and two others are burned so seriously that recovery is doubtful at the H. W. Schultz ranch, resulting from a fire that destroyed their home Wednesday night.

Four of the dead were children of Schultz. The other two were children of W. W. Fox, a brother-in-law. The men were away harvesting and the mothers were attending a theatrical performance.

The two eldest Schultz girls attempted to rescue the children; but lost the way to the door and were forced to drop the babies to make their own escape.

Missionary Conference.

New York, Aug. 21.—A foreign missionary conference, composed of missionaries and missionary workers from all parts of the world, will be held in Edinburgh, Scotland, in June, 1910.

President Roosevelt, in his letter of endorsement, says in part: "It seems to me that this effort to bring together missionaries from all parts of the world and from every body of Christians represents a movement of deep importance and singular impressiveness."

Canada Prejudiced, Says Post.

London, Aug. 21.—(C. A. P.)—The Morning Post is publishing a letter pointing out a hard case under the immigration law and refers to an impression abroad that Canada is prejudiced against English immigrants. It hopes the Dominion will soon be welcoming an unlimited number thereof.

Vancouver, Aug. 21.—At Second Beach yesterday, Miss Elva Selman, 23 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Selman, 536 Nelson street, was drowned. The young woman was at the bay with her mother and a party of friends at a picnic. They witnessed the drowning.

Escaped Cattle Thief Captured.

Strikers Frustrate Extremist Plot to Dynamite Shops.

"FORCE" GROUP RESTLESS

Scheme to Blow Up C. P. R. Property Is Discovered by Machinists and Pickets Headed It Off — Three Trains Are Ditched—Inspection at Cranbrook Inadequate— Mr. Leonard on Tour.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—The first sensational development since the strike of mechanics on the C. P. R. commenced was revealed to the public yesterday afternoon, when it became known that a plot had actually been formulated to either dynamite or burn the company's shops here. It was hatched by the Anarchistic colony of sympathizers in North Winnipeg, who had planned to pull off their coup last Sunday night. The strikers heard of it, and immediately took steps to frustrate it, and were successful. The company has doubled its police patrols since that time.

J. H. McVety yesterday morning admitted that he had heard of contemplated attack on the company's property, and said that the executive had stopped it. Strong pickets went out to guard the yards, and to prevent anything happening. The pickets saw small groups of foreigners, but no action was taken.

From members of the strikers' executive it was learned that great fears are entertained that "force" element in the north end of the city, principally composed of foreigners who have no real connection with strikers, may get out of hand any night.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—The C. P. R. put ten more men to work in the shops yesterday, making a total of twenty.

An extra westbound freight was ditched six miles west of St. Mary's Wednesday afternoon and five box cars were demoralized. This makes three trains lying in the ditch in this district. The cause of the accident is said to have been a broken wheel.

It is reported that engineers running out of Cranbrook have orders from Calgary to run through without inspection.

Local strikers say the cars are being taken out in bad condition.

One carman was working in the yard yesterday, the first since the strike began. The engineers book repairs as frequently as usual, but the statement is made that no record of the repairs made is kept, so that it is not known whether the repairs are done or not.

Kingston, Aug. 21.—An official of the C. P. R. named Mendel arrived Wednesday from the head office in Montreal, and opened an employment bureau here, to secure men to take the place of the striking mechanics.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—An emphatic denial is given by the management of the C. P. R. to the report that an ultimatum had been issued to their striking mechanics, to the effect that if they did not return to work by noon yesterday they would never be permitted to re-enter the employ of the company under any circumstances.

The company state that they are not only willing but anxious to recognize any of their old men. Eighty men were engaged here yesterday, two of them being old hands.

The company has a list of 38 employment agencies which are offering men both in the United States and Canada, but none from the other side of the line are being accepted.

Toronto, Aug. 21.—J. W. Leonard, manager of the C. P. R., was in the city yesterday and inspected the shops and round-house. He went north this morning. Mr. Leonard would make no statement, but it is said that he is to make a complete inspection of the road and upon his report will rest whether the company makes overtures for a compromise or continues the fight indefinitely.

Rice Lewis Co. Burned Out.

Toronto, Aug. 21.—Fire yesterday morning caused a loss of about $125,000 to the five-storey building and stock of the Rice, Lewis & Son, Ltd., hardware and iron merchants, King and Victoria streets.

P. C. Roberts noticed smoke pouring from the upper windows and turned in an alarm, which was followed by a general alarm.

The blaze originated near the elevator shaft on the ground floor, and spread up the shaft to the top storey, where paints and oils were stored, and which was burned out, the roof being taken off.

This Man Seeks Asylum.

Brockville, Aug. 21.—Max K. Phillon, a married man with a family, who came here from Montreal, applied at the local asylum to be admitted as a patient.

While he talked rationally, Phillon said he knew himself he was not mentally right, and unless placed under surveillance might cause personal injury to some one.

He was sent back up town to consult with physicians and after an examination by two doctors the necessary papers were made out.

Duelists Fatally Shot.

Robinsonville, Miss., Aug. 21.—H. B. Suber and J. H. Gilmore, rival merchants, fought a duel with pistols in front of the former's store Wednesday night. Suber was shot in the breast. His pistol failed to explode, but he retreated to his store and seizing a shotgun emptied the contents into Gilmore's back as the latter was leaving the scene.

A Serious Affair.

Brockville, Aug. 21.—In connection with the disappearance of Mabel Charlton, a 13-year-old girl, the police here yesterday took into custody Joseph Belfoy and Garfield Kligh, the latter a married man, while they are looking for a third, Fred Hackett.

All will be charged with a serious offence against the moral code.

Peterboro Rink Out Of Running; Lost In Walker Cup Semi-Finals; Skip Kerr Reaches Seventh Round

The Peterborough quartette, skipped by Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald, which reached the semi-finals for the Walker Cup at the Dominion Bowling tournament, were defeated yesterday by Skip McNee's London rink by 29 to 9, and are now out of the running. However, the rink has done nobly. To reach the last four our of eighty-four rinks is a notable achievement, and the members of the rink are to be congratulated upon their success.

Skip Kerr's rink is still in the running for the Toronto Cup, defeating H. G. Davis of Dundas in the fifth round by 13 to 12, and Dr Hawke of the Granites in the sixth round by 11-7.

Messrs. Kerr and Waddell of Peterborough were defeated by Hurst and McLean of the Canadas in the doubles by 17-10, but Messrs. Fitzgerald and Marshall beat Russell and Russell of St. Matthew's in the same round by 14-13.

Peterborough Cricket Club Lost By An Innings And 216 Runs Yesterday

The Peterborough C. C. journeyed to Toronto yesterday to play a return match with the Toronto C. C., and were taken into camp in more ways than one. The match was played on the Varsity grounds. They were treated most hospitably, and speak highly of the courtesy and kindness with which they were received. The scoring was decidedly one-sided, but this was not altogether unexpected. A victory would undoubtedly have been appreciated by the team, but, though this was not to be, there was an amount of experience received which will prove of value to the members in days to come. Marshall played capitally for the home team, making 28 in the first innings, and 14 not out in the second. Duggan also played very well, making 21 in good style. The score sheet tells the tale regarding the unfortunate fate that befel the others. Following is the score:

Wellington and Bloomfield Tied; Dubby Shea Makes A Home Run

There were "doings" down in Wellington yesterday when the home team and Bloomfield clashed in a game that was to have decided the championship of the Canning League. The teams had a sensational game, battling until dark to a tie at 6 runs each. Bloomfield had the entire Toronto Park Nine on the line up, including Fred Hickey, now of the Toronto Eastern League team, who pitched for the visitors. Joe Hickey, Jimmy O'Hearne, Benson, Ross and the rest of the Park Nines were all there.

On the Wellington team were Bill Hawkins, Conney Burns, Fred Anderson, Dave Lawson and Jerry Edmunds, of the Peterboroughs and Dubby Shea of the Athletics. Hawkins pitched against Hickey and gave a wonderful exhibition in the box, Bloomfield being able to do very little with him.

Dubby Shea distinguished himself by making a clean home run off Hickey with two on the bases, and Fred Anderson had a three bagger with one sack occupied.

The game will be played over again next Thursday.

Manager Of Yankee Rogers Here Arranging For The Big Match

Mr. W. B. Naylor of Montreal, the manager of Yankee Rogers, the famous wrestler, is in the city to-day making arrangements for the big wrestling match between Rogers and Fritz Mohl, the German champion, to be held in Brock street rink a week from to-night. Mr. Naylor says the match will be one of the best ever pulled off in Canada, and that sport lovers here will be given the exhibition of their lives. "Yankee is in grand shape," remarked Mr. Naylor to the Examiner to-day. "He has won fourteen victories since July 1, and is ready for the struggle of his life." He will need to be for a at Friday, however, as Mohl, who weighs 245 pounds, is always in condition. He never uses tobacco or liquor, and is ready for a match at short notice. It will be a grand match from start to finish, and, while I, of course, expect Rogers to win, from what I have seen of the two men in previous matches, he will have his work cut out for him."

Mr. Naylor is accompanied here by his wife and little son, and will remain until after the match. He intends to spend the week in fishing, having heard much of the opportunities offered the angler in the lakes and rivers of this district.

BOWLERS WIN GAME IN COBOURG

Finish Up With Seven Points to the Good —Have Splendid Time

The Peterborough Bowling Club's excursion to Cobourg yesterday was a success in every particular. The bowlers won their game in handy fashion, being up in two rinks, even in a third and down in the fourth. Their margin was 7 points. They also saw the horse show and pronounce it one of the best possible. The rinks and scores were:—

WAS PETERBORO AFRAID OF DEFEAT?

Wisdom of Lindsay Free Press Sporting Editor Surpasses Even That of Solomon

The following philosophy appears in the Lindsay Free Press, which appears to be on the inside track in all sporting circles:—

The tie between Lindsay and Peterborough will not likely be played, and so far as is known the Trent Valley Lacrosse Club has passed into oblivion. Captain McVittie called up Mr. Ray Best of the Peterborough team and tried to arrange a game for to-day, but Best replied that the Peterborough team would not come to Lindsay. He gave as a reason that his team were afraid Lindsay would not play a return.

If the Lindsay boys brought Peterborough here they would go down to the Quaker City and face the music again, but what Peterborough fears most is defeat.

WEST ENDS HAD THEIR CHANCE

Straths Have Hung Up Willow and Mitts for Season and Will Not Play

To the Sporting Editor of the Examiner.

The West Ends issued a challenge in last evening's issue of the Examiner, for an exhibition game with the Strathconas. Now, it appears to us that the West End team went down and out a couple of months ago, and they have got together again and are anxious to again meet the champions. But they are just a little bit too late as the Straths have hung up the wooden stick for the season and have decided to play no more games until the City League opens next season, and then they will endeavour to pile up perhaps a more substantial score than this year, which was, Straths 13, West Ends 3. Now, if the West Ends insist on a game, we will play them for a sum of money, ranging from $10 to $50, which we could make good use of this winter to bear expenses of hockey material.

The West Ends had their chance to defeat the Straths and why did they not do it then.

THE STRATHCONA CLUB.

Damage Was Small and Fire Was Quickly Extinguished

The fire brigade was given a run to East City this afternoon when fire broke out in the stable and hen house on the property of Mr. Wm. Collins, where the house is tenanted by Mrs. P. Lavery. TROUBLE WITH TANKS AT CEMENT FACTORY

On Saturday afternoon two slurry tanks at the Cement Works burst out and flooded the ground on the west side of the works and part of the railway track. The tanks are built of concrete, and the pressure must have been tremendous, as large pieces of the cement walls were hurled clear across the tracks, nearly two hundred feet distant. The slurry and large pieces of concrete were piled on the track to such a depth that the afternoon train had to go through the lumberyards to get to Peterborough.—Lakefield News.

Speaking at the Pan-Anglican Congress, in London, a few days ago, the Rev. Lord William Cecil said that Christianity could never wear in Japan its western garb. There was no necessity to destroy the beautiful externals of Japanese religion. The Rev. W. G. Walshe, formerly C. M. S. missionary at Shanghai, China, said the Christian Missionary had much to learn from the Chinese, even in the region of morals.

Walter Ballarad

ORIGIN OF CURRENT PHRASES

The phrase originally was and still is in some cases "Run for Sweeny." It arose because a certain bookmaker on the western tracks would only take bets on horses he felt sure would lose. When a horse came in last the rail birds would say: "There is another running for Sweeny." Since then everything that goes badly "Goes for Sweeny."

"23"

This phrase is by common consent also ascribed as being of race-track origin. It was the custom on some tracks not to allow more than twenty-two horses to start in any race. The twenty-third one was sent back. Other origins are also given. The most interesting of these, though doubtless apocryphal, is that the number of J. P. Morgan's office and August Belmont's likewise is 23. A detective is stationed at the portals of each to keep out undesirables.

"Lemon"

In 1882 St. Nicholas published a picture of a little girl saying "Oh it's an orange!" Her little face is lit with joy. A companion picture shows her biting into the fruit with a pained expression, and the caption is "No, it's a lemon!" This will be news to the dear old ladies who edit St. Nicholas. But let 'em look.

"The Big Stick"

President Roosevelt, who made many phrases while he was making enemies and history, used it in a speech concerning the needs of a greater navy. "Let us tread softly, but carry a big stick."

"Beat It"

Tuscan' slang, meaning "Hit the Road" has many equivalents, such as "Blow!" "Sneeze!" and "Fade!" of the same origin. Applied to a panhandler or street beggar, it invariably will make him hurry away.

THE BERTILLON SYSTEM USED FOR THE BANK EMPLOYEES IN CITY OF PITTSBURG

Unique Sequel to the Smoky City's Record—Breaking A Chain of Robberies—A System Heretofore Used Only in Police Circles

TAKE FINE MEASUREMENTS

Nowhere else in the world, other than in Pittsburg, so far as known, has the decree gone out that bank employees must submit to the photographs and measurements of the Bertillon system. Yet this comes as the sequel to the most amazing series of bank lootings that mankind has ever known, perhaps.

Within the last three years it is estimated that something like $7,500,000 has been stolen by dishonest bank employees in that city. This is at once an unenviable and an unique reputation. In fact, it has seemed, of late, a dull year in Pittsburg, when a few millions do not find themselves equipped with wings that make the Wright brothers look like crawlers, and Delagrange and Farman resemble Icarus after the wax melted.

Ali Baba and his forty thieves were mere tyros in comparison with some of Pittsburg's recent financiers, and the post-graduates of Pittsburg's schools of embezzlement could earn fortunes giving correspondence courses in grand larceny to past masters with the skill of Raffles.

The banks have concluded that the best course before them—while not wishing to cast suspicion upon any one—is to photograph every one of their employees and take their measurements by the Bertillon system, so that when a next defalcation may occur, the police authorities all over the world will have the latest embezzler marked down as minutely as though he were the most elusive Max Shlenburg who ever alternated between safe-cracking and jail service.

"Easy come, easy go," might be the motto of Pittsburg, that city of the Vulcans which, having made this the age of steel for the rest of the world has transformed it into the age of gold for itself.

The wealth of the great iron interests is flung largely into the banks of Pittsburg; tribute is taken from coal and oil, from traffic east and west, from the state and the city themselves as rich depositors, and from the people individually, who constitute one of the leading municipalities in the United States.

The term "Pittsburg millionaire" has already replaced, even in the most distant capitals of Europe, the earlier pseudonym for lavish American riches, the "New York Millionaire"; and that later incarnation of Midas, the "Chicago millionaire," turning up in Berlin to pluck a grace for his daughter, would be asked to wait until his highness had considered the steel stocks and the railway bonds of the Croesus from Pittsburg.

And the inevitable divorce would come booming along with a good deal more excitement and expedition than used to be regarded as really good form.

"Easy come, easy go," the rest of the world has come to see stamped on all of Pittsburg's gold pieces; and from the pleasant complacency with which the flight of the millions appears to be viewed there, Pittsburg itself hasn't worried so very much over its losses.

The proposal to utilize the Bertillon system on all bank and trust company employees is a startling form of precaution, and doubtless is unnecessary, so far as can be judged, for application to the present force of bank employees in that city. But it is the sign that Pittsburg is wakening to the necessity of adequate safeguards as it is, also, the first safeguard of any adequacy that has been proposed.

Something like that was needed—as much for the bank cashier as for the clerks, if the records of the past few years in Pittsburg's finance are to count for anything.

The 2,500 bank clerks in Pittsburg have held various indignation meetings, large and small. But the banks are still insistently pursuing their arrangements, and one large institution has made it a rule that every employee shall make monthly affidavit as to all his actions and as to his positive knowledge that no other employee has, during the month, committed any act that may be in the least suspicious.

If there was one bank officer who

WITH A SURVEY PARTY IN THE CANADIAN NORTHWEST

P. M. Dela Fosse.

The freighters were always in deadly fear of depredations by the Indians. They took all sorts of precautions to safeguard their property from their onslaughts, but even their wariness and long experience of the plains was not proof against the cunning of the redskins. About three weeks before my arrival at the Forks, a party of freighters had been rendered absolutely helpless by the theft of every one of their ponies. They had tethered every one of them at night, had placed a guard over them, and yet in the morning not a vestige of an animal was to be seen. They had disappeared as effectually as though they had been swallowed up in an earthquake. The marauders were discovered by the efforts of the police, and turned out to be Salteaux and Piegans from across the border.

The Forks Ferry

I had an opportunity during my stay at the Forks of witnessing the way in which outfits were transferred from one side of the river to the other. At that particular spot the Saskatchewan must be about four hundred yards wide, and the current, owing to its junction with the Red Deer, a few hundred yards above the ferry is exceptionally powerful. It was quite a business getting thirty or forty carts across. The ferry was a small one, and was only capable of carrying one small cart and its load across at a time. There was no wire across the river, and the whole load had to be shoved upstream about a quarter of a mile, and moved with sweeps to the opposite side. No regatta man ever rode more fiercely to victory than those ferrymen did, to prevent being carried past the landing. It was nip and tuck all the way. They managed it, however, long experience having enabled them to become experts with the clumsy sweeps. The horses were left till the last and swum over in a body, and it was one of the finest things out to see the animals all bunched up together, struggling in the water to gain the opposite shore. Maxime Lavallee, the owner of the ferry, used to make a pretty penny at the business, charging one dollar a load. He told me that some times he made $40 a day. In those days he was a harmless, inoffensive fellow, running a good concern and minding his own business. The changed conditions, caused by the incursions of the railways, must have soured the gentle man, for when last heard of a few years ago he was a fugitive from justice, and had, on one occasion, at least, held the officers of the law at bay with his trusty gun.

From the Forks to the Camp

Gill arrived two days after myself at the Forks, and explained that his belated appearance was due to the fact that he had been fishing along the river and having pow-wows amongst the Crees. He was the last man whom I would have wished for as a companion. We meet people once or twice in this work-a-day world for whom, for some inexplicable reason, we conceive a hearty antipathy. This was my unfortunate experience in regard to Gill. To do him justice the aversion was returned with interest and he never lost a chance of making things hard for me. We had had two fights already during our short stay in the country, and Gill's opening statement that he intended to let Jones wait till he had had his fling at the Forks, and that I might take a round trip to Gehenna or, do as I plutonically pleased, was largely instrumental in bringing on another. The result of our little combat was that Gill, who was deputy chief, compromised the matter by agreeing to return next day.

Encounter With the Indian

We started at the unconscionable hour of 2 a.m. Gill stated that by doing so we would be able to reach camp about sunset on the second day. He had taken extra precautions I noticed, to grease the wheels, prior to our departure. Our road, for the most part, lay along the banks of the Red Deer. It was a beautifully hard trail and the country was a little more inclined to be broken than on the other side of the Saskatchewan. We had travelled, perhaps, three miles from the Forks when there was a sound of scurrying hoofs behind us and a magnificent specimen of a Cree robed in the inevitable blanket, and carrying a rifle, dashed past my cart and jumping from his pony grabbed hold of Gill's and threw it almost back on its haunches. His eyes were blazing. Like a flash he had jumped on the cart and grabbed Gill by the throat and in a moment the two were struggling fiercely, Gill to maintain his vantage ground in the vehicle and the Indian to turn him out of it.

The suddenness of the whole affair had, in a way, dazed my faculties, but when I saw the two engaged in their fierce struggle, it seemed about time to take a little part in it myself. I ran and caught the Indian by the leg and pulled him to the ground. Gill jumped after him, and between us we soon had the hostile redman in subjection. His blanket had fallen off in the struggle, and there was not much to hang on to in the matter of clothing, but Gill pinned his arms with his knees and held his head down by his hair, whilst I pinned his legs effectually by sitting on them. The whole thing had quite a dash of romance about it, and would have made an interesting picture for the camera. We held the Indian in this position whilst he and Gill jabbered away at each other in Cree. Finally, there was an amicable readjustment of the difficulty and we let the Indian loose. What those differences were it is not for me to say, but when we left the Indian we left also a side of pork and a bag of flour, for which Gill said he would account when we reached camp.

DIED QUARANTINED WITH LEPER WIFE

Gen. Wardell Succumbs to Strain Attendant Upon Wife's Loathsome Illness

Tombstone, Ariz., Aug. 21.—(Special)—General G D K Wardwell died Saturday afternoon while in quarantine with his leper wife. Her sufferings from the combined effects of leprosy and the nervous strain following the notoriety of their case has destroyed her reason and she is totally unaware that her husband is dead.

General Wardwell was a veteran of the Mexican and civil wars. Efforts to deport Mrs. Wardwell to the leper colony have brought out many complications, the federal authorities refusing aid and the territorial officials being unable to act under the present law. It is probable that she will remain isolated here and be cared for until death.

MORTAL REMAINS OF LA VERANDRYE

Last Resting Place of a Pioneer French Explorer Discovered—What La Verandrye Did

It is certainly a coincidence of the highest interest that at the very time the busy world was celebrating the memory of Champlain with pomp and splendour at Quebec, a little band of devoted scholars were seeking, and finding, a most interesting memorial of Verandrye, who, as an explorer of Canada's territory, was the greatest of Champlain's successors, and a man like himself in simplicity, in fortitude, and in regard for fact. We are all well apprised of Champlain's part in the founding of Quebec; perhaps few of us remember that it was Pierre Gauthier, Sieur de la Verandrye, who laid the foundations of Winnipeg, of Portage la Prairie, of Fort Frances, Fort Rouge, at Winnipeg; Fort St. Peter, at Fort Frances; Fort de la Reine, at Portage la Prairie; Fort Dauphin, at the forks of the Saskatchewan, and Fort St. Charles, at the angle of the Lake of the Woods, were his contributions to the work of settling the enormous country he explored. He was a Three Rivers man, this Gauthier, born and bred there. He went to France, and fought in the army. He was left for dead at Malplaquet, when he was twenty-four. Coming back to Canada, he headed West, not by the Overseas Limited, but up the Great Lakes in such craft as he could get. Around Rainy Lake and Rainy River his is a great name, and out of the Lake of the Woods he paddled to Lake Winnipeg. He came up the Red River to the Assiniboine, and heading west on the Assiniboine, worked his way to the Missouri. His son caught his spirit, and followed the Missouri to the Rocky Mountains, fifty years before Mackenzie, and sixty years before Lewis and Clarke. Verandrye himself, back at Lake Winnipeg, went up to the mouth of the Saskatchewan and up that noble river to where its mighty arms join, near Prince Albert. It was another son, also of the blood, who, on a similar expedition, with the Jesuit Aulneau and twenty young companions, was killed by the savage Sioux. The heroic old father came after, gathered up the remains and gave them burial at his Fort St. Charles. There the Jesuit professors from St. Boniface, after long study of the explorer's record, found the bones of the dead, and the remains of the fort, as was told in detail in recent despatches. The rest of us are beholden to them for their devotion.

ST. GEORGE CHURCH TEA WELL ATTENDED

A Large Number of The Lake Visitors There—Proceeds Gratifying

Examiner Special

Hall's Glen, Aug. 21.—A lawn social and evening entertainment was held in connection with St. George's Church on Thursday afternoon and evening. There was a large attendance of the friends and parishioners. The cottagers from the lake were out in full force, and all the neighbourhood turned out to make the occasion a success. Rev. Mr. Spencer, who has charge of the Young's Point, Warsaw and Hall's Glen parishes, is to be congratulated on its success. The ladies beautifully spread the tables and at the conclusion of the evening entertainment the over supply was auctioned to the satisfaction and delight of all. Hon. Mr. Stratton, Rev. Mr. Spencer, Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., and Mr. Watt delivered addresses. Miss Seitz, of Rochester, one of the lady visitors on the lake, sang, and altogether the affair passed off most pleasantly. The receipts amounted to about $40, and exceeded the expectations of the committee. All were gratified with the result. Splendid music was supplied during the evening by the Lakefield Band.

NOTE.—On August 7 last a party of priests of St. Boniface College, Winnipeg, accompanied by Judge Prudhomme, discovered the site of Fort St. Charles, built in 1732 by Sieur de la Verandrye on the northwest angle of the Lake of the Woods. They also discovered the skulls of 19 voyageurs and the skeletons of Father Aulneau and Jean Baptiste de la Verandrye, all of whom were massacred in 1736 by Sioux Indians on an island in the Lake of the Woods.

For many years past the Roman Catholic Church has made attempts to locate these remains, but until the present month all efforts to do so had failed.

Glenister arose. "I came late, Mr. Chairman, so I missed hearing your plan. I gather that you're out for business, however, and I want to be in it. May I ask what is on foot?"

"Certainly. Things have reached such a pass that moderate means are useless. We have decided to act and act quickly. We have exhausted every legal resource, and now we're going to stamp out this gang of robbers in our own way. We will get together in an hour, divide into three groups of twenty men, each with a leader, then go to the houses of McNamara, Stillman and Voorhees, take them prisoners, and"—He waved his hand in a large gesture.

Glenister made no answer for a moment, while the crowd watched him intently.

"You have discussed this fully?" he asked.

"We have. It has been voted on, and we're unanimous."

"My friends, when I stepped into this room just now I felt that I wasn't wanted. Why, I don't know, because I have had more to do with organizing this movement than any of you and because I have suffered just as much as the rest. I want to know if I was omitted from this meeting intentionally."

"This is an embarrassing position to put me in," said the chairman gravely, "but I shall answer as spokesman for these men if they wish."

"Yes; go ahead," said those around the room.

"We don't question your loyalty, Mr. Glenister, but we didn't ask you to this meeting because we know your attitude—perhaps I'd better say sentiment—regarding Judge Stillman's niece—er—family. It has come to us from various sources that you have been affected to the prejudice of your own and your partner's interest. Now, there isn't going to be any sentiment in the affairs of the vigilantes. We are going to do justice, and we thought the simplest way was to ignore you in this matter and spare all discussion and hard feeling in every quarter."

"It's a lie," shouted the young man hoarsely, "a damned lie! You wouldn't let me in for fear I'd kick, eh? Well, you were right. I will kick. You've hinted about my feelings for Miss Chester. Let me tell you that she is engaged to marry McNamara and that she's nothing to me. Now, then, let me tell you further that you won't break into her house and hang her uncle, even if he is a reprobate. No, sir! This isn't the time for violence of that sort. We'll win without it. If we can't, let's fight like men and not hunt in a pack like wolves. If you want to do something, put us back on our mines and help us hold them, but, for God's sake, don't descend to assassination and the tactics of the Mafia!"

"We knew you would make that kind of a talk," said the speaker, while the rest murmured grudgingly. One of them spoke up.

"We've talked this over in cold blood, Glenister, and it's a question of their lives or our liberty. The law don't enter into it."

"That's right," echoed another at his elbow. "We can't seize the claims, because McNamara's got soldiers to back him up. They'd shoot us down. You ought to be the last one to object."

He saw that dispute was futile. Determination was stamped on their faces too plain for mistake, and his argument had no more effect on them than had the pale rays of the lantern beside him, yet he continued:

"I don't deny that McNamara deserves lynching, but Stillman doesn't. He's a weak old man"—some one laughed derisively—"and there's a woman in the house. He's all she has in the world to depend upon, and you would have to kill her to get at him. If you must follow this course, take the others, but leave him alone."

They only shook their heads, while several pushed by him even as he spoke. "We're going to distribute our favors equal," said a man as he left. They were actuated by what they called justice, and he could not sway them. The life and welfare of the north were in their hands, as they thought, and there was not one to hesitate. Glenister implored the chairman, but the man answered him:

"It's too late for further discussion, and let me remind you of your promise. You're bound by every obligation that exists for an honorable man"—

"Oh, don't think that I'll give the snap away!" said the other; "but I warn you again not to enter Stillman's house."

He followed out into the night to find that Dextry had disappeared, evidently wishing to avoid argument. Roy had seen signs of unrest beneath the prospector's restraint during the past few days, and indications of a fierce hunger to vent his spleen on the men who had robbed him of his most sacred rights. He was of an intolerant, vindictive nature that would go to any length for vengeance. Retribution was part of his creed.

On his way home the young man looked at his watch to find that he had but an hour to determine his course. Instinct prompted him to join his friends and to even the score with the men who had injured him so bitterly, for, measured by standards of the frontier, they were pirates with their lives forfeit. Yet he could not countenance this step. If only the vigilantes would be content with making an example—but he knew they would not. The blood lust of a mob is easy to whet and hard to bold. McNamara would resist, as would Voorhees and the district attorney, then there would be bloodshed, riot, chaos. The soldiers would be called out and martial law declared, the streets would become skirmish grounds. The vigilantes would rout them without question, for every citizen of the north would rally to their aid, and such men could not be stopped. The judge would go down with the rest of the ring, and what would happen to—her?

He took down his Winchester, oiled and cleaned it, then buckled on a belt of cartridges. Still he wrestled with himself. He felt that he was being ground between his loyalty to the vigilantes and his own conscience. The girl was one of the gang, he reasoned—she had schemed with them to betray him through his love, and she was pledged to the one man in the world whom he hated with fanatical fury. Why should he think of her in this hour? Six months back he would have looked with jealous eyes upon the right to lead the vigilantes, but this change that had mastered him—what was it? Not cowardice, nor caution. No. Yet, being intangible, it was none the less marked, as his friends had shown him an hour since.

He slipped out into the night. The mob might do as it pleased elsewhere, but no man should enter her house. He found a light shining from her parlor window, and, noting the shade up a few inches, stole close. Peering through, he discovered Struve and Helen talking. He slunk back into the shadows and remained hidden for a considerable time after the lawyer left, for the dancers were returning from the hotel and passed close by. When the last group had chattered away down the street, he turned to the front of the house, and mounting the steps, knocked sharply. As Helen appeared at the door, he stepped inside and closed it after him.

The girl's hair lay upon her neck and shoulders in tumbled brown masses, while her breast heaved tumultuously at the sudden, grim sight of him. She stepped back against the wall, her wondrous, deep gray eyes wide and troubled, the blush of modesty struggling with the pallor of dismay.

The picture pained him like a knife thrust. This girl was his bitterest enemy—no hope of her was for him. He forgot for a moment that she was false and plotting, then, recalling it, spoke as roughly as he might and stated his errand. Then the old man had appeared on the stairs above, speechless with fright at what he overheard. It was evident that his nerves, so sorely strained by the events of the past week, were now snapped utterly. A human soul naked and panic stricken is no pleasant sight, so Glenister dropped his eyes and addressed the girl again:

"Don't take anything with you. Just dress and come with me."

"What outrage is this, Mr. Glenister?"

"The people of Nome are up in arms, and I've come to save you. Don't stop to argue." He spoke impatiently.

"Is this some ruse to get me into your power?"

"Uncle Arthur!" exclaimed the girl sharply. Her eyes met Glenister's and begged him to take no offense.

"I don't understand this atrocity. They must be mad!" wailed the judge. "You run over to the jail, Mr. Glenister, and tell Voorhees to hurry guards here to protect me. Helen, phone to the military post and give the alarm. Tell them the soldiers must come at once."

"Hold on!" said Glenister. "There's no use of doing that—the wires are cut; and I won't notify Voorhees—he can take care of himself. I came to help you, and if you want to escape you'll stop talking and hurry up."

"I don't know what to do," said Stillman, torn by terror and indecision. "You wouldn't hurt an old man, would you? Wait! I'll be down in a minute."

He scrambled up the stairs, tripping on his robe, seemingly forgetting his niece till she called up to him sharply:

"Stop, Uncle Arthur! You mustn't run away." She stood erect and determined. "You wouldn't do that, would you? This is our house. You represent the law and the dignity of the government. You mustn't fear a mob of ruffians. We will stay here and meet them, of course."

"Good Lord!" said Glenister. "That's madness! These men aren't ruffians. They are the best citizens of Nome. You don't realize that this is Alaska and that they have sworn to wipe out McNamara's gang. Come along."

"Thank you for your good intentions," she said, "but we have done nothing to run away from. We will get ready to meet these cowards. You had better go or they will find you here."

She moved up the stairs and, taking the judge by the arm, led him with her. Of a sudden she had assumed control of the situation unfalteringly, and both men felt the impossibility of thwarting her. Pausing at the top, she turned and looked down.

"We are grateful for your efforts just the same. Good night."

"Oh, I'm not going," said the young man. "If you stick, I'll do the same." He made the rounds of the first floor rooms, locking doors and windows. As a place of defense it was hopeless, and he saw that he would have to make his stand upstairs. When sufficient time had elapsed, he called up to Helen:

"May I come?"

"Just dress and come with me."

"Yes," she replied. So he ascended, to find Stillman in the hall, half clothed and cowering, while by the light from the front chamber he saw her finishing her toilet.

"Won't you come with me? It's our last chance." She only shook her head. "Well, then, put out the light. I'll stand at that front window, and when my eyes get used to the darkness I'll be able to see them before they reach the gate."

She did as directed, taking her place beside him at the opening, while the judge crept in and sat upon the bed, his heavy breathing the only sound in the room. The two young people stood so close to each other that the sweet scent of her person awoke in him an almost irresistible longing. He forgot her treachery again, forgot that she was another's, forgot all save that he loved her truly and purely, with a love which was like an agony to him. Her shoulder brushed his arm; he heard the soft rustling of her garment at her breast as she breathed. Some one passed in the street and she laid a hand upon him fearfully. It was very cold, very tiny and very soft, but he made no move to take it. The moments dragged along, still, tense, interminable. Occasionally she leaned toward him, and he stooped to catch her whispered words. At such times her breath beat warm against his cheek, and he closed his teeth stubbornly. Out in the night a wolf dog saddened the air, then came the sound of others wrangling and snarling in a nearby corral. This is a chickless land and no cock crow breaks the midnight peace. The suspense enhanced the judge's perturbation till his chattering teeth sounded like castanets. Now and then he groaned.

The watchers had lost track of time when their strained eyes detected dark blots materializing out of the shadows.

"There they come," whispered Glenister, forcing her back from the aperture; but she would not be denied, and returned to his side.

As the foremost figure reached the gate Roy leaned forth and spoke, not loudly, but in tones that sliced through the silence, sharp, clean and without warning.

"Halt! Don't come inside the fence." There was an instant's confusion; then, before the men beneath had time to answer or take action, he continued: "This is Roy Glenister talking. I told you not to molest these people, and I warn you again. We're ready for you."

The leader spoke. "You're a traitor, Glenister."

He winced. "Perhaps I am. You betrayed me first, though; and, traitor or not, you can't come into this house."

There was a murmur at this, and some one said:

"Miss Chester is safe. All we want is the judge. We won't hang him, not if he'll wear this suit we brought along. He needn't be afraid. Tar is good for the skin."

"Oh, my God!" groaned the limb of the law.

Suddenly a man came running down the planked pavement and into the group.

"McNamara's gone and so's the marshal and the rest," he panted. There was a moment's silence, and then the leader growled to his men, "Scatter out and rush the house, boys." He raised his voice to the man in the window. "This is your work, you damned turncoat." His followers melted away to right and left, vaulted the fence and dodged into the shelter of the walls. The click, click of Glenister's Winchester sounded through the room, while the sweat stood out on him. He wondered if he could do this deed, if he could really fire on these people. He wondered if his muscles would not wither and paralyze before they obeyed his command.

Helen crowded past him and, leaning half out of the opening, called loudly, her voice ringing clear and true:

"Wait! Wait a moment! I have something to say. Mr. Glenister did not warn them. They thought you were going to attack the mines, and so they rode out there before midnight. I am telling you the truth, really. They left hours ago." It was the first sign she had made, and they recognized her to a man.

There were uncertain mutterings below till a new man raised his voice. Both Roy and Helen recognized Dextry.

"Boys, we've overplayed. We don't want these people—McNamara's our meat. Old bald face up yonder has to do what he's told, and I'm ag'in this twenty to one midnight work. I'm goin' home." There were some whisperings, then the original spokesman called for Judge Stillman. The old man tottered to the window, a palsied, terror stricken object. The girl was glad he could not be seen from below.

"We won't hurt you this time, judge, but you've gone far enough. We'll give you another chance; then, if you don't make good, we'll stretch you to a lamp post. Take this as a warning."

"I s-shall do my d-d-duty," said the judge.

The men disappeared into the darkness, and when they had gone Glenister closed the window, pulled down the shades and lighted a lamp. He knew by how narrow a margin a tragedy had been averted. If he had fired on these men, his shot would have kindled a feud which would have consumed every vestige of the court crowd and himself among them. He would have fallen under a false banner, and his life would not have reached to the next sunset. Perhaps it was forfeit now. He could not tell. The vigilantes would probably look upon his part as traitorous, and at the very least he had cut himself off from their support, the only support the northland offered him. Henceforth he was a renegade, a pariah, hated alike by both factions. He purposely avoided sight of Stillman and turned his back when the judge extended his hand with expressions of gratitude. His work was done, and he wished to leave this house. Helen followed him down to the door and as he opened it laid her hand upon his sleeve.

"Words are feeble things, and I can never make amends for all you've done for us."

"For us!" cried Roy, with a break in his voice. "Do you think I sacrificed my honor, betrayed my friends, killed my last hope, ostracized myself, for 'us?' This is the last time I'll trouble you, perhaps the last time I'll see you. No matter what else you've done, however, you've taught me a lesson, and I thank you for it. I have found myself at last. I'm not an Eskimo any longer. I'm a man!"

"You've always been that," she said. "I don't understand as much about this affair as I want to, and it seems to me that no one will explain it. I'm very stupid, I guess. But won't you come back tomorrow and tell it to me?"

"No," he said roughly. "You're not of my people. McNamara and his are no friends of mine, and I'm no friend of theirs." He was half down the steps before she said softly:

"Good night, and God bless you—friend."

She returned to the judge, who was in a pitiable state, and for a long time she labored to soothe him as though he were a child. She undertook to question him about the things which lay uppermost in her mind and which this night had half revealed, but he became fretful and irritated at the mention of mines and mining. She sat beside his bed till he dozed off, puzzling to discover what lay behind the hints she had heard till her brain and body matched in absolute weariness. The reflex of the day's excitement sapped her strength till she could barely creep to her own couch, where she rolled and sighed, too tired to sleep at once. She awoke finally, with one last nervous flicker, before complete oblivion took her. A sentence was on her mind—it almost seemed as though she had spoken it aloud:

"The handsomest woman in the north—but Glenister ran away."

CHAPTER XVI.

IT was nearly noon of the next day when Helen awoke to find that McNamara had ridden in from the creek and stopped for breakfast with the judge. He had asked for her, but on hearing the tale of the night's adventure would not allow her to be disturbed. Later he and the judge had gone away together.

Although her judgment approved the step she had contemplated the night before, still the girl now felt a strange reluctance to meet McNamara. It is true that she knew no ill of him except that implied in the accusations of certain embittered men, and she was aware that every strong and aggressive character makes enemies in direct proportion to the qualities which lend him greatness. Nevertheless she was aware of an inner conflict that she had not foreseen. This man who so confidently believed that she would marry him did not dominate her consciousness.

Who Gets the Most Out of Life?

Not the wealthiest, not the most learned, nor the idler—but the man who has good health and works for his living. This truth is trite, but not trivial.

Every man should guard his health as his most valuable possession. The more so because health is easier to retain than regain.

METHODS OF MARKETING APPLES THAT WORK MUCH MISCHIEF

From The Canadian Dairyman.

A method of marketing apples that has worked much mischief, is, where irresponsible buyers swarm the country early in the season and secure thousands of barrels without any means to finance the deals. They then wait for their victim, who very soon turns up. A handsome profit is handed over to buyer No. 1 for his deals, and in the deal he and his relations get fat wages for doing the packing. Buyer No. 2 finds at the close of the season that there is a great shortage in the number of barrels represented, that the work has been fraudulently done, and that the prospects that seemed so rosy in the early season were only a dream. Of course, it is every man's privilege to engage in any business he wishes to, so long as he does not violate the laws of the land. We have a right to criticize the methods employed, however, and to suggest improvements.

Growers fared well last season, but they must not forget that if the season's operations did not show a profit to the dealers, that they will have to make it good sooner or later. There is a common saying that "The place to look for a thing is where you lose it." The fruit trade of Canada has assumed enormous proportions. It is up to the growers to look well to their interests and do everything in their power to place the trade on a sound basis.

Under no method of marketing, has the return been as satisfactory to growers, nor has the reputation of the trade been as well safeguarded, as by the co-operative plan. Some 200,000 barrels were packed last year under this plan, and the bulk was sold f.o.b. cars, points of shipment. With a few exceptions the pack turned out satisfactory. Under no other method can the same uniformity and control of pack be maintained.

With the knowledge of these facts in possession of the growers, it is surprising that they are so easily turned aside and reach a market through some other channel. There is no denying the fact that an effort is being made by the speculative dealers to give this movement a death blow. The proof of this was shown last season by the very high prices paid here and there in sections where co-operation was in full swing, and this in sections where a few years ago apples remained on the trees for want of buyers, and where the co-operative movement was started as a remedy. If the growers stick together they will be rewarded. Their salvation lies in co-operation.

Why There Is Very Little Sale Of Canadian Cheese In Canada

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Among other reasons why the local consumer should get the very best cheese we produce is that he pays a high price for what he does buy. It is a common saying that Canadian cheese can be bought over the counter in England as cheap if not cheaper than from the retailer in Canada. Why is this? It is simply due to the fact that the English consumer buys in larger quantities or oftener than the Canadian cheese consumer does, and therefore, the retailer can afford to sell on a smaller margin. The Canadian grocer gets a profit of from 3c to 5c a lb. and often more on what cheese he sells, while the retailer in the old land is satisfied with less than half that margin.

While the general character of the cheese offered to the Canadian consumer is largely responsible for the smallness of the local demand, it is probable that the high price, which the retailer charges is to some extent responsible. Some years ago, an old cheese exporter, who had met with some serious losses, and was forced to quit the larger sphere, opened a little shop for retailing cheese, butter and eggs in London, Ont. He began by selling cheese on the same margin of profit that the English retailer did business. It was surprising what a large cheese trade he built up in a short time. Where the ordinary grocer would sell one or two cheese in a day, and some of them only one or two in a week, his turn-over often ran up to a dozen cheese per day. This would indicate that if our people were able to buy cheese at a reasonable price as compared with what it sells for whole sale, they would consume a great deal more of it. Unfortunately for the cheese-eaters of the Forest City, this enterprising gentleman has gone the way of all flesh and no one has taken up the task in his place. Conditions are the same as they were twenty years ago. The grocer gets his one or two cheese from the jobber, and retails them out in small doses at the same old margin. By the time the last of a cheese is gone the remnant is dry, greasy and unsightly.

We have sufficient faith in Canadian cheese as a nourishing, appetizing food to believe that if the right quality of well-matured cheese were put on the market and sold at a reasonable price the demand for it would soon increase manifold. The grocer thinks he cannot afford to sell at a less margin when so little is bought at a time, and there is so much waste in the cutting. He would, however, make more money by selling in larger quantities for a smaller margin of profit. And the experience cited above shows that if he lowered the price people would buy more cheese and in larger quantities.

There are no cheese bargains for the consumer these days. The large department stores in Toronto will frequently have special sales of sugar, butter and even eggs at bargain prices, but never cheese. It seems to be one of those things that every grocer keeps in stock but never makes a specialty of. It is rarely given any special attention in the advertisements of even the big grocery stores. One is more likely to find a special announcement of fancy foreign cheese for sale than one setting forth the merits of Canadian Cheddar cheese. These fancy cheese whether made at home or abroad are good in their place; but they are luxuries, and are not the staple article of food that our own factory-made cheese is. The manufacturing of fancy brands of cheese is growing in Canada, but we will have more to say of these in a later issue. They can never, however, take the place of the well made and well cured Cheddar cheese as a food for the every day working man. Cheddar cheese, should in the country, be as staple an article of food as meat is, and should take the place of the latter in at least one meal a day. The Englishman is a large meat eater, but he is a large cheese eater as well. Canadians could imitate him more than they do and be all the better for it.

HOW TO GROW THE BEST ALFALFA

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Mr. William Stewart, Jr., of Menie, was one of the first farmers to commence alfalfa growing in his township, in Northumberland county, Ont. He has been growing it now for many years, and believes that it is one of the best crops that can be grown on any farm. At the time he commenced growing it this crop was not as well known as it is to-day, and consequently he made some mistakes that have since been made by many other farmers.

"At first," said Mr. Stewart, to a representative of The Dairyman and Farming World, who visited his place, "I used to crop it in the fall, but I found that this was a great mistake. By keeping the cows off it in the fall, the crop gets a splendid start, and the benefit of this start is apparent the following year. Some farmers tried to grow alfalfa with their corn, and with their clover. It is not a success when grown in this way, as it is a crop that should be grown by itself.

It is a mistake also to let alfalfa grow too long before harvesting. When this is done the crop gets coarse and the cattle do not like it. Many men who have not cut alfalfa at the right time, have become disgusted with it as a crop, when, had they cut it at the right time, they would have been delighted with it."

TESTING AND CHECKING THE RESULTS

What a Minnesota Buttermaker Recently Discovered.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Every now and then the maker or manager of a gathered cream creamery, in the habit of taking composite samples and testing at one, two, three or even four week intervals, conceives the bright idea of checking up his results with those obtained by making daily tests of each patron's deliveries. The results are almost always startling. Thus a Minnesota buttermaker recently ran a comparison of his once-a-month composite cream tests with daily tests, and found a difference of from ½ to 2½ per cent., always in the patron's favor. Of course methods were quickly changed. This question of composite sample vs. the daily testing of cream is getting to be a pretty old story, but we still find considerable difference of opinion on the subject among creamery men. We have lately been strongly recommending the daily testing of cream as the fairest and on the whole most satisfactory system, providing (and this is an important provision) the tester has ample time to do careful and satisfactory work. Otherwise, the superior accuracy of the method is easily nullified. If the additional work thus imposed must be hurried through and the chances of serious error correspondingly increased, the advocates of the composite sample begin to get the better of the argument. The possibility of mistakes when composite samples are depended upon are unquestionably greater than when daily tests are employed, for not only is there a strong probability that an equal portion of each lot of cream will not be obtained, but the sample is often difficult to keep in perfect condition for long periods, especially where very sour cream is received, and evaporation is very often not properly guarded against. Improperly cared for samples are fully as likely a source of serious error as a failure to take a proportionate part of each delivery of cream.

Evaporation is a very probable cause of our Minnesota friend's high readings. But whatever the reason, the once-a-month test of the composite sample should be tolerated by neither patron nor creamery management. Two weeks should be considered the outside limit.

Those depending upon the composite cream sample we would strongly advise to check up their results by means of carefully taken daily tests.—N. Y. Produce Review and American Creamery.

NO SEED "GOVERNMENT INSPECTED"

People Should Not Be Misled by Merchants In This Regard

From The Canadian Dairyman.

There is no such thing as Government inspected seed. Merchants have made capital from displaying seed which they call "Government inspected." Seed which will pass the Government standard is by no means pure. Five seeds of noxious weeds to the thousand is very dirty seed, and figures out very many to the acre. People should not be misled by merchants telling them that seed is government inspected.—T. G. Raynor, B.S.A., Seed Dept., Ottawa.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.

Everyone Should be Prepared for it with a Bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Very few people escape an attack of Summer Complaint. It may be slight, or it may be severe, but nearly everyone is liable to it.

You cannot tell, when it seizes on you, how it may end.

Let it go for a day or two only, and see how weak and prostrated it will leave you.

There is only one safe way to cure it and that is by DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. It has been on the market for sixty-three years and has been proved and tried so you are not experimenting when you buy it.

Do not accept a substitute or imitation, as many of these are positively dangerous to life and health. Insist on having DR. FOWLER'S.

Mrs. Norman H. Eisau, Ship Harbor, N.S., writes: "Last summer my baby was very bad with Summer Complaint. I tried most everything for him, but nothing seemed to help. One day a neighbor called in and told me to try DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY, so I got a bottle and after a few doses my baby was cured. I shall always keep it in the house."

THE PROPER TIME TO PICK PLUMS

Can Only be Determined by Experience —Depends on Distance From Market

From The Canadian Dairyman.

The exact time for picking plums can be determined only by experience. It will depend on the distance from the market and the shipping qualities of the variety. Plums will bear picking when quite green, particularly the Japanese varieties. When intended for a near-by market, they may be left on the tree as long as possible.

Most of the Japanese varieties and some others ripen very nicely after picking. They may be kept for three or four weeks in a fairly cool, dark place and come out in good condition. Some times they can be kept much longer. As some of the American varieties are apt to break their skins when ripe, care should be taken to pick them on the green side.

The best tea can be utterly spoiled by exposure to contaminating influences, as bulk teas so often are. The sealed lead packets of the "Salada" Tea Company give you tea fresh and fragrant from the gardens to the tea cup. 62

THREE THINGS THAT ARE NECESSARY

For the Production of Eggs—Some Helpful Advice

From the Canadian Dairyman

Three things are necessary for the production of eggs. These are: The individual, a strong constitution, and proper care and food. If any of these is overlooked, the birds will not be profitable producers of eggs. The sooner in the bird's life that the farmer begins to pay attention to these essentials, the more probable is it that he will produce a bird which will be a record-breaker.

The good individual, generally comes from a good laying breed. The breeds intended for meat do not, as a rule, excel as producers of eggs. They are like the beef breeds of cattle—they are perfected for the block. Then, too, the good individual comes from the strain of egg-laying birds. Some breeds have certain strains which are known for their production of eggs, and in choosing a flock of hens, it is well to select the birds from these strains. It is a good thing to know something about the pedigree of the birds which are to make up the flock, and keep only those which have come from a family of record-breaking layers.

A strong constitution is generally transmitted from the parent to the offspring. If the birds come from parents that are vigorous and healthy, the chances are that they will be vigorous and healthy too. That diseases are transmitted from the parent to the offspring is an established fact. The same is true in a great measure with health. But the health of the bird does not all depend upon transmission. Surroundings or environment in a very great measure determine what kind of a constitution the bird will have. No matter how strong a constitution may be transmitted to the offspring by the parent, it will soon weaken if the bird if placed in unhealthy surroundings; therefore, to maintain a vigorous constitution, it is necessary that the surroundings be such as will promote health instead of disease.

The third essential—proper food and care—is important from the time the chick is taken from the nest or incubator till it has developed into a producer of eggs. Food gives form, and produces the organs necessary for the production of eggs. If the proper food is not given, the development of the organs needed in the production of eggs is retarded. It has been found that the birds should have a ration which contains about one part of protein to four parts of carbo-hydrates. Any ration with less protein than this will mean a starving and dwarfing of some of the organs necessary in the production of eggs. Of all the grains, wheat comes the nearest to containing the proper percentage of the two food elements named. However, it has been found that the birds should not have a ration of only one kind of food. A variety should be given, even though each feed contains practically the same amount of food elements.

If the reader desires to possess a flock of laying birds, he should begin with the chicks. Select those which come from laying strains and breeds, then keep the quarters healthful and feed the proper kinds of food.

THE DOCTORS SAID "THERE MUST BE AN OPERATION"

"Fruit-a-tives" Saved Mrs. McCready Untold Suffering and Almost Certain Death.

"Publish this for humanity's sake," writes Mr. C. McCready, of Putnam, Ont., in his letter to the owners of "Fruit-a-tives." Physicians said that only an operation could save his wife's life. But again "Fruit-a-tives" proved its wonderful powers. The doctors were wrong—Mrs. McCready is to-day well and strong—and "Fruit-a-tives" have made friends of every one for miles around Putnam.

"Dear Sirs,—My wife suffered for over a year from Indigestion and Bowel trouble. Several doctors treated her for this trouble and advised her that only an operation would save her life, as they stated it was a tumor that was causing the trouble. The operation was to cost $200.00 and, while she was debating in her own mind about being operated on, she was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives," which I procured for her from our local merchant. From the first box she improved, and after having taken four boxes she is completely cured and is now as well as ever.

I decided then that "Fruit-a-tives" was the most wonderful remedy in the world and it certainly saved my wife's life. She still takes one tablet every night, we also give them to the children with excellent results, and they have to thank "Fruit-a-tives" for the fact that their mother is now with them, they fully expected she would be in her grave. Publish this for humanity's sake."

(Sgd.) C. McCready.

For Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation and Biliousness—for all troubles due to defective action of Bowels, Kidneys and Skin, "Fruit-a-tives" is a certain cure. These tablets are made of fruit juices and tonics, are pleasant to take and quick to act. Trial size, 25c—regular size, 50c a box or 6 for $2.50.

At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

M'Evoy, late of the "Irish Independent," is editor, and the "Chronicle," as well as the "Cork County Eagle," will be under Mr. Greenfield's control and management. The first number is a well-assorted production which should recommend itself.

An interesting addition by purchase to the permanent collection of pictures in the Belfast Art Gallery and Museum, Free Library, is three water-colour drawings by George Trobridge, A.R.C.A. One picture represents Queen's Bridge, Belfast, in 1884. The River Lagan at this point was originally covered by the old "Long Bridge," which consisted of 21 arches, stretching over a long expanse of shallow water and "slobland."

The Registrar-General for Ireland has issued his report, which contains an abstract of the marriages, births and deaths registered in 1907. He records that during the year the deaths from all forms of tuberculous disease were in number 11,679, as compared with 11,756 deaths registered in 1906. The fact that the mortality in 1907 was practically the same as that for 1906 good not doubt are deeply interested in the anti-tuberculosis movement, as there has not been time as yet for the energetic measures taken by Her Excellency Lady Aberdeen in combatting the disease to show their results.

EXTRAORDINARY STORY OF THE WILL OF A MISER

A Fortune of Nearly $1,000,000 Amassed by Real Estate Dealer —Champion Midas of the United States

TWO COUNTRIES EXCITED

The town of Trowbridge, Wiltshire, and the American city of Boston, Massachusetts, are (says the London Daily Mail) both excited about a will which concerns the disposition of a fortune of £200,000, amassed by a real estate dealer of Boston, who was known as "the champion miser of the United States."

Full of years—for he was ninety-one—he died last December. His fortune was computed at £200,000. A will drawn up in January, 1907, and propounded by Judge Farrell, divided the property, though in very unequal proportions between three Boston nephews. Six thousand pounds were to be invested in trust for two brothers; the remainder of the estate was to go to the third nephew, Walter Hadley, who had acted as his uncle's manager for thirty years. The two unfortunate nephews instantly commenced an action against the third on the comprehensive grounds of undue influence, unsound mind, and improper execution.

Rival claimants emerged from all the States of the Union and from all countries of Europe. Mr. Farrell took no notice until he saw that appearances had been entered by two firms of Boston attorneys. He asked for particulars, and found that both claims were advanced in the interests of the same English family, for whom an English solicitor was acting. Wills and codicils in favor of the English claimants followed.

Mr. C. J. Jones, solicitor, of Trowbridge, took the first of them in person to Boston. It set out that "Benjamin Radleigh, or Hadleigh, or Radley or Hadley, and so on, but whose real name is Benjamin Radleigh, champion miser of America," bequeathed £5,000 sterling to Mr. Charles J. Jones, solicitor, of England, as executor; 5,000 guineas each to six of the children of John Fisher, of Trowbridge, "his next of kin," and £110,000 to Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, widow, Trowbridge, England, described as his adopted daughter. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore is now the wife of Dr. Ruckley, the local practitioner of the village of Holt, three miles from Trowbridge.

This will was attested by two witnesses. By the law of Massachusetts three witnesses are required to signature of the will. (When he returned to England Mr. Jones was able to send to America a codicil duly signed by three witnesses, effecting a "republication" of the former will.

This was not all. A will dated August 20th, 1907, was sent to Boston signed by Benjamin Hadley, his mark, and attested by four witnesses. It varied the terms of the bequests, but, like the first will, practically confined the benefits to the Trowbridge party. To Mrs. Buckley, the adopted daughter, about £120,000 was to go; the six brothers and sisters, and Mr. Jones, the solicitor, were to receive £1,000 each. Two thousand pounds were bequeathed to "President of the States."

The most remarkable feature of the story is the manner in which these documents were received. Mr. Jones, the solicitor, relates that the first will together with a cutting from a London newspaper describing the habits of the deceased, reached him by post at his office in Trowbridge on December 24th, 1907. No letter was enclosed. The postmark was Trowbridge. Soon after his return from the United States, he told a Mail representative, he received a codicil which had been found, with no covering letter. That codicil bore the signatures of three witnesses.

Dr. Buckley, like Mr. Jones, admitted that the documents had reached him in an unusual manner. "There were several," he said, "at least half a dozen. They were found on my door-mat all during the day-time. They were not addressed as a rule, neither were they in envelopes; some were tied up with string and sealed. Two or three of the important documents in the case reached Mr. Jones or Dr. Buckley by post, each bearing the Trowbridge postmark. One purported to come from a man who had arrived from the United States, another from a man who had arrived from Natal.

Dr. Buckley said he was tired to death of the business, which had caused him much annoyance. Dr. Buckley would not go to America to support the will, but he would go if subpoenaed, and his expenses paid.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON QUESTIONS

The Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club for Sunday, Aug. 23rd, are—

Friendship of David and Jonathan I. Sam. xx.

Golden Text—A friend loveth at all times and a brother is born for adversity. Prov. xvii :17.

What had David done to provoke the enmity of Saul?

Is it ever so, in these days, that a man's very goodness, coupled with success as in David's case, provokes enmity and jealousy, and if so how do you account for it?

Is the proverb always true that "blood is thicker than water?"

Is it often that two men, of no blood relation, form a confidential friendship and love of each other, exceeding that of brothers?

What was the bond of affinity which drew David and Jonathan so close together? (See verses 17 and 42: Chap. xxiii :18.)

Was the love of David and Jonathan a purely human love, that is a love which is possible for all normal human beings?

Is it possible to cultivate such a pure friendship as existed between David and Jonathan, or is it necessarily a spontaneous development?

Is such love and friendship as existed between David and Jonathan possible to two persons who are irreligious?

Was it possible for either David or Jonathan to have loved another, as they loved each other?

Dies such friendship as existed between David and Jonathan exist between women?

When an intimate friendship exists between a married man and a married woman both of whom are of spotless character, should the fact of such friendship alone give good people reason for suspicion?

Is God a party to all true friendship covenants? (See verses 23, 42.)

Is every friendship formed in God, as sacred as that of David and Jonathan?

Verse 17—Why was Jonathan so anxious for David to keep repeating that he loved him?

Should we cultivate the habit of telling our intimate friends how much we think of them, or should we allow our actions alone to tell our love?

Can love keep burning on the altar of friendship, if it is not fed by words, or deeds of kindness?

Do kind expressions of love for our friends deepen and intensify friendship?

What are the advantages or disadvantages of David and Jonathan friendships?

Which is the most God-like passion, a mother's love, the love of husband and wife, or pure sexless friendship? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

BUSINESS GIRLS LOSE STRENGTH

They Risk Health Rather Than Lose Employment and Eventually Break Down.

Thousands of earnest intelligent young women who earn their livelihood away from home in public offices, and large business establishments are silent suffering victims of overtaxed nerves and deficiency of strength. Weak, breathless and nervous they work against time, with never a rest when headaches and backaches make every hour like a day. Little wonder their cheeks lose the tint of health and grow pale and thin; their eyes are dull and shrunken and beauty slowly but surely fades. Business girls and women because of their work and worry, look older than their years. What they seriously need is the frequent help of a strengthening remedy to carry them through the day. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are like actual food to the starved nerves and tired brain of the business girl. By making rich, red blood they supply just the kind of help that girls need to preserve their health and their good looks. They bring bright eyes, high spirits and thus make the days duties lighter.

Miss Alexandrine Bedard, a stenographer residing at 36 Richelieu St., Quebec says—"For the past couple of years I felt my constitution being gradually undermined through constant indoor work, and the great tax on my nerves through the long tedious hours over a typewriter. But it was only some six months ago that the climax came when one afternoon I lost consciousness through extreme weakness. The real seriousness of my condition was then pathetically apparent, as I was confined to my room, lacking even the strength to walk about. I was attended by a doctor, but after being a month under his care showed no signs of improvement. It was at this stage that one of my relatives read of the cure of a young girl whose case bore a striking resemblance to my own, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began to use these Pills the next day, and I attribute my complete recovery entirely to them. I had not taken more than three boxes when I began to get better, and after taking the pills for about a month I felt as strong and was enjoying as good health as ever in my life."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

SPENT $3,000 SEARCHING FOR HEALTH:

FROM SHOAL LAKE MAN COMES THE FOLLOWING WONDERFUL STORY

Mr. Robert Squires says:—"I have spent over $3,000 in search for health; have travelled from place to place looking for suitable climate. I came to the conclusion that climate made no difference in curing throat and lung troubles. At the health resorts consumptives died there as at any place else so I determined to find a home remedy. A friend advised me to use Psychine. The first few bottles gave great relief from coughing and seemed to ease the pain in the lungs. Within a month the cough and night sweats had disappeared, and I had greatly regained my strength. I used ten bottles, but my case was a serious one, and I didn't begrudge the cost, for I was completely cured after medical men considered my case hopeless. My lungs are now sound and no sign of disease whatever is apparent."

How strange it is that we often overlook or despise the remedies near at hand. In Psychine we have the greatest and most successful tonic this country has known. There is life in every dose! The proprietors want you to prove their statement by sending for a sample. Cut out the coupon and mail with your name and address to the Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Toronto, and we will gladly send you a TRIAL BOTTLE FREE. All druggists and stores sell at 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

THE BERTILLION SYSTEM IS USED FOR THE BANK EMPLOYEES IN PITTSBURG

would have surrendered his complete control of millions rather than submit to being "mugged" by the police, it was William Montgomery, cashier of the Allegheny National, under arrest in connection with the disappearance of $839,000 of deposits and the entire $500,000 worth of capital stock.

He was the intimate friend and confidant of Senator Quay, the man who placed Quay's bets during the Harrison campaign, when Quay won $250,000, and the trusted handler of the monies of the political machine in that section of the State.

Repulsed Photographers

When the Allegheny National went down—or up—the State was backing it with $532,000 of deposits, and the city of Pittsburg with $1,522,000. Private depositors were so wary that they let it have little.

Time and again, with no more detective intent in mind than the ambition to photograph a famous personage who was the right bower of the famous Quay, kodakers, newspaper photographers and other artists of the plate and film endeavoured to secure a picture of Montgomery. The attempt invariably met with the wrath of a czar menaced with a dynamite bomb; anything approaching assault and battery.

When the crash came, after a series of speculations in stocks, the police reported the discovery of no photograph of Montgomery, even during their investigations of the suddenly acquired fortune of a Pittsburg widow whose wealth in eight years leaped from $10,000 to $333,000, and of other women in Pittsburg and neighbouring cities, who real estate investments had increased with remarkable facility.

The authorities, having Montgomery, have had no very urgent need for his photograph; and, holding on to him—for the United States Government took charge of the prosecution under the national banking regulations, they stated recently that they stand a fair chance of securing complete restitution.

State and city's monies, flying here, there and everywhere during the years when the cashier juggled them, invested him with the right to demand that his political allies come to his aid.

Under Pittsburg's uniquely facile flipping of its coins, the powerful politician even when under arrest for embezzlement, can compel the flow of gold back to his emptied ank vaults as secretly and as smoothly as he could start it pouring forth.

While the fate of the Allegheny National's money still hung in the balance, pending the decision of Montgomery's allies as to restitution of the million that had gone, a man returned to Pittsburg who, for nearly three years had left the police bitterly regretful that hte Bertillion system was not compulsory there before the Enterprise National of Allegheny collapsed in October, 1905.

He was Thomas W. Harvey, teller of the Enterprise, who, in the vain hope of escaping the penalty for his share in the crime, had given up his identity and home, to wander amid agonies of dread until his fearful spirit could no longer bear the strain.

Serving Seven Years

He surrendered himself to the federal authorities, and, on the same day was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary—and that with no more notoriety than if he were a purse snatcher. Pittsburg was learning to wash its dirty linen with neatness, silence and dispatch.

Yet the Enterprise embezzlements were among the most sensational ever known in the State of Pennsylvania. The losses amounted to $1,500,000. It was a "political" bank, like the Allegheny National, and hundreds of thousands of its deposits had gone out to politicians on notes which, unsecured at best, had disappeared when the cashier, T. Lee Clark, both poisoned and shot himself to make sure of death.

Still, while the Allegheny National's melodorous record hung heavy on the Pittsburg air, the dead hand of Cashier Clark exercised its influence from the grave. As quietly as Pittsburg could, with the ease of the financial world fixed upon her new ambition to retain some of her bank deposits for the people who owned them, she indicted, on May 13, Frank T. Thompson and F. H. Ranger as two of a gang of card sharps who, during the four years that have marked the city's spoliation, took from her bankers and bank clerks $1,000,000 of the easy money that drew harpies thither as to a feast.

Crooked poker, "brace" faro, "fixed" roulette—the whole range of gambling tricks that should not have deluded the veriest tyro in the "sporting life"—had been used on the avid Pittsburgers until the blacklegs themselves were almost ashamed of taking their money. Clark, before he killed himself, let them swindle him out of $100,000.

The gamblers, with their share of $1,000,000 out of the loot, were only the inevitable attendants upon the general orgie of speculation. The clerks had the shining examples of their cashiers to emulate.

And they did emulate, with women as well as with the cards. The women sometimes—only sometimes—stood by them when the penalty was to be paid. When the Union Trust Company of Pittsburg discovered its loss of $385,000 in 1906, almost on the anniversary of the Enterprise ruin, the thieves proved to be a couple of mild young persons, Clinton B. Wray, the teller, and C. S. Hixton, the individual bookkeeper.

The gambling crooks simply took it away from those childlike thieves in chunks—one of the chunks having been $7,000, raked in by the blacklegs on a single hand where Wray held a royal flush. The rules of poker say that hand can't be beaten, but a pair of sixes beat it when it was held in the nerveless grasp of so futile a gambler as Wray.

Pittsburg's millionaires has set their Their poor little $60 a month and the turbid flow of the wealth of clerky wits to work in the striving for riches. They evolved a new scheme, as unexpected by the local bank experts as it was obvious to any one who gave genuine attention to the inadequate safeguards with which Pittsburg "protected" its deposits.

Wray, as teller, forged a deposit slip on the name of some former depositor whose account had lapsed. He passed it on to Hixton, who entered it in the individual account book. Wray then forged a cheque for a sum near the amount of the fraudulent deposit, cashed it and left it to Hixton to destroy the check.

"Would not an examination of the counter book," Judge Young asked Fiefler, treasurer of the company, at the trial of the young thieves, "have revealed the discrepancy?"

"We didn't think it necessary to examine that," the treasurer responded.

"I think you will in the future," remarked the judge—and the two prisoners grinned.

So they are serving their sentences while Grace Laughrey, the handsome girl who shared Wray's stolen riches and stuck to him as faithfully as a wife when he fled to Toronto, waits the ten years that will elapse before the pair are set free again.

While the gamblers were enjoying the Union Trust Company's cash, the bucket shops were getting during the year between March, 1907, and March of this year, $520,000 taken from the Farmers' Deposit National Bank by Henry Reiber, the paying teller, and John Young, the auditor.

They proved themselves fools as simple over wildcat curb adventures as the boys of the Union Trust over crooked cards. For ten years these two presumably experienced financiers had been stealing $1,105,000 from the Farmers' Deposit Bank, and no one, among either officers or directors, had suspected them.

They, too, have been sentenced to ten years each by the same judge, whose ruling in the cases of men who stole $385,000 and of others who stole $1,105,000 would seem to prove that, in Pittsburg, you might as well steal a million while you are about it.

Pittsburg's example has given the State of Pennsylvania a record that puts the dashing depredations of bank robbers in the southwest, with their masks and their revolvers, to the blush of poignant shame. In six months, with all their recklessness of hold-ups, burglaries and safe-blowing, the bank bandits of Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma, between November 30, 1907, and April 21, 1908, securing three States and a dozen banks, obtained only $55,000. A Pittsburg bank clerk would not take them as apprentices.

Chicago Outdone

In Chicago, where money used to be supposed to lie around waiting for financiers to lift it, there has been only one large looting in recent years—that of the Chicago National charged to its president, John R. Walsh, and of the Home Savings Bank and the Equitable Trust Company, which he had tied up with it.

That was a $3,000,000 shortage and Walsh got five years for his convictions on fifty-four counts of the longest indictment the Chicago courts ever looked at. Nevertheless, it was a promoter's steal, made with some chances of advantage to the banks along the debatable ground of finance instead of being plain bank robbery, such as prevails in Pittsburg.

And the Walsh doings remained isolated, with no train of imitators spreading through Illinois, as Pittsburg's inspiration has started widening waves of larceny in Pennsylvania, with their highest losses, of a million or two, nearest the centre of the embezzling propaganda. The wrecking of the Farmers' and Drovers' National Bank in Waynesburg, with its cashier, J. B. F. Rhinehart, charged with forgery, showed all the valueless notes of graft-claiming politicians to the most barefaced juggling of accounts.

It has been such easy money in Pittsburg, from the money of the marrying billionaires to the money of the card-playing little clerks, that only the drastic Bertillon system of identification, it seems, can suffice to discourage future embezzlement.

But nobody is certain yet whether even that will clip the wings that grow, in Pittsburg, on the American double eagles.

Most of the work in disclosing the recent remarkable chain of Pittsburg bank robberies was done by National Bank Examiner Wm. M. Folds. And a most interesting chapter was added to the story only the other day, when it was announced that Mr. Folds had been transferred at his request, from the treasury department to the department of justice.

In other words, Mr. Folds has become a secret service official devoting himself to detective work to ferret out and bring to punishment the men having connection, no matter how remote, with recent bank robberies. So far as known, it is the first time that a bank examiner has had himself transferred to Uncle Sam"s detective force, and most interesting developments are expected from the work of Mr. Folds.—Philadelphia North American.

Mr. W. T. Comber, B.A., Wadham College, Oxford, and University College, Toronto, is prepared to receive into his house three or four boys between the ages of nine and thirteen, to educate with some other boys of the same age. Terms on application.

Mr. Comber is about to establish in Bobcaygeon a school for young boys. The new school building will be ready for occupation in September, 1908. Prospectuses will be issued in the course of the coming school year. 44a-16s

THE STORK FLIES INTO A WRECK

Mother Was Dragged Under Buggy by Runaway Horse but Got Out All Right

Pittsburg, Aug. 22.—While returning from a christening at Federal, Mrs. John Robsik, after being dragged, jolted and bumped in a hair-raising runaway, was covered by the broken buggy and two other of its occupants, and during the struggle of the victims of the accident the stork billed and scratched its way through the mass of twisted harness, broken vehicle and what not, and delivered a package to the woman.

Robsik hired a horse and buggy at Oakdale, where the family got in the buggy and started for the christening.

The Robsik family left Hessik's baby at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon, and started back. They had reached the top of a long, steep hill when the horse stumbled on a stone. This frightened the animal, and it started down the steep road at a terrific rate.

The buggy swayed right and left and the women shrieked hysterically. Finally the buggy was upset, the horse again stumbled, this time almost turning a somersault and breaking its neck, causing it almost instant death. The sudden stopping of the buggy caused it to overturn, completely covering Robsik, his wife and her mother.

They were all badly stunned, and about the time they had succeeded in squirming from the wreck Robsik discovered he was the father of one more child than when he left home.

RIGHTS OF WOMEN

Lady Dorothy Neville's "Reminiscences" contain these verses—given her by Lady Abergavenny, 40 and odd years ago, but not written by that person. They fit the domestic conception of woman's "sphere," and are still good, although woman has other "rights" which the writer knew nothing of:

The rights of woman, what are they?
The right to labor, love and pray;
The right to weep with those that weep
The right to wake when others sleep.

The right to dry the falling tear,
The right to quell the rising fear;
The right to smooth the brow of care,
And whisper comfort in despair.

The right to watch the parting breath,
To sooth and cheer the bed of death;
The right, when earthly hopes all fail,
To point to that with the well.

The right the wandrer to reclaim,
And win the lost from paths of shame;
The right to comfort and to bless
The widow and the fatherless!

The right the little ones to guide,
In simple faith, to him who died;
With earnest love and gentle praise
To bless and cheer their youthful days.

The right the intellect to train,
And guide the soul to noble aim;
Teach it to rise above earth's toys,
And wing its flights to heavenly joys.

The right to live for those who love,
The right to die, that love to prove;
The right to brighten earthly homes
With pleasant smiles and gentle tones.

Are these thy rights? Then use them well;
The holy influence none can tell.
If these are thine, why ask for more?
Thou has enough to answer for!

Are these thy rights? Then murmur not
That woman's mission is thy lot;
Improve the talents God has given;
Life's duties done—thy rest is heaven.

PIONEER DAYS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF SMITH RECALLED TO MEMORY; WHAT THE SETTLERS HAD TO CONTEND WITH IN THOSE TIMES

Smith Surveyed Just 90 Years Ago —Great Advance Along Educational Lines—The First Horse Brought In By Mr. Young—

PROGRESS AMONG CHURCHES

Peterborough with propriety may be called the 'four corners" of the townships of Smith, Douro, Otonabee and North Monaghan. They all converge to this one centre which forms the chief attraction for those on business bent and for the farmers' sons who so often break away from the occupation of their fathers. Peterborough is lucky with four such townships skirting its boundaries. Their histories tell the story of progressiveness and industry since the time almost a century ago, woodmen first invaded their forests with the axe. Those who have resided in them for many years must be full of reminiscences—grave and gay. Changes they have seen—such changes that the present generation wonders how "they got along."

There are always to be found in the rural districts men who have been possessed of the stay-at-home nature. And well is it so. To whom would the historian go were there no inhabitant who has "lived here all my life-time." More than one pioneer can repeat the lines with feeling:

"I have had playmates, I have had companions,
In my days of childhood, in my joyful schooldays,
All, all are gone, the old familiar faces."

A little history about the early days of these prosperous townships will therefore not be amiss.

Smith Surveyed

Just ninety years ago the first surveying party in Smith township finished their work and left with their chains. No sooner was the labour completed when a number of Englishmen settled there. This party of "colony" settlers, as they were called to distinguish them from other early settlers, reached their forest homes by means of Rice Lake and the Otonabee River. The first thing done was to erect a temporary log house, which was built on the first lot west of the Communication Road. The procuring of provisions was in itself a giant undertaking. In those days there was no smooth gravel road with substantial bridges; the only means of getting to the front being by the "blaze" upon the trees through the forest that covered the country. In 1821 Adam Scott built his little mill on the bank of the Otonabee at Peterborough and the settlers in Smith thought themselves very fortunate. In 1826 Jacob Brumwell built a small mill at the mouth of a creek which entered the Otonabee at a point near where Mr. John Carnegie's residence now stands.

Education Limited

The following is an extract from the official returns of Smith for 1832: Number of persons assessed, 116; acres cultivated, 2,181; horses, 23; oxen, 130; cows, 282; horned cattle, 143. Total assessed value, £38, 11s. 1d; total population, 753. The first school house in Smith township was that erected on Isaac Milburn's lot in 183. In 1832 there were two schools taught by William Lailey and P. Wood, the average attendance being 21 and 27 respectively—a big difference from the prevailing conditions at the present time. Daniel Dove, James Brennan and Orran Movey were three schoolmasters who flourished about 1835.

The village of Bridgenorth has grown with the growth of steam navigation on the lakes. Messrs. S. S. Kelly and W Scott settled there and erected a saw mill and may be termed the founders of Bridgenorth.

The First Horse

Young's Point is called after the late Patrick Young, who came out with the Peter Robinson emigrants in 1825, being then a boy. Mr. Young in his declining years could relate some interesting anecdotes about life in the bush fifty years ago. Mr. Young's father brought from Toronto the first horse into Smith township.

The Early Roads

The roads in the township are of a first-class order, but they have not been always so, as in an issue of the Cobourg Star of 1831 it states that the Communication Road was scarcely passable for ox-teams, being covered with boulders, stumps and other obstructions. In the following year the Upper Canada legislature granted £100 to improve the road.

The first clergymen to visit Smith were the Rev. Mr. Thompson, Episcopal minister from Cavan; the Rev. Wm. Case, Rev. George Tar and Rev. Henry Ryan, of the Methodist Church; Rev. Samuel Armour, who came shortly after the immigration of 1825; and the Rev. J M Roger, who located in Peterborough in 1833. In these early days religious services were held in the houses of the settlers, such a thing as a church being unknown. But now there are many neat and commodious churches there.

First Cheese Factory

In 1866 the first cheese factory was established by John Walton. This proved such a success that others followed it until now immense quantities of cheese are sent from this township, bringing thousands of dollars annually.

This is but a brief sketch of the early days of Smith. On the next occasion the past history of the township of Douro, the next in the cycle, will be recalled to memory.

The Harvest Of Wild Rice Promises To Be Bountiful This Season On Rice Lake

Examiner Special

Keene, August 22.—There is every promise of a bumper crop of wild rice on Rice Lake this year. The straw is so very heavy that it is nearly impossible to push a canoe through it. Harvesting will commence in about two weeks. With the present high price for wild rice the Indians ought to make extraordinary wages harvesting it. The parched rice sold last year for fifteen cents a pound—three times the price for seven or eight years ago. The heavy crop of rice should also make the ducks plentiful this fall as there will be an abundance of feed for them. Local sportsmen are anticipating sport when the season commences on September 1st.

A TRENT BRIDGE WOMAN IS BURNED BY BLAZING TAR

Examiner Special.

Trent Bridge, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Jas. Mann, Trent Bridge, three miles south of this place, had her hair burned off and her body badly scorched while attempting to carry from the house a pot of tar which had been boiling on the stove and caught fire. She was unable to get it outside, and dropping the pot, the blazing stuff rolled over the floor, setting fire to the houses which was burned to the ground.

BOG KILLED BUT FAMILY SAFE; MORE OF LIGHTNING'S FREAKS

Bancroft, Aug. 22. — During the storm which passed over this section this week, the residence of Mr. W. Wiggins, clerk of Faraday, was struck by lightning and the family had an almost miraculous escape. The bolt struck the gable of the house and passed down into a bedroom on the first floor. From there it went out under the door to the dining-room, tearing up a portion of the floor and throwing some of the pieces up to the ceiling. It finally made its exit through the kitchen, where Mrs. Wiggins was at work, and she was badly shocked. There were seven people in the house at the time, and that all escaped seems marvellous. The dog was killed. The building was damaged to the extent of about $40, but the loss is fully covered by insurance.

LINEMAN OF A LIGHT COMPANY FALLS FROM TOP OF HIGH POLE

To fall from the top of an electric light pole was the unpleasant experience yesterday evening that befel Mr. Wm. Heal, St. Joseph street who is a pole-climber for the Peterborough Light and Power Company. He was trimming an arc light about 5 o'clock in front of the Protestant Home when he tumbled to the earth and rolled down the steep bank, almost to the G.T.R. tracks. The unlucky man was considerably bruised and semi-unconscious for a time, and was quickly removed in the Dan Spence ambulance to his home.

COLD WATER BAG MAKES GOOD PILLOW SAYS THE FAT VISITOR

Examiner Special

Stony Lake, Aug. 22.—Fat men at the lake have been scarce this year, as in seasons gone by. Perhaps during the hot summer months when the nights are so sultry they prefer a colder clime and seek the haunts of the seals and polar bears of the north. But such is not the case with one who arrived here about a month ago. He only left yesterday. He always kept cool at nights and always slept well, and on board the steamer happened to remark that the trouble most folks had getting to sleep was that "they don't know how to keep cool."

"Sounds fine to me," he remarked. "You talk as if you really knew something. Perhaps you've got a cold air current piped down from Greenland on to your bed or have your pillows stuffed with cracked ice. I don't suppose your pillow ever gets all sticky on humid nights, when there isn't a breath of air stirring; mine does, and I'll tell you you can't beat it. If you can, loosen up. We're listening. What's the answer?"

"Hot water bag," replied the fat man.

A chorus of jeers from all those within earshot greeted this remark, so he went on to explain.

"I don't suppose it ever penetrated your thick skulls, did it," he asked, "that there are more than a few uses for a hot water bag? Never took one to bed with you in the winter, did you, when your room was so cold that the sheets seemed freezing together, and put it at your feet?

"Never did enough thinking with that idea factory of yours, did you, to realize that a hot water bag can be a cold water bag just as well? Fact.

"When I want to spend a comfortable night and dodge the discomfort of a hot feather pillow that seems hotter than the sun-soaked asphalt, I get out my three-quart hot water bag. I fill it with ice water, not too full, but just so it's a little soft. Then wrap a smooth towel around it, and there's the finest hot weather pillow ever.

"Fill another one for your feet, and if you aren't comfortable in a little while you feel the heat worse than I do."

PETERBORO BOWLERS OUT OF RUNNING IN ALL EVENTS AT THE TOURNAMENT

The Peterborough bowlers are out of the running in all the events at the Dominion bowling tournament at Toronto, but they have made an excellent showing. Skips Kerr and Fitzgerald's rink reached the semi finals of the Walker Cup, the blue ribbon event of the tournament, and Skip Kerr's aggregation got into the seventh round of the Toronto Cup, a splendid record for two rinks. Messrs. Marshall and Fitzgerald of the local club won their game in the third round of the Scotch doubles, beating Chisholm and Hawke of the Gramtee, but they lost in the fourth round to Begg and Robertson of the Canadas. Messrs. Kerr and Waddell both lost in the first round of the singles.

ODD DISPUTE OVER AN EGG, WHICH WINS?

Mrs. Simons, of Toronto, no given address, went into a shop in the Ward on Thursday night to buy a live hen.

She was buying it by the pound. While the storekeeper was weighing the fowl it layed an egg.

The lady refused to pay for the egg, while the irate storekeeper demanded an extra three cents and went to find the police.

The question of who owned the egg had not been decided at a very late hour last night, though Mrs. Simons had possession.

A BONFIRE PARTY IN FANCY DRESS AT CHEMONG PARK

Chemong Park, Aug. 22. — A very enjoyable fancy dress party and bonfire was held at the summer home of Mr. T. F. Matthews last night, the hostesses being Mrs. T. F. Matthews and Mrs. Lummis. The guests came attired in all kinds of quaint dress and made an imposing picture as they gathered around the huge fire. Prizes were given for the best costumes, and the winners were Miss Wolfe, for ladies' fancy costume, and Miss Lummis for ladies' comic dress. A corn roast was part of the programme, and the gathering sang songs and played children's games by the light of the bon-fire. The evening will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Special. — T. P. Phelan yesterday secured from Justice Latchford an order of habeas corpus for the release of "Queenie" Grant, of Peterborough, now under a year's sentence in the reformatory.

Her offence, however, according to counsel, is punishable only to the extent of six months' imprisonment.

The Minister of Justice has refused to interfere.

BALDWIN AND THE ASSYRIAN ABOUD TELL OF THEIR MIDDAY ENCOUNTER ON LONELY WOODLAND ROAD IN NORTHERN TOWNSHIP

Case Against Latter Dismissed—He Faints in Court—"Take Everything, But Spare My Life" Was His Plaintive Plea

EVIDENCE ALL CONCLUDED

On resuming County Police Court yesterday afternoon, the evidence on the Aboud-Baldwin cases was concluded. The Assyrian Aboud was allowed his freedom, the magistrate finding nothing in the evidence to satisfy him that he was guilty of drawing a knife. In connection with the theft and assault cases, however, judgment was reserved until next Friday, when Baldwin will be asked to appear again. If found guilty he will get a sentence the same day.

The important proceedings of the afternoon were the evidence of Jas. Baldwin and Aboud. Baldwin's story was to the effect that the Assyrian rushed at him with the open knife, demanding the payment of the dollar. To protect himself he backed up some twenty yards more, and fortunately found a club with which he beat off the attack of Aboud. In cross-questioning the accused Mr. O'Connell secured information as to the past character of Baldwin. He has been in trouble before, and has served sentences in jail.

The Assyrian's Story

Aboud's history of the affair is altogether different. He was walking quietly along the lonely road, and on reaching the woods beyond the clearing was suddenly struck from behind. He heard no noise, saw no person, until the heavy blow fell upon the back of his head. He was somewhat staggered, and on looking around he observed Baldwin.

"Jim," said he, "take my valise, take my money and my boxes, take everything but spare my life."

With that he was struck twice again and knocked to the ground unconscious. When he regained his strength he found his pocketbook, containing $100, had disappeared.

Asked if he had any other money, he replied that there was $40 and some change in one of the valises.

This was opened in court, and his statement was found to be correct.

He never carried a knife in his life, because he never used tobacco and didn't need one. The remainder of his story was that he walked to Westlake's, and was taken to Buckhorn, where his injuries were attended to.

Almost Dies in Court

Aboud, after relating this experience from the witness box yesterday, fainted away in court. He is apparently suffering yet from the injuries he received on the 13th of August, and was advised to secure medical aid. He was taken out of the court room into the air, given cold water to drink and was finally restored to consciousness.

Constable Pearson, of Buckhorn, who was responsible for the arrest of Baldwin, was also in the witness box. He examined the spot on the woodland road, where the event occurred and stated it would be impossible to find a club where the accused said he had secured one.

After weighing the evidence in his mind, the magistrate dismissed the case against Aboud and reserved judgment in the two—theft and assault—against Baldwin.

HON. GEO. P. GRAHAM WAS CHEERED ALONG THE ROUTE OF TRENT CANAL

Fenelon Falls, Aug. 22.—Special.—After a pleasant day's journey through the Kawartha Lakes, Hon. G. P. Graham arrived here yesterday evening on the Government yacht Bessie Butler. At Young's Point he was received by over 200 residents and presented with an address. The address expressed the opinion that the inhabitants felt satisfied the energy and businesslike ability that have been displayed by Mr. Graham will continue, and that the completion of the Trent Canal would be an accomplished fact at an early date. The address also stated the appreciation of the inhabitants that the canal was being finished in a systematic manner, meeting with the hearty appreciation of navigation interests as well as those of lumbermen. At Bobcaygeon the Minister was presented with another address complimenting him on his decisive stand with regard to the early completion of the canal. This address urged upon him the necessity of placing the whole canal under contract at an early date. All along the route Hon. Mr. Graham was cheered by summer curists.

DOUBLE EGG IS DUMBELL-SHAPED, HEN FIRST FREAK

The Examiner has been shown an "egg" that is decidely a "freak." It is double in nature and is shaped like a dumb bell. The peculiar egg was layed by a hen belonging to Mrs. Crowe, East City, and is certainly a curiosity in the way of "hen fruit."

3—If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

A COLOSSAL COMPETITION.

The Review announces an interesting literary competition—it offers a cash prize of ten dollars for the best essay on the subject of "How the G. T. P. will affect farm values in Ontario." We congratulate our contemporary on its enterprise, upon the munificence of its honorarium, upon the brilliancy of the idea, upon the splendid choice of subject, and the disinterested patriotism that must have suggested it. We see how the progress of time sharpens the intellect. If the incredulous courtiers of Ferdinand and Isabella of Spain, who in their blind ignorance and unreasoning bigotry, opposed and denounced the proposal of Christopher Columbus to seek a new world, had had the brilliant inspiration of the editor of the Review, they might have offered a prize for the best essay on the subject of "How the discovery of the new world would affect the price of corner lots in Granada, or the price of oranges in Seville." That would not have been one whit more ridiculous than the absurd competition originated by our enterprising contemporary, but possibly more excusable. Those men were densely ignorant as modern light counts wisdom; they believed that the earth was flat, That was an article of religion with them. To think otherwise, as Columbus preached, was heresy. The Review evidently thinks Canada is flat and wants to keep it so by opposing its rounding out and development by the construction of an urgently-needed railway. In his intense itch for political capital, the editor is willing to block the opening up of the greater half of the great Northwest, to keep it in the eternal background, to put brakes upon the wheels of progress. Canada, in 1870, bought the Northwest for a million and a half from the "Governor and company of adventurers of England." What for? To keep it forever as a pasture lot for buffaloes?

If the Review is anxious to show that a transcontinental railway would injure the farm values of Ontario, why did it not select the C. P. R. instead of the G. T. P.? The C. P. R. has been in operation for a quarter of a century, and the Review's essayists would have facts instead of speculation to go upon. They would find in the C. P. R. a horrible example of the magnificent ruin effected by a transcontinental railway. Twenty-five years ago the C. P. R. entered the Northwest and found it a grass-grown waste, peopled by a handful of trappers, half-breeds and Indians. Now, thanks to the blighting enterprise of the C. P. R., it is the highway by sea and land between the west and the east of this round world. The Canadian Pacific Railway has peopled the Northwest with a million prosperous subjects, many of them from Ontario, who have helped make a market for the factory products of Ontario, and helped sustain a provincial, industrial population to consume the farm products and increase farm values. It has developed agricultural operations till now two hundred million bushels of grain—wheat and other cereals—are grown. The C. P. R. has provided the condition that gives Canada the proud title of "The Granary of the Empire."

The Review should, by all means, have chosen the C. P. R. as a "horrible example."

Doubtless the unbelieving Review selected the G. T. P. wittingly. Very little can be said on the subject prescribed. It meant that little should be said. The length of an essay that is to cover a continent and squelch 3,000 miles of railway is confined to 300 words—ten words to a mile. Now, 300 words in type would represent about four inches of the length of this column. The farmer essayist will have to put the milk of his wisdom on the subject into a pretty condensed form, to crowd $10 worth of argument against the building of a continent-building railway, into four inches of space.

The Review may know its own business, but it strikes the casual observer that $10 spent in the Colchester style might yield more effective political results.

INVASION.

Complaints are made by several citizens of the raids made upon their lawns by boys and others, in search of dew worms, a favourite fishing bait. It is stated that persons in search of the night-prowling lumbricus terrestris, invade lawns with lanterns, without the permission and without the knowledge of the owners. The weight of complaint is that the lawns are injured and flower beds trampled, and their beauty and tidiness accordingly impaired. This seems a small matter to complain about, but it is serious to those who are coddling their lawns for the competition of the Horticultural Society, and others who take pride in the velvetiness and perfection of their sward. However, there seems to be no remedy. There is too general inclination to vandal disregard of the beauty of our lawns and boulevards. A lawn, no matter how beautiful, no matter how much money and care it cost, if it is unfenced and situated on a corner is certain to have a ragged path tramped across it by vandal feet. The same applies to boulevards, in spite of the city by-law passed for the protection of boulevards. This practice in many cases is due to thoughtlessness or indifference, and this condition of the public mind owes a good deal of its existence to the evil example of the street authorities. Not only do those engaged in work on the streets, in the course of operations, disfigure streets with litter and rubbish, but they leave loose stones, piles of refuse, broken and rotten plants from removed wooden walks, cement dumps, etc., to cumber and disfigure. The manner in which our streets are dealt with by the authorities is a veritable disgrace. They should set an example of tidiness to citizens, but instead of that the work of citizens in beautifying their boulevards and street is actually destroyed in the course of street work. The ladies of the Art Association should go gunning for the aldermen.

RAILWAYS AND PROGRESS.

The Conservative Government of the period presented the promoters of the first transcontinental railway with twenty-five million acres of public lands, in addition to an equivalent number of dollars in cash. The lands granted were of the best and were given in alternate sections free from taxes, a condition which was hard upon those who occupied sections open to settlement. These facts are stated for purposes of comparison and not to decry the splendid service the C. P. R. has performed in opening up the west of Canada and developing its resources. In this view the expenditure in land and money does not seem to be indefensible.

On the other hand a different course has been pursued by the Liberal Government in financing the National Transcontinental Railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific. Not an acre of land has been given as a bonus to this railway, but every foot of land alongside the railway is available for settlement — made available by the construction of the railway. Moreover, every dollar of money guaranteed by the people of Canada represents an investment with gilt-edge security. The increased value given the land opened up and made accessible by the railway, will repay the investment many fold. A reliable estimation calculates that one hundred million acres of arable lands, hitherto of no market value on account of their inaccessibility, will be given a value of at least $3 an acre, as a direct result of the policy of the government in connection with the building of the railway. Thus a national asset of $300,000,000 has been created, not to speak of the commercial and industrial activities that will be brought into play by the operation of the railway, which the country virtually owns. The government will be absolute owner of the line from Winnipeg to Moncton, some 1,800 miles, and will be receiving interest at three per cent. upon its investment. No thinking or fair-minded or public-spirited Canadian, who recalls the great service the Canadian Pacific Railway has rendered the Dominion and Empire, can seriously oppose the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific, which will render as great, if not greater service, of a similar kind. As Hon. Mr. Graham pointed out on Thursday night, we Canadians do not know our country. There are unknown or unrecognized resources of infinite extent, which can only be given commercial value by provision of adequate transportation media. These are provided in part by the Canadian and Grand Trunk Pacific Transcontinental lines. They will be plainly inadequate to meet the demands of traffic and the Canadian Northern, another transcontinental railway, will need to be extended from the middle oceanwards east and west to do its share in the opening up and development of the unbounded resources of this great country. We need this great trinity of railway lines—the narrow guage line of the pessimistic little Canadians will not serve. One could hardly make a safer prophecy than that before the twentieth century has run half its course, these lines will need to be double tracked to meet the tremendous traffic their construction and operation will create. Down with the pessimist and political pettifogger, who sees the future of Canada through the miminising end of the telescope.

PROTECTION AND EXPORT

The Cowanville (Quebec) Observer advances the following rather novel claim for protection to the consumer, as well as producer:

The average individual with protective ideas firmly imbedded in his cranium only goes half way on the theory. He has been willing to delve deep into the pocket of the consumer in order to remove the glum look from the face of the manufacturer. We have seen the glum look on the face of the consumer, and our heart goes out in pity to him. The protectionist has not considered the lot of the consumer. We would suggest to our logical protectionist friends that if imports are prevented for the benefit of the producer, exports should also be prohibited in the interests of the consumer.

We know this idea will make the friends of protectionists sit up and think, but what flaw can be picked in its logic? The consumer needs protection as well as the producer and the only way that protection can be given is by the prevention of exports. Let us put up a tariff around Canada and that will help the manufacturer. He can go to work and make his goods and sell them, and Canadians will get the benefit. But why should a foreign country get the products of our mines, our forests, our canneries, our implement makers, our muscle, our brawn, our brains? Whenever we export an article we give the foreigner all these advantages, to the detriment of our home consumers. When woollen goods are exported, our people work and shiver in the cold. It would be better for Canadians if they were more woollen garments in the winter. When the manufacturer has over produced, the overproduction should be sold at reduced prices at home. In this way, those who shiver in cotton garments could afford to purchase woollen. The low prices would benefit the consumer, and the manufacturer as well, as the low prices would prevent competitors from entering the manufacturing market.

Trade consists of exports and imports. The paradise of the protectionist is the country whose trains or ships go out full of goods and come back empty. The protectionist likes to make out that the free trader or the traffic-for-revenue individual wants to see trains go out empty and come back from foreign countries overladen with goods. The tariff-for-revenue man wants to see Canadians enjoy the products and manufactured articles of foreign countries in exchange for their own. If this cannot be, the only logical thing to do is to prohibit exports and imports, and let us enjoy the products of our own labour, and not part with them to foreigners. Canada happy, well fed, and well clothed, is better than Canada ill-clothed, with a few rich manufacturers.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

President Lincoln's former shoemaker was lynched in the last disgraceful anti-negro riots in Springfield, Illinois. Thus the high and the humble are bracketted upon the roll of martyrs in the cause of freedom in the boasted free United States. Lincoln died to free the black slaves, but the white slaves remain, slaves of the most odious tyranny, the tyranny of license and anarchy.

STOMACH INDIGESTION.

Peruna Strikes at the Root of the Trouble.

MR. S. J. MASSEY.

Mr. S. J. Massey, formerly a resident of Toronto, and a well-known business man, writes from 247 Guy street, Montreal, Quebec:

"I wish to testify to the good results I have derived from the use of Peruna.

"Having been troubled for several years with catarrh of the head, I decided to give Peruna a fair trial and I can truly say I have received great benefit from its use. It evidently strikes at the very root of the trouble and good results are soon noticeable.

"I have also found Peruna a very reliable remedy for stomach trouble and indigestion.

"I have no hesitancy whatever in recommending Peruna as a reliable catarrh remedy."

There are several kinds of indigestion. The trouble may be due to sluggishness of the liver, derangements of the bowels, enlargement of the pancreas, or it may be due to the stomach itself.

In nearly all cases of stomach indigestion catarrh of the stomach is the cause. The only permanent relief is to remove the catarrh

Peruna has become well-known the world over as a remedy in such cases.

C.P.R. WORKMEN REFUSE WAGES

Winnipeg Strikers Offer to Patrol Company's Premises.

They Are Afraid of Lawless Foreign Element Following In Their Wake and Want to Suppress Socialist Meetings—Men at Montreal Refuse August Pay In Order to Stay In Company's Books.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—There is talk of suppressing the Socialist meetings, arranged for the benefit of the strikers, as the result of the discovery of the plot to dynamite the C. P. R. shops. Leaders of the strike fear their sympathizers among the foreign element much more than they do their own men, whom they have well in hand.

The men are declaring their willingness to patrol the company's property day and night in order to protect it from violence.

The strikers made a statement yesterday, claiming that "Passenger trains are invariably arriving from one to nine hours late, and are being run without proper inspection and, in some instances without water for passengers to drink. Shippers, they say, are complaining of live stock and freight being unnecessarily delayed in transit, an instance being cited of a car of horses being on the road for five days and six nights coming from Sudbury, Ont., to Winnipeg.

"The company," according to the mechanics, "are making strenuous efforts to secure men. The office of the superintendent of motive power has been turned into an employment office and a lunch counter, and all available men are hired, fed and then whisked away to the shops on motor cars in charge of detectives."

Says Secretary McVety: "The strikers have the situation well in hand and on one occasion have protected the company's property from lawless foreign sympathizers, who had made arrangements to burn part of the works."

Montreal, Aug. 22.—Both sides are now claiming that the C. P. R. strike is going their way. A small number of strikers returned to work yesterday, and a hundred more mechanics were secured by the company.

But the main body of strikers affirm they are not worried by such developments and that they still control the situation.

The company yesterday issued notices to the men to call and draw their August pay. The union, however, instructed the men not to do so, and most of them obeyed the orders. This seems to have been done to support the claim that as long as the men are on the pay lists they are employes of the company.

The company alleges the shops now have enough car men, but that they require a number of metal workers.

The company announces that the strike is not interfering with the running of trains, and they do not anticipate any trouble in moving the harvest crop.

Bell Hardie, the leader of the C.P.R. strikers, announces that a number of the brass workers at the Angus shops had joined the ranks of the strikers.

PAYETTE HONORED.

Montreal's Mayor Is Made Knight of Legion of Honor.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—At the hands of M. De Loynes, consul-general of France, Mayor Louis Payette received yesterday morning the insignia of the Knight of the Legion of Honor.

Yesterday afternoon Louis Herbette, the official delegate from France to the Quebec celebration, was entertained by Mayor Payette at the City Hall and congratulatory addresses were made on both sides.

Breach of the Factory Act.

Brantford, Aug. 22.—Provincial Factory Inspector Kelland has laid a charge against Henry Benson, whose son, 13 years old, works at the Massey-Harris factory. When the lad entered the shop his father swore he was born in November, 1893, whereas the birth registration is 1894.

Crown Attorney Wilkes will press the charge.

P.)—The Mohawk hereditary Chief Thanagarineh, otherwise Moving Horns, an Ontario herbalist, disappointed in his attempt to obtain the ear of the Privy Council respecting the Medical Association's refusal to allow him to heal, says it has cost him $3,000 so far, but he cannot rest until he gets his rights.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Mrs. E. Sherwin, who was terribly bitten by a pet terrier, since discovered to have been seized with rabies, left yesterday afternoon for New York, where she will be treated at the Pasteur Institute in the hope that hydrophobia might be prevented.

Apple Thief Shoots Farmer.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—George Simard wanted to get some apples from an orchard in Longueuil, but Farmer David objected.

Taft May Tour.

Boy Drowns.

St. Catharines, Aug. 22.—The six-year-old son of William Cornish was playing on a bridge crossing the mill race at the Thorold road, yesterday afternoon, and fell into the water. The boy was soon missed and a search was made for him by his mother. Word soon came to her that the lad had been found against the grates at the top of the flume at the Packard Works and the grief-stricken woman went to the spot, almost a mile away, and identified the boy.

PANIC AT FUNERAL IN FOREST CITY

Burial of London Fire Victims Marred by Accident.

SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED

One Woman Has Head Badly Gashed and Many Are Trampled In Mad Rush to Escape Unruly Horse While Clark-Cockburn Cortege Is Passing—Ceremony Is Impressive — Many Present.

London, Ont., Aug. 22.—While the funeral of the London fire victims was passing the debris where they met their death a team of horses attached to one of the hacks took fright and shied towards the crowd, causing a small panic in which many fainted, others were trampled on, baby buggies tipped over, windows broken and many people had their clothes destroyed. Three sustained bad cuts in the head. What was a minute before a quiet crowd gazing sorrowfully as the remains of the late chief and sergeant passed by turned into a shrieking, running mass of humanity which extended from Ridout to Wellington streets, a distance of three blocks. In the mad rush people ran down the side streets and some into stores, hallways, stairways, and many who could not get away were carried off their feet to the pavements, where they were trampled on. Mrs. Gale of 748 Grey street was standing near the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, and in the mad rush she was knocked down and received a bad gash in the back of the head. Mrs. W. E. Davis, who was standing on the corner of Talbot and Dundas streets when the rush came, managed to keep her feet till an aged lady standing near her was carried off her feet, and while in the act of helping her to arise Mrs. Davis was thrown heavily to the pavement.

The funeral services at Chief Clark's home was conducted by Rev. A. J. Vining of the Talbot Street Baptist Church, who referred feelingly to the splendid devotion to duty of the dead chief.

Rev. Canon Dann of St. Paul's Cathedral, assisted by Rev. G. N. Hazen of the Centennial Methodist Church, conducted the services at Sergt. Cockburn's home, after which the two corteges met and proceeded down Dundas street to Mount Pleasant cemetery.

The following fire chiefs attended the funerals: Thompson, Toronto; Ten Eyck, Hamilton; Henderson, St. Thomas; Pritchard, Chatham; Keyes, Galt, and Myer, Stratford.

KILLED AT THRESHING.

Farm Hand Is Dragged Into Cylinder of Machine Near Chatham.

Chatham, Aug. 22.—An accident occurred on the Dubuque Farm, Dover Township, on Thursday, in which Jos. Charron, a laborer, lost his life in a horrible way.

Dubuque was threshing and a man named MacIntyre was feeding the machine with half of the feed-board closed down. Charron got on top of the machine and began sweeping off the chaff. He got too near the feed-board and the jarring of the machine caused his foot to slip and he fell into the feed hole. He was dragged into the cylinder and killed.

Holland Awaits Report.

The Hague, Aug. 22.—Holland's action against Venezuela and the text of her note to President Castro will depend largely upon the reports M. de Reus, former Dutch Minister to Venezuela, who recently was expelled by President Castro, makes to the Government. He is expected to arrive here next Monday. M. Van Swinderne, Minister of Foreign Affairs, will consult with M. de Reus before the Government takes further steps in the matter. The ex-Minister's arrival is eagerly awaited here.

Bride Kills Herself.

Heringsdorf, Prussia, Aug. 22.—The bride of a week of Prof. Rudolph Spitzer of Sternberg, Mecklenberg Schwerin, yesterday threw herself from the top of the Bismarck tower here, falling 1,200 feet to the bottom of the cliffs, upon which the tower is built. The couple came here on their honeymoon.

The woman left a note addressed to her husband asking his forgiveness and requesting that he marry another woman with whom he could be more happy.

Short Work of Legacy.

Hamilton, Aug. 22.—A despatch from Port Huron says that John J. B. Smith, a Hamilton youth arrested on the charge of smuggling diamonds into the United States, will be released in a few days, and his mother will make an effort to have him placed in an asylum. It is alleged that he spent $1,500 of a $2,400 legacy in ten days.

Congo Treaty Adopted.

Brussels, Aug. 21.—After several months of bitter struggle, the Chamber of Deputies yesterday adopted the Congo annexation treaty by 83 votes to 55, and, though yesterday's action probably will insure the solution of the great Congo problem, there still remains open the question of Belgium's financial responsibility.

Sydney Gives Rousing Reception to U. S. Fleet.

AUSTRALIANS WANT SHIPS

Premier Deakin at Banquet Says He Looks For the Day When Commonwealth Will Have Navy Just as Good of Her Own—Half a Million Persons Greet Vessels—Sailors Parade In Streets.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 23.—Amid scenes of enthusiasm rarely if ever before equalled in an Australian city, Rear-Admirals Sperry, Schraeder, Wainwright and Emory, with their staffs and 2,000 bluejackets and marines of the American fleet, made their first official landing on Australian soil yesterday, and the Australian-American entente was resumed where it left off at Auckland, New Zealand.

Rear-Admiral Sperry and the accompanying officers of the American warships landed yesterday morning at Farm Cove, where they were formally received by Lord Northcote, the Governor-General; Alfred Deakin, Premier of the Commonwealth; the lord mayor of Sydney and the aldermen and the principal officials of New South Wales. An enormous crowd of sightseers thronged the landing and enthusiastically cheered the visitors.

Formality was laid aside in the official welcome, the authorities of Sydney and the Commonwealth greeting the visitors with every expression of kinship and good-will, voicing the unanimous sentiment in Australia that American and British interests are identical in the Pacific.

HON. ALFRED DEAKIN,

Following the big parade there was a public reception to the officers and men of the fleet in the Domain after luncheon was served, both of which functions were attended by great throngs of residents eager to show their friendship for the visitors.

The local press reflects the general feeling in Sydney that American sea power aids the security of Australasian interests in the Pacific.

It is estimated that the crowds witnessing the fleet's arrival and thronging the streets here exceeded 500,000. It is no exaggeration to say that the reception exceeds anything in the history of the fleet's world cruise, excelling even the welcome at San Francisco.

The state banquet given by Sir Harry Rawson in the town hall was a brilliant function. There were upwards of 1,650 guests, and the balconies were thronged with ladies. C. G. Wade, the Premier of New South Wales, presided. Alfred Deakin, the Prime Minister of the Commonwealth, made a striking address of welcome.

London, Aug. 22.—(C. A. P.)—A Melbourne cable says that Premier Deakin in welcoming the American fleet, said Australians lived in the hope that from their own shores some day would sail a fleet not unworthy to compare with the magnificent American squadron.

RESOLUTION PASSES.

Halifax Men Win Point Regarding C. P. R. Running Rights.

Halifax, Aug. 22.—Amid scenes of confusion never before seen at a meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade, in which the charge was made that the meeting had been "packed," the resolution, introduced by the Halifax board, to grant running rights over the Intercolonial to the C. P. R., was adopted yesterday. A motion that the vote be recorded was then put and lost, whereupon F. W. Sumner, a delegate from Moncton, charged that fifteen or twenty man not accredited delegates had voted. This imputation was resented vigorously by the Halifax delegates, but amid demands that he apologize Mr. Sumner reiterated his charges. President Faulkner of the Halifax board exploded them by pointing out that, while Halifax was entitled to fifty-four delegates, only fifteen were present.

UNREST CONTINUES.

District Around Springfield Has Not Settled Down—Six Indicted.

Springfield, Ills., Aug. 22.—Six alleged rioters have been caught in the grand jury net here. The inquisitorial body last night returned indictments against the six persons, the documents charging twenty separate offences. All were predicated upon the trouble at Leper's restaurant, and were identical with those charged against Kate Howard in the indictments returned yesterday. Judge Creighton fixed the bail at $2,000 for each indictment.

The small towns of the county continue to be danger spots. At Buffalo, a village 15 miles from here, the following notice has been posted at the inter-urban trolley line station:

"All niggers are wanted out of town by Monday, 12 noon sharp." It was signed "Buffalo Sharpshooters."

IS IT TRUE THAT THE PLANETS ARE INHABITED?

Are there countless beings watching us in this little world of ours from out of the limitless regions of space, and if so, what do they see and know?

That is the question which has agitated the mind of man since the astrologers of Assyria made bold to tell the fortunes of their fellows from gazing at the twinkling points of light in the heavens above them. Modern science has made vast strides since those days, and with the aid of the telescope and the camera is able to provide a comparative answer to the world old question.

The latest attempt to answer the question has been made by Camille Flammarion, the celebrated French astronomer. M. Flammarion is satisfied that some, at least, of the myriads planets about us are the habitation of intelligent beings. A few of the startling speculations and conclusions which he has made are presented here to the reader.

The moon practically has been given up as hopeless. Its examination has become so exact that it is certain that it life exists at all on our satellite it must do so in a most primitive and rudimentary form. With our nearest neighbour, Mars, however, it is different. We know now that Mars possesses a climate far finer and more equable than our own. That seasons occur with greater regularity than with us, and that there exists there every condition requisite for life in a high form of development.

Martian Summer

While Peary, Nansen, Abruzzi, and all their brotherhood are striving vainly as yet to penetrate the mystery of our poles, we know all about the Martian polar regions. We can watch the snow line gradually disappearing and the appearance of summer. There is little rain and few clouds at Mars and our presumptive neighbours enjoy a summer which would make the inhabitants of the South Pacific islands green with envy.

Every bit of evidence that has been added to our knowledge strengthens the theory that a race of intelligent beings inhabits Mars, and the evidence presented by the Martian canals would seem to demonstrate that they are our superiors in the mechanical arts. The little ditch at Panama would be child's play to the Martian engineer.

But while we know something about Mars, what about the countless millions of planets which revolve in their individual systems, many times bigger than the earth, and so far away that the mind reels at the figures which the astronomers present to us?

If there are inhabitants on Mars it is at least reasonable to assume that there also are inhabitants on such other of the planets which have reached a stage where life is supportable.

Homes of Strange Beings

Strange and incredible must be the beings who exist on those far distant planets. On many of them the conditions of life are almost exactly the reverse of those known to us and some of them are so vast that the discovery of an American continent would affect their inhabitants as little as the discovery of a new island would us. Jupiter is just eleven times bigger than the earth and just at present appears about to start on its terrestrial existence. That is, it probably will have finished its preparations in another few million years. That sounds pretty long, but it really is a mere bagatelle, astronomically speaking.

Long ago Jupiter was a sun all in its own right. It had a little system of seven worlds that basked in its Jovian heat, but those worlds have all gone out into the dark void. Jupiter died one day and his satellites perished, as our own world probably will perish when our sun dies. But Jupiter only died to be born again in a new shape. It finished its solar career, is rapidly passing through its stellar existence, and will presently start on its terrestrial life.

There is a little red patch visible on Jupiter which the astronomers declare is a continent in the making. If we could get near enough we would be able to see a new world in the throes of its birth. The tremendous machinery of the spheres is revolving and with the thunder of the infinite continents and oceans are being welded together in a fashion which will unite them for countless ages.

Long Years in Jupitor

A Jovian year consists of a mere trifle of 10,455 days, but in that vast chaos the sun only shines five hours each day. The great bulk is revolving at the equator at the incredible speed of a revolution every nine and a half hours, but it moves slower at the poles. This proves that the process of solidification is not yet complete and that the infant world has not yet come to its own.

But there are other worlds, illimitable in number as stars of the sea, stretching away into infinity until imagination is numbed and senseless attempting to grasp the fact of their existence. Not only worlds but entire systems, with two or three suns and moons, where beings with powers undreamed of by us mortals may, and in all probability do, exist and work out their existence in spans of time which are to our brief lives as we ourselves are to a butterfly.

The planet Castor, which in reality is two stars revolving around one another, takes 347 years for one revolution. While our annual period has been elapsing on that planet generations have grown up and passed away among us. The last Castorian year ended two earthly years ago. It commenced in 1569, before the Armada had sailed and when America was naught but the happy hunting grounds of the Indian, with a few adventurers risking their lives in attempts to penetrate its fastnesses. In the course of this tremendous year mighty towers have risen and fallen on earth, and our mighty modern world has emerged from the stress and storm of the middle ages.

Light Travels at Snail's Pace

But much stronger than all this is the contemplation of what the people of these unknown worlds are seeing if they are occupied with the concerns of this little world at all. Light travels at what to us is the inconceivable speed of 186,405 miles a second, but in the language of the spheres this is merely a snail's pace.

The light from many stars has been travelling towards us for centuries and has not yet arrived. Similarly our own light has taken centuries to reach distant worlds and is still travelling towards others which are so far from us that when light will have reached them this earth will have long ceased to exist.

If, then, the peoples of those distant stars are looking at us, they do not see us or the world as we know it, but the world as it was generations ago. Way off in space there may be a watcher who at this moment with his marvellous telescope is gazing in review the battle of Thermopylae or another nearer who is gazing with a bewildered look at the red carnage of Waterloo.

Some of these watchers of the stars could tell us the history of the Garden of Eden from the point of view of the onlooker. And the fall of Troy is a spectacle of to-day for them. The actors in the Crucifixion are living men and women to them, while of us and our little concerns they have no knowledge.

Panorama of History

In the same way if we are ever able to manufacture instruments which will enable us to watch the proceedings of our stellar neighbours we will not see the beings of our day but those of centuries ago. This brings us to a speculation of one of the results of perfected communication between the different worlds which circle about us. We would have a complete and unchallengeable history of the universe, related event by event by those who are themselves spectators.

One would relate to us the story of the civilization of Babylon as he saw it unfolded before him, while from another we would learn of those one time tropical countries which today are buried beneath the silent ice fields of the Arctic regions. What we would learn of them and their worlds in turn is beyond all speculation.

One of the most interesting of the many stars which are known to our astronomers is Saturn. No satisfactory explanation has ever been given of the luminous ring which surrounds this planet, and it forms a fruitful subject for conjecture to the scientists.

Millions of miles beyond Saturn there is an even stranger star called Gamma. Gamma is of a beautiful green colour with orange stripes. To complete its weird colouring it has a blue satellite. The wildest dreams of Wells or Jules Verne could not commence to imagine a world which exists under such conditions. If the inhabitants of this planet are not rainbow hued, they have every right to be. Perhaps, however, a delicate pea green may prove more in harmony with their surroundings. As for the vegetation and fauna, what is the use of trying to conceive flowers which grow in a green and orange world with a blue moon smiling down on them at night!

Away off in Sirius, old mother earth looks like a little bit of a star. That is, if our light has yet reached there, which is improbable. Sirius started sending its rays down to us before Eve had tempted Father Adam to eat that apple and commenced all our troubles for us. Sirens may have gone to live on Sirius when they got snubbed by Ulysses.

A few trillions of miles away there is a small and discreet star called Alpha. It is just 250,000 times as far from us as the sun, but that does not bother Alpha in any way, because it has two suns all of its own and so is in no danger of freezing to death. Alpha's two suns sometimes reign together, and sometimes alternate, a combination that must prove trying when the inhabitants go to bed at sunset and find that it is really sunrise. Perhaps they dispense with sleep altogether.

To return to Mars. That planet being the nearest to us, it is from that we must expect to receive our most accurate information. Assuming that the Martians are at least as intelligent and advanced as ourselves, they have a far greater advantage in studying the earth than we have in studying them. Their atmosphere is of such a clarity that it must afford but little obstruction to the astronomical instruments. Specific gravity is three times greater on the earth than on Mars. — Chicago Tribune.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S QUEUE

It hit a Luxuriant Suit of Straight and Very Dark Hair

The Father of his Country concealed a luxuriant suit of hair beneath his queue wig. Many now wish the old fashion were in vogue, to conceal thinned hair or baldness. Yet no one need have thin hair nor be bald, if he cure the dandruff that causes both. Dandruff cannot be cured by scouring the scalp, because it is a germ disease and the germ has to be killed. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ—no other hair preparation will. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." There's no cure for dandruff but to kill the germ. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c and $1. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

EARTH WORK THROWN UP BY MOUND BUILDERS USED FOR BURIAL PURPOSES BY THEM

Extract From Archaeological Report Provided by David Boyle Who Visited Mounds at Rice Lake

THE SEARCH FOR BONES

David Boyle, the well known geologist, who spent many years of his life among the works of the Mound Builders near Rice Lake, tells in the Archaeological report made some years ago, of the searches of souvenir hunters after the human bones, buried in the mounds. He says:

Reference has already been made to the morbid depredations of diggers anxious merely to lay bare human remains or to possess a skull. At numerous points along the top of the serpent mound excavations for this purpose have been made, but in no case apparently to a depth exceeding two feet. As the cast-up earth about these places is mingled with bone-fragments, there is little doubt that the earthwork has been used for burial purposes by a people who succeeded the mound-builder—a people to whom the structure possessed no significance, or, at any rate, a significance very different from what it had to those who, at infinite pains, laboured to put the embankment into shape. It will be seen that as in every instance the vandal-holes have been sunk on the crown of the ridge, the result is serious disfigurement. Selecting the highest point of the mound left undisturbed, seventy feet from the end of the tail, I made one made five feet wide, extending from the north side to the middle of the bank, which is here twenty-four feet across the base, simply to examine the interior nature of the structure, the surface of which was here somewhat stony, a fact that no doubt accounts for its hitherto non-disturbance by white savages, some of whom are said to have searched (very stupidly) for hidden treasure, and not for bones. Human bones were exposed within two feet of the surface, but like those of the egg-mound, all much decayed. Some of the boulders taken from this cut were all that a man could lift, but many of them did not weigh more than from ten to twenty or thirty pounds each. The placing of the earth was manifestly done by hand, layers and patches of dark soil being mingled with yellow clay; beyond this there was nothing to indicate man's agency, but the proof yielded was ample. A slight examination was made at the head of the mound, the result being to show that here also comparatively recent burials had been made, but lower than eighteen inches from the surface there was no sign of bones.

South of the serpent mound, on the slope facing the lake, are several small elliptical mounds. One of them near the head is forty-one feet in length and nineteen feet wide, another near the tail is forty feet long and twenty-two feet wide, and between these is what may be called a twin-mound, consisting as it does of two earth-heaps side by side and touching each other. The more southerly of these is thirty-seven feet long, and about twenty-two feet in width, while the other is shorter and only fourteen feet wide. In every instance the longer axis is east and west. A superficial examination of all these brought to light intrusive burials in each case, within a foot or eighteen inches of the surface.

In the smaller or northern portion of the twin mound were buried an adult and a child. The skull of the adult is in excellent preservation.

Only two other good skulls were procured from these mounds, and one of them from mound D, near the serpent's tail, presents the best example we have in the museum of what is known as the Inca bone.

WHO WANTS TO MARRY MARY AND GET $450 AND A HOME?

She Was Jilted and Is Willing to Marry Anybody Who Wants Her

HARRY TREATS HER BADLY

Pittsburg, Aug. 22.—Special.—Who will marry Mary Rowins, aged 24, fairly good-looking and willing to quit her job in a pickle factory to take up that of mistress of a home? The home is all ready. There is $450 in the bank to Mary's credit. The successful applicant for the post of husband can have all three — Mary, the furnished home and the bank account.

Miss Rowins lives at No. 6 Pulaski alley, and was to have been married a week ago. Her husband-that-was-to-have-been was a young mill worker, and sought to delay the wedding because he had no money to buy a new suit. Mary, however, came up with the cash and also with the $5 with which to pay for the bridal carriage. Then the young man disappeared.

The damsel announced that she was willing to marry anybody who wants her, that is, provided the applicant is passably good-looking and is not already a benedict. She says she will turn over the furnished house, which cost her $750, and her bank account. Miss Rowins is the orphan daughter of a former well-known Lawrenceville mill worker, and has been a worker herself ever since her tenth year. She said:

"Harry, the derelict one, treated me bad, and I never want to see him again. Still, I have the house furnished, and I may as well be married. The house is too large for me to live in by myself. I want a man, not a monkey. Harry professed to love me, but when the time came he ran away. The next time I see him I am going to pull his hair, and make him sorry he ever met me."

SLOPEVILLE FARMERS HAVE GOOD CROPS

Threshing Operations Now in Vogue—Farmer Loses Apples

Examiner Specials

Slopeville, Aug. 22.—The farmers in this vicinity are very busy at present. Most of the cutting is done and the greater part of the crop is stored away. A number of farmers have threshed and seem well satisfied with the results. Peas, oats and fall wheat are very much better than last year both in quantity and quality. Barley, however, is a failure.

Mr. McCann, the village smith, says things are booming in his line and that it matters little to him which way the elections go.

A number of local young men are contemplating matrimony in the near future.

Mr. W. Ryan visited friends in Slopeville last Sunday. His many friends wish him a safe journey to the West, for which place he will soon depart.

Night prowlers are playing havoc with Mr. Moher's apples. He says he will straighten them, and to do this he is thinking of bringing a detective on the scene.

Miss Loretta O'Brien of Peterborough is the guest of Miss Annie Condon.

Miss Gertrude McMartin of Peterborough visited friends in Douro on Sunday last.

Mr. Hugh Kelly of Dummer was visiting with friends here on Sunday last.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

Sir, I would like the writer of the "St. John's Church" notes to explain why the language which has been used for generations past is not continued. The word "sacristy" used in the notes is misleading, as many consider the word applied to a "Lady" or "Morning" chapel, and not to a vestry. Why not use the word "Vestry" as we all understand it? This would be understood by the members of the church.

Yours truly,
CHURCHMAN.

THE TOWER FIRE ESCAPE MODELS

In an article on the efficiency of fire escapes, in the current number of "Cement Age," New York, two types of what are known as tower fire escapes are described; the outside balcony type and the inside balcony type. The first was evolved from the old-style brick-enclosed tower stairway. The door opened directly from the stair tower into the building, whereas, in the case of the tower fire escape, the door from the stairway opens to an outside balcony and another door affords access from the balcony into the building proper. This type became quite popular as a fire escape in Philadelphia, and was adopted and made compulsory in 1893 by the Bureau of Building Inspection of that city. The principal objection to its use was the fact that persons were exposed to the weather in getting from one storey to the other by means of this balcony and stairway. The stairway itself is enclosed and may be heated. It is also lighted by either glass panels in the door or transom over the door, and the opening and closing of the door to the outside air affords sufficient ventilation. To overcome to some extent the exposure, the second type was designed, which differs from the first only in the fact that the balcony is within the walls of the building, instead of outside. The space that would otherwise be occupied by a window, is left open, so that should smoke issue from the apartment through the door to the balcony, it will pass out of the opening which is considerably larger and higher than the door to the stairway, thus keeping the stairway entirely smokeproof. The door between the stairway and balcony is a standard tin-clad fire door. Wire glass panels with metal sash are permitted in the door, and wire glass metal frame transom is permitted over the door.

Either type of tower fire escape, preferably the latter, placed at each end of a large school building, the balcony connecting directly with the main corridors, would afford easy and safe egress to all the occupants in case of fire. Should the fire be in either end of the building, people would naturally run to the stairway at the opposite end. These stairs being used regularly, the people would instinctively use them at the time of a fire. They are always made in at least two runs, with landing for ease between storeys.

Another development of this is to provide a passenger elevator within a stair wall, in which case the walls of the tower apartment should be about square and the steps made in three runs with two intermediate quarter pace landings, the elevator openingon the side where there are no steps.

In another form of fire escape, used in many of the public schools in Philadelphia, the stairs are made double thread; that is, two stairways within the same plan, each forming an exit for the opposite side of the schoolhouse. These are generally for the purpose of economy, placed in the middle of one side of the school building, and have all the advantages of the types previously mentioned.

WHISPER-COLORED HAIR

The poet was favoring a friendly soul with his last verses. The verses were descriptive of a beautiful girl. The poet read:

Her head was massed in flowing curls,
The color of a whisper.

This made the listener, "sit up." "What's that" he said. "Read that again."

"I thought you would say something about that," the poet answered. "I don't want to appear egotistical, but that little phrase gives some scope for the exercise of the mind."

"In what way"

The poet laughed.

"Don't you see," he said, "how beautifully that describes the color of her hair? Every poet speaks of golden hair or raven locks. To be a success one must be original. Well, she did not have golden hair. It was nearly golden, and I convey the impression by means of that one word."

The other still looked puzzled.

"You have heard," said the poet, patiently, "that silence is golden?"

"Yes," the other admitted.

"Well," resumed the poet, "if silence is golden, what would a whisper be? It would be nearly golden, wouldn't it?"
—St. James' Budget.

KINGLY KISSES

The King kissed the Kaiser and the Kaiser kissed the King. If the King kissed the Kaiser kindly, what effect had that upon the Kaiser that the King kindly kissed? To our democratic tastes the item of news to the above effect seems more like an extract from a children's game than a serious international courtesy. Fear of committing lese majeste prevents us from making any observations as to the tastes of the Kaiser, but we venture to say that there are a thousand pretty girls in Germany that the King would sooner have kissed than his august nephew.—Victoria Colonist.

THINKS ALL BANNERS SHOULD BE REMOVED

A By-Law Against It Which Should Be Enforced

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I understand that there is a bylaw on the city's statute books prohibiting the erection of banners across the street. Is this bylaw not broken? Every week we see a couple of fresh streamers go up and nothing is said of them. The other day the Lawn Bowlers erected one and they were ordered to remove it. If it is contrary to the city's constitution to have these banners up, why doesn't the Chief of Police see that they are removed? If we are to be law-abiding citizens the authorities should see that such an easy bylaw to enforce, is enforced.

Yours truly,
OBEDIENCE.

WANTED TO MARRY CHILD.

Old Minister Chose This Way of Leaving Her His Money.

Ellicott City, Md., Aug. 23.—A license was issued yesterday for the marriage of Rev. George S. Fitzhugh, aged 67 years, to Lulu V. Frazier, a girl 10 years old.

The proposed marriage has not taken place, however, Mr. Fitzhugh having suffered a severe attack of heart disease after obtaining the license, and he is now said to be critically ill in South Baltimore. Mr. Fitzhugh is understood to be an Episcopal clergyman of Virginia, of which state the little girl is also a native. When the license was secured a necessary letter of assent from the girl's mother was exhibited to the clerk.

The explanation of the peculiar case is said to be that Rev. Mr. Fitzhugh desires to make little Miss Frazier his heiress, and that his object cannot be attained to his satisfaction by the adoption of the child.

A TERRIBLE REVENGE.

Russian Terrorists Annihilate Entire Family Accused of Informing.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 22.—News has reached this city of a terrible vengeance taken by the revolutionists in Yekaterinoslav Province, upon a Jewish family named Edelstein, who were accused of giving information to the authorities.

They visited the Edelstein house and threw bombs through the windows. They then opened on the members of the family with revolvers and shot to death the father, a daughter, a woman guest and her child. The mother, a son-in-law and two grandsons were severely wounded. In the course of a couple of hours the victims who were still alive had been conveyed to a hospital. Not satisfied with their vengeance the revolutionists now descended upon the hospital and shot the mother and son to death.

THE EXAMINER'S SPORTING PAGE

LACROSSE AS IT WAS PLAYED NEARLY THIRTY YEARS AGO BY BUSINESS MEN OF TO-DAY

Two Interesting Accounts of Games Played Against Cobourg and The Toronto Independents in 1881

SOME OF THE PLAYERS

The accounts given below of lacrosse matches as they were played a generation ago have been taken from the files of the Examiner for 1881. They furnish an interesting story of the times when Messrs. H. LeBrun, Wm. Rudkins, R H Fortye, Chris. Rutherford and other players now well-known in business life, were battling with the gutted stick. Peterborough's lacrosse team was famous at that time and won many brilliant victories.

The first account is the story of a game played at Cobourg on May 24, and is as follows:

Between 150 and 200 left town on the lacrosse club's excursion to Cobourg, where the first match of the season, Cobourg v. Peterborough, formed the principal feature of the programme of sports under the auspices of the Cobourg A. A. A very large number of citizens and visitors were present to witness the sports, which commenced shortly before two o'clock. The event upon which the chief attraction was centred was the lacrosse match, which was called, on about 3.30. As a number of events had yet to be contested, it was agreed that play should cease at 5 o'clock, the team having the most goals at that hour to be declared the winners. At 16 minutes to 4 the ball was faced, the following taking part in the game:

Peterborough	Cobourg.
Field Captain
H LeBrun	W. Salisbury

W Sanderson	J Billington

Referee—Jas. Macdougall, Montreal.

From the start it was very apparent that the game would be a defence one on the part of Cobourg, and throughout the first game the ball was kept almost constantly in front of the Cobourg goal, where the principal play was confined. It was particularly noticeable that neither team made anything like fine playing, and that the Peterborough team, with one or two exceptions, did not do nearly as neat playing as they have been accustomed to. The length of the grass preventing the picking up of the ball, and as a consequence the game at times had a strong complexion of shinnying and football. After ten minutes keenly contested playing, the first game was won by Peterborough, Rutherford sending the ball through the goal. The second game occupied 17 1-2 minutes and was considerably more favourable to the Cobourg team. Peterborough playing with overconfidence and becoming somewhat careless, missed several good shots. The ball finally was thrown in front of their goal, where, after considerable scrambling, it was kicked through by Clench, scoring one for Cobourg. The third and last game occupied the same time as the second, and was perhaps the most closely contested of the match. Both teams played to better advantage, but the superiority of the Peterborough team showed itself by some excellent playing on the part of Hackett, Rutherford, Sheehy and P. Rudkins. Rutherford, by a splendid home shot, finally decided the game and won the match for Peterborough.

Toronto Club Lost

The second match, of which the following account is given, was played on Dominion Day, 1881. The Examiner of the same week says:

Much interest was centred in the lacrosse match which had been announced to take place between the Independents of Toronto and the home club, the Empire City boys having a fine record, and bearing a high reputation as skilful and well organized players. The grounds were packed with the largest crowd that has been seen there for many a day in anticipation of a keen contest, nor were they disappointed in their expectations, as the play throughout was the best ever witnessed on the grounds. The contending teams were as follows:

Peterborough	Independents
Field Captain
H LeBrun	H J Gilmour

W Simpson	E Beanne

W Rudkins	J Matthews

Referee — Joseph Bresult, Montreal.

The ball was faced at 3.14 and sharp play at once commenced. The rubber was first sent in dangerous vicinity of Peterborough goal, but it was promptly returned to the Toronto flag, where, by hard play, it was stubbornly kept by the Peterborough boys. The strong point of the Torontos is in their superior throwing and catching, giving them great advantage in open field play. The excellent checking of the Peterborough boys, however, kept this advantage out of their way, and every time the ball was sent to field it was promptly returned on the Toronto defence. After a hot contest lasting 23 minutes, a capital throw to the home field by Simpson sent the ball through the Toronto goal, Phelan assisting the ball in its passage and sharing the honour, which won the first game for Peterborough.

The second game was a repetition of the first, Peterborough persistently bearing the ball down on the Toronto goal and compelling the latter to play a defensive game. After ten minutes play, M. McDonald, for Peterborough, by a splendid stroke from centre, put the ball clean through the Toronto goal, winning the second game.

In the third game Torontos made a vigorous effort to redeem their game. They succeeded in getting the ball out to field, and the home team scattered, the latter failing to check as in the former games, and after some fine playing the ball was sent through Peterborough's flags by Bourdon in 11 minutes, winning the third game for Toronto.

The fourth game was a simple repetition of the third. In spite of the efforts of the Peterboroughs, the Independents got the ball out and it was passed through the Peterborough goal in four minutes by a capital shot from O'Farrell.

The games now stood 2 to 2, and as the fifth game opened it was evident both parties were bent on winning the honours of the day. The excitement in the crowd was intense, and the changing fortunes of the game were marked by outbursts from the onlookers. Peterborough succeeded in bearing the ball down on the Toronto goal and fought desperately to keep it there. Once the ball was captured by an Independent and sent up to the Peterborough flags, but it was promptly returned, and after 24 minutes of desperately contested and excellent play on both sides, M. Hackett secured the honour of winning the game and the match for Peterborough by putting the ball through the Independent goal, closing the game at 5 p.m. The result was received with the most tumultuous enthusiasm by the crowd.

Where the play was so generally good it would be invidious to particularize. Matthews of Toronto played to best advantage on that side, but it was noticeable on the side of the home team that the play was remarkably even, there being no lagzards and no 'aux pas,' showing the result of practice and good organization. At the conclusion of the match the visiting team were taken to the Huffman House, where supper was provided, and after a short reunion, escorted to the train. The Independents say this is the second time they have been beaten since their organization three years ago; that they were defeated on their merits; that Peterborough is the best team they have ever played with, and that they have nowhere received better treatment than on their visit here.

Philosophy On Time Of Year Marathons Should Be Run

Runner Should be Bothered as Little as Possible With the Heat —How Herald Race Was First Conducted

THANKSGIVING IDEAL DAY

Much has been written during the past week about the horrible spectacle presented at the finish of the Marathon; the collapsing of Dorando, the exhausted condition of Hayes and Hefferon, and the general all-in appearance of the runners that finished away back, and the question naturally arises, "Will the result of the English Marathon tend to abolish the running of future Marathons at Olympic meets?" The sorry showing of the English ten and fifteen-mile champions has not caused the English to laud the Marathon distance any, and the reform element on this side of the Atlantic are advocating the elimination of the feature event.

Before decrying the Marathon race would it not be well to consider the fact that barring the original runner from Marathon to Athens, which resulted in the death of the bearer of the glad tidings that the Greeks had put it over their enemies, the running of 26 miles, or other long-distance races, has been noticeably shy of even temporary physical disabilities to the runners.

What's the answer?

Well, when you look into it you will find that the promoters of long-distance races generally endeavour to fix the date of the race so that the men will be bothered as little as possible by the sun's rays; that is, on this continent the long-distance fixtures are held either in the early spring or the fall. The Herald Road Race, in Hamilton, the original race in America, was first held on Christmas day. That was considered far too late in the season and the second running was switched to Labour Day. Now, anyone who remembers that September day when Frank Woods won, with Sandy Donald second, will agree with the writer that it was one awful bunch of dust and heat for the runners to gasp and stifle through. If Christmas was likely to be too cold Labour Day was the worst of the two extremes, and the promoters of the race decided upon making it a fixture for Thanksgiving Day.

Although the date has shifted from November to October and back again to November, the cool weather of the autumn has been found just about ideal for long distance running, and the men run some faster on this continent than they did in England or Greece.

No one wants to be accused of championing a branch of sport that is injurious to the health of the contestants, but, as we have mentioned before on this page, Marathon runners require something different in weather conditions to that welcomed by sprinters and jumpers, and you all know that it would be the height of folly for the sprint men or the "lepers" to indulge in outdoor competition in midwinter.—Toronto Saturday Night.

Yankee Rogers Has Contract To Go On An English Tour; Must Not Lose The Match Here

Probably the best offer made to any wrestler, with the exception of Frank Gotch, is the one just received by Mr. W B Naylor, manager of Yankee Rogers, the famous American wrestler.

During the past six months the wrestling craze has touched England pretty bad. Big, even enormous, gates are the rule at every match, and the managers there are seeking only the very best men in the world. Frank Gotch got a fine offer, but could not accept it, owing to previous arrangements, and that offer has now been sent to his most formidable rival, Yankee Rogers, the man who appears here next Friday at Brock street rink, where he meets the German giant, Fritz Mohl.

The contract received for the English tour is certainly a good one. Rogers is entered in the world's tournament, London, (a tournament that will decide the second best man in the world), and from the letter received by Manager Naylor, the English management appear to think the series are as good as won by Yankee.

Sam Anderson of New York is the man who won the last tournament there, and the English press thinks he is a world beater.

Readers of the Examiner will know the chances of Yankee Rogers are very good when we say that Rogers gives Anderson a handicap of four times in one hour, and beats him.

Much depends upon how well Rogers shapes in his next few matches, as one stipulation of the contract is that he must be unbeaten when he arrives in England. His match with Mohl will be a serious affair, and he will not be allowed to take any chances of defeat. A victory to Mohl would enhance his earning capacity for the coming session, and would be a serious blot upon the record of the big Yankee.

Manager Naylor Will Have Famous Syrian Wrestler Under His Control

Hassan Abdallah the famous Syrian wrestler, who has won the great tournament in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, is expected to arrive in New York to-day.

Hassan Abdallah is one of the cleverest men the Orient has yet produced, and he is feared by many of the American and Continental wrestlers. He is not a remarkably big man but he is powerful and strong. His style is peculiar. Crouching like a panther, he awaits his man with that cunning and stealth that marks all his work. Abdallah weighs 202 lbs. and is about 5 feet 9 inches in height. All his matches will be under the control of Manager Naylor, who is well-known here as manager of Yankee Rogers, and Mr. Naylor thinks he has a big chance of beating Gotch with one of these men during the coming season.

Abdallah makes his first appearance in the Columbia Theatre, Boston, on Monday next, when he meets all comers. Mr. Naylor will leave Peterborough immediately after the Mohl-Rogers match to look after the debut of this world-famed wrestler.

WEST ENDS WILLING TO PLAY

Will Meet Strathconas for Side Bet of $10 —Want the Money Too

To the Sporting Editor of the Examiner.

The Strathconas, in reply to the West End's challenge, state they are unwilling to play unless a substantial sum is put up on the game. Now, we think the West Ends are entitled to a game, each team having won of the two games they have played against each other. Our team won the first on Good Friday, when they had their regular team on, by the score 6—5, and lost the second game with a weak team, 17—7. However, the club is willing to put up $10 to say that their team will not have the small end of the score at the finish. The West Ends will also have a hockey team this winter, so that a tenner will not come amiss.

Thanking you for your valuable space, we are

WEST END CLUB.

GAME OF BALL ENDEN IN A ROW

The game at Wellington Thursday between Bloomfield and Wellington is described by the local players who took part, as a most exciting contest. The game broke up in a row in the ninth innings with the score 5—5, and will have to be re-played. A double umpire system was being used with a Bloomfield and a Wellington man acting. In the ninth Bloomfield had the bases full with two out and Hickey at the bat. The latter knocked a little one in front of the plate and Edmunds picking up the sphere, shot it to first. The Peterborough-Wellington combination thinking the side was retired, trotted in, but to their disgust the Bloomfield umpire called the ball foul. The Wellingtons refused to continue and the game was ended there and then. Over 700 people saw the contest and the excitement throughout was intense. The Wellington team consisted of Hawkins p, Edmunds c, Lawson 1b, Anderson 2b, Shea ss, Burns 3b, and three Wellington men in the outfield. As the Pets were the blue and white of the Peterborough Club it looked as if Manager Johnston's men were playing a Midland League game.

TWO CHALLENGES FOR STANLEY CUP

Edmonton Has Been Accepted But Renfrew's Goes on Fyle

The Stanley Cup trustees, Messrs. P. D. Ross and William Foran, have two cup challenges at hand. One from the Edmonton Hockey Club has been accepted and Wanderers of Montreal, the holders, will be asked to defend the trophy on dates that will in no way interfere with the hockey season in the east.

The other challenge is from Renfrew, and, as far as accepting it goes, the trustees have not yet given it any consideration, merely placing it on file. Mr. Foran, however, states this challenge will be taken up shortly by the trustees.

Many of the teams that will be directly interested in Stanley Cup series will have their troubles when confronting the trustees with new men drafted purposely for strengthening. Hamby Shore has an offer to play with Edmonton. When asked with regard to Shore's eligibility, Mr. Foran said:

"No, Shore cannot compete in the cup series with Edmonton. The trustees laid down the rule at the close of last season that drafting and transfering would not be permitted for Stanley Cup games and the only players eligible to compete with a challenging team would be one who had not taken part in a cup series the previous year. In other words, a season would have to intervene to make the player eligible."

Renfrew may be able to strengthen by signing on E O H L players other than members of the Wanderer team. In this connection it is said the Renfrew management will not stop at dollars to gather a formidable team together. It is well known Fred Taylor can go there at any time, and some other well known players in the east have been offered tempting salaries.

Sporting Comment

"The Indian is far from real shape yet, but if Tom Flanagan will keep on running him just as he is doing at present, even if he does get beaten, he will soon get into shape," says Billy Sherring. "Why, if Simpson had cut a fast mile in their race Saturday, Longboat would have lost the race, just as he did yesterday, when Sellen's ding-dong pace the first part of the race caught the Indian in the final stages and took the running all out of him. do not believe that the Indian is a has-been, but am confident that with proper care for a few months he will is still the greatest runner ner the world ever saw."

Arthur Burn, the Calgary runner, is giving the Vin Mariana wine with which the Olympia runners were nourished on the long grind, all the blame for the race he ran. Burn has a poor chance to blame any wine when it was a foregone conclusion before he left Canada that he hadn't a chance. It looks as though he would be better off in his Calgary brickyard.—Hamilton Spectator.

HAD FIRE AT STURGEON POINT

Small Damage Done to Dr. Neeland's House on Saturday

Examiner Special:

Sturgeon Point, Aug. 22. — This morning shortly after 11 o'clock the summer kitchen attached to Dr. Neelands' summer cottage was seen to be on fire by Miss Neelands. The young lady happened to pass through the building, where there was a hot fire in the stove, when she discovered it had ignited the roof immediately around the pipes.

The alarm was heard by Mr Clarry who resides next door, and whose prompt ness saved the building, and with the added assistance of the neighbours, who were attracted by the alarm, soon put the fire beyond danger, and no doubt much property in the vicinity, as a very strong wind was blowing at the time.

The loss will not be large.

HORRIBLE DEATH OF NEW YORK WOMAN

Highwaymen Throw Her in Front of a Passing Trolley Car

Examiner Special

New York, Aug. 24.—Two highwaymen, bent on robbing a well dressed woman at 9th and Amsterdam avenue at 12.15 a.m., to-day, became so infuriated when she screamed and tried to fight, that they dragged her from the sidewalk and hurled her in the path of a trolley car. As the car crushed the life out of her they escaped.

RINK IS READY FOR THE BIG MATCH

Platform Has Been Erected in the Centre of the Arena

The Brock street rink is all ready for the big Rogers-Mohl wrestling bout on Friday night and should prove an ideal place for puffing off the event. A twenty foot square platform has been erected in the centre of the arena and a splendid mat has been laid down for the wrestlers. The ring is elevated and is so situated that any seat in the rink commands an excellent view of the mat. There will be a few ring side seats in the arena itself but the rest of the seats will be along the side so that there will be nothing to obstruct the view from any part of the rink. The interest in the event is growing hot and there promises to be a record crowd in the building when the two giants face each other at 8.30 Friday night.

SAVES HORSE FROM A BURNING BUILDING

Fire in Stables of Mr. Crosier, Cobourg on Saturday

About 2 o'clock on Saturday morning fire broke out in the stable of Mr. G Crosier, Cobourg, and caused about $300 damage. When the alarm was sounded the brigade made for the blaze and succeeded in extinguishing it but not before damage to that extent had been done. Mr. Crosier hurried to the scene in his night clothes and succeeded in saving the horses. The origin is not known.

FOUL PLAY FEARED TO BE CAUSE OF TRAINMAN'S DEATH

Examiner Special.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Sometime between 9 and 10 o'clock on Saturday night, James Burgess German, a C. P. R. brakesman, running out of West Toronto to Peterborough and Havelock, met his death. He would have been 27 years old yesterday, and was the sole support of his parents, who live at 136 Vine avenue, West Toronto.

Young German, a fair-haired lad with the sunniest of dispositions had gone down to the Wheat Sheaf Hotel to see his brother George, who is employed as a switchman at Bathurst street by the Grand Trunk. The two were together for a time, but when George went to work James went out to see the operator at the North Parkdale station, remaining with him till about 9 o'clock. That was the last seen of the unfortunate lad until his mangled body was found at the foot of Tecumseh street. The theory advanced by the police is that he had been struck by a yard engine running light and thrown over on the other track to be cut in pieces by the next passing train. The relatives hold entirely different views as to the cause of death.

"In going over the ground yesterday afternoon," said a brother, J D. German, a passenger conductor with headquarters in Elora, "many things struck me as being very significant and peculiar. The first was the distance from Parkdale station to where the body was found, and the entire absence of money in Jim's pocket. The C.P.R. pay day was only a few days ago, and he carried a good-sized roll of bills in his left hand hip pocket.

His aged parents are completely prostrated by the shock. He was so full of fun and life, said the mother, and to-day was his birthday. To think of him going out so free from care and being called like that, it's awful, simply awful.

At home, besides the father, Frank German, and the mother, is a sister, Bessie. Another sister, Mrs. Melvor, is visiting friends in Detroit. In addition to the brothers, J D. and George, there is a brother Philo, who is also a railroader employed by the Union Pacific, with headquarters at Ogden, in Utah, U.S.A. The latter, who had been notified of the tragedy, wired last night, saying that if the body could be kept till Saturday he would come home. But that was out of the question, and he was wired an answer to that effect.

A Vicious Horse Kicked Another Equine And Rig Off The Road

A peculiar incident, which apparently indicates a vindictive tendency on the part of the horse, is reported from Otonabee. Some of Mr. Dave Crowley's family were driving in a buggy along the road known as the "Crowley line," when they encountered a horse belonging to Mr. Jas. Crowley, which was pasturing on the side of the road. As the buggy was passing the free horse, the latter without the slightest warning kicked viciously with his hind legs at the other horse, striking him in the side and toppling horse and buggy off the road and into the ditch on the other side. The occupants of the buggy were unhurt, but the vehicle did not escape so easily, and was pretty badly wrecked by the accident.

HAVELOCK DENTIST PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY WHILE IN BATH TUB

While taking a hot water bath yesterday at his home in Havelock, Mr. Demike, dentist, of that place, suddenly expired in the bath tub. Dr. Crawford was summoned but on his arrival life was extinct. Corner Gray was communicated with but after learning the particulars of the case decided it was unnecessary to hold an inquest.

Mr. Demike was married to Miss McGlennin, of Cobourg, who survives him, as well as two small children.

A. R. Williams Co. Purchases The Wm. Hamilton Foundry

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., has disposed of his interests in the Wm. Hamilton foundry to the A. R. Williams Company, Toronto. Mr. N. A. Hollinrake, vice-president of the company, is in the city to-day, and the prospects are that the machinery of the Hamilton foundry will be dismantled and taken to Toronto.

CROSSED ATLANTIC AT AGE OF 91; LIVED IN REIGN OF FIVE SOVEREIGNS

To have lived during the reigns of no less than five British sovereigns and to have travelled across the Atlantic at the age of 91 years are two unique claims to distinction which may be made by a lady who has recently taken up her residence in Peterborough. She is Mrs. Stenson of Dublin, Ireland, grandmother of Mrs F. C. Moore, of Peterborough, with whom she is making her home. Mrs. Stenson was born in 1817 in the reign of George III., and has, therefore lived in the reigns of George III., George IV., William V., victoria and Edward VII. She arrived in Peterborough last week from Ireland, having come across the Atlantic with her grandson, Mr. E. Hackett, who is a graduate of Dublin University, and who will devote himself to educational work in this country. Mrs. Stenson, despite her advanced age, stood the long sea voyage extremely well, and in fact escaped without the slightest attack of mal de mer which so often spoils the pleasure of an ocean voyage, even for far younger and stronger travellers.

PROGRAMME FOR THE ARMY BAND CONCERT

The following programme will be rendered by the Salvation Army Band under the direction of J. M. Greene, on Tuesday evening, in Victoria Park:

March—"Melbourne."
Selection—"Old Times."
March—"Prize March No. 1," This is one of the finest marches in the Army Journals.
Quartette—"Village Chimes."
Selection—"All Nations." This is a very choice arrangement.
Trombone solo—"I Have Pleasure," by Bandsman Moyna.
March—"Plymouth." One of the most popular marches of the day.
Selection—"Guide Me, Great Jehovah," with variations for cornet, baritone and euphonium.

The above will be the last musical festival the Army Band will give this season in the park, and it promises to be the finest they have ever rendered. The special item on the above is the selection "All Nations." In this not only will the different national anthems be played, but they will be represented by the flags of each nation, carried by little girls.

BETTER TIMES IN SIGHT.

Without being unduly optimistic it may be suggested that there is reliable evidence that the sharp edge is being taken off the dull times that have prevailed to a certain extent the past year or so. The cloud of depression is lifting and things are coming gradually back to their normal condition. The banking situation has very sensibly improved and there is a gratifying forward impulse to trade. During the past two weeks Canadian imports have taken on a sharp advance, an indication that the tide of trade has turned and that the flow is following the ebb. The recent drop in import was, perhaps, more apparent than real; comparative rather than absolute. It is to be remembered that the imports of last year were phenomenal. The merchants had stocked heavily and the falling off in demand made it unnecessary for merchants to make large importations. Times some little while ago became easier, and consequently these surplus stocks were reduced and importations have again become the order of the day; hence the improvement in customs receipts. With great crops in the Northwest, and with good crops elsewhere throughout the Dominion, it is more than probable that at the end of the year it will be seen that while the business of 1908 may not be up to the high water mark of last year, it will be encouraging.

THE POLICY OF MISREPRESENTATION.

The Conservatives were hard hit by the result of the general elections in Saskatchewan. They predicted a great Conservative victory, and the actual result was a shock, so great that the Conservative journals had to let themselves and a waiting country down easy. Immediately after the polling, false reports were sent out broadcast—by the way one came to the Examiner—stating that Hon. Mr. Scott's Liberal Government had been smashed, or so nearly maimed as to be harmless. These false reports (though Western Liberal journals had the correct reports from the beginning) were repeated for several days till the mendacious journals were forced to acknowledge the truth, namely, that the Liberals in Saskatchewan had "scored a magnificent, sweeping triumph." The Manitoba Legislature has exactly the same number of seats as the new Saskatchewan Legislature — forty-one. In the Provincial general election contest in this Province last year the Roblin Government secured twenty-eight seats, and the Liberal Opposition thirteen—a result which comes very near to being identical with the division in the new Saskatchewan Legislature as effected by the general elections. It could not come any closer without being identical. And yet the Conservative organ, the Winnipeg Tribune, declared the Roblin Government's victory to a "magnificent, sweeping triumph." While by persistent false reports it brought itself to declare the Saskatchewan election results "a bad jolt for Scott,—in large type and in two colours of ink. In our way of viewing, these bogus claims of a Conservative victory amount to little, but they gain importance because they are a part of the Conservative plan of campaign—"the refuge of lies," slander and false representation have been the policy of the Conservative Opposition. Last session of Parliament was converted by them into a slander session, freedom of speech was abused, public men were slandered, business transactions misrepresented, the tone of public life was debased and parliamentary business brought to a standstill by the Conservative policy of slander, insinuation and misrepresentation. The mendacity about the results of results of the Saskatchewan elections was only the logical pursuance of a policy which has brought a large class of Conservative journals into disrepute and taught the public to take any utterance by them on political subjects with a generous pinch of salt. But the penalty is upon them. When, by chance, they speak the truth it will be listened to with reserve.

It was fortunate for Ontario that the Ross Government had faith in New Ontario, and that they showed their faith by their works, in constructing the Provincial Railway, the Temiscaming and Northern, to develop the resources of that region. In the work of construction the great silver deposits were discovered. This year it is estimated that there will be brought out of the silver belt the enormous sum of twelve million dollars, not in mining scrip, but in solid metal. There may be less stock gambling, but there will be a great output of silver.

PROMISE AND FULFILMENT.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

A year ago to day the Ottawa Free Press, in common with many another newspaper throughout Canada, devoted considerable space to a speech delivered at Halifax the evening before by Mr. R. L. Borden, the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, in which that gentleman laid down, with sufficient explicitness, what was then described as, and has since been adopted as, the Liberal Conservative platform.

In the course of that speech, Mr. Borden laid much stress upon the necessity for "more effective provisions to punish bribery and fraud at elections," using these words:

"If I am right in asserting that untainted elections are essential to the success of democracy, am I not right in believing that the Conservative party has to day an opportunity of performing a service to the country greater than any which it has rendered in the past? That service will include a determined and vigorous effort to reform and enforce our election laws. . . . Let your elections be conducted according to honourable, decent and clean methods."

These words were uttered on August 20, 1907, in the city of Halifax. On November 28, 1907, three months and eight days later, an election for the House of Commons took place in the county of Colchester, in the same Province of Nova Scotia. That election was conducted with the sanction and approval of Mr. Borden. It was participated in by that High Priest of Public Purity and Political Morality, Mr. G. E. Foster; and it resulted in the return by a majority of 223 of Mr. John Stanfield, the Conservative candidate, who sat in the House of Commons during the whole of last session, and voted on every occasion which offered in support of Mr. Borden's policy of "honourable, clean and decent methods."

Mr. Stanfield's election was contested, and as a result of that contestation, one A. R. Bayne, a mining operator, is now on trial at Truro Nova Scotia, upon charges of having violated the Elections Act in the interest of Mr. John Stanfield.

What has transpired at that trial? Alexander McDonald of Five Islands swore that, following a long conversation with Bayne on the eve of the elections, in which both indulged in praiser of Stanfield, he was given six or more bottles of whisky and fifteen by Bayne. He also swore that the prisoner had approached him and other witnesses, had treated them, and endeavoured to ascertain what their evidence was likely to be. Among those present when the treating was done was Frank Stanfield, brother of John Stanfield, M.P. Mr. Bayne suggested to witness that he should try to forget that he had received the money and whisky from Bayne. Witness swore, on cross-examination, that Bayne asked him at the Stanley House, Truro, to go before the Stipendiary Magistrate and swear, "I had got no money or rum."

Robie Falconer, of Economy swore he got thirty dollars in cash and a case of flasks of whiskey. He got the money in the Stanley Hotel and liquor at the back of the hotel. "He wanted me to work for Stanfield," said the witness. "I said I would be with him in the election."

"What did Bayne say?"

"He said I was to use the liquor for the election, and to put the money down into my trousers pocket. I did not use the money for election purposes. Senator MacKay's son, W P MacKay, was with Mr. Bayne just before I got the liquor. I got more liquor from Bayne at Five Islands the night before the election. I got six or eight flasks and a long bottle, the latter for myself. The rest was to be handed out. I saw Bayne fill up a grip of whiskey for my brother, Luther Falconer, in the hotel. Bayne asked one of us if we had a grip. He told me to go out and get one. I did so and he filled both. We got two cases of whiskey. He asked me if I could handle any whiskey for Mr. Stanley down there. I said 'Yes,' and he gave it to me. Bayne knew I had not been a supporter of Stanfield's party hitherto."

Luther Falconer swore that he met Bayne and W P MacKay, son of Senator MacKay, on nomination day and got a grip full of booze. We got altogether twenty-four bottles that day, and got about half a dozen bottles from Bayne at Five Islands the day before the election.

J. Bayne Morrison swore that he saw Bayne on nomination day, and he said he thought there was some money for the district of Five Islands. He got some money from Bayne at the Stanley Hotel, Truro. There was a roll of dollars, probably twenty. "He told me," said the witness, "to make the best use of it I could in Stanfield's interests. I treated the boys every time they came along. I got a letter from Mr. Hall, the secretary and agent of the Conservative party here, to Mr. Bayne. I burnt that letter. It told me to call on Mr. Bayne because it was reported he was 'the man behind the gun.' I got a number of flasks from Bayne at Five Islands on the day of the election, or the day before. I also got twenty-five dollars on election day. Bayne called me into a room of Corbett's Hotel, and handed it to me done up in a parcel with an elastic band around it. He apparently had faith that I could pull them in or he would not have given me the dough."

Thus it appears that the debauching of electors in a prohibition constituency with flasks of whiskey and their purchase with rolls of bills is the Conservative method of proving how essential to the success of democracy are untainted elections and a Conservative example of how to conduct elections "according to honourable, decent and clean methods."

What reliance can Mr. Borden expect the people of Canada to place in his platform promises if a candidate of his own choosing is able three months after hearing that speech at Halifax to resort to methods such as were used in the Colchester election? Surely they will be justified in saying that a leader who cannot put down bribery and corruption in his own party is but a poor Moses to lead the people out of the morass of electoral fraud.

THE GRANTING OF DAIRY CERTIFICATES

Many Things That Can be Said in Favour Of the Scheme

From The Canadian Dairyman.

Last year a committee was appointed by the Dairymen's associations to look into the question of granting certificates to makers under certain conditions as to qualifications. This committee will likely meet during Toronto Exhibition to consider the matter and if possible, decide upon some basis for carrying out the scheme.

There are many things that can be said in favor of granting certificates to competent men. In fact, it is surprising that something has not been done in this direction before. Cheese-making and butter-making also, is a business requiring a large amount of skill and technical knowledge to conduct it properly. Experience, good judgment and careful attention to detail are necessary. Then why should not the maker who acquires these qualifications, either by years of work in a factory, or by spending time and money in perfecting himself for the work at a dairy school, receive some recognition in the way of a certificate or diploma stating that he is qualified to manage a cheese or butter-factory successfully. There are many better callings not requiring half the skill and training that a maker does, in which those who follow them are not allowed to do so unless they can show by certificate or otherwise that they are competent for the work.

The granting of certificates under proper regulations would raise the status of the maker and give him a recognition in the business that he does not now possess. The maker who knows his business would get his just deserts, and also the fellow who does not know it. The former would have something to show for the knowledge and training he possesses that would be of value to him; just as a Doctor's certificate is of value in that it allows him to practise his profession. He could use it to better his position. It would be his stock in trade and his means of gaining a competence in life. As to the other fellow who cannot qualify, the sooner he takes up some other calling, the better for himself and the dairy industry.

Granting certificates to makers should be of great benefit to the factories. There could be no doubt then as to the qualifications of a maker when he is engaged to manage a factory. If he possessed a certificate this would be a guarantee to the factory that he was competent, just as a teacher is competent to teach school who possesses a certificate. Factorymen could afford to pay a higher wage to a properly qualified maker than to one not so qualified. And what is more, a qualified maker would have a right to demand a higher wage. But this should not be the sole reason for granting certificates. In fact, it is of minor importance. The main thing is to so regulate the business that factorymen will have no difficulty in picking out the competent men and that these men will receive the recognition their position demands.

There are other phases of this question that should be discussed, such as allowing makers to manage factories who cannot qualify, the qualifications necessary to obtain a certificate etc., but these will have to be deferred to later issues. In the meantime we would be glad to have the views of makers and factorymen on this topic.

CONVENIENCES THAT ARE USEFUL

Some Improvements Upon the Farm of Mr. Dan. Crough, Ennismore

From The Canadian Dairyman.

A representative of The Canadian Dairyman and Farming World, who called recently at the farm of Mr. Dan Crough, of Ennismore, Peterboro Co., was interested in several barn conveniences that were observed. Mr. Crough has so constructed his stable that it is possible for a team to drive into the lower barn behind the cattle, the barn doors being seven feet wide. His grain bins are located on the upper floor, immediately over the driveway. There is an opening in the floor directly over the driveway. When Mr. Crough desires to take a load of grain to the mill all he has to do is to drive his team into the lower barn, and open a slide in the floor above. This lets the grain down into his wagon, and he is able to load 100 bushels in four or five minutes. Mr. Crough does not use bags when taking his grain to the mill.

In order that his barn may be cleaned as expeditiously as possible, Mr. Crough constructed a float out of a piece of sheet iron. This float is seven feet long and four feet wide, and cost only $5.00. Light runners are attached to the underside of the float. The float has been used for six years and is good for several years yet. It is hauled into the stable behind the cattle and the manure is loaded on to it. Horse manure is placed around the outside of the float and the cow manure in the centre. When full the float is hauled direct from the barn to the fields. The float is used for drawing water, hauling stones, and other similar work.

ANOTHER METHOD OF PREVENTING FLIES

Sprayings Needed But Once a Week And Do Good Work.

From The Canadian Dairyman.

We have been using a treatment on our cows for flies for several years. This year, however, we are not doing so, as we have found it difficult to get a good destroyer that will not affect the milk when in the stable. The remedy we have had the best success with is crude oil—a by-product of coal oil. It will stay on the cows longer than any mixture we have used, but it is bad for soiling the milker's clothes, and has a very strong smell. It will keep the flies off in dry weather, if sprayed on the cows once a week. With other mixtures we have tried we would have to spray every day. We have found that unless you kept the mixture on them all the time the flies seemed to annoy the cattle worse than if they had not been sprayed.—A. Kennedy & Son, Ontario Co., Ont.

YOUNG MOTHERS

A mother who is in good physical condition transmits to her child the blessing of a good constitution; sickly, ailing mothers, the reverse.

The tiny babe brings to her a living responsibility. At such a time too great care cannot be taken to build up the mother's general constitution, and restore her feminine system to a healthy, normal condition. The greatest assistance that any woman can have in accomplishing this all-important work is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. M. Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I was not only restored to health but am the proud mother of a fine baby girl. I wish every sick and ailing woman would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial."

Mrs. Paul Oliver, of St. Martinville, La., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For years I suffered from the worst form of female troubles, and the doctor said I could not get well without an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to perfect health, and I have the sweetest little baby girl. I will never cease to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with the worst forms. Why don't you try it?

Chinamen Arrested.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Representing that they had a "stand-in" with the police and could guarantee protection against raids on gambling dens, five Chinamen are accused of systematically "gulling" money to the extent of $1,000 out of certain Chinese shopkeepers.

All five were arrested in various parts of the city yesterday.

The majority of them figured heroically in the Chinese gambling case of last winter, when they furnished the police with information against several places. It was on the strength of this that they have held their brother Celestials up for $5, $10 or $15 a week—whatever they demanded—as a fee to keep the police off and allow the gambling to go on undisturbed.

No Trick, Says Thaw.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Harry K. Thaw Saturday night gave out a statement in which he denied a rumor that he had an ulterior motive in instituting bankruptcy proceedings. Thaw says that heavy claims, some of which he believes were gross over-charges, forced him to protect himself and his legitimate creditors by making an application in bankruptcy. The bankruptcy proceeding, he declares, was no subtle scheme of his lawyers.

PRIZES FOR THE LUCKY GUESSERS

Messrs. Merrell & Meredith Inaugurate a Novel Competition

Messrs. Merrell & Meredith, the George street clothiers, are offering a novelty in the way of guessing contests just now, as will be seen from their advertisement in another column. Commencing to-morrow the centre window of the establishment will contain a pony, apparently being fed by a small boy with oats from a pail. The firm propose to give prizes to the lucky boys who guess the closest to the number of oats in the pail.

The boy who guesses the nearest will be rewarded with a suit valued at $5, the boy who is next will get a pair of trousers, valued at $1, and as a third prize a 50 cent cap will be given. The competition, which will continue until Sept. 5th, is absolutely free, the only condition being that the boys must come into the store, register their names and addresses and their guess. At the close of the contest the oats in the pail will be counted by some reliable citizen and the prizes awarded accordingly.

Remember, boys, when you want anything in the line of clothing, Merrell & Meredith's is the place.

ANNUAL EXCURSION OF SONS OF ENGLAND

Down the River and Across the Lake to Idyl Wyld

The annual Sons of England excursion, under the auspices of Lansdowne Lodge, was run to Idyl Wyld on Saturday afternoon per Steamers Otonabee. There was a good attendance and a delightful sail down the river was greatly enjoyed. The steamer, after touching at Jubilee Point and Gore's Landing tied up for an hour at Idyl Wyld. Owing to lack of time the programme of sports was not run off, but the following prizes were awarded, consisting of 250 lbs. of flour, donated by Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., divided among the winners of—oldest married couple, Mr and Mrs. Stephen Coveney, Auburn street; newest married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Byers, Bethune street; largest family (eight), Mr. Cunningham, North Monaghan. The cigars, donated by Messrs. Heed, Elliott, Nixon, Clarke and La Roche, intended for prizes in the athletic sports which were not run off, were distributed during the voyage and were highly appreciated. The excursion was without incident and details were well managed by the committee—Dr. Young, chairman, and Messrs. Taylor, Wood, Shiner, Wearn and Brown.

CHURCH NOT ORGANIZED TO HOLD PINK TEAS SAYS PASTOR; MISSION IS TO SAVE SOULS

Two large congregations were present at the Park street Baptist church yesterday, when Rev. W. G. Riddiford, formerly of Mount Forest, commenced his pastorate of the flourishing south ward church. Rev. Mr. Riddiford made a most favourable impression upon the members of his new flock by the logical, scholarly and earnest addresses which he delivered yesterday. He is an eloquent speaker, who speaks with the conviction of a man who thoroughly believes in the reality of his message.

In the morning the new pastor spoke on the subject of "The Divine Refiner," choosing as his text Malachi iii; 3: "And he shall sit as a refiner of silver; and he shall purify the sons of Levi and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness."

In commencing, Rev. Mr. Riddiford drew a vivid picture of the conditions existing in Judea at the time in which the passage was written by the prophet Malachi when the people lost sight of God for material things. The same danger existed to day. People were apt to dwell upon the material aspect of religion rather than upon the heart aspect. Under such conditions it was easy to doubt and forget God, to forget that we are God-made creatures, created for a God-made purpose and travelling to a God-made destiny. If people were to prosper they must get out the roots of evil in their hearts and let the Divine Refiner drive out the dross. Homes would be made as God intended them to be if the Divine Refiner was allowed to do His work.

The life of a church did not depend upon money, but upon the Christ that was in it. It was not organized to hold pink teas, but to save souls. What was needed was the refining fire of God to sweep through and through people's hearts. As the eye of the refiner of silver was constantly watching the process, so our Father sits with His gaze fixed upon the soul, watching the refining power of grace. Silver was not considered as refined enough until it reflected the image of the refiner, and so it was in the process of the Divine Refiner. Christ refined people by His word, by His Holy Spirit; their souls by His blood and their hearts by tribulations.

The material which He sought to refine was worthy of refining or else the mission of Christ to the earth was failure. God put the highest possible value upon a soul and therefore paid the highest possible price the blood of Jesus Christ.

The speaker closed his sermon with an earnest admonition to his congregation to let the fire of the Divine Refiner sweep through their hearts.

West Calls For More Help; 25,000 Harvesters Needed

What Can Ontario Do?—Resources of the Maritime Provinces Have Been Very Nearly Exhausted

PROBLEM IS SERIOUS ONE

"Where are they coming from?" is the question on the lips of the western people. A sudden call for this number of men is hard to fill. What can Ontario do?

There is another question of almost equal importance and significance agitating the minds of both eastern and western people. That is, "Can the railways handle the crop when it is harvested and threshed?"

The first of these questions is laden with significance to the farmer who day by day sees his broad acres of waving grain ripening much more rapidly than he desires. This rapid ripening process (which is taking place as the result of the warm, dry weather of the last weeks, is in all respects except one a condition most undesirable for the farmer. Not only has it a tendency to rush the harvest upon him before he is ready for it and before the necessary help to garner it has arrived, but it is very detrimental to the quality and quantity of the grain itself. It prevents it filling up to a plump and round sample, thus reducing the bulk, and on certain kinds of soil, tends to shrink the kernel, thus seriously affecting its value. The only beneficial feature is that the earlier it ripens and is harvested, the less danger of injury from frost.

The Manitoba Government has sent out a call to Eastern Canada for at least 12,000 harvest hands for Manitoba alone. Hon. W. R. Motherwell of Saskatchewan has advised us that the province will require from 10,000 to 12,000 hands to save its crop. The province of Alberta, which is rapidly developing into a wheat-growing province, estimates that it will need from 2,000 to 3,000 additional men for its harvest requirements.

These figures, which are official, are slightly below those furnished in our article last week, and are wisely conservative.

Harvest Begins in Earnest

The great demand for this additional help began about Aug. 15, when harvesting began in earnest. It will continue at least for six weeks or two months at its height. Any man who is able and willing to work in the harvest field need have no fear of coming west.

The wage question is an important one just now. The past two weeks have seen a very decided rise in the price of labour here and throughout the west. During the earlier summer railways were deluged with men seeking work on construction, and the prevailing wag was $1.50 per day. But now the tempting wages offered by farmers have drawn large numbers away from construction work. There are, therefore, many shorthanded railway gangs, which condition will continue for at least three or four months. The railways have therefore to pay higher wages to keep their gangs up to the mark. This demand, of course, has the effect of increasing wages all round, so that the average rate of wages paid this season in all departments is a considerable increase over any previous year.

The feeling in the west is that it is going to be very hard to get help enough to supply the demand. The crops in the Western States are good and will take all the help thhe Eastern States can send them. This limits Western Canada to what Eastern Canada can send them. The maritime provinces have been pretty well drained during the past years. Ontario, therefore, will have to supply the great bulk of the twenty-five thousand men needed.

Intoxicated Man Bit Constable's Finger On Way To The Station

P. C. McGinty received a painful injury while in the discharge of his duties on Saturday afternoon. He was bringing an intoxicated man to the police station. The officer had his prisoner by the collar of his coat when the man suddenly grabbed the constable's hand in his mouth and bit one of his fingers deeply before he could be stopped. The wound bled freely and the officer after seeing his man safely caged had to go to a drug store to have the injury dressed.

The man, who is a stranger in the city, appeared before the Magistrate at a special session of the police court on Saturday afternoon and was remanded for a week.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. The New York Ladies' Tailoring establishment have removed their parlours and workshop from 658 George street to 387 Reid street, opposite St. Peters Cathedral, for the better accommodation of their patrons, and are prepared to take orders in any line of ladies' garments. SOME IMPROVEMENTS AT SPRINGVILLE

Splendid Efforts of Mr. Wilson—Fire at Mr. Baptie's Residence

Examiner Special

Springville, Aug. 24. — Principally through the efforts of Mr. F. E. Wilson, storekeeper, this village has been blessed by many improvements during the past year or more. Among these were the telephone, the stopping of the local, a station, siding and improvements in the mail service.

To-day, work, due to his effort, was begun on a siding extending half a mile west to the township line between Monaghan and Cavan, the land for which was deeded over to the C.P.R. by Mr. Wilson.

A store is being erected and the possibilities are that a good station will soon be erected.

Fire threatened to destroy the residence of Mr. James Baptie the other day. With the assistance of neighbours, however, it was confined to the chimney and extinguished before much damage was done.

Dear Sir,—When are we going to have a Public Library; that foot bridge alongside the C.P.R. bridge, and many other things we require? They think they are making the road (George street) as far as Lansdowne street, but they are only making a dust. That is not the way to make a street.

SOME JOLLY TIMES AT JUBILEE

Moonlight There on Friday Evening—Fishing is Excellent

Jubilee Point, Aug. 24.—On Friday evening a moonlight was held from Harwood and Gore's Landing to Jubilee Point. The steamer "Monarch" brought over about one hundred. This number was augmented by a party from Wedlock's coming down on the "Mermaid." Allen's "Tootsie" and numerous other craft were present. A pleasant time was spent at the pavilion in dancing.

Mr. J. T. Emmerson spent Sunday at Jubilee the guest of Mr. A. E. Belcher of Rochester.

Mr. Hughes and Mrs. Hughes, Jr., Rochester, landed eighteen bass, one eel and three lunge, from a point that had been fished over and over again by local fishermen a few days before.

Dr. R. Armstrong and wife, Oshawa, returned home this morning.

Mr. L. G. Dobbin, wife and family, who have been at the Point since the 4th of July, returned home this afternoon.

Mr. W. Mitchell, wife and daughter, Irene, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Yules, daughter and son, Colborne, are leaving the Point to-night.

A party from the Point was taken for a trip to the head of the lake by the "Tootsie" a few nights ago, owing to the fact that there is no dock for small craft to land, they were compelled to use a punt to make the shore, after losing considerable time endeavouring to locate a spot. It seems that a dock for small boats is very necessary at Bowdley, and should be taken up by the member for that riding.

Mr. A. E. Belcher of Rochester has been given the championship medal for the most consistent catcher of eels and catch-fish on the lake.

eels and cat-fish on the lake.

"Billy" Mitchell, who has as many trawling outfits as could be found in a first-class sporting goods store, has not had the strikes he thought were due him; consequently he blames it on the bait. However, he has been lending his baits to those at the lake, with the result that in every instance fish has been caught. He cannot blame the bait any longer, so he is going to give up fishing entirely.

The Juniper Pavilion Concert Gets Enough Money To Pay Off Debt On The New Piano

Talented Peterborough and Toronto Musicians Present—The Sunday Evening Song Service at Mr. Nugent's

AN ACCIDENT AT BOSCHINK

Examiner Special

Stony Lake, Aug. 24.—The pavilion is paid for. This was the welcome news that floated about Juniper Island point on Friday evening when the coins had been counted up by the "doorkeeper" at the conclusion of one of the finest musical and literary programmes of the present season at Kawarthadom. Not only is the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association clear of debt, so far as their new musical instrument is concerned, but four dollars more than the required amount was collected, and their coffers are that much the richer.

Talented vocalists and violinists, as well as an elocutionist, and mandolin and guitar musicians contributed. Miss Elsie Dixon Craig, a Toronto elocutionist, gave some splendid numbers, and early in the evening gained the favour of the audience. Vocal solos were contributed by Miss Crawford, Mr. R. A. Shaw and Messrs. Austin and Frank Quarrington, all of which were very much appreciated. Miss Julia Choate and Miss Katherine Wallis were heard in violin solos which received enthusiastic and well-merited recognition. A trio composed of Miss Choate, violin; Mr. F. W. McCabe, guitar; and Mr. Howard Koch, mandolin, and a piano solo by Miss Mollie Meldrum, the other numbers on the programme, were splendidly accomplished and greatly appreciated. Mrs. A. L. Davis and Miss Grace Taft presided at the piano and performed the duties of accompanists. The chairman of the evening was Mr. S. Henderson.

Although the atmospheric conditions were not conducive to spending Sunday evening in inactivity on the lake, yet a large number assembled off Mr. John Nugent's island and participated in the solemn song service, possibly the last of the season. Mr. James Acton presided, and a particularly interesting feature was the violin accompaniments for the various hymns, contributed by Misses Wallis, Irwin and Choate. Mr. Acton offered prayer, and a short, but forcible address was given by Mr. Henderson, brother of Mr. S. Henderson. His remarks were founded on the hymn "In the Sweet By and By," in the course of which he emphasized the necessity of attending to the present. The future was something we know little of, and therefore, we should make the best of the present. Rev. Mr. Starr of Toronto, who had conducted the service at Crowe's Landing pavilion earlier in the evening, arrived before the conclusion of the service, and made a brief address also.

Personal Items

Mr. G. W. Morrow spent the week-end at his cottage at the lake.

Mr. J. D. Craig came up to the lake on Saturday evening and spent Sunday at his cottage.

Mr. Harry Creasman was a guest of friends at Boschink yesterday.

Mr. Harry Thompson was a guest at Buena Vista over Sunday.

Mr. C. B. Rowley, Miss Helen and Mr. Herbert came up to their cottage on Saturday evening.

Mr. Duncan Walker was the guest of friends at the lake over Sunday.

Mr. George Bennett was the guest of Mr. J. D. Craig yesterday.

Col. H. C. Rogers spent the week end at the lake.

Mrs. White, Charlotte street, Peterborough, came up on Saturday evening to spend a few days at the lake.

Miss Margaret McDonald, Peterborough, was the guest of friends at the lake over Sunday.

Ven. Archdeacon Warren and his son, Edward, Toronto, came up to Viamede on Saturday evening. The latter will spend a week there.

Misses Bessie and Gertrude Wallace, Rochester, N. Y., are spending a vacation at South Beach.

Miss Maud Seitz, who has been a guest at the Victoria House for three weeks, left this morning for her home in Rochester. Miss Seits will be greatly missed at the lake. She is one of Rochester's talented vocalists and had entertained the guests at the Victoria on many occasions. She sang a solo at St. George's Church concert on Thursday evening last, which was greatly appreciated. She was presented with a bouquet of beautiful asters. Her friends, Miss S. Schneeberger and Miss Strauss, also of Rochester, and Miss Affelder, of Pittsburg, left this morning, after a pleasant visit at the lake.

Mr. Harry Lovekin went down to Peterborough this morning, and will return to the Victoria House this evening.

Miss Helen Hall spent Sunday at the lake.

Mr. Harry Creasman, who was a Sunday visitor with friends at Boschink, had the misfortune to injure his foot by having it pierced with a rusty nail. He accidentally stepped on a board containing the nail, which went through the sole of the boot and into the foot.

Mr. John King was a visitor at the lake for a few days, and returned to Peterborough this morning.

Autumn tinted leaves along the western shore of Clear Lake were in evidence this morning, and with a predominance of green provided one of the most ideal landscapes the artist's eye could conceive. It is almost the first real touch of autumn at the lake. The change has come with the somewhat cooler weather and this week and the next will certainly see a large influx of visitors, who delight in the late and post-August days.

Saturday night saw the last masquerade dance of the season at the Juniper Island pavilion. The atmosphere being somewhat chilly not a large number were in attendance. Several were in special costume for the occasion, and for a few hours enjoyed the many whirl of the dizzying dance. Miss Nellie Meldrum carried off first prize for the best ladies' costume.

Public Emphasize Importance Of The Trent Valley Canal

Are in Sympathy With Canal Plans —Many Addresses to Hon. Geo. P. Graham

THE OFFICIAL VISIT ENDS

Orillia, Aug. 23.—In his first official trip through the Trent Canal, Hon. Geo. P. Graham, by whose department the work is being carried out, has had the importance of the undertaking doubly impressed upon him by the residents all along the route. Address after address has been presented to him, each reflecting the ideas of the particular localities. Aside from local issues, such as the building of wharves or the deepening of some channels, these addresses have been marked by an earnestness and hopefulness, showing an implicit faith in the future of the project. The activity displayed during the last twelve years in the building operations and the consequent rounding of the canal into a first-class waterway has demonstrated to the people that not many years are to elapse until the grain barges will be passing to and fro, and the quiet inland waters of to-day will be busy with a portion of the world's commerce. The feasibility of the Trent Canal is never doubted by those in a position to know, and if the Minister of Railways and Canals takes receptions and public addresses as any criterion of public opinion he may go ahead with the waterway without any fear of falling into error.

An Orillia Reception

Hon. Mr. Graham's trip came to an end yesterday afternoon when the Government steamer "Bessie Butler" crossed Lake Simcoe to this port. The Minister was taken in charge here by the Board of Trade and members of the Council, who tendered an informal luncheon at the Orchard Point Hotel. Police Magistrate Clark presided, and in the course of a brief speech, reminded the Minister that the people of Orillia thought the Severn River would be the best outlet to Georgian Bay. He was followed by Mr. P. J. Secord, who also emphasized the possibilities of the Severn route. Hon. Mr. Graham only took a few minutes with his reply, and, after telling of some of the transportation problems met with in this country, he reiterated the statement consistently made since he became a member of the Federal Cabinet, that the canal would be completed as a business proposition. Amid some demonstration he unmistakably told of his belief in its future. A speech along similar lines was delivered by Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P. for West Peterborough. The Orillia reception was a most hearty one, and the Minister's utterances, free as they were from politics, were well received.

Some Outstanding Facts

For some years now the work of the Trent Canal has been proceeding unobtrusively. Some ceremony marked the opening of the immense lift locks at Peterborough and Kirkfield, but the great portion of the undertaking has been carried out without much horn-blowing. At the present time there is over six feet of navigable waterway from Lake Simcoe to Hastings. In the sills of the locks there is eight and one-third feet of water. From these figures the ordinary landsman will be able to understand that barges of considerable size may be able to pass up and down. In the neighbourhood of five million dollars has been extended so far.

This year one million dollars' worth of work is being done. Authorities roughly compute that if the same appropriations were made by the Government each year the entire canal might be finished in five years. When that happens it will be an event of national import. It means for one thing that western wheat can be placed in barges at some point on the Georgian Bay and carried through to the ocean ports.

About the Difficulties

Engineers dislike making any estimate as to the probable total cost of the canal, giving as their reasons the fluctuations of the labour market and other similar figures which no man can foretell with accuracy. Yet the work will be done, since the Government is determined upon that point, and by a wonderful system of locks the 360 feet difference in the levels of Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario overcome. In this connection it will not be out of place to state that there is not alone a drop of 360 feet to solve, but the additional difficulty of getting over the height of land. Balsam Lake, which itself forms a portion of the canal system, is over 600 feet above the sea level and 200 feet above Georgian Bay. That is, barges leaving Georgian Bay have to be lifted 200 feet before getting over the height of land to reach the lower level of Lake Ontario. These figures give some little idea of the difficulties which have been solved by the engineers. On the other hand, the system of little lakes and rivers provided by nature have made the project feasible. Tradition says that even the adventurous eyes of Champlain foresaw the advantage these natural waterways would be to the country at some future date.

A few facts regarding the locks themselves tell more of what the canal will be capable of doing. The old locks are 134 feet long, and the new ones 175 feet. The width between the sills is 33 feet, and it seems probable the shorter locks will be lengthened if any great requirement should arise.

For the Tourist

The dream of an additional waterway for which seems near fulfilment. With it, of course, comes local traffic. Besides this the Trent Canal is bound to attract the tourist and summer pleasure-seeker. It would be hard to find a more complete system of beautiful panoramics than that which unfolds before the traveller on the Trent Canal. Now and then lakes of varying size, rivers made sluggish by the engineering works, some farms stretching away on the hills on either side, all come into view in quick succession. There are thousands of pretty groves waiting for the campers of the future. Hundreds of other places, often not the very choicest, are now occupied. Canoes and sailing craft flit over some of the waters, all completing as charming a picture as the most fastidious summer visitor would wish to see. It is true there are over a score of pandorous locks, to say nothing of swing bridges, which tell their own story of the business of the future. Yet even these do not detract to any appreciable extent from the natural beauty as the tourist wants it. Under the care of Superintendent J. H. McClellan the canal banks and the surroundings of the locks are kept with the preciseness of city lawns. It may be added that there were those in the Ministerial party last week who expressed the opinion that the canal in itself added to the scenic grandeur.

The Trent Canal has been the subject of much severe censure, and one allegation was to the effect that there would be an insufficiency of water in the upper end. With the summer now nearly over there is plenty of water in the places the critics said there would be little. All along the route from Lake Simcoe to Hastings the required depth is maintained. There are a number of natural reservoirs, and these have been taken advantage of by the engineers. Engineering experts express the opinion that the Trent Canal will never prove a failure on account of a lack of water.

MAIDA VALE DOWN FROM LAKES; SOME LOCAL NAVIGATION NOTES

Mount Julian was made the headquarters and from there the "Maida Vale" ran trips to the many points of interest on Stony Lake. The yacht left for Hastings on Saturday afternoon.

The tug "Dawn" came into port here on Friday with another consignment of stone from Clear Lake for Mr. R. Sheehy. She left this morning on another trip to the upper lakes.

An Oshawa party passed through here this morning on their way from Port Perry to Bewdley. The party consisted of Messrs. L. R. Halman, G. A. Halman and D. A. Smith. They report fishing as excellent.

TORONTO YACHTING PARTY PASS THROUGH HERE ON LONG TRIP

Mr. D. E. Merriam, the well known Fenelon Falls guide, was in the city on Saturday, in charge of a Toronto party on the trim gasoline launch "Busy," which conveyed them from Lake Simcoe. The party passed through here on Saturday afternoon to Gore's Landing, leaving after six o'clock dinner for Harwood, where they spent the night at the Lakeview House. They arrived at the street railway wharf last night, on their way back. The "Busy" left this morning for Stony Lake to visit the different points of interest in that section.

The party consisted of Mr. J. B. Kay and his son, Jack," and Mr. Alan Turnbull, of the Bank of Hamilton, Hamilton, Ont.

Their craft is a handsome, speedy launch, 35 feet in length and 5 feet in beam. It is equipped with a 16 h.p. automobile engine manufactured by the Schofield-Holden Company, of Rochester, and has a record speed of fifteen miles per hour.

Mr. Kay and party are holidaying at Rock's Point, Lake Simcoe.

HEADACHES ARE DANGER SIGNALS

They Tell Us Plainly That Something Is Wrong Inside.

There are tablets and powders that will stop a headache promptly—but removing a danger signal does not take away the danger.

In nearly every case a headache—of whatever kind—is a symptom of poisoned blood, due to Bowels, Kidneys and Skin failing to thoroughly remove indigestible food and waste, worn-out tissue from the body. Then digestion is poor, causing sick headache, or uric acid is formed and deposited on the nerves, causing neuralgia.

Not only the danger signal, but the danger itself as well, is quickly removed by "Fruit-a-tives."

"Fruit-a-tives" are tablets made of the combined juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes, containing all their medicinal properties, concentrated and intensified. They cause the liver to secrete more bile, which moves the bowels freely and regularly, and cures the most obstinate cases of Constipation. They stir up kidneys and skin to throw off all the dross, or dead tissue, which has been poisoning the system. They sweeten the stomach, improve digestion and tone up the whole body. The headaches disappear—because the source is removed. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. Trial size, 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

HOTELMAN CAUGHT AND GOES TO JAIL

Three Owen Sound Bonifaces Get Four-Month Sentences.

OTHERS ARE HEAVILY FINED

Andrew Fogarty, Joshua Warrilow and William Leach Are Sent Down by Magistrate Creasor For Selling Liquor — Four Detectives Have Been at Work Securing Evidence—Caused Excitement.

Owen Sound, Aug. 24.—As the result of a round-up by four detectives of the License Department three of the hotelkeepers of this place have been sentenced to four months' imprisonment each, while a number of others have been heavily fined.

In all there were seventeen charges, the alleged offences having taken place in nine hotels. For three days Magistrate Creasor has been hearing evidence in connection with those cases, and his task is not yet done, as four trials have still to take place. The men sentenced to prison were Andrew Fogarty, Albion Hotel; Joshua Warrilow, Royal Hotel, and William Leach, City Hotel. They had each been previously convicted and the magistrate was powerless to do anything but sentence them to imprisonment without the option of a fine.

Considerable excitement amongst the liquor element in the town has been created by the round-up. The other guilty parties had to pay fines ranging from $50 to $100. The police are searching for one man who neglected to pay his fine before leaving town.

Messrs. Fogarty, Leach and Warrilow are three of the best known hotelmen in this section of the province.

The hotelkeepers have succeeded in avoiding conviction time and again, but the amendment to the act passed some months ago made this more difficult. The coup has been successful this time, though it is understood the usual appeals will be taken.

Railways Will Ask Ruling on Lord's Day Ordinance.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—What constitute "Works of Necessity" under the Lord's Day Act is an important question which the Railway Commission has been asked to decide. The Grand Trunk Railway makes the application.

The act restricts very considerably the operation of local and excursion trains on Sunday, and is calculated to minimize operations generally on that day, but works of necessity are permitted. What these are the commission is now asked to determine.

The application refers in the main to the handling of trains and cars in railway yards on Sunday. A number of other applications with this one will be considered by the board on Sept. 1. The Pere Marquette Railway seeks permission to run its International Car Ferry from Port Stanley on Sundays.

STEVENSON'S BENEFACTOR.

Man Who Befriended the "Well Beloved" Dying at Monterey.

Monterey, Cal., Aug. 24.—Jules Simoneau, an old French restaurant keeper, who befriended Robert Louis Stevenson on his first visit to California, is dying as the result of a fall which injured his back. He is over 80 years old.

Recently one of Stevenson's letters to him was printed and sold by a local publisher to furnish aid for the old man, who had fallen on ill days.

Simoneau found Stevenson ill in a strange hotel at Monterey, had him taken to his own house and nursed him back to health. Stevenson never forgot this kindness, for which Simoneau refused pay, and a copy of every book that he wrote was sent to Simoneau with a note from the author. These books Simoneau has always refused to sell.

FIREMEN KEPT OUT.

Zealous Policeman Keeps Department From Blaze In Mint.

Soft coal and cordwood piled in front of the boiler became ignited and, owing to all the employes being away, the fire department found it impossible for a time to enter the building.

The armed policeman at the gates, acting up to the stern orders given him, absolutely refused to open for the firemen.

Chief Provost then ordered ladders against the railing, and the firemen climbed over them in true burglar fashion.

A Martyr to Science.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Dr. Antonio Lagorio, founder of the Pasteur Institute, and conqueror of hydrophobia, has become inoculated with the disease he long has fought. The famous specialist became infected with the hydrophobia germ while experimenting on a rabbit in his laboratory here.

He is now a patient at his own institute, under the care of his assistant, Dr. G. B. Bruno, and testing the efficacy of his own treatment. Although the disease has reached an acute form, the physician said Saturday night that he was not at all alarmed.

They Drew Color Line.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—The promotion of a colored operator named Medley was the cause Saturday of a number of C. P. R. telegraph operators quitting work.

Medley has been 20 years in the employ of the C. P. R. Telegraph Co., and being a good operator and next in line for promotion, was made assistant traffic chief.

Tried Carrie Nation Gamt.

Hamilton, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Dora Chose was arrested Saturday evening, on the charge of wilful damage. She is accused of doing a Carrie Nation stunt in the Genesee Hotel, North James street. She went into the hotel bar in search of her husband, and it is alleged threw a glass at him. He dodged and the tumbler broke a fine mirror. She was locked up and kept in the cells until last evening, when she was released on bail.

A NIAGARA FALLS MAN GETS IT

N. B. Colcock Ontario's New Immigration Commissioner.

HAS A WIDE EXPERIENCE

He Will Take Charge of Department to Be Opened In London, Eng., to See That Province Gets Best Class of Citizens From Old Land — Is Conversant With Affairs in Both England and Canada.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Neville Bentley Colcock, Niagara Falls, Ontario, viceconsul there for the United States, has been appointed immigration inspector in the new office of the Ontario Government in London, England.

He will leave Montreal on Sept. 4, sailing by the Virginian. Mrs. Colcock and her son Harry will remain at Niagara Falls for some time.

The announcement sets at rest the rumors current that Hon. Nelson Monteith would be appointed to the new office in London.

Mr. Colcock expects on his arrival in Liverpool to meet Mr. Monteith and Sir James Whitney and learn their intentions as to the new immigration policy of the Government, and such decisions as have been made regarding the new London offices. Since the Dominion Government accepted the duty of distributing immigrants the province will devote itself more thoroughly to a selection of the best people to be found suitable for settlers in Ontario, advising them as to settlement, and securing them for provincial destinations.

Mr. Colcock is exceptionally well fitted for this work. According to his friends, his connection with old country papers gives him an intimate knowledge of affairs in the United Kingdom, which will be invaluable in the duties before him. He is a native of England and knows where the best results are to be obtained.

Connected as he has been for many years past with the weekly and daily press of Ontario, he can speak with the authority begotten of intimate knowledge of matters and conditions in this province.

BELL HOPS JAILED.

Two Lads Who Made Merry With Guest's Money Arrested.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—There are five vacancies for bell boys at the Walker House as the result of a playful escapade on Saturday night.

A guest, James McKay, woke up about midnight Saturday to discover that a single dollar bill of his $25 wad remained in his trousers' pocket. He notified the management, and at 2 a. m. a round-up was made of the bell boys, who were indulging in the luxury of a Turkish bath. Two of the older boys, George Ray and John Meredith, were arrested by Detective Murray, while the other three were allowed to go to their homes.

St. Thomas, Aug. 24.—A stranger giving his name as Edward Roberts, Long Island City, was arrested here late Saturday afternoon. He had entered the home of W. Boughner, but realizing that his movements were known to a neighbor he decamped. The police were telephoned for and arrested him just he was coming out of another place near-by.

Quite a number of burglaries have been committed in London and St. Thomas during the past week. The suspect is well dressed and is between 25 and 30 years of age. He has been living at Port Stanley.

Suffragettes Released.

London, Aug. 24.—Two unrepentant but attractive criminals came out of Holloway jail Saturday morning into the midst of a crowd of 500 persons who cheered them vociferously.

They were the Misses New and Leigh, who a short time ago broke Prime Minister Asquith's windows with stones.

WILL NOT MEDIATE IN STRIKE

Government Will Not Interfere in Strike, Says Hon. Mr. Graham.

COMPANY CANVASSING MEN

Statement of Strikers Says C. P. R. Is Trying to Get Machinists to Go Back to Work—Winnipeg Strikers' Peaceful Attitude Is Making Breakers Insolent and Arrests Are Made—May Lose Land.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—The Dominion Government will maintain an attitude of aloofness with regard to the C. P. R. strike situation. At least this is the inference to be drawn from the remarks of Hon. G. P. Graham, who arrived in Toronto from Orillia Saturday, and left for the east Sunday night.

As to whether any closer connection than through the conciliation board is probable, Mr. Graham said he was not aware of any intention on the Government's part to attempt mediation.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—"The stories sent out by the company about getting men to run the shops are not borne out. There is no suggestion, either, of classifying the men offering, anyone willing to hire are being considered first-class," said Bell Hardy of the Federated Trades, in a statement given out yesterday.

"One man, arrested and convicted two years ago of stealing looking-glasses from the company, has been sent for and put to work. Men's homes are still visited, although the ultimatum went forth a week ago discharging all men out on strike, and every kind of inducement is offered them to return.

"One man was offered Saturday reinstatement without prejudice, and seniority and pension rights restored, and full pay for the time he has been on strike."

A peculiar feature of the strike is announced to the effect that a good number of the strikers who have purchased building lots from real estate firms, are not able to make their monthly payments, and are threatened with the loss of the land.

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—"The strike situation is practically unchanged, the company apparently being determined to fight to a finish, although unable to make schedule time with passenger trains, in many cases losing one or two hours on 50-mile runs," said J. H. McVety last night.

"The peaceful policy of the strikers is causing the strike-breakers to become arrogant and insulting, and strikers have turned several over to the city police for attempting to use firearms."

Embargo May Go.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—The Scottish agricultural commission, comprising 25 leading land owners of Scotland, who are making a tour of Canada, arrived here Saturday.

Mr. Henderson, secretary of the commission, said the embargo on Canadian cattle in the British market has cost Canada $30,000,000, and that upon the report of the commission largely depends the removal of the embargo.

Prayer Bottled Up Fleet.

Montgomery, Mo., Aug. 24.—Capt. Hobson said before a large audience here yesterday afternoon that because he was going up and down the country declaring for a big navy and warning the people of an approaching war with Japan, some thought he was not in full sympathy with the Christian spirit.

He assured them if it had not been for prayer there would have been no Merrimac victory.

Granite Cutters Strike.

St. George, N.B., Aug. 24.—The Granite Cutters' Union and O'Brien & Baldwin, proprietors of the large granite works here, reached a settlement Saturday. Some concessions were made by both sides. The men have gained the eight-hour day, two pay days a month, and an increase over the old bill of prices. The firm have an abundance of orders, and all cutters now in town will be put to work.

Fire Chief Resigns.

Windsor, Aug. 24.—Fire Chief Thos. Drury of the Walkerville department, stepped out of office unexpectedly on Saturday. His resignation was handed in during the morning and he quit a few hours later. No reason is assigned for his sudden resignation, which came as a surprise to the firemen.

Charles Moore, who was in charge of the department before Drury's appointment, becomes chief again.

Constantinople Burning.

Constantinople, Aug. 24.—Fire broke out yesterday afternoon in the Stamboul quarter and within a very brief period a terrible conflagration was raging.

Berlin, Aug. 24.—T. J. Pishion, who has been in Berlin for about a week or ten days, was arrested Saturday in Detroit on a charge of issuing two alleged worthless checks in Berlin.

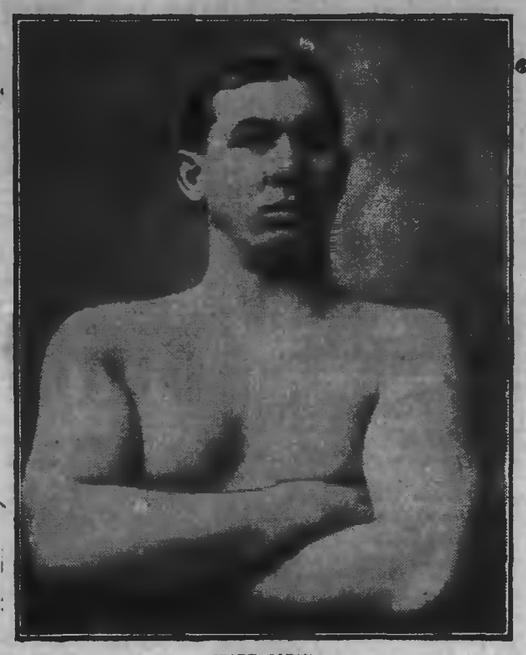
A Defeat For Either Man On Friday Would Be Disastrous; Hurtubise May Meet Syrian

Mr. Graham has, this morning, received a letter from the German Champion Frits Mohl, in which the big fellow says he will leave his home, Buffalo, on Tuesday, and will finish this preparation in Peterborough. The big fellow seems very anxious to get into the fray and thinks he can give Yankee a good argument before the match is over. He has quite a number of matches on hand but is very anxious to see how he goes with Rogers. He wants to see it the can do as well as he did on March 30th at the Theatre Royal, Montreal, when he withstood all that Rogers could do, and took away $50 for staying the limit time without a fall being secured. Mohl is a great big fellow and makes men like Rogers look small in comparison. He weighs 245 lbs. and stands 6 ft. 1 in. Yankee is one inch taller, but only draws the beam at 210 lbs. A handicap of a mere 35 lbs.

Both men will give a great account of themselves. The wrestling season is just opening and a defeat to either men, but more so in the case of Rogers, would be of a disastrous nature. Everything depends upon the match as to whether Manager Naylor can take his man to England in January. A defeat would close all chance. Should the public support wrestling as well as the local management think and expect, a big effort will be made to get Gotch to visit Peterborough.

Then there is Gene Hurtubise anxious to have another crack at Rogers or, in fact, anyone that comes along. Asked on Saturday night how he would like to be matched against Hassan Abdallah, the big Syrian, who arrived in this country last Saturday, Gene said he was ready and willing to go up against him and try his luck. This match would probably be held in Buffalo or Boston.



FRITZ MOHL,
The Champion German Heavyweight Wrestler, Who Will Meet Yankee Rogers in the Brock Street Rink on Friday Night.

PETES HAVE SPLENDID RECORD; WON 22 OUT OF 24 GAMES

The Peterborough Baseball Clubs record for the season just passed is a most creditable one, and justifies the prediction made by Manager Johnston last spring that the team would not lose three games all season. As a matter of fact, they have lost but two games out of a total of twenty four matches, a percentage of .918 In Midland League games, they have defeated the Athletics three times, Port Hope twice and Cobourg three times, losing once to the Athletics on June 27 and to Cobourg on July 1. In exhibition games they have defeated the Arctics of Toronto, the Athletics, the Wideawakes of Lindsay twice, St. Mary's of Toronto City League twice, Port Hope twice, Whitby of the Central League, Belleville of the Bay of Quinte League, Bloomfield and Wellington of the Canning League," and the Y.M.C.A. and T.A.S. of the local City League. They may rightly call themselves champions of Eastern Ontario as well as of the Midland League.

RUGBY PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT; EXECUTIVE MEETS TO-NIGHT

The cool weather of the past few days has set the Rugby bug to work and the enthusiasts who participate in the great fall game, are already making preparations for what should prove, all things considered, a most successful season. There is no reason in the world why Peterborough should not be represented by a good team on the gridiron this year. There is an abundance of material, many younger players having been developed last season who should be able to take their places in the fray this year, and enough of the veterans will turn out to give the team the proper balance and steadiness.

In order to make preparations for commencing the season there will be a meeting of the executive of the club at the Examiner Office to-night at 7.30, when plans for the coming season will be discussed. It is hoped that there will be a full attendance of those interested.

It is probable that the annual meeting of the club will be held one week from to-night. At any rate the meeting will take place in a short time, as it is desirable to get the team organized and to commence practising as soon as possible. In other years the team has been handicapped by reason of the lateness of the organization meeting, but this difficulty will be done away with this year.

CONTESTANTS FOR ROAD RACE SHOULD GET INTO TRAINING

The Examiner road races on Thanksgiving Day promise to be the most successful on record, judging by the early interest being taken in the subject among the runners and public generally. Some of the outside runners do not seem to be aware of the conditions of the events, and for their benefit it may be stated that the races are not confined to residents of the city—they are open to residents of the county of Peterborough. By the way, the outside districts will be well represented this year, and it would not be surprising if one of the outside representatives carried off the honours. Several runners are already in training, and they will be in the best of condition.

In other years some of the competitors have not paid enough attention to training. They have put off their workouts until a few weeks before the day of the race, and found themselves not in shape when the struggle began. A lot of running is necessary for a race of ten miles, as many of the contestants found last year, and it is not likely that they will be caught napping on this occasion. No one can get out and run ten miles without a good deal of preparatory work, and it is to be hoped that those who intend to enter will bear that fact in mind.

There have been some inquiries as to whether or not the senior race would be ten miles or not, and it has been rumoured that it was intended to lengthen it to fifteen miles. While the question of so doing has been discussed, there will be no change made in the distance this year, at least.

BOTH WRESTLERS DECIDEDLY CONFIDENT OF A VICTORY

Judging by the interest displayed in the bout a record crowd will be on hand on Friday night when Yankee Rogers the famous American wrestler will try conclusions with Frits Mohl the German champion. The approaching match is creating the greatest interest among the sporting fraternity who remember Rogers' match with Gene Hurtubise here earlier in the year and who look for a treat when the big Yankee hooks up with Mohl, who is apparently a most formidable adversary and will undoubtedly show Rogers that he is a foeman worthy of his steel. The two have had several desperate battles in the past and Mohl who weighs 245 pounds is looking for revenge on this occasion while Rogers who has just accepted an offer to go to England to the big tournament there on condition that he does not lose another match before that time, knows that he cannot afford to take any chances of being defeated. The result will be that both men will be out for blood and the struggle will be a desperate one from start to finish. Rogers is regarded as the favourite here, but a number have been impressed by Mohl's proportions and pick him to beat the Yankee.

Mohl will be here to-morrow night to finish his training for the bout, while Rogers will arrive on Thursday morning and will work out with Gene Hurtubise. Both men are supremely confident.

BOBBY KERR AND JACK TAIT TO BE HERE FOR THE MEET

Mr. Dick Baker received word from Bobby Kerr and Jack Tait this morning, stating that both boys will be here for the Y.M.C.A. Harrier Club's meet on Sept. 18th. This athletic event promises to be the best of its kind ever held in the Electric City. Some of the best—in fact the best—long and short distance men will be here to participate in the event. Bobby Kerr needs no introduction to Peterborough people since his wonderful performance at the Olympic games. Jack Tait was here last autumn and his showing in the five mile event will still be well remembered.

SIX AND A HALF HOURS FROM PORT HOPE

Mr. R. M. Haultain of the Lake Shore Town Accomplished That Feat

Jimmy Reynolds is evidently not the only crack walker in Port Hope, for a young man from the lake shore town yesterday accomplished a most creditable achievement in the walking line. Mr. R. M. Haultain is the hero of the exploit. Leaving Port Hope at 11.30 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. Haultain set out for Peterborough, and reached this city shortly before 6 o'clock, thereby walking the thirty-one miles that separate the two places in a little under six and one half hours, a very creditable performance for an amateur walker. Mr. Haultain was the guest of Mr. Cyril Moore, son of Mr. W. H. Moore, K.C., while in the city.

FRED ANDERSON LEAVES FOR HOME

Big Second Baseman of the Petes Has Gone to Carg Hill

Fred Anderson, the big second baseman of the Peterborough Baseball Club, left on the 7.20 G. T. R. train this morning for his home in Carg Hill, near Walkerton, Ont. Anderson who replaced Micky McDermott at second base in the middle of the season, has been a tower of strength to the Petes this year, playing splendid ball around the centre station. He is a fast fielder, covering lots of ground and in addition is a likely hitter. Anderson was secured from the Webwood club of the North Shore League this season but played with the Petes last year. He will be back next season if there is anything doing in baseball in this neck of the woods.

LINDSAY HAS A COUPLE OF RUGBY STARS

Madville is Discussing the Prospects for the Great Fall Game

Rugby has been mentioned around town and it is surprising the general interest being taken in the formation of a team. Few know that Lindsay has several crack pigskin chasers. Not "fourflushers," either, but all home braws who have learned the game at college or away from home. Now, there's "Shorty" Costello, without a peer in the college Rugby as a centre scrimmage. Then McHugh is a well-known player. Green has been chasing the pigskin before today. Herb Hopkins was good enough for the Varsity intermediates last year and will try for the first team this year. Joe Killen was with St. Miques not long ago. Jack Seymour of Peterborough has ehased the pigskin, and so on. Keyl, Conway, Sylvester and a number of other Bankers either have played before or have the "ear-marks." F. Green has played Rugby in the United States, and one could go on and name fully a dozen more.

When the players are available the main difficulty in forming a club is away with. Once out to practice the game is sure to "catch" with the boys.—Lindsay Warder.

NED FITZPATRICK WILL WRESTLE

Will Try Conclusions With Jack Crough as a Preliminary Friday

Arrangements have been made for a real first-class wrestling preliminary to take place before the big match on Friday night. Fitzpatrick, of Rochester, and late of Peterborough, is to be matched against Jack Crough, and a good bout is expected. The management offer a purse of $25 to the winner.

Sporting Comment

Two more entries have been received for the Labour Day sports. Both are Indians, and their names are Smoke, of Hiawatha village, and Cathurig of Clear Lake. Both may be finds.—Lindsay Warder.

In the 220 yards at the games in Hamilton on Saturday, Kerr made a new world's record, some of the watches catching him at 20 4 5 seconds, some of the others at 20 2 5 The time was announced at 21 seconds flat. Kerr ran with the wind in his back this time, and it was blowing a regular gale. It is not likely the time will stand.

W. Woods, the Brantford man who was the first Canadian to finish in the Olympic Marathon, made one lap of the track, 1 1 16 miles, in 4 mins. 35 secs.

• • • •

The Can. Man Churchman in an editorial said before the Marathon:

Many patient and long-suffering citizens of Montreal are earnestly hoping that a man by the name of Tom Longboat will be defeated—hopelessly defeated—in a running contest to take place somewhere shortly. Montrealers are not naturally hard-hearted. They do not glory in the downfall of their fellowmen, nor would one of them willingly cause Tom any pain if there was any way out of it, but what can they do, for even the worm will turn? Let not our fellow Canadians, who live outside the newspaper zone of Montreal judge us too harshly. Human endurance has its limits and has long since been passed. For months—we had almost said years—we have been fed on a steady diet of Tom Longboat, and his priceless contributions to the progress of this Dominion by the sporting editor of one of the city dailies, until flesh and blood can endure it no longer. What Tom has done, and what he has not done, what Tom can do and what he is sure to do, have been prolific topics for the pen of a ready writer. Then it is an off day in that newspaper office when we are not treated to a carefully photographed illustration of Tom's stride, or Tom's smile, or Tom's pipe, or Tom's breakfast food, or some equally important fact or feature of this great man. The awful thought is now dawning upon the citizens of this fair city, what will become of us if Tom should prove to be the fastest sprinter in the world. Men and women enjoying the blessings of peace in other parts of our favoured country cannot appreciate the terrible reality of this situation. Why, the festivities at Quebec may be thrown completely into shadow when Tom comes marching home. Who is Champlain anyway? He couldn't begin to run with Tom. Battlefields! what are they to the historic road where Tom kicked up the dust as he proudly galloped past the winning post, the greatest benefactor of his country. Fellow Canadians give Montreal your hearty sympathy in this trying hour for the blow may fall at any moment. Is it any wonder that some people should hope that at the critical moment something should trip Tom up, or that a distressing pain should attack his insides, for it would save us from—well, we don't like to think of it.

The London Correspondant to the New York Clipper has the following:—

Dorando, the Italian hero of the Marathon race, has figured on the Oxford and Tivoli stages with the Queen's Cup under his arm. This exhibition has been much remarked. Dorando says he made the engagement without thinking; but he must keep his word. In expiation, he is giving the proceeds to charity.

"I have just agreed to meet the winner of the Abe Attell—Owen Moran fight in a six-round go in New York before the National Sporting Club, at 122 pounds," said Art Edmunds, the Pocket Hercules, to-day. "Harry Smith of New York came up to Meaford to sign me up. He leaves for New York to-day to complete arrangements. I will train at Meaford. And say, just by the way, you can say for me that I think Jamieson of Hamilton has his nerve to mix me in with his challengers to wrestle. What did he ever win in an amateur line that entitles him to meet me? however, if he has anybody who will put up a hundred-dollar purse, I will wrestle him, winner to take all, any time and at any place."—Toronto Star.

The Peterborough Midland League teams were well represented in the Senior Amateur League games in Toronto on Saturday. Hawkins of the Petes, pitched for the Eatons against the Ontarios, winning his game by 12 to 2, and Fris O'Brien also turned out with the Eatons. Mackrell of the Athletics played second base for the Night Owls and Rattray of the same club, played first; their team winning by 7—6. Murphy, the brilliant left fielder of the Petes, played centre for his old team, the St. Mary's, getting two hits and two runs, and accepting his only chance in the field nicely.

INQUEST OPENED TO INQUIRE CAUSE OF DEATH

James German May Have Met Death by Foul Means

At noon yesterday Coroner J. Milton Cotton opened an inquest at the morgue into the death of James Burgess German, aged 27 years, the C. P. R. employee who Saturday night was either killed by a railway train at the foot of Tecumseh street, or else set upon, robbed and killed. Beyond the formal identification of the remains, no evidence was taken and the inquest was adjourned until Friday.

LANG & MAHER'S STORE AT LINDSAY ENTERED

Attempted Burglary on Sunday—Thief Frightened Away

Lindsay, Aug. 25.—An attempt was made to burglarize Lang & Maher's gents' furnishing store on Sunday. During the day a sneak thief gained entrance to the cellar and loosened several boards in the floor. He was evidently frightened in his operations as nothing has been missed from the store.

The proprietor visited the shop yesterday afternoon and noticed the opening in the floor. Constable Short was notified and an inspection was made of the place. No clue, however, has been obtained as to who the culprit is.

THE CITY BLOCK WILL BE CONNECTED

Board of Health Took Up the Question This Morning

At the meeting of the Board of Health this morning Mr. Jas. Edgar called attention that the houses in the block owned by the city on Hunter street were not connected with the sewer and suggested that something should be done to remedy the matter. The tenants were anxious that connections should be made with the sewer. Accordingly on motion it was decided to recommend to the City Trust that the buildings be connected with the sewer as soon as possible.

SALVATION ARMY BAND CONCERT THIS EVENING

The following programme will be rendered by the Salvation Army Band, under the direction of J. M. Greene, this evening in Victoria Park:

March—Melbourne.
Selection—Old Times.
March—Prize March No. 1. This is one of the finest marches in the Army Journals.
Quartette—Village Chimes.
Selection — All Nations. This is a very choice arrangement.
Trombone solo by Bandsman Moyns.—I Have Pleasure.
March—Plymouth.
Cornet and trombone duet — Larboard Watch, by Deputy Bandmaster Ford and Bandsman Moyns.
Selection — Guide Me, Great Jehovah, with variations for cornet, baritone and euphonium.

The above will be the last musical festival the Army Band will give this season in the park, and it promises to be the finest they have ever rendered.

GORDON AND FINNIE WERE GIVEN CONTRACT

The contract for the building of the new St. James' Methodist Church, in the south end of the city, was awarded last night to Messrs. Finnie and Gordon, and work will be commenced at once. The figure of the successful tenderers was $9,765. The building will be an up-to-date Sunday School building with galleries above and accommodation for four hundred people. It is expected that it will be completed by Jan. 1, of next year, and the work will be pushed ahead as rapidly as possible by the contractors. The new structure will be erected at the corner of Aylmer and Romaine streets.

Trevor Miller's Narrow Escape; Struck By A Fast Moving Car But His Injuries Were Slight

Trevor Miller, the seven year old son of Mr. John C. Miller, 548 Harvey street, and salesman for the R. Neill store, had a very narrow escape from being killed by being struck by a swiftly moving street car at the corner of McDonel and George streets shortly before five o'clock yesterday afternoon. Spectators of the accident thought that the little fellow was doomed to death, but he fortunately escaped with a few minor injuries that are not at all serious.

Young Miller was crossing the street just as a south bound car, in charge of Motorman Legrandre, came along, and either did not notice the car or else thought that he had time enough the reach the other side in safety. When half way across the track, however, he saw his mistake and tried to get back. He did not, however, succeed in getting quite clear and was struck by the west step of the car and rolled over in the dust. The car was stopped as quickly as possible and some of the passengers picked up the little fellow and carried him into Dr. McGrath's surgery near by, where his injuries were attended to. It was found that he had escaped with nothing worse than a scalp wound, and he was able to be taken home in a few minutes.

The little fellow was drawing a small express car and it was caught by the car and thrown high into the air.

The crew of the car state that the crossing appeared clear until they were almost at it and that the gong was rung. When the boy appeared in front it was impossible to stop the car to prevent the collision.

It is a peculiar coincidence that an elder brother of the little fellow was injured in a somewhat similar manner at the corner of London and George streets, just a block away, within the last year and had three fingers of his hand taken off.

MERRY COMPANY ON DANCING BENT INVADED BY THE DUPEE BROS. IN TOWNSHIP OF BANGOR

Bancroft, Aug. 25.—Special.—There was a dance at Robt. Watson's, in Bangor township, a few nights ago, and according to all reports they had a waler of a time. Among the guests were five brothers named Dupee, a sort of a Jesse James gang, who have been running the show down there for years. These brothers were apparently under the influence of liquor, and went there, it appears, with the intention of creating a disturbance. They succeeded admirably, and the affair wound up in a free fight. Mich Dupee struck Herb Lavoy, an eighteen-year-old lad in the mouth and knocked out one of his grinders, and nearly everyone had a hand in the game. The result was a number of police court cases, and Police Magistrate Jarman went down there on Friday last to try and adjust matters. Mich. Dupee did not wait for his case to be called but soothed Boyle's feelings by the payment of $75.00 and $10.25 costs. Thos. Dupee went down in his jeans for a greenback and the frills for assaulting Thos. Boyle; Meddie Dupee contributed $5 and costs, $10.50, for the pleasure of breaking up a social, and for using insulting language to Aaron Parcher's daughter Thos. Dupee coughed up $5 and $11.25 costs. The trial was held in No. 6 schoolhouse, and the whole settlement turned out to hear the fun. The lesson should have a salutary effect on the Dupee brothers.

The Successful Excursion To Hastings Of Piccolo Band

The best excursion of the season to Hastings by water was that of the Piccolo Band, which went yesterday. The steamer Otonabee carried more than two hundred passengers down the Otonabee and across Rice Lake, and they all were delighted with the voyage. The boat arrived at her destination at 12.35, and leaving Hastings at 3 o'clock, reached home about about 8.20. Dancing on board was the prevailing enjoyment of the day. Mr. John Dodds of Hastings provided splendid violin music for that portion of the programme, and with Messrs. E. Sargison and A. Huycke as piano accompanists, the music was greatly enjoyed. The Piccolo Band itself was present and contributed to the musical programme.

The excursion was so successful that the band contemplates holding a moonlight before the closing of the season.

POLICE OFFICER NEWHALL RETURNS FROM SUNNY SOUTH

A hundred and two degrees in the shade sounds rather tropical like and makes one imagine he were sitting on a hot stove somewhere near the equator. Such is the weather in Cuba, where P. C. Newhall has spent the past couple of weeks or more on a holiday and business trip combined. He returned to the city last evening, and is now back to his beat on the city streets, watching for the offenders of the law.

Mr. Newhall states he had a most splendid journey. He went to New York by rail and took passage on a steamship for Santiago. In New York he met several friends from Liverpool, England, whom he used to know while on the police force of the latter city, and renewed old acquaintances.

Although he experienced weather up to 102 degrees in Cuba, he says that that heat is not felt any more than New York's 85 or 90 degrees. The atmosphere is clearer and not so stifling in Santiago.

The harvest in Cuba promises to be an average one. The sugar cane yield will be above that of last year, when there was considerable deficiency from the normal. Fruits and Vegetables grow to enormous sizes there.

Returning P. C. Newhall took an ideal cruise. From New York he came up this historic Hudson River through Lake George and Lake Champlain, both made during the Seven Years' War. Coming up the St. Lawrence he passed among the Thousand Islands and Lake Ontario, landing at Port Hope on Sunday night and arriving home yesterday evening.

The Canadian General Gets A Contract From Edmonton

According to a despatch from Edmonton the contract for motor supplies for the new street railway in that city has been awarded to the Canadian General Electric Company, Peterborough. The cars will be built by the Ottawa Car Works.

Edmonton's street Railway system will probably be about the size of that of Peterborough.

English Families Will Be Deported From Peterboro

Relief Officer Miller states that a large number of English people, who find themselves face to face with winter and with no prospect of work are asking to be deported, and arrangements are being made to send a number of them back across the Atlantic. They think that they will be able to do better at home than they can here, and the authorities here believe that to get rid of as many as possible is the wiser course.

"There has been more relief given this last summer than in any other summer since I have been relief officer," said Mr. Miller to the Examiner this morning. "I am going to have my work cut out for me this winter," he continued. "There will be very many cases of destitution, without a doubt."

C.P.R. Grain Route Is Staked To Run Through The Park

The C. P. R. surveyors who have been engaged on the survey work west of Peterborough for the Victoria Harbour grain route, have completed their work and have left the city. They have staked out the road for four miles leading to the city, and one of those employed stated to the Examiner to-day that the survey was the final one.

The new road will come into Jackson Park from the west along the bed of the creek and in many places will run parallel to the Grand Trunk, which it crosses some distance west of the park. Coming towards Peterborough, it passes through Jackson Park about ten feet from the band stand. The road will then come on down through city property some distance before it crosses the boundary into North Monaghan again. It passes through Mr. Hatton's property and joins the C.P.R. main line below the shovel factory.

A BIG CONTRAST.

During the last eleven years of Conservative rule they spent eighty million dollars on permanent improvements, and to do this they borrowed sixty-two millions. During eleven years of Liberal rule they spent one hundred and twenty-seven millions on permanent improvements, and to do this they borrowed only five millions. That is the Conservatives borrowed 77 1-2 per cent. of what they spent and only paid 22 1-2 per cent. out of current revenue. The Liberals borrowed only 3 8-10 per cent. of what they spent on permanent improvements and paid 96 2-10 per cent out of current revenue.

A RATIONAL POLICY.

When theory collides with facts, theory gets the worst of it. It is claimed by the advocates of a protective tariff that its imposition produces prosperity, and, as a logical consequence, produces, and, logically perpetuates good times. What are the facts in the United States, the land of sky-high tariff? During the first half of the present year, statistics tell us that the number of the population coming to the United States was far fewer than the outgoings. The immigrants arriving in that country during this period were 192,000; the departing immigrants numbered 390,000, the number of outgoing being more than double the arrivals. This should not be if the theory of protection bringing prosperity is correct. This fact shows that taxing the many for the benefit of the few—the essence of protection—does not insure prosperity. The wave of business depression flowed far more deeply and disastrously over the United States than over Canada, where a practically revenue tariff prevails. The Liberal Government of the Dominion came into power in 1896 on the distinct pledge that a tariff policy would be applied that would produce a sufficient revenue and stimulate trade and industrial operation. In 1896, the last year of Conservative rule, the revenue of Canada had dwindled till it was less by $2,164,280 than it had been eight years previously, in 1888—and money had to be borrowed to meet the ordinary expenditures of the country. At once the Liberal policy came into operation the revenue began to improve and continued to increase, till last year, after twelve years of Liberal administration, it had grown to $96,000,000, whereas, after eighteen years of Conservative administration and protective tariff, the evenue was only $36,618,590. The revenue, under Liberal rule, had increased in twelve years by $59,881,410. This was accomplished in spite of the fact that tariff taxation had been reduced by $2.55 on every hundred. This represents an exact fulfilment of the pledge made by the Liberals to the people in 1896 that they would increase the revenue without adding to the burdens of the people—would direct the revenue to the public treasury instead of into the pockets of favoured beneficiaries. During that period, imports has increased from $119,000,000 (round figures) to $370,000,000, and exports has grown from $137,000,000 to $280,000,000, and the total trade had grown from $257,000,000 to $650,000,000. Canada has prospered under what may be regarded as a revenue tariff.

The Conservative party, while in office, increased the public debt by $118,000,000, while the Liberal party has only increased it $19,000,000. And yet the Liberal party is accused of extravagance.

TWELVE YEARS OF LAURIER.

Montreal Herald.

It goes without saying that the availability of an extra thousand million dollars' worth of exports in the twelve years during which the Laurier Government has held office has an important influence upon the commercial life of the Dominion, as upon all other phases of activity. The commodities it represented, the products of the mine, the forest, the fisheries, the farm and the factory, passed through many hands before they were safely out of the country, and many a merchant, big and little, was the better off for the growth in business. When it was gone it had to be paid for in other commodities, for it is the absolute law of trade that commodities and services are paid for by an exchange of commodities and services. The process of exchange is sometimes round about, but the result is always certain. It is not the cheese or cattle exporter who brings back dry goods, or raw cotton, or coal, nor does the steel house or the wine agent send out wheat or lumber, but these are as much the complements of each other as if they were so many departments in a single great business. The relation of the hundred and seventeen millions of exports, in 1896, to the total foreign trade of two hundred and twenty-eight millions in that year, was no mere matter of accident, the proportions of one to two being preserved, with some margin of fluctuation, through all the tables showing the history of the Dominion's trade with other countries since Confederation. The proportions are maintained, with close approximation, through the Twelve Years of Laurier, until in the fiscal year of 1908 the exports of two hundred and forty-six millions go with a total trade of six hundred and thirty-eight millions. In that fiscal year, 1908, which ended on March 31st last, it was with this handsome and hitherto unequalled aggregate trade that the commercial interests of the country which have any direct part in export or import trade had to do. This enormous sum, from which this special set of commercial agencies took what part they had earned for handling it, was almost equal in amount to the sum of any three years prior to 1897. And of course, it goes without saying that the commercial processes were only well begun, in the import trade, when these official returns were made. The cloth brought in by the wholesaler had still to go through the hands of the wholesale clothier and the man in the general store. The cotton wood had to go through the mill, through the wholesale house, through the general store, through the tent maker's hands, the dressmaker's hands. The steel had to go through one process and another until it found its way, as hardware, into the hand of the builder, the woodsman, the farmer. Commerce, it is clear, benefitted enormously, as to volume of business, during the Twelve Years of Laurier. Taking the total trade figures for 1896 ($228,000,000) as the standard of comparison, the additions for the twelve years reach the enormous total of two thousand four hundred and fifty-three million dollars It is as if twenty-three years, of the sort we knew up to 1896, had been crowded into the work of twelve. It is the almost literal realization, so far as the commerce of the Dominion is concerned, of making two blades grow where one grew before. And if we note that of recent years the tendency has been for the value of imported commodities to somewhat exceed the value of the commodities exported to pay for them, the explanation is to be found in the fact that the great progress the Dominion has made has been the means of inducing capitalists in England and elsewhere to invest enormous sums in the securities of Canadian enterprises, which investments reach Canada in the form of commodities required for the purposes of those enterprises, all of the investments being almost immediately poured into the currents of commerce in Canada. It is not more progress that additions like this to the commerce of the country indicate; it is advancement by leaps and bounds. A look at such figures as are here presented cannot leave any one insensible of the magnitude of the problems they bring in their train.

THE LATEST IN ARC LIGHTING

The Flaming Arc Lamp Which Gives Three Times As Much Light For Same Current

HOW IT WAS DISCOVERED

Electric News Service.

Schenectady, Aug. 25. — It is a well-known fact that Sir Humphrey Davy discovered the brilliancy of the electric arc while experimenting with a powerful battery more than a hundred years ago. The arc lamp, a direct result of this discovery, was the first electric light produced by the current arcing over a gap between two carbon pencils. All the arc lamps so common in street lighting are made on this principle.

Several years ago a German scientist named Bremmer was experimenting with the electric arc, with the idea of making it a better and more economical means of giving artificial light. He began by mixing certain substances with the pure carbon pencils. After months of careful study and experiment, he discovered that by impregnating the carbon pencils with salts of calcium or rare metallic earths, he was able to produce a luminous arc that gave three times as much light as the ordinary arc. This discovery resulted in a new type of arc lamp which gave a veritable flood of light, equal to thousands of candles.

A number of the lamps were brought to this country and American inventors began studying the problem and experimenting with flaming lamps. A few months in the laboratories, and the skilled scientists, chemists and inventors of the General Electric Company produced a flaming arc which rivalled, if not surpassed, in luminosity the foreign-make lamp.

Three kinds of flaming arc lamps are produced; the yellow light, the white light and the red light. The white light carbons produce a mellow white light, but are not very much more efficient than the o'd open arc lamps. The red light flames are second on the list as illuminants, and the light in reality is a delicate pink colour. The colour of the light produced by the yellow carbons is a deep orange, remarkable for its softness, efficiency, penetrating qualities and adaptability to the ordinary range of vision.

It should be said in passing that there is a definite colour range for the eye, just as there is a pitch range for the ear. Yellow causes the least strain on the optic nerve because it comes in the middle of the spectrum and has a wave length the tall eyes can easily apprehend. Some eyes are more sensitive to the long wav elengths of red, while others are equally as sensitive to the short wave lengths of light blue.

The new flaming arc lamp differs but slightly in general construction and design from the ordinary enclosed arc lamp. The magnetic device which keeps the carbon always at an equal distance apart, despite the continual wasting away of the carbon particles, is nearly the same.

In the old lamps the carbon rods are made of almost pure carbon and 80 per cent. of the light is produced from the incandescent crater of the positive carbon, while only a small percentage of light is given by the arcing of the electric current across the gap between the two carbons. In the flaming arc the carbons are made of a composition of carbon, salts and minerals, through the centre of which is run a thin strip of metal for conductive purposes. These rods are placed in the lamp at an acute angle, the lower ends almost touching. The large amount of light is produced by a luminous gas formed from the burning composition between the tips. Owing to the fact that these carbons waste away quite rapidly, the lamp is enclosed to prevent the tips from "washing" in air currents. A small magnetic device keeps the rods in position.

Practically all the light from the ordinary carbon arc comes from the tips of the carbons, the arc itself, formed of carbon vapor, giving off only a very faint bluish light. The high efficiency of the flame carbon arc results from feeding into an ordinary carbon arc certain mineral salts which, when vaporized and raised to the temperature of boiling carbon, make the arc itself intensely luminous and of greater length and thickness than that produced by pure carbon. In order to effect this result, cored carbons are used, having either the core or tubular shell of the carbons impregnated with light-giving mineral salts.

In flame arc lamps using converging carbons there is nothing whatever below the arc to obstruct the light in any way, and when in operation the whole globe appears to be a luminous sphere without a single dark spot to mar the perfect illumination.

The flame arc lamp is more efficient in watts per candle-power than any other commercial form of electric light.

The total trade of the country last year was $680,793,131, or $111,578,000 greater than the last year the Conservatives were in office. The country cannot afford to upset this splendid rate of development—let Laurier finish his work.

A Prominent Methodist Minister Preaches At Keene

Speaks on "The Nearness of God" —His Attitude Towards Prayer

SOME SPECIAL MUSIC

Examiner Special.

Keene, Aug 24.—Rev. Dr. Workman, who is spending his holidays in the village, conducted services in the Methodist Church Sunday morning, and, as invariably happens when Dr. Workman preaches here he was greeted by a large attendance.

A special feature of the service was the special music, two of the hymns composed by the reverend doctor being sung. A daily prayer was sung as a solo by Mrs. (Dr.) W. T. Harrison, and Mrs. Harrison, Misses Bryce and Harrison sang Dr. Workman's Praise Hymn, at the conclusion of the services. Misses Harrison and Bryce sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

The sermon was upon "The nearness of God." The text was taken from Psalm 145, verses 18 and 19. The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon Him, to all that call upon Him in truth. He will fulfill the desires of them that fear Him. The speaker divided his sermon into three parts; first, the proximity of God and spoke of God's infinitenes and His omnipotence; second, how we can experience God's proximity and gave an apt illustration of an an electric current which, although near, exerts no influence unless connection is made. Just so must we have proximity with God or we do not realize the full benefit of His nearness. The third part dealt with how we draw comfort from the nearness of God and our communion with Him, and the speaker pointed out how we are made nobler and better from our communion with God and our nearness to Him.

Throughout the sermon special reference was made to God's attitude toward prayer.

Many favourable comments were heard upon the sermon and Keene residents assure Dr. Workman that his effort which he had made, in spite of his ill health, is highly appreciated by them and that whenever he may be again pleased to preach he will be greeted with an appreciative audience.

WAS CHARGED WITH POISONING VALUABLE ENGLISH SHEEP DOG

A local resident at the police court this morning was charged with wilfully and unlawfully destroying by poisoning a grey sheep dog, the property of John W. Edwards, butcher, George street. The defendant, whose interests were looked after by Mr. A. E. Dixon, pleaded not guilty. Mr. W. H. Moore, K.C., appeared for the complainant.

Wm. W. Edwards, son of the complainant, was the first witness. He testified that the dog in question was a valuable one, worth, he estimated, $100, that it had been specially trained in England to drive sheep and cattle, and that it had cost two pounds for the animal's fare on the steamer coming over. Mr. Lowrie, the defendant, lived next door and the witness stated that he had heard him threaten to kill the dog. After the dog had been poisoned the witness had gone around to the different drug stores, and had found that McDermid & Jury's store had sold strychnine to the accused on July 16th.

Gwendoline Edwards, sister of the first witness, corroborated his evidence in regard to threats made by the defendant upon the dog's life. She also testified that at first he had been on good terms with the animal.

Phyllis Edwards, a younger sister of the previous witness, stated that she had taken the dog out into the yard about 9.30 o'clock on the morning of July 22nd, and that soon after she had noticed him pick up something from the path and eat it. In a few minutes the dog had gone into convulsions.

R. H. Quinn, assistant in McDermid & Jury's store, testified that the defendant had purchased ten grains of strychnine on July 16th and produced the "poison book," in which the entry of the sale was made.

Wm. R. Munro, veterinary surgeon, testified to the death of the dog, and to the sending of its stomach to Kingston for examination of its contents. The report of the examination was submitted, showing that strychnine had been found in its stomach.

For the defence, the accused denied that he had poisoned the dog, with which, he stated, that he had always been on good terms. He admitted buying strychnine, but stated that it was for the purpose of destroying rats, with which his premises were infested.

Several other witnesses were called by the defence after which the Magistrate dismissed the case. There was not a sufficient amount of evidence to warrant a conviction he said and he had therefore no other course than to act as he did.

FINANCIAL OUTLOOK IN NEW YORK

Cotton Market Strong During the Past Week—Trading is Active on Stock Exchange

Examiner Special

New York, August 24.—The cotton market over-shadowed all else in New York this week. There was a desperate battle fought between the bulls and the bears. J. L. Livermore the recognized successor to Daniel J Sully, was attacked by professional traders and received a severe drubbing. According to the gossip of the New York Cotton Exchange, Livermore and his party were long 3,000,000 bales. They were forced to liquidate and the experts on the Exchange figure that they lost a cent a pound or $5 a bale, which netted them a total loss of one million and a half dollars. According to Mr. Livermore's friends he made enough money on the short side of the stock market to cover all losses made in cotton. This may be so as on Thursday when October cotton broke $5 a bale Mr. Livermore left his office in the middle of the day and went aboard his yacht and remained there until mid-day Friday. His actions were not those of a heavy loser. All eyes are still on the cotton market or it is believed that if the bull crowd has not liquidated all its holdings there will be a further break of one cent a pound in cotton.

Trading on the New York Stock Exchange and the Consolidated Stock Exchange was active and very irregular. The Exchanges were divided, half the members being bulls and the other members bears. As a result the market was very erratic and made quick swings up and down. Near the end of the week when Southern Pacific crossed par which was the highest price on record for that issue, the market looked for a time as if the bulls had once more gained control. Prices were then attacked by the Rock Island crowd and San Francisco preferred and Rock Island preferred broke four points. This was due to renewed rumours of defaults on bonds and probable receivership proceedings. New York Central was also very weak on its reports which showed the Company with a large floating indebtedness, heavy expenses and not earning its dividends.

Reports from business centres were as a rule much better. A large New York jobbing house reported a heavy increase in inquiries and a good increase in new orders. The United States Steel Corporation reported that the tonnage of new business was larger for the month of July than the aggregate of the steel produced. In view of this it is probable that the report for the current quarter will show an increase in unfilled tonnage over the preceding quarter. If this should prove to be the case it will be important in that it will be the first gain reported in any quarter since December 31, 1907, and will indicate that a change for the better has come in the steel and iron business.

The International monetary situation continues to show a remarkable contrast between the conditions which obtain now and which existed all over the world in August a year ago. At that time, money could not be had except at a rate of interest that is as much too low now as it was high then. Call money rules at 1 per cent. and 1 per cent. in New York. The United States has been unable in the face of the business depression to increase its foreign credits to the extent of $180,000,000 and for the first seven months of the year the balance of trade in our favour exceeds $370,000,000 all of which makes a fatal further glut in the money market.

The known movements of money at the close of business Friday indicate a cash gain by the local banks of eight and one half million dollars of gold coin which was made from New York to Canada on Thursday. The gain from Chicago and other interior points amounted to nearly $2,000,000.

THE DEATH OF MR. LEFEVRE

Prominent Lakefield Resident Passed Away—Well Known in Peterboro

WAS IN HIS 74th YEAR

The many friends and acquaintances of the family will be shocked to learn of the death of Mr. H. J. LeFevre, which took place yesterday afternoon after an illness of little over a week, at his residence in Lakefield. The deceased gentleman had resided at Lakefield for many years, but his face was almost as well known in Peterborough as it was in the northern village. His decease removes another from the rapidly thinning band of those who have been identified with the life of the village since the time of its founder, the late Col. Strickland. Mr. LeFevre in his young days was under Col. Strickland's tuition, but when 21 years of age he returned to the island of Jersey, where he remained ten years. Shortly after his return to Canada, in 1874, Mr. LeFevre married Miss Agnes Strickland Tully, eldest daughter, by his second marriage, of the late Mr. Kivas Tully, C. E. He leaves surviving him his son, Mr. Alfred George LeFevre, C.E., and three daughters, Mrs. Marling, of Lakefield; Mrs. G E Atwood, of Peterborough and Mrs. Wm. Grieve, of Vernon, B.C. Mr. LeFevre's personality was one that endeared him to everyone with whom he came in contact, and his death will cause the keenest regret in a community where he was so well and so deservedly beolved and esteemed. The deceased gentleman was in his 74th year at the time of his death.

SUMMER

Smile lovely Earth; thy graceful hills
With verdant sheen entwining,
Thy crystal lakes and purling rills
Reflecting Heaven's shining!
On dewy plain the quiet herds
Our Father's gifts partaking,
In shady dell the happy birds
The forest echoes waking.

Those brilliant blossoms, nodding
Their perfume slyly flinging, (Conservatories wondrous fair,
All resonant with singing.)
These restful lakes with pebbly
These shining shade trees oaken,
These perfect days by zephyrs fanned,
You arch by cloud unbroken.

Yea, more; unreckoned still the gifts,
All set in smiling beauty;
Nature itself one paean lifts
Replete with loving duty.
We fain essay to praise thee, too,
Sweet summer in thy glory;
Thine ancient garb is ever new,
And ever new thy story.

Enough of goodness, everywhere,
Attests the Maker's loving;
Displayed in earth, and sea, and air
His rich, unstinted giving.
Thus, look above this transient bloom,
Alott, to Nature's Father,
Assured, that in life's thickest gloom
His skies are bending over.

Assured that for this fair, strange earth,
(Where graves and groans are breaking
The verdant sod, the careless mirth)
Will dawn another waking;
Assured, that One, who made it good,
Without one tinge of sorrow,
Will stanch the sin, and pain, and blood
In some not-far-off morrow.
Then, cloudless joy its banner flaunts,
Untarnished by a murmur,
And ransomed Earth with song enchants
Its one perennial summer.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Mrs. Sophia Ludeke, a wealthy Cincinnati lady, member of a party of about 150 Americans who were touring Muskoka, fell dead Sunday at Hamill's Point, north of Port Carling.

Plenty of Help.

Frankford, Aug. 25.—At 10 o'clock Sunday night the Trent River Paper Co. sounded a fire alarm which was responded to by the townsmen, while crowds flocked in from the country, until fully one thousand people were on hand ready to assist.

In less than half an hour all the mill pumps were working, connected with seven hundred feet of hose and throwing a good stream of water, which, with the buckets, kept the fire confined to one stack and storehouse.

The fire was surrounded by thousands of tons of straw, and a great quantity of wood.

Sailors Are Delighted.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 25.—The United States marines have addressed a letter of thanks to the people of Sydney, in which they say: "If other places think they can surpass Sydney's welcome they must take the ships ashore."

There was a grand review at noon yesterday in Centennial Park, in which 600 men of the royal navy, 3,000 men of the American fleet, 7,000 of the naval and military forces of New South Wales, and 4,000 cadets took part. It was the largest ceremonial parade ever witnessed in Sydney.

Unfortunate Burglar Sentenced.

Guelph, Aug. 25.—Ben Tryon, the most persistent and also the least successful burglar who has operated in Guelph for some time, was sentenced yesterday to two months with hard labor, in the county jail.

He broke into Cray's coal office at least six times in two months and once into Goldie's mill office, but on all his visits he failed to realise more than a total of $12.15.

SUGGESTS CENTENARY.

Earl Grey Thinks Celebration of Peace of 1814 Would Be In Order.

Windsor, Aug. 25.—Flushed with the success attained by the Quebec Tercentenary, Earl Grey, who paid on informal visit to Windsor yesterday, has evolved a new idea along the same lines.

His Excellency thinks there should be a centenary in 1914 of the peace relations between Canada and the United States.

"It is a gratifying thing to know that for nearly a hundred years, a long unprotected frontier of 3,000 miles, there has been no war waged," said His Excellency. "Yes, I think preparations should be made shortly to celebrate the anniversary."

The Governor-General was taken for an auto ride around Windsor, Walkerville, Sandwich and Belle Isle. In the afternoon he was tendered a river outing and luncheon on board a ferry steamer, after which he was entertained by Hiram Walker & Sons of Walkerville.

MOTHER STEALS BOYS.

She Recovers Twins Taken From Her Some Times Ago.

Hagersville, Ont., Aug. 25.—About 8 o'clock yesterday morning the twin sons of Sylvaus Dixon of Milton, Ont., were kidnapped from the home of their grandfather, Dr. Peter E. Jones, on the New Credit Reserve, about three miles from Hagersville.

The children were on the road in front of the doctor's house when two women in a buggy drove up and put the children in the buggy and hurried away.

It is supposed that one of the women was their mother, who resides in Toledo, Ohio. A few months ago the father secured the children from their mother in a similar manner, bringing them to the home of his parents.

Danced on Sunday.

Belleville, Aug. 25.—Christian citizens are shocked at the incidents which attended a Jewish wedding held in Symon's dancing academy, in this city, Sunday night. Harry Yanover and Rebecca Solomons were married by Rabbi Benkogan of Toronto. After the ceremony dinner was served, at which beer, wine and spirits were supplied in abundance. A large number of young men were present, also an orchestra. Dancing went on from 7 till 1 o'clock and people, as they went home from church, stood on the sidewalk and listened.

Son Killed Father.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 25.—According to the detective authorities of this city, Mrs. Bonnie Rosenbloom and her daughter, Eva, confessed yesterday that the body found in the trunk at Belle-Mawr, near Camden, N. J., on Aug. 16, was that of Samuel J. Rosenbloom of Windber, Pa., husband of the elder woman, and that he was killed by her son, Alexander Rosenbloom, at their home in Windber, Pa., last November.

The woman said her husband had been killed because he had beaten them.

THE WINDOW TRIMMERS' CONVENTION

Was Attended by Mr. H. C. MacDonald of Richard Hall & Son's Store—Week With Marshall Field

Mr. H C Macdonald, window trimmer and card printer for Richard Hall & Son, has returned from a three weeks' trip to Detroit and Chicago. In the former city a mammoth convention of window trimmers from all over the North American continent was held for the purpose of imparting and gaining fresh knowledge in the art of dressing windows. The head decorators from the State street stores of Chicago were there demonstrating and advertising, so that the tone of the convention from the standpoint of the window trimmer was of a high order.

Mr. Macdonald, whose artistic work has been much appreciated in connection with this work in Peterborough, was successful as usual and succeeded in winning three diplomas for his splendid work. It is expected that next year the convention will be held in Chicago.

At the conclusion of the conference in Detroit Mr. Macdonald left for Chicago where he spent a week in Marshall Field's, securing new and the most modern ideas for his work here.

Thirty-six years makes a great change in any progressive place, but Mr. Powers could scarcely realize the wonderful alterations that have taken place since his departure.

HIPPODROME OF THE OLD WORLD IS BEATEN

At The Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto This Year

The stage performance in front of the Grand Stand at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, this year will be of particular merit, probably the best that has been produced anywhere, and equal to the performance given at the great Hippodromes in New York and London. The engagements include Power's Hippodrome Elephants, four in number, Herzog's Horses, ten in number, Luken's American Grizzlies, six in number, Cassardy's trained Bears, seven in number, Tetsuwari's Japanese Troupe, Luken's Aerial Acrobats, Keno, Walsh and Melrose, ground and lofty tumblers, Nelson and Nelson, comedy acrobats, Work and Ower, Eccentric Acrobats, the Three Sylvestros, Aerial Artists, Jules and Marson, Equilibrists, Marie la Blonche, the woman with the iron nerve, who makes the death defying ride through space, Monte Myro's Bewitched Inn, Alfred Yoder, bounding monarch of the wire, and musical ride of the Royal Dragoons. In addition, in the afternoon, in front of the Stand, there will be harness racing, and judging of horses, Breeding barn and cattle to the number of 1,200. In the evening, in addition to the hippodrome performance, the Siege of Sebastopol, with 900 performers, will be given along with the international military tattoo, in which 300 musicians will take part, concluding with the usual display of fireworks.

Humours Of Scott Election In Saskatchewan Province

People in East Take Press Announcements Too Seriously—Cowboys to Lasso the Election Crooks

GUARD TO ESCORT BALLOTS

Regina, Aug. 25.—An election contest anywhere is not without its humours, and the recent Provincial contest in Saskatchewan was no exception to the rule.

Since Saskatchewan was made a Province the Opposition have railed against the Scott Government as being one foisted upon the Province by Ottawa, calling them a provisional government that would only last until the electors would have a chance to declare their wishes. Mr. Scott was simply Sir Wilfrid Laurier's nominee, they said, a usurper who had snatched the Premiership from its rightful owner, Frederick W. G. Haultain. They only wanted a chance to drive him from power. When the Legislature was dissolved on July 21 and the elections fixed for August 14, a mighty cry went up from the Opposition, protesting against the suddenness of the call. There was no need for an election then, there was no time to discuss the issues and Mr. Scott was a Premier anxious to save himself from the wrath of the people by snatching a snap verdict. He had been given his instructions at Ottawa to go in swimming, first and tell Sir Wilfrid Laurier if the water was warm or not. Of course, Mr. Scott denied having received any instructions from Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Meanwhile, the Opposition were proclaiming that the country was with them and would sweep Mr. Scott from power.

The result of the election has been to confirm the provisional Premier in power for five years longer. The Opposition is defeated and feels sore. The Government has won, and can stand a joke at its expense.

Forgot the Issue

When Premier Scott announced the dissolution, the reason given was that the country should pass upon the proposed bill to establish rural municipalities. Throughout the contest, no one, not even Mr. Scott, remembered to mention this precious measure. Since the election Mr. Scott has discovered that it was important that electors should be consulted in regard to his proposed aid to railways by means of a guarantee of bonds. During the election contest, he was emphatic that the return of Mr Haultain would be a death blow to the Hudson Bay Railway, which he had induced the Dominion Government to build. The old-timers who got excited over the elections in Manitoba twenty or thirty-five years ago, must have laughed to see their old friend, the Hudson Bay Railway, an issue once more, with Premier Scott, and not Hugh Sutherland, as its apostle.

The Duck Lake Joke

In the different ridings many funny things occurred. Perhaps the greatest joke is the contest in Duck Lake. Attorney-General Turgeon, wisely, as the contest in Prince Albert showed, accepted nomination also in Duck Lake. Mr. Haultain had declared that no seat would go by default, but, the story goes, found at the last moment he had no candidate for Duck Lake. A worker in his committee, Mr. Francis Turcotte, spoke up and said, "I will carry Duck Lake for you, but where in h—— is Duck Lake, anyway?" In any case, Mr. Turcotte was given the nomination. He is a young French-Canadian who has worked as a clerk in the carpet department of one of our city stores. He spent a holiday in Duck Lake and Mr. Turgeon only defeated him by about 132 votes. There was great merriment in Regina when Mr. Turcotte wired a local paper, "Victory is assured." He came away from Duck Lake before the contest was over, and gave as his reason, "I have everything fixed, and I have to vote in Regina to-morrow." Mr. Turcotte should have remained on the ground and completed the fixing, which would have rounded off the joke. The Leader, in a despatch, gravely avers that his nomination was a diabolical plot to confuse the electors by a similarity of names.

The Government had some assistance from outside Provinces and from the Dominion organization. It is rather amusing to read of the horror they feel that John Archie MacDonald could afford to spend money and bring in heelers from Manitoba to defeat the Minister of Agriculture. One private citizen was guilty of a crime in coercing the Americans in Milestone county into voting against Mr. Calder, and a few civil servants who thought Mr. Haultain was going to win, and acted accordingly, are now looking for new positions. Certain it is, there is a clamour for their heads.

Mr. Bole accused his opponent, Mr. Laird, of trying to bribe, and, to give it a dramatic effect, added, "If I am not speaking the truth, may God strike me dead where I stand." There is even a difference of opinion as to the good taste of this manner of assertion.

Take it all Seriously

Perhaps at the proper angle of vision, the funniest thing in the election was the announcement published that the Conservatives in Moose Jaw City would escort the ballot boxes to a safe place by an escort armed with rifles. Next to this was the ringing warning that the cowboys would lasso any election crooks found working in Swift Current or Maple Creek. What is even more humourous, also at the proper angle of vision, is that Eastern papers commented seriously on these announcements, as showing the decadence of public life in Canada. I doubt if a domiciliary search would discover twenty rifles in Moose Jaw City outside of the armoury. The people there are as peaceful as those of Hamilton. Likewise, the only time when they become angry is when someone praises Regina. But a rifle would be, in most cases, a greater source of danger to the man that held it than to the deputy returning officer who had incurred their suspicions.

Even a "National Weekly" must have a sensational paragraph or two in its funny columns.

IS WATER SUPPLY IMPURE? BACTERIA FOUND IN SAMPLES

Is Peterborough's water supply unsafe? Such is the impression that one would gain from the report received from the provincial bacteriologists, John A. Amyot, in connection with samples of water sent to him to be examined by Dr. Bingham, medical health officer. The specimens were taken from the drinking fountains at the police station and Central Park, and the letter speaks for itself in regard to what was found. It was read at a meeting of the Board of Health this morning and was referred to the Water Commissioners for consideration.

The report is as follows:

"In the report of the specimens examined by us lately you will note that both specimens were infected with bacteria of intestinal origin. Now, it is important for us to distinguish between these bacteria coming from animal or human subjects, but when the water supply can be infected by sewage bacteria such as this, then there is no reason why human sewage might not reach it. There is a considerable human population in the very near neighbourhood of Peterborough above your intake, and so long as it is there, there will always be the danger of serious infection of Peterborough water supply. This will probably go on and become worse than it is at present.

Yours truly,
JOHN A. AMYOT.

FAST MOTOR BOAT, THE BLUE STREAK, GETS INTO TROUBLE

John Robinson, the captain of the fast motor boat which was to have raced the "Miss Fidgety" at Stony Lake on the day of the Regatta, has been in police court for running his 23-mile-an-hour craft around the Bay. A Toronto despatch says:—

A fight to a finish has commenced between the Toronto navy and the lightning motor boat, the Blue Streak, and it will be watched with great interest by everyone interested in boating on Toronto Bay, for it is to decide what right the navy has to make a speed limit of four miles an hour in Toronto waters.

John Robinson, the chauffeur of the Blue Streak, appeared in the Police Court Friday afternoon on the complaint of the Toronto navy, who charged him with pushing his boat through the bay at a rate considered dangerous to other craft, swimmers, and perhaps the little fishes, besides stirring up the bay on warm days.

Magistrate Patterson is an expert on fining automobile speeders, but motor boats are not in his repertoire, so he arranged with Mr. Robinson to call again.

"We might as well get this thing over. I intend to go through with it as a test case," said Mr. Robinson. "It's ridiculous to even think of a workable law that will not allow a boat to go more than four miles an hour. It could drift faster than that. You couldn't have any sailing races if there was any wind.

"We believe in regulating boat speed in reason. I can stop our boat in its own length, no matter how fast we are going. Irresponsible persons should be looked after, of course, and there are some. We know how to manage our boat safely. In a place like the Humber we would not go faster than a walk."

Some of the motor boat men say the Toronto navy stirs up more bay than any other craft.

The Blue Streak is the boat with the long nose, painted in a pastel shade, that pokes around the bay, making other motor boats feel mean and playing tag with ferry boats and lake steamers. She can certainly move with considerable ginger, her motorman claiming that twenty-three miles an hour can be torn off on a straight run. Circling the big craft going at full speed is one of the Blue Streak's favourite amusements. Her way of doing things has doubtless excited the envy of the Toronto navy, which is quite a fast boat, and there is no truth in the statement that when the admiral and his crew are in a hurry and want to be sure of getting anywhere safely they get out and swim.

The weight of the Blue Streak is about 1,200 pounds, and she is worth about a dollar a pound.

IMPOSING ARRAY OF DRUNKS AT THE POLICE COURT TO-DAY

There was an imposing array of drunks-and-disorderlies and vagrants lined up before the Magistrate at Police Court this morning, no less than five having been gathered in.

John Barker, charged with vagrancy, told the Magistrate a moving tale of the hard luck he has been travelling under in this country. He was engaged, he said, to go away yesterday, but his employer failed to turn up. He had been trying to get work, and was doing his best to support himself.

The Chief testified that Barker had been up before and had promised to get work if he were given another chance. Mr. Howson, the immigration officer, had stated that he was no good.

"How long will it take you to get out of town?" asked the Magistrate.

"Three hours," replied Barker.

"Well, get out as quickly as you can," was the court's admonition, and Barker departed apparently upon the verge of tears.

Patrick Kelly was charged with being drunk and disorderly.

"Guilty, I suppose," was his comment, when the charge against him was read. "I came in from the bush yesterday," he added.

"Where do you live?" he was asked, and the reply was "Peterborough."

"Oh, you are a citizen of no mean city," replied the Magistrate.

Kelly was allowed to go on condition that he got back to the bush as soon as possible.

Ed. O'Brien was next in line and the charge against him was of being drunk in a public place.

"Guilty, I suppose," he pleaded.

"An old friend of ours," was the Chief's comment, and he added that it would do no harm to send him to jail for ten days.

The Magistrate inflicted a fine of two dollars to be paid forthwith, but O'Brien dug out a roll of bank notes and paid his fine, departing in triumph.

Thos. Tully pleaded guilty with a cheerful grin to a charge of being drunk, and was allowed to go with a two-dollar fine, with ten days in which to gather in the money.

A young Englishman faced the same charge and pleaded guilty. The penalty in his case was the same.

COLLIER-CUNNINGHAM CO.'S REQUEST

Are Given Permission by Board of Health To Build a Septic Tank

At a meeting of the Board of Health this morning a quantity of routine business came up for discussion, including a request from the Collier-Cunningham Company for permission to construct a cess pool on their property at the east of the Peterborough Cereal Company's premises. The Board decided to allow them permission to install a septic tank along the lines laid down by the medical health officer.

There were present at the meeting Dr. Burnham (chairman), Dr. McNulty, Dr. Young, Jas. Edgar and Jas. Murty.

A letter was read from Mr. A. S. Elliott, asking that a sewer be constructed on Bethune street, from Hunter to Brock street. The writer stated that he had been unable to get a petition sufficiently signed, but had been told that if the Board would order the sewer would have to be built. No action was taken in the matter.

The Collier-Cunningham Company wrote, asking permission to build a cess pool, four feet square and from ten to twelve feet deep, with a tight-ly-fitting cement cover on their newly-acquired property at the foot of Simcoe street.

In this connection the following report was received from the sanitary inspector and medical health officer:

As requested by the chairman we inspected the premises of Messrs. Collier, Cunningham & Company, re cess pool for accommodation of their buildings on Simcoe street.

We have looked over the premises carefully, and we have arrived at the conclusion that the best and only plan is to construct a septic tank similar to the one used by the American Cereal Company. There is room for such a tank about twenty feet from the river.

J. BINGHAM,
Medical Health Officer.
GEO. ROSZEL,
Sanitary Inspector.

On motion it was decided to give the company permission to install a septic tank as suggested by the medical officer.

NO SALE OF CHEESE WAS MADE

The Lindsay Salesmen Refused to Accept 12 3-16c for Their Cheese

The Cheese Board met this morning. There was a marked falling off in the quantity of cheese boarded. There were only 1095 cheese this year against 1397 for the corresponding sales last year.

The board attributed the general falling off this year to the scarcity of feed during the winter months. There were also fewer cows milking this year than last.

Wm. Flavelle and Joseph Brown were the buyers. Mr. Gillespie was not present at the start, as he was busy getting quotations from Montreal.

Mr. Flavelle made an offer of 12 1-8 cents for board, as a starter. Mr. Gillespie when he arrived, went 12 3-10 for selections. Mr. Flavelle offered 12 3-16 for the board.

The board refused to take the price and adjourned for a week.

While they admitted the price good, still in view of the price paid in Peterborough, they decided not to sell. The price for the sale last year was 11 3-8 cents.—Lindsay Warder.

THE LINDSAY BAND HAS MASCOT

Musicians in Camp Have a Tame Mink—Goosie Taylor's Capture

Lindsay, Aug. 25.—The Sylvester Band, under canvas at Graham's Landing, Sturgeon Point, have secured a mascot. Their pet is a mink, which "Goosie" Taylor induced to come into camp, and the furry little animal is now having the best time of its life.

"Gusto," the mascot was christened, inspiration forthcoming from the name on a box of breakfast food, in which his minkship sleeps. Food is plentiful, the bandsmen keeping a supply of minnows in a nearby aquarium solely for the benefit of their pet.

It is very interesting to watch the little fellow take his meals, far more so than watching the lions feed at a circus. A live, and wriggling minnow is dropped through a wooden grating into his "den" and is pounced on instantly by the mink. Long and sharp teeth penetrate the backbone of the fish and then its head is eaten off. The head is to the mink, the tit-bit and he leaves the body stored in the larder for future use.

On one occasion the men attempted to clean the "pen" out of some of the rubbish that had gathered, remains of fish, etc. To this the mink strenuously objected and it had to be left alone with its treasures.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is not known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

SUPERNATURAL BEING SAID TO BE OPERATING IN STRATFORD

Number of Ghost Hunters are Hunted Themselves—Some Terrifying Exploits

A SKULL IN QUEER STUNTS

To spend a night in a house in which supernatural agents caused a tremendous uproar; in which unseen hands tossed heavy articles around and spirits disported themselves in a strenuous fashion; in which a human skull moved from place to place of its own volition; a house filled with mysterious noises and terrifying sounds, was the weird experience of an number of ghost hunters in a residence on "Quality Hill" last night.

Mysterious and unaccountable were the many happenings of the night, and so terrifying were some of the incidents that men who scarcely know the meaning of the word fear, were hushed and silent in the presence of the ghostly visitor. Only those who have experienced the feeling can understand the sensation with which one is afflicted, when in the dead silence of night, a number of glass and china articles come hurtling through a closed door and are smashed into a thousand fragments with no trace of the hands which tossed the articles. With nerves keyed up to the highest tension, those who endeavoured to find the elusive spirit received shock after shock until they were positively in a state of terror. It is easy to combat a force which can be seen and grappled with, but to attempt to pursue something unseen and invisible, and yet of whose presence there was no doubt, is apt to make the stoutest heart fail.

The case is one of the strangest in the history of the city, and its mystery may probably never be solved.

The Uncanny Disturbance

The trouble first started on Sunday. A human skull is the centre of the trouble. The skull, which is that of a man in his prime, supposedly a white man, has been doing some wonderful stunts, which would almost make one believe it is animated. On Sunday the skull was taken from the attic of the house and its paper covering removed. Since then everything has run amuck. First of all the head piece of the uneasy spirit was left on the dining room table and the inmates left the house. Judge their surprise, when on returning the death's head was no longer there. No one had been in the room, of course. The gruesome trankster was soon found under the bookcase, with his face to the wall, as if to hide his fearful grin.

In some mysterious way the water in the bath room began to flow, the gas was lit and books fell helter skelter. The skull, which had this time aroused the suspicions of the householders, was locked in the dining room and everyone left the room, the door being locked from the outputside. Presto, change, the skull is found in the parlour.

As it was now getting on towards Monday the inmates retired, but not to peaceful rest. All night long the marauder continued to besiege the tired-out victims; books, ink bottles, ornaments and articles innumerable coming in through the fast closed door.

At last morning came and the tired out and sleepless victims of the restless mystic world looked forward to peace. But no, all day long sensation followed sensation. Time and time again the top piece of the late inhabitants of this terrestrial sphere was found to have wandered, and every time he wandered something happened. Monday night was the same and all day Tuesday, he of the sunken eye and shiny pate was moving about in a mysterious way.

Sea Shells Come In

Tuesday night (last night) was the climax, everything impossible and mysterious happened. About nine-thirty, after having spent a quiet hour, presumably a rest from its all day excursions, the skull once more began to wander. The gas went out and articles began to move around at a tremendous rate. In a few minutes the gas came on again and everyone breathed a sigh of relief, but not for long. Out went the gas again and with a crash something struck the wall. Upon investigation it was found that a sea shell had come across the room propelled by the unseen, unheard trickster.

It was decided now that the crowd divide into parties of four and investigate. Previous to this arrangement the evil-eyed one was removed to a bedroom upstairs and put on the floor, the party who placed him there swearing as to having delivered the said troublesome one to the confines of the bedroom. The party of exploration started all over the house. Downstairs nothing was found, although articles continued to fall like bomb shells. The front stairs was at last reached. Horrors! three steps from the landing lay the silent disturber. How, when, he got there, no one knew. It really seemed, by the broad grin that his face was contorted by, that the silent one enjoyed it. Cold chills, a funny feeling creeping down one's spinal cord, shazing at the knees, were the symptoms that affected everyone at this awful disclosure. Forces were rallied, and the search continued. Out go the lights again, the usual fusilade of books, etc.

Someone strikes a match. A sympathising neighbour is found lugging the piano stool. Evil intentions or not, everything was overlooked in the scramble, as a hard, dark object landed in the middle of the group. Another match showed that a plug hat had come from a route unknown: it was last seen on the skull. Here now was a golution; perhaps the head piece was that of a juggler. Several testified as to having seen jugglers manipulating plug hats.

Here peace came unexpectedly, the gas flared up, and several members, after giving evidence of the sensations felt, went to their respective homes.

Everyone now thought of bed, it being about 2 p.m. The silent one was safely deposited in a corner and preparations for bed began. Scarcely had they settled themselves for rest, when again the gas was extinguished. A resounding crash through the silent house startled the occupants, as again the fusilade of earthenware and china began. Scarcely had the noise subsided, when the music box downstairs struck up at a terrific pace, reeling off "I'm Afraid to Go Home in the Dark" with startling clearness. This last evidence of the spirits was too much for even the much-tired watchers and they descended like an avenging horde upon the music box. Until daylight the terrifying performance was continued; but, with the first sign of dawn in the east, the unearthly noises were discontinued and the spirits rested.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. MILLION DOLLAR TRUST FUND STARTS

Million Dollars Are Raised For Australia's Fleet.

FEARS AN ASIATIC INFLUX

Commonwealth Hopes to Lighten Britain's Burdens and at Same Time Protect Herself Against Danger of Oriental Invasion—Wants a White Man's Country—Some Blacks Deported.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 25.—The influence of the American fleet's visit to Australia is being felt in many ways.

The Sydney Herald, one of the foremost journals of the country, says that the cruise quickens the imagination of Australia, Canada and South Africa to the sense of their part in the sea power of the empire. A million dollar trust fund has already been created toward the beginning of an Australian navy.

Commenting upon the London reports that financiers have offered a loan of a hundred millions sterling for the royal navy increase, The Herald says: "This is undesirable, but it shows that the elasticity of the British financial system has been strained, and it is now necessary for Australia to lend a stronger hand to the Empire's defence."

The public gives a good reception to such arguments because of the fear of trouble from Asiatic immigration. The vast vacant fertile areas of Queensland, and the northern territory are a constant temptation to overcrowded Asiastic countries. The sentiment for a "white man's country" recently caused the deportation of the South Sea blacks formerly imported into Queensland. White men can live and work in tropical Queensland, but the health of the women is often broken. Settlement, therefore, is difficult, and Australia is the only remaining habitable land in the eyes of nearby Asiatic countries.

President Roosevelt's "cruise of peace and of justice" telegram has been most heartily welcomed.

Burns Beats Squires Again.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 25.—Tommy Burns, the champion heavyweight pugilist, again defeated Bill Squires, the Australian, here yesterday, knocking him out in the thirteenth round of a fast battle, which was witessed by 20,000 persons, among them hundreds of sailors from the American battleships now in the harbor. The Canadian earned £2,500 in the battle.

Matches Cause Fire.

Weston, Aug 25.—The barn and stables of Frank Listes, on the Weston road, Etobicoke, were completely burned late on Saturday afternoon. All his crops in the barn, together with a number of pigs and calves, were destroyed; loss about $6,000; with no insurance. The fire is supposed to have been caused through children playing with matches.

Fatal Factional Politics.

Ironton, Ohio, Aug. 25.—Factional politics are claimed to be directly responsible for the killing yesterday of Henry Frecka by Robert Frowine, his rival candidate for representative and Republic central committeeman.

The two men met on the street and Frowine was seen to draw his gun and commence shooting.

Drowned In Shallow Water.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—A story of a drowning accident reached here yesterday from St. Agathe, by which a young Dominion Express messenger named J A. Mills lost his life in two feet of water. He had evidently been overcome by cramps. His body was taken to his old home at Prescott.

Sbarretti Off to Rome.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—Mgr. Sbarretti, apostolic delegate, accompanied by Rev. Dr. McNally, has left for Europe on a trip which will extend over two months.

Both will attend Eucharistic Congress in London and afterwards visit Rome.

Shake-Up In Sight.

USURPER VICTORIOUS IN STRUGGLE

Mulai Hafid Now Declares Himself Ruler of Morocco.

SULTAN GIVES UP FIGHT

Abd-el-Aziz Is Said to Be Retiring to Damascus Utterly Defeated—Showed Personal Bravery In the Struggle But His Undisciplined Army Proved His Ruin—Hafid Is Proclaimed Sultan.

Paris, Aug. 25.—News of the proclamation as Sultan of Mulai Hafid is taken here to mark the complete triumph of the usurping Sultan and the downfall of Abd-el-Aziz, the Sultan of record, who, according to the latest reports, has definitely given up the struggle and announced his intention of retiring to Damascus, where he will await the turn of the tide of fortune before he raises his standard again.

Gen. D'Amade, commander of the French forces in Morocco, telegraphs to the Government here that Abd-el-Aziz showed the greatest personal courage during the battle, but that his example was not followed by his tribesmen, who were badly organized and poorly armed. Gen. D'Amade is taking measures, in view of a possible revolution in the Chouia region.

SULTAN ABD-EL-AZIZ.
Who Has Been Defeated by Mulai Hafid.

Reports indicate that the defeat of Abd-el-Aziz had an army numerically betrayal of his own tribesmen. Mulai Hafid has been proclaimed Sultan of Morocco at Tangier, and announcement of the proclamation has been telegraphed to all parts of the country. All the officers who previously have been under the rule of Abd-el-Aziz in this city declare that they have accepted Mulai Hafid as their leader, thereby making him supreme in all the large cities in Morocco.

Details of the battle show that Abd-el-Aziz had an army numerically the superior to the enemy, but that his artillery either failed to work or was deliberately tampered with. Some of the guns exploded, throwing the tribesmen into a panic. The vast majority of these seized the opportunity to flee during the engagement and general pillage broke out, many of the tribes seeking to carry off as much booty as possible.

Abd-el-Aziz and his escort retreated in an orderly manner to Settat, his army scattered in all directions, being pursued by the victorious troops of Mulai Hafid. Abd-el-Aziz was accompanied in his flight by the Grand Vizier, Abd-el-Krim ben Sliman, and the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Mohammed Midi-el-Mokhiri, the French military mission and two British officers.

A Tangier newspaper states that the British officers and several French officers are missing.

Firebugs at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Aug. 25.—Two cases of incendiarism were reported yesterday afternoon. At 5 o'clock the firemen were called to the old Kampf Brewery building, which is vacant, and found the floor on fire. They say there was no doubt that it was set on fire. The loss was small. A stable near the corner of Barton and James streets was also set on fire earlier in the afternoon.

Diplomas Stolen.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 25.—Thieves stole four diplomas from the office of Dr. Mackenzie Sunday night, where it was evident that thieves were after nothing else, for the papers were carefully stripped from the cardboards in the frames and will probably be used for fraudulent purposes with the name erased.

Wireless to Canada.

London, Aug. 25.—Valdemar Poulsens has started new interesting experiments with his wireless system in connection with the forthcoming opening service between West Ireland and Canada.

Poulsens thinks he can easily send 150 words a minute by the new apparatus.

Murder at Vancouver.

Vancouver, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Jenkins, a colored boarding-housekeeper, was murdered at her home in the east end shortly after noon yesterday, by a negro roomer, who escaped by a rear door. The murderer used a butcher knife.

MRS. LUARD MURDERED IN LONDON

Wife of Famous Major-General Murdered in England.

SLAYER MAKES HIS ESCAPE

Body Is Found In Wood Near London Stripped of Valuables — General Luard Served In Canada During the Fenian Raid In '67—He Was the Inventor of the Gibraltar Armament—Is Now Retired.

London, Aug. 25.—The wife of Major-Gen. Charles Edward Luard was mysteriously murdered yesterday afternoon in a desolate wood near Sevenoaks, which is a short distance outside London.

No trace of the murderer has been found, but the motive apparently was robbery, valuable rings having been taken from the woman's fingers.

Major-Gen. Luard is a retired officer of the Royal Engineers. He entered the army in 1857 and was executive officer in London during the Fenian disturbance in 1867. He devised the scheme for re-armament of Gibraltar. He founded the Society of Miniature Rifle Club in 1907 and the Patriotic Society in 1907. In 1875 he was married to the youngest daughter of Thomas Hartley of Gillfoot, Cumberland.

Mrs. Luard had been shot with a revolver, one bullet entering her temple and another striking her behind the ear. The second shot seemingly was fired and the woman fell on her face. Her hand had been pulled back and the rings wrenched from her fingers.

Her dress also was torn almost from her body.

Mrs. Luard was about 58 years of age.

Stole Father's Cash.

Windsor, Aug. 25.—Jos. Ouellette, 20 years old, was arrested yesterday. Some few days ago Ouellette's father, who is Grand Trunk agent at Stony Point, reported that he had been robbed of $6,000, which had been sent him from Montreal to pay the wages of the sectionmen.

Ouelette's own son has confessed the theft and says that he has lately fallen a victim to the gambling craze. With the money he stole, he purchased a locket and chain in Detroit for his sweetheart and paid $50 on a typewriter. The sum of $420 was recovered in his boarding-house here. The prisoner spent his birthday in jail, having been remanded for sentence.

Two Thousand Buildings Burn.

Constantinople, Aug. 25.—The fire which broke out in the Stamboul quarter of Constantinople Sunday was extinguished at midnight.

The houses in the quarter were mostly built of wood and proved an easy prey for the flames, carried by the high wind.

It is estimated that more than 2,000 buildings were destroyed. A number of firemen and women and children are reported to have been burned to death. The homeless probably will number 7,000.

Too Vigorous Initiation.

Golden City, Mo., Aug. 25.—Alleging that four of his ribs were broken and that he was otherwise injured when he resisted efforts to "brand" him, John A. Greisel, editor of The Golden City Register, has brought suit against eight members of the Modern Woodmen of America here, asking $10,000 damages.

The attack occurred, Mr. Greisel says, while he was taking the second degree in the Woodmen initiation ceremony.

Hardie Not Coming West.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—J. Keir Hardie, M. P., in an interview here yesterday, announced he would attend the convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada at Halifax Sept. 2, and would visit Ottawa, but would not go farther west.

Discussing the old age pension law he said it was a good measure but did not go far enough.

The St. Ann's Protest.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—Sitting in practice court yesterday, Justice Dunlop dismissed the preliminary objections raised by Denis Tansey in the action taken against him by M. J. Walsh in the St. Ann's election protest. By this judgment the case will now be placed on its merits.

BABY HAD DIARRHOEA
FOR SEVEN WEEKS

Thousands of infants die annually who could be saved by the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

There can be no doubt about it. Sixty-three years experience has proved this sterling remedy to be the best for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus Summer Complaint, and all bowel troubles in both children and adults.

Many of the imitations sold are positively dangerous, as they often check the diarrhoea too suddenly and cause inflammation.

Always insist on the genuine Dr. Fowler's. Sold at all medicine dealers at 35 cents a bottle.

Mrs. A. B. De Marchand, Bath, N.B., writes: "My baby was troubled with Diarrhoea for nearly seven weeks. I tried three different doctors, but none of them could do her any good. I was advised to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and less than half a bottle cured her."

Tommy Burns Again Gives Defeat To "Bill" Squires

For Third Time the Australian is Beaten by Famous Canadian Boxer—Squires Shows Up Better at Home

HOW THE BATTLE WENT

Sydney, N.S.W., Aug. 24.—"Tommy" Burns, the champion heavyweight pugilist, again defeated "Bill" Squires the Australian, here to-day, knocking him out in the thirteenth round of a fast battle, which was witnessed by 20,000 persons, among them hundreds of sailors from the American battleships now in the harbour.

The betting was six to one against Squires, when he entered the ring, pitched in the big stadium which had been erected at Rush Cutter's Bay for the fight, and faced Harry Nathan, the referee. He rebeived an ovation from his countrymen on his appearance.

Burns followed him into the ring and was received with cheers. When he removed his outer clothing and appeared in ring costume he appeared to be heavy and not closely trained. The sun beat down fiercely on the open ring and Burns, winning the toss, chose the northwest corner.

The battle took place in a 24-foot ring, a good view of which could be had from all parts of the building. Twenty thousand persons were present when Prendergast, the lightweight champion of the American fleet, and Raff, of Sydney, were introduced in the preliminary ten-round bout. Raff was knocked out in the fifth round by a heavy right to the jaw. The fight was fast throughout. Burns received £2,500 as his bit for licking Squires.

The Fight by Rounds

When time was called and the men came to the centre of the ring they indulged in considerable feinting and quick footwork, both being rapid and accurate. Squires led his right without landing, Burns coming back with a hard right on the body. Squires landed a right to the ribs as the round ended.

Round 2—Squires rushed the fighting, following a hard left to the body with another to the head. Burns retaliated with two hard blows to Squires' ribs. Squires drew first blood with a hard punch to Burns' nose and had decidedly the best of the round.

Round 3—Squires landed on Burns' body frequently and Burns countered unmercifully with his right, having the best of the fighting at the call of time, although Squires again drew blood with a blow to Burns' mouth.

Round 4—Burns drew blood with terrific swings to the Australian's nose and mouth, and also landed other blows to the head. Squires attacked strongly with swings for Burns' head Both men were now fighting terrifically.

Round 5—Squires got in a terrific left on Burns' jaw and the men clinched, being separated by the referee. Squires sidestepped and Burns followed him to the corner, Squires dodging and getting away until the gong sounded.

Round 6—Burns got home two heavy blows on Squires' body, the Australian replying with hard swings to Burns' jaw. Both men were bleeding when the round ended.

Round 7—Squires opened the round with a blow to Burns' chin, quickly followed with a second to the same spot. Burns dodged and sidestepped throughout the round. Squires following him up and landing frequent blows on the champion's face. Burns was distinctly groggy at the gong, and the round was strongly in Squire's favour.

Round 8—Squires opened with a terrific straight arm blow from his left fall in Burns' face. Both men fought fiercely throughout the round, exchanging frequent staggering blows. Burns ended the round with a hard left hook to Squires' jaw.

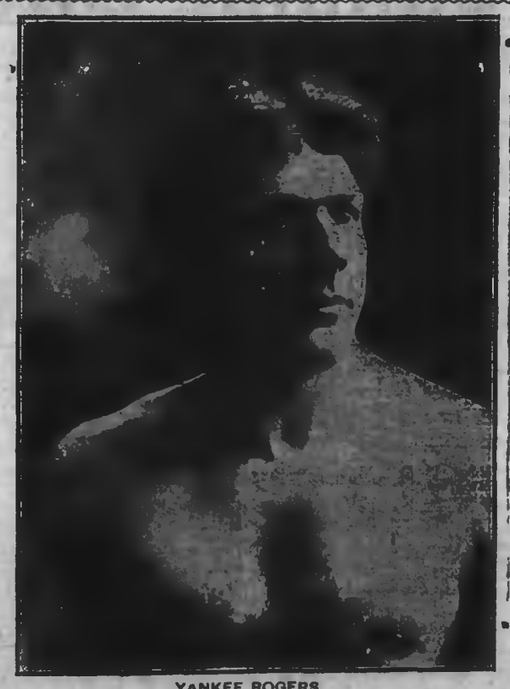
Round 10—Squires attacked Burns fiercely, and punished him severely with two hard blows to the head. Burns was bleeding freely, but got in a terrific right swing to Squires' head, following it with a vigorous attack on the Australian's body. Both men were mixing it up freely when the gong ended the round.

Round 11—The sun had gone under a cloud when the round opened, and the men were not only cooler, but found it no longer necessary to manoeuvre for positions where the sun would not bother them. Squires continued his attack and scored effectively with three right upper cuts, following the blows with a staggering left to Burns' nose, Burns was decidedly groggy, and staggered to his seat when the gong sounded.

Round 12—Squires again determinedly forced the fighting at the beginning of the round, Burns becoming quietly elusive, drawing his opponent on by swift side-stepping and dodging, and as the blows fell harmless, steadied the Australian with two lightning punches. He then attacked vigorously, and Squires, his fast work having plainly tired him, was on the defensive during the rest of the round.

Round 13—Burns came up strong and opened the fighting with a terrific right swing that grazed the Australian's chin. The men fell into a clinch and as they broke Burns planted a half arm blow near the point of Squires' chin, sending him to the floor. It took the Australian nine seconds to recover and as he arose groggily, Burns put him down again with a short uppercut. The referee had counted eight before he was able to rise, and then, swaying to his feet, he landed a light fight on Burns' ribs. The American coolly awaited an opening, and when it came clipped the Australian a right hander on the chin that sent him down and out. The referee counted Squires out as this second threw up the sponge.



YANKEE ROGERS,
who wrestles Mohl on Friday night.

GENE HURTUBISE TO REFEREE THE BIG WRESTLING MATCH

It did not take long to decide about the referee for the big wrestling match between Yankee Rogers and Fritz Mohl, which takes place in the Rock street rink, on Friday night, August 28th.

Mohl sent word to Mr. Graham, who is looking after his interests here that any man who knew the game and was honest, would do for him. Manager Naylor proposed their old opponent, Gene Hurtubise, and Chris at once accepted. That ended the trouble of looking further. That Gene is the right man in the right place can only be the conclusion of any sporting man in the town. Gene has always been considered fair and above board in all his athletic work and will be sure to give satisfaction to all concerned.

ROGERS IS IN FINE SHAPE; HE IS TAKING NO CHANCES

Manager Naylor received a letter this morning from his man to the effect that he would leave his home, Cornwall, on Wednesday morning on the International Limited, arriving in Peterborough the same evening. He will stay at the Oriental, of course.

He feels very confident that he can beat the big german, but from the tone of his letter he does not appear to be going to take any chances of a surprise, and has kept himself in good shape since his last match on August 15, when he beated Jim Smart, the English heavyweight, at Sherbrooke.

Yankee is very anxious to let the sporting public in Peterborough see just how good he is. He was disappointed on his last visit here, and thinks this match will be the means of making his stock go up and put him solid with the Peterborough fans.

When told by his manager that Gene Hurtubise was willing to wrestle him again on the same old terms of three falls in one hour, Yankee said he "was just as ready as the other fellow." "He would also be glad to have the chances of meeting Gotch in Peterborough, if arrangements could be made and a substantial purse offered." In last night's issue of the Examiner a little error crept into the article on Rogers. It was stated that "Rogers would work out with Hurtubise when he arrived." That was distinctly wrong. "When Gene wants to work out with my man," said Manager Naylor in drawing notice to the error, "it will be on the mat and for some money. We like Gene, all right, but we do not intend to help him to beat us. Oh, no." That is probably a sensible idea, too.

HOW LONGBOAT BEAT SELLEN

Turned Tables on Him at Hamilton on Saturday—Strayed Trainer

USED HIS HEAD IN RACE

Can you beat it?

On Wednesday Percy C. Sellen, the little I.C.A.C. runner, gave Tom Longboat, his club-mate, a thorough trouncing in a five-mile race. He ran the five miles in 26.21 1-5, and beat the Indian 220 yards.

Saturday at Hamilton the Indian beat the little Englishman 15 or 20 yards, running the five miles in 27.25.

Can you explain it?

'Tis a cinch to one on the inside.

On Wednesday, the Indian, confident that he could trim anything on two legs without training or taking care of himself, entered a race and ran like a fool against a carefully-prepared runner whose experience taught him just how to whip such "swelled-head" runners. The Indian had been smoking incessantly, and three hours before the race had indulged his appetite to a heavy meal of cabbage and boiled meat and potatoes. He tried to whip-saw a man in perfect condition, refused to lay back and take his pace as his trainers advised, his stomach turned on him, and he was well beaten.

Thursday he surrendered his pipe to Tim O'Rourke, who promptly broke it. He went to bed early, obeyed dieting orders from Wednesday until Saturday, and then ran the race against Sellen as he was advised.

It was a five-mile handicap, but the other runners might just as well have been running in Montreal for all the attention the 5,000 people who attended the Jeannette Lewis meeting at the Hamilton Jockey Club track paid to them. Their eyes were glued on Longboat and Sellen, who started from scratch. It was a duel between this pair.

The Indian, in obedience to orders, forced Sellen to take the pace. He dropped in behind his conqueror of Wednesday and glued to him like a belladonna plaster. He never let Sellen get more than a pace away. A strong breeze blew down the stretch of the mile and a sixteenth track. The "pack-horse" work tired the diminutive Sellen, as the Indian's advisers anticipated. They told him to hug Sellen to the stretch and beat him in the final sprint, but at the end of the fourth mile the Indian tired of the waiting game and shot to the front. His mentors groaned in dismay.

"Sellen will whip-saw the life out of him in the last mile," they said, but Sellen didn't. The Indian stretched out a ten-yard lead, and when the final stretch sprint came he stalled his game little club-mate off and gained another five yards or so.

Longboat finished about all in, while Sellen was comparatively fresh. The crowd went crazy with delight It was a grand race. Sellen made him go all the way.

"My stomach right this time," laughed Tom to Sellen. "I told you I'd beat your head off."

"Wait till we meet on a calm day, and I'll make you sing another tune," returned Percy, and now the fans are eagerly awaiting the result when the rivals meet at Halifax in the five-mile Canadian championship.

Longboat's defeat of Sellen was the sensation of Saturday in the track athletic world and proves what Tom Flanagan has all along insisted—that the Indian, when right, is the best man in the world. He wasn't right Saturday, but two day's proper living made him good enough to beat, under the conditions, one of the best if not the best, five-milers in Canada.

That Indian is an enigma.—Toronto Star.

BOOM IN THE BOWLING GAME

Peterboro Bowling Club's Alleys are Well Patronized

With the cool weather the great indoor game, alley bowling, is once more coming into vogue, and things are on the boom at the Peterborough Bowling Club's splendid alleys in the old opera house building. Last night all the alleys were in use until the closing hour. The standard game and the duck pin article are both favourites, and the latter is making new friends every night. There should be a great season in bowling this winter. Last season a goodly number of promising rollers were uncorked and there will be some lively competitions.

This week at the alleys the ambition of the cracks is being aroused by the offer on the part of the management to give a box of cigars for the best score at ten pins, rolled before Aug. 29th. So far B. A. Lillie is leading, with the good score of 203 but at the rate some of the men are rolling this will hardly stand until the end of the week.

Tommy Boyd's score of 256 still stands as the alley's record, and, no doubt, some of the good ones will be setting sail after it this winter, and will try to set the peg up several notches. Mr. S. Adams' score of 126 in the duck pin game is a worthy mark for the devotees of that form of bowling to get after it, and it will take a lot of beating.

THE PETERBORO CRICKET CLUB DEFEAT ST. JOHN'S

The Peterborough Cricket Club defeated St. John's team last night at Nicholls Oval. The Saints went down after scoring 38 runs. The Peterborough bunch made 27 runs with one man out. George Coleman made 17 and George Marshall 9 and not out. Mr. Devey, the star of the St. John's team, went down with a duck's egg. The game will be resumed to-night.

Booth's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney ills.

Mrs. M. Chittick, of No. 562 Aylmer street, Peterborough Ontario :— 'My back was very tender and heavy, bearing-down pains would catch me across the small of it. I was weak and languid, and could neither stoop nor straighten up without much suffering. Headaches were very frequent and usually accompanied by spells of dizziness. I had often to support myself to keep from falling. My eyes were weak and felt heavy, as though they were filled with particles of sand. Nothing benefitted my condition until I procured Booth's Kidney Pills at the Market Drug Store. One box of this remedy cured me of each and every symptom of kidney trouble, and I am stronger and better than in years previous.' Sold by dealers. Price, 50 cents. The R. T. Booth Co., Limited, Fort Erie, Ont., Sole Canadian Agents.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE FROM SERIOUS INJURY

Mrs. Frank Hamilton, of Hunter street, East City, who only a few days ago celebrated, with Mr. Hamilton, her golden wedding, had a narrow escape last evening from very serious injury. She was visiting at Mrs. Wm. Graham's, a neighbour, when she fell down cellar. The accident happened while Mrs. Graham was upstairs performing household duties. There was a ring at the door, and Mrs. Hamilton, who was downstairs, was asked to open it. A door leading to the hallway stairs, near one to the cellar stairs. Mrs. Hamilton opened the latter and fell headfirst down cellar, injuring herself about the head and receiving other bruises. Nothing but her healthy physical condition, despite her advanced age, saved her from more serious injury. She is expected to have completely recovered in a few days' time.

THE WEST ENDERS ARE SORRY

No Game Between Them and the Straths on Saturday

Sporting Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—The West Ends are sorry to say there will be no game next Saturday, as it has been indefinitely postponed. The Strathcona could talk big on paper, but when the West Enders came forward with their ten the bunch from the north end started to beat it for the woods. The latest reports state they are still going. It looks like the Straths were trying to work a bluff by talking money, but the West Ends have a few loyal supporters who would not see their favourites be handed a lemon for the want of a little coin, so it was up to the Straths to put up or take a back seat. They wisely did the latter, it's cheaper,

Thanking you for your valuable space, we are,

The West End Club.

The house was beautifully decorated with white asters and palms and the bride carried white asters and roses as did also the bridesmaid.

After dinner the happy couple left on the 4.45 C.P.R. for Toronto amidst showers of rice and confetti, where they will visit the groom's relatives for a few days. The bride's going away dress was of navy blue silk with hat to match.

HAVELOCK VILLAGE WAS VISITED BY THE MOST DISASTROUS FIRE IN ITS HISTORY; DAMAGE DONE TO THE EXTENT OF $45,000

The Progressive Railway Town's Recent Advancements Receive Severe Check---Total Insurance About $29,000 ---Fire Begins at Rear of J. V. A. Coon's Store But Origin is Unknown---Flames Spread Rapidly

THE "HAVELOCK STANDARD" OFFICE IS BURNED

Havelock, Aug. 26. — Before the breaking of the dawn this morning, almost the entire population of Havelock was aroused from its slumbers to protect itself from one of the most disastrous fires that has ever raged in the thriving railroad town. The blaze started before five o'clock and in a short period of time the flames had swooped along George street and licked up with wonderful rapidity houses, stores, stables and barns, causing a loss estimated at $45,000.

This village was in the midst of a flourishing era and such a loss is hard to bear at such a time. It is undoubtedly the worst fire that has ever occurred in Havelock. Beginning at the rear of Mr. J V A Coon's store on George street opposite the post office, it sped along the street carrying everything in its way, and leaving nothing save a mass of charred ruins in its wake.

Of Unknown Origin

There is speculation as to the cause, leaving the origin doubtful. It is believed to have started either from Mr. Coon's bakeshop or from a fire in the back yard, but this will probably never be known for a certainty.

Practically the whole village turned out to the rescue and worked like Trojans against the onslaught of the flames and had it not been for this combined and creditable action of Havelock's men, young and old, and even the women and children, a much darker story would have to be told. They deserve great credit for their untiring efforts, as many buildings that at times appeared to be in imminent peril, were saved from the destroying flames.

Among the heavy losers are Mr. J V A Coon, general merchant; Mr. A E Barrett, general merchant; F. S Joyce and Percy Lancaster, proprietor of the Havelock Standard. A number of small barns and stables were burned and residences and other stores partly damaged.

As stated above the total loss was about $45,000. The total amount of insurance is estimated at $29,000.

It was not until about 5.35 o'clock that the fire had been gotten under control. The Peterborough Fire Brigade was notified of the trouble and they were all prepared to come. A message reached them at the C. P.R. station that the flames had been mastered and the order was cancelled.

List of Losers

Those who have suffered as a result of the big conflagration are the following:—

J. V. A. Coon, general store, house and bakeshop; everything lost: house and shop, value $10,000; store, $4,000. Total insurance $7,000.

A. E. Barret, general store, building owned by Robt. Gibbs, Port Hope store value, $3,000; stock value, $3,000. Total insurance $3,500.

F. S. Joyce, store valued at $3,000; harness and shoe store; stock valued at $5,000; tailor shop $700.

P. Lancaster, building and printing office of Havelock Standard, and residence, valued at $2,000. Insurance $1,800.

Elias Williams, barn and sheds.

G. McGill, barn.

W. Hart, considerable damage to residence by fire and water.

Postoffice, bank, Denike's drug store, Fennel's shoe store and tailor shop and Watson's grocery were all badly scorched and the plate glass windows broken.

Total loss, $45,000.

Total insurance, $29,000.

Chief Howard was notified of the fire at Havelock at 4.25 a.m. and asked to send the fire engine and hose waggon. A flat car and engine were dispatched from there to carry them down. This was an unofficial request and as the chief wanted protection against loss by wreck—he being responsible—communicated with Reeve Jas. Thompson. In the meantime, however, he had his men prepare for the trip, and finally received word from Mr. Thompson that Havelock would be responsible. Chief Howard secured permission from the mayor and chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee to go, and soon the engine and hose waggon were being loaded on the flat car. When this was partly accomplished a message arrived at 5.35 stating that the fire was under control, and the order was cancelled.

Lakefield's New Concrete Wharf To Be Built At Once

Work to be Begun About Middle of September and Will be Pushed to Completion

A GREAT IMPROVEMENT

The proposed new wharf on Katchewanooka Lake, Lakefield, where all the steamers and other craft plying Stony Lake waters land passengers and freight, is to be built without delay in the interest of the tourist, and travelling and general public. Work will, it is understood, be begun about the middle of September, and will be prosecuted with all possible expedition till the completion of the work.

The wharf will be of concrete, will be built in the most substantial manner, will be of a capacity to accommodate all the freight and passenger traffic offering, and will be a great convenience to the residents of Lakefield and the public. All who are concerned in navigation or travel by the waters which this wharf will serve, will greatly appreciate the improved service the construction of this wharf will afford.

A FALLING PULLEY STRIKES YOUNG LADY IN THE FACE

A very unpleasant experience fell to the lot of Miss Mary Hall of Springville yesterday afternoon while she was at the barn watching her brothers unloading grain from the waggon into the mow. The men were using a sling to elevate the rack of the waggon, and, unfortunately, the fastening of a pulley broke. The pulley with great force fell on Mise Hall, striking her squarely in the face. Her upper lip was cut to the nose and a number of her front teeth were broken.

Medical aid was summoned from Peterborough and the injury was dressed last night.

UNLUCKY JOE FAILED TO GET AS FAR AS PETERBOROUGH

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—Special—Little Joe Fortin, aged 11 years, of Blind River, Ont., came into the office of Mr. John Keane, in the city hall, this morning and told a strange story. He said that his father in Blind River had made him split all the wood, letting his big brother off with none, and that in consequence he had decided to go and live with his uncle, Joe Fortin, in Peterborough. He had neglected to change trains and had landed in the capital.

Joe was very well dressed, with a nifty new suit, new boots, new cap and a whole new outfit, and his story was somewhat discounted by Mr. Keane, as he appeared to have suffered no ill treatment whatever. It was decided to ship him back to his parents in Blind River.

HYDRAULIC COMPANY IS GIVEN A CHANCE TO REMEDY MATTER

The Peterborough Hydraulic Power Comany was given another chance by the Magistrate at Police Court this morning on the charge of maintaining a nuisance on their property along the old raceway in East City. The matter has been up several times and Mr. E A Peck who appeared for the company has asked for an enlargement in order to give them an opportunity to remedy matters.

When the case was called this morning it was found that no steps had been taken. The Magistrate remarked that he had been informed that there was a bad stench from the raceway and that the people living in the neighbourhood were complaining. He suggested that the raceway should be filled in by pulling down the high hill to the east of it into the stream. Mr. Peck replied that there was some litigation as to the ownership of the hill, but that he thought the matter could be satisfactorily adjusted.

The Magistrate enlarged the case for one week, warning Mr. Peck that unless something was done before that time that the case would be proceeded with. He also notified the Chief to wait until two days before the end of the week's grace and then to summonses his witnesses in case nothing had been done.

Mr. J. H. Crocker Will Speak At Y.M.C.A. Banquet To-night

The most significant feature of the Y.M.C.A. athletic banquet to-night will be the presence of Mr. J R Crocker, manager of the Canadian Olympic team and formerly physical director of the Central Y. M. C. A., Toronto. There is no more prominent figure in Canadian athletics just now than Mr. Crocker, who had sole charge of the Canadian team at the Olympic games and who is spoken of in terms of highest praise by everyone connected with the jaunt across the pond. There is no better authority on the subject of athletics and his reply to the toast of the Canadian Olympic team at the banquet to-night will be well worth hearing.

The prizes won by the Y.M.C.A. athletes during the year and those won at the different meets will be presented.

Following is the programme:

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT AT MARIPOSA

Horse Scared at Peterboro' Auto and Lady Driver is Thrown Out

Mariposa Station, Aug. 25.—What might have resulted in a serious accident occurred on Friday last. While Miss Cullis, of Cambray, was driving between Little Britain and Oakwood she met automobile No. 5075, driven by Mr. Stevens, of Peterborough. The horse did not take kindly to the machine, and turned suddenly, throwing Miss Cullis out. She fortunately escaped without injury, the buggy being only slightly damaged.

The great sun spots which were apparent on the surface of Old Sol two weeks ago have again put in an appearance. This is due to the rotation of the sun on its axis which has turned the spots to our view again. LIBERAL NOMINATING CONVENTION.

A mass meeting of the Liberals of West Peterborough will convene on Saturday, September 5, at 2 o'clock p. m. in the Grand Opera House in Peterborough for the purpose of nominating a candidate to contest the representation of the West Riding of Peterborough at the coming Dominion General Elections. It is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance of the electors so that any nomination that may be made will be thoroughly representative of the Liberal sentiment of the riding. It is advisable that preparations for the contest should be completed as promptly as possible, as it is pretty certain that the general elections will be brought on some time during the coming autumn.

It must be conceded that Mr. R. R. Hall, the present representative of West Peterborough, as a member of the House of Commons, has been one of the most alert and active representatives sent from Ontario, and the most energetic and painstaking representative in the Commons this Riding has ever had. It cannot be denied that he has looked well after the wants and requirements of this Riding and has watched its interests with industry, solicitude and success. In these regards, no man could be more industrious and painstaking. He has always, during his attendance at sessions, placed and held himself at the service of individual constituents who needed his willingly-rendered assistance in any business which they had to transact with any of the Departments.

Mr. Hall has been also active and successful in using his influence and exertions in advocacy of public conveniences for his Riding. It might be generally indicated that to this is largely due the construction of the Drill Hall and Armouries in Peterborough, and the energetic policy that has been applied by the Government to the work of the Trent Canal completion, as well as the numerous conveniences provided at varying points along the route. The assumption of the expense of maintaining and operating the swings of county bridges on the canal route by the Government, with the necessary relief of the country frm a large annual expense; the new concrete dam and bridge at Buckhorn, now under construction, also representing a considerable saving of country expenditure; the new wharf at the south end of the city, and the proposed new wharf on the city front; the Trent Canal under contract from Healey's Falls to Trenton, an imprtant element in the fact that more construction work has been accomplished by the Laurier Government in twelve years than in fifty years previously—all these and many other considerations which might be urged combine to show that Mr. Hall has been an energetic and active representative always, as ready to urge the claims of his constituency, as the government was prompt to recognize justifiable claims to their services. It goes that without saying that through Mr. Hall's advocacy and the Government's consequent action West Peterborough has very substantially benefitted, and that this riding has been the gainer by having the Liberal Government in power and by having Mr. Hall as its representative.

THE HYPOCRISY OF IT.

The Toronto News has long posed as the champion, par excellence, of electoral and political purity. It condemned, in scathing terms, what it regarded as Liberal corruption, and was wont to hold up the Conservative party as a shining example of political purity. It gave, or sought to give, the impression that it was really in earnest, and honest, in its efforts to purify public life. But when the revelations of Conservative corruption, committed in the Colchester bye-election contest, come out in all their naked hideousness, the News takes the role of apologist and endeavours to make light of the dark record. In palliation of the offence—the evidence shewing that whisky flowed like water in the Conservative interests, and that money was freely spent in the Conservative interests, to win the redemption of Colchester and to restore it to the Conservative ranks. The evidence taken in the investigation at Truro disclosed the fact that prominent members of that party were handed out money in sums of $15.00 to $45.00 to each voter, and whisky in quantities of from six and eight bottles to thirty-six flasks. Yet the News ignores all this and tries to belittle it by asking why Mr. Stanfield, the Conservative candidate, who was elected by the help of such methods, did not have his election protested, instead of having the evidence of corruption brought out in a prosecution for breach of the election laws. The News knows very well that such action is merely a subterfuge, an attempt to convey the impression that the evidence of wholesale political corruption brought out in the investigation was manufactured, or it would have been adduced to unseat the Conservative member-elect. The News knows very wiel that such a question was an insult to the intelligence of its readers. It knew, as everybody else knows, that an election protest cannot be proceeded with during a session of Parliament, and that, since prorogation, there has been the long law vacation. If the News will be patient, the protested election trial will come on in good time, and it may find the Conservative member-elect, Mr. Stanfield, not only unseated, but possibly disqualified. The investigation has only lifted the lid. An election trial will reveal the seething corruption within the Conservative electoral pot. The attitude of the News towards this unsavoury revelation is but of a piece with the general policy of the party with which it has recently become openly allied. An attitude of hypocritical assumption of political righteousness has been assumed, and no expedient spared to make good the claim that the Conservatives are as pure as mid-air snow, and that Liberals are corrupt and bad, and that continually. A Liberal politician cannot assure his constituents that an improvement asked for by them is to be made, but the cry of "bribery and corruption" is raised. The Liberal Government cannot appoint an officer or give a contract for dredging, printing, or anything else, but the cry of "graft" is raised. To make good this policy, a policy of scandal and slander has been applied by Conservative politicians and newspapers. When exposure comes, and Conservatives are shown to be more corrupt than they claim Liberals to be, we find the spasm of virtue relaxes and that the apostles-in-chief of the gospel of purity are the first to excuse, belittle and ignore — they cannot deny—the pestilent corruption of the party for which they speak.

THE TRENT CANAL.

Merit generally wins. For years the Toronto and Montreal journals had nothing but hard knocks for the Trent Canal. Then the stage came when it was "damned" with faint praise." That stage has passed and the crowding nature of the transportation problem, the growth of the Northwest hopper demonstrating its necessity as an element in our transportation facilities has brought it an assured place in the national economy The Globe has this to say of this important waterway:

The Minister of Railways has just made a trip along the Trent Valley Canal from Peterborough to Orillia, and his announcement to the public as the outcome of what he saw is that the canal ought to be completed with all practicable speed. It has cost a large amount of money already, and yet it is only an inland system in the strictest sense of that term. It is navigable from all points on Lakes Simcoe and Couchiching to Hastings, some distance below Rice Lake, but it does not open into either the Georgian Bay to the west or the Bay of Quinte to the east. Mr. Graham was quite right in saying that this condition of things must come to an end.

The worst of the engineering difficulties to be faced in the construction of the canal have been overcome. There are two lofty elevations that have to be surmounted, but this part of the work has been practically completed in a way that has for the past few years been attracting a host of tourists including many hydraulic engineers, to see the Peterborough Lift Lock in actual operation. Some of the other locks will have to be enlarged before the canal is made thoroughly efficient, but the most important parts to be undertaken are the extension from Rice Lake down the Trent River and from Lake Simcoe to the Georgian Bay. It was mainly to these remnants that the Minister's announcement is applied.

Two remarks are suggested by the sat history and the present condition of the canal. One is that however sceptical people at a distance may have been about either the feasibility or availability of the undertaking, the people who live in the Trent Valley believe in it, and they are in the best position to judge. They have made a long and careful study of the route and have never been afraid to put up a defence for it in Parliament or anywhere else. There is good reason to believe that for grain and lumber laden barges from Georgian Bay to Montreal it will always be part of an economical transportation route, quite efficient enough to act as a check on railway rates. It will probably have a good deal of local traffic besides, especially in the carrying of tourists through the beautiful Kawartha Lakes.

The other remark is that Parliament, having done so much, cannot stop short now. If the canal were not carried to the Georgian Bay in one direction and the Bay of Quinte in another, the original intention would have to be abandoned, for it is inconceivable that any such project should ever have been commenced unless with a deliberate purpose to finish it. The delay that has taken place may admit of explanation; further delay would admit of none, and therefore it is satisfactory to have from the Minister of Railways the most explicit assurance that no time will be lost in completing the undertaking.

TWELVE YEARS OF LAURIER.

(Montreal Herald.)

None of the remarkable advances scored during the Twelve Years of Laurier is more remarkable than that which is revealed by a study of the position of the chartered banks. The banks are in such close touch with the whole community that their position may be said to faithfully reflect that of the Dominion. Bank growth cannot take place without growth outside. Increase in banking facilities there must be if there is increase of development. Now the fact is that from 1874-8 to 1896 there was no permanent increase in the share capital of the chartered banks. In 1876 it had risen to sixty-six millions, and from that point it kept sagging down, getting once or twice below sixty millions, and standing at sixty-two millions in 1896. The aggregate of share capital in the banks remained practically stationary during the sixteen years preceding the advent of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to office. That long term of semi-stagnation must be borne in mind in estimating the significance of the subsequent increase. During the Twelve Years of Laurier that increase was better than one-half. The sixty-two millions of 1896 gave place to ninety-six millions in 1907.

A second measure, both of the business done by the banks and the business done in the community, is afforded by the figures showing the issue of bank bills. This issue first crossed thirty millions in 1882. In 1896 it was still only thirty-one millions. In the interval it had never passed thirty-four. During the Twelve Years of Laurier this quiet life was rudely disturbed. Things happened. In 1899 bank circulation crossed the forty million mark; in 1901 the fifty million mark; in 1903 the sixty million mark; and in 1907 it was over seventy-five millions. The significance of such an advance can be lost only upon those who refuse to see.

The progress in deposits, and their return to the field of enterprise in the shape of discounts, has kept pace with the other advances, and has led to a volume of business hitherto unknown. Between 1882 and 1890 the deposits climbed slowly, almost painfully, from a hundred and ten millions to a hundred and ninety-three. The accumulated savings of fourteen years were represented by eighty-three millions of deposits. In the next eleven years the gain was not eleven-fourteenths of eighty-three millions, not the whole eighty-three, not twice eighty-three, not three times eighty-three, not four times eighty-three, but more than four and a half times eighty-three, or three hundred and ninety-six millions, the total on deposit in the chartered banks in 1897 being just under five hundred and ninety millions.

The total sum loaned by the banks to the people under discount in 1896 was two hundred and thirteen millions; in 1897 the people were using in this way six hundred and forty millions.

The most superficial acquaintance with the processes of business should suffice to an understanding of the importance of these comparisons, and to a realisation of their intimate relation to and dependence upon the great basic fact that in the Twelve Years of Laurier there was a Thousand Million Dollar increase in the exports of Canadian products over what had been the normal, nay the exceptional, volume in the earlier period. We crowded twenty-three of the old years into twelve of the new. The banking statistics give a fairly concrete idea of what happened in consequence.

BUT A CONFIRMATION.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

In a very careful article in the Boston Transcript, Mr. E W Thompson, of Ottawa, who only a few months ago was extensively quoted by Conservative newspapers as a man of pronounced independent judgment, confidently expresses the opinion that the Laurier Government will be again returned at the coming general elections with a large majority.

Mr. Thompson discusses the whole political situation in Canada from a non-party standpoint and arrives at the conclusion that there is no reason to believe that the people desire a change.

He interprets the victory of the Scott Government in Saskatchewan as but confirming the broad reasoning on the whole situation of Canada. He says:—

It is largely a replica of the situation of 1904, when Laurier obtained 68 majority. Then his brisk and ever hopeful opponents not only prophesied but reprehensively betted even money that they would beat him. That, again, was but a repetition of their state of belief in 1900. One cannot but admire combatant sprits who never know when they are going to be whipped. * * Saskatchewan is but one more indication that Laurier will be again Premier and preceptor to Borden, who is sure to do his instructor much honour — eventually.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $31 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

MISS E. BOUVARD

MISS ERNESTINE BOUVARD, Duck Lake, Saskatchewan, Can., writes:

"At the close of 1906 I took sick as the result of catching cold. I became very weak and could not do anything.

"I consulted a doctor who had me take various kinds of medicine, but I did not find any relief from my suffering. At the advice of a friend, I wrote to you and you advised me.

"After I had taken two bottles of Peruna there was noticeable improvement. I combined the use of Peruna, Manalin and Lacupia and after taking several bottles of each I find myself entirely cured.

"I can certify that it was through your medicines that I recovered my health. I advise every one who is similarly afflicted to obtain Dr. Hartman's advice and be benefited."

Mrs. Wilda Moore, R. F. D. No. 1, Lents, Oregon, writes:

"For the past four years I was a wretched woman, suffering with severe backaches and other pains, leaving me so weak and weary that it was only with difficulty that I was able to attend to my household duties.

"I used different remedies, but found no relief until I had tried Peruna.

"Within two weeks there was a change for the better, and in less than three months I was a well and happy woman.

"All the praise is due to Peruna."

Peruna is not a local remedy, but an internal systemic remedy. It will relieve catarrh in its most obstinate form.

Apsley To Have Benefit Of Telephone Communication; A Necessary Improvement

A Local System With Connection at Julian's Landing—A Benefit to Lakes in Vicinity

TO BE BUILT THIS YEAR

Examiner Special

Apsley, Aug. 26.—A largely attended meeting of the residents of Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos was held at Apsley on Saturday evening last. It had been convened to consider the advisability and possibility of establishing telephone connection between Apsley and vicinity, and Mount Julian and, through that point, with Peterborough, Lakefield and the outer world.

Mr. Wm. Gallon, who has prominently identified himself with the project, was called to the chair and briefly explained the object of the meeting.

Mr. Hill, of Montreal, in charge of construction work of the Bell Telephone Company, was present, as well as Mr. Doane, manager of the Bell Telephone Exchange, Peterborough.

Mr. Hill spoke of the benefit and convenience of the telephone, which only needed to be placed and used to demonstrate its usefulness. He explained that there were many local companies throughout the country connected with the Bell Telephone system, that were working successfully and giving satisfaction. He believed that a 'phone system between Apsley and Mount Julian would be an appreciated, and a profitable line, particularly if connections were made at Apsley.

Mr. Doane dealt briefly with the local aspects of the situation. Mr. Hill having covered the proposition from a construction standpoint.

Mr. David S. Campbell, ex-reeve of Chandos, spoke encouragingly of his experience with the telephone. He was connected with Coe Hill and found it of the greatest advantage and convenience. He would not be without it. He could communicate with Coe Hill and elsewhere, sell his cheese, keep in touch with the market, and do a good deal of business without any inconvenience or loss of time by travelling. He hoped Apsley would get this great convenience.

Mr. Stratton, who was also present with others from Stony Lake, said he had intended spending the week end at his summer home, Stony Lake, but knowing of the meeting he had extended his journey and was present with the hope that he could be of some use to them. When Mr. Gallon, who had taken a public-spirited interest in the telephone matter, had visited him (Mr. Stratton) at Stony Lake in connection with the subject, he had suggested a public meeting, at which full discussion could be had and no possible idea created and all misunderstandings avoided that there were any ulterior objects to be served; and the public interested would know as much of the project as any one connected with its promotion. He had invited him, the speaker, to be present at the meeting and it gave him great pleasure to be there, if he could be of any assistance in promoting the enterprise.

He thought there were a few practical points which, from a business view, should be considered. In the first place what is the distance—how many miles from Apsley to Mount Julian? It was stated that it was twelve miles. Then, how many poles would be required and he was informed the number would be 30 poles a mile and further inquiry and reply elicited the information that at 50 cents each the cost of these would be $180, and that the delivery would cost $90 and the placing of these in position $150; then the guy poles and wires, insulators, etc., would cost $18 per mile, making a total of between $700 and $750 as the cost of the system.

Mr. Stratton said that knowing the cost of the poles, wire and labour, the next question was, how to raise the money. He suggested the formation of a company and that a contract be entered into with the Bell Company, that a by-law be passed by the township giving the local company a franchise for the line. The next point to be considered was how to raise the money. "Now," said Mr. Stratton "just to facilitate matters and help out the enterprise from a local standpoint, I will undertake to raise half of the required $750, if the people interested will contribute the other half." He suggested that the shares of the proposed company be placed at $5 each. Outside of the $350, those taking shares might make payment in the form of supplying poles, labour, etc. Thus with the poles supplied and placed, the greater part of the peoples' share of $700 or $750 would be provided and the problem of financing solved. By some such mode of procedure it seemed that the matter could be arranged and without much of a burden upon those who would get the greatest benefit from telephone connection.

A committee to look after details and other steps for promoting the undertaking was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Duncan, Brown, John Hale, Z. Tucker, W. Bullied and Wm. Gallon.

Mr. Stratton assured the meeting that his share of the funds would be promptly provided, and if the people did their share promptly also, things would move rapidly.

It is expected that work will be commenced without much delay and that the line will be completed and in operation the present year.

A resolution of thanks was passed to the Bell Telephone officials and Mr. Stratton, after which a little consideration was given other interests of the district.

Mr. Stratton was requested to make some remarks, but he declined to make any references to political matters, though he said, that no matter where he went, or what he did political motives were attributed to him. In the light of his experience and his knowledge of that part of the country, there were other things needed besides telephone connection. What was everybody's business, however, was nobody's, and somebody should be found to take the lead. The mail service for instance could be greatly improved and should be improved. What was more ridiculous than that a letter sent from Apsley to Mount Julian should, as is now the case, pass through Mount Julian to Lakefield, or Peterborough and then be sent back to Mount Julian before delivery! The people of Apsley seemed to be worse off in this respect in summer than in winter, when they should be better suplied.

He also pointed out there were great possibilities of power development at Jack's Lake and Eels Lake. Not only could power be developed but in the process, reservoirs would be created which would improve the water flow and improve the power conditions in Peterborough and at intermediate points and benefit navigation in the Trent Canal waters. He did not know whether Apsley would ever be benefitted by steam railways or not, but with the improvements mentioned there would be a possibility of capital being provided to utilize the power for an electric railway, and this possibility could be helped by the development of power at Burleigh Falls. While the latter was in private hands, the former was in the hands of the people, which simplified the problem.

Besides, in Anstruther there were lakes of large volume and extent that were now non-productive. What was to prevent, Serpentine, Cotter, Anderson and Eel Lakes all being connected, and flowing into Trent Canal waters by way of Buckhorn. Not only might these lakes be connected but reservoirs might be created, and they might be made valuable fishing grounds for settlers and tourists with all the advantages of the presence of the latter. Why should not these non-productive waters be stocked with fish and in a short time made among the best of our fishing resorts? There are millions of acres of land in the Northwest that have been made valuable and productive by irrigation. These lakes he had mentioned were useless without some improvements being made. They were certainly made for some useful purpose. Why not then, make them of use as reservoirs, giving power possibilities and providing fishing grounds? These things all required somebody to show the way. With improvements and with the waters stocked with fish they would in a short time attract settlers and tourists in search of good sport, with time to devote to pleasure and with money to spend. The C.P.R., the G. T.P. and the great canal systems were big things and needed in the interests of the country. We had had a visit to the Trent Canal of the Minister of Railways and Canals, in the interests of this great work and some of the things he had suggested would benefit the navigation and help the success of the canal, would benefit Peterborough and also the northern part of the county, whose interests should not be neglected, because they did not happen to be of as great importance as the great transportation interests of the country. While we were providing large things, the work would not be complete if the interests of the individual communities, like Apsley and vicinity were neglected. Local improvements were as important to them as were greater works to larger places, or to the country at large.

With votes of thanks to the chairman, one of the largest meetings ever held in Apsley to confer upon public interests, came to a close.

It's the poison germs in the air you breathe that creates and feeds catarrh. Hyomei simply catches these germs on their way to work and destroys them. The first breath of Hyomei air kills all catarrhal poison.

This makes the air you are breathing inward helpful, it goes on its way through the air passages, bronchial tubes and lungs charged with germ destroying power that cannot be resisted, it soothes and heals the wounded and inflamed membrane.

That is why Hyomei is so instantly helpful for any distress of the breathing organs, colds, croup, bronchitis, asthma or dreaded pneumonia, they are the germ life that Hyomei kills.

Babe Deserted In Woods.

Guelph, Aug. 26.—A baby boy, about a week old, was found alive and well, apparently very hungry, in the thick of a cedar swamp near Riverside Park, yesterday afternoon.

Fred Smith, bartender of the Priory Hotel, found the child, wrapped in a long flannel nightdress, lying face downwards in the heart of the swamp.

The underbrush where the child was lying was considerably trodden down and a woman's footprints could be discerned quite distinctly.

Wheat Crop To Total 95,000,000 Bushels Is Mr. Denne's Estimate; Prospects in The West Are Bright

Sales Manager of the Quaker Oats Company is Back From a Two Week's Trip—Talks to Examiner of Crop Conditions

OAT CROP IS EXCELLENT

"The total yield of wheat in the Northwest this year will be about 95,000,000 bushels as nearly as I can estimate it, although the average estimate of the forty-two grain dealers who were on the excursion through th ecountry places figure at 101,000,000 bushels," was the statement made to the Examiner yesterday by Mr. T H G Denne, sales manager of the Quaker Oats Company, who has just returned from a two weeks trip through the wheat belt, made for the express purpose of looking over the crop in the interests of his firm. Coming from such an authority as Mr. Denne, the intelligence that the general outlook in the West is most encouraging and that the people are decidedly optimistic, carries with it more weight than the statements of the average traveller to the granary of the Empire.

In company with his brother, Mr Roland Denne, Mr. Denne left Peterborough two weeks ago yesterday, travelling by way of Chicago, and reaching Winnipeg on the Friday following. Next morning they left on the Northwest Grain Dealers Association excursion, which visited practically all parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan and gave the dealers a chance to observe the crop conditions at close range.

On the evening of August 12th, frost had been reported from several places in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and the effect of this was noticeable on the potato vines and other tender plants. Some wheat, which was in the milk stage and susceptible to the influences of frost, had been damaged. In Manitoba, at the time of the party's visit, about forty per cent. of the wheat was in stook, while in Saskatchewan about twenty per cent. was in stook. On the Prince Albert-Regina line there were some sections more or less affected by the wind, which will have the effect of reducing the yield appreciably in that section.

Owing to the increased acreage, Mr. Denne expects the wheat will be of a much better grade than that of a year ago. As already stated, Mr. Denne's estimate of the wheat yield for the year is 95,000,000.

"The oat crop is much earlier," he remarked, "and while perhaps not as heavy, will be of an altogether better quality. The general results will be much larger than a year ago."

"Everyone we came in contact with was very optimistic in regard to the future of their country, and spoke cheerfully and confidently of the crop prospects generally. There is not as much building going on as a year ago, but a great many new buildings are going up in different places in different sections of the country. Railway construction is in progress everywhere. The Grand Trunk Pacific have finished their line from Winnipeg to Saskatoon, and are pushing it on towards Edmonton. New elevators have been constructed at various towns sites along the line. There is apparently no lack of labour in the West. At nearly every station we noticed numbers of men waiting around for employment. This condition will be of much benefit to the farmers in harvesting their crop.

Mr. Denne states that his trip was a most enjoyable one.

AN OLD DOURO RESIDENT NOW LIVING IN OREGON

The Examiner a short time ago got a letter from Mr. N. Steel, remembered by many of the older citizens as being a resident of the north part of Douro for many years, and who removed to Oregon in 1885. The Examiner is glad to know that Mr. Steel is still hearty and vigorous at the age of 77 years. In a letter received yesterday, Mr. Steel says he was born on the ocean April 2, 1831, and came to Peterborough with his parents in the autumn of that year. He was then six months old. In the spring of 1832 the family removed to Douro, where they resided one year. Then they removed to Smith and settled on a farm about a mile south of Lakefield. Mr. Steel's mother died when he was 12 years of age. In the autumn of '55 Mr. Steel moved to his new home in Douro, and was married in March, 1857. He remained in Douro till the spring of 1885, when he sold out and removed with the family to Oregon. Shortly after arrival, Mr. Steel purchased a farm of 367 acres and still resides upon it. He and Mrs. Steel had a family of twelve children, all living but one daughter, who died ten years ago after her marriage. The family are all settled and doing well. The eldest son is connected with the Case Company, and the fourth son is in Washington connected with the machine business. All the boys are of a mechanical inclination. Mrs. Steel, 70 years of age, has not been in as good health as Mr. Steel for some time, and about two weeks ago she fell and broke her arm in a moment of temporary weakness. Mr. Steel has been a subscriber to the Examiner since the time of his marriage — fifty-one years ago—and is one of the oldest subscribers and readers of the Examiner under its present management. Mr. Steel is a fortunate type of robust manhood, both physically and mentally. He is fortunate in that he has lived seven years beyong the allotted span, has prospered in basket and store, has lived an honest and upright life and exercised his influence on his family. It is given to few men to become the father of twelve and see them all grow to man's and woman's estate and become honest, honoured and prosperous citizens and a credit to themselves and their family. The Examiner wishes him many happy years of serene old age.

57th REGIMENT HAD MARCH OUT; ORDERS FOR THE WEEK READ

Owing to the fact that many of the members are out of the city upon their vacation the march out of the 57th Regiment last night was not as largely attended as usual, but there was a creditable attendance under the circumstances, and the corps made a good showing, as headed by the brass and bugle bands it marched down George street shortly after eight o'clock. The street was lined with citizens, showing that the regiment had lost none of its attractiveness as a drawing card. On the return to the drill shed some time was profitably spent in drilling. The regiment will be in the best of shape for the trip to Kingston on Labour Day.

Orders by the commanding officer of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

1. Detail of duty for the week ending Tuesday, Sept. 2nd, 1908, captain for the week Capt. Wilson, next for duty Capt. Watt. Subaltern for the week Lieut. Neal, next for duty Lieut. Carruthers.

2. Leave of absence from parade is hereby granted to Capt. McLean and Lieut. Hodgson.

3. The regiment will parade for battalion drill on Tuesday evening next at eight p. m.

4. It is noted for the information of those concerned that each non-commissioned officer and man who becomes a part of the 57th composite city corps at Barrie field Camp, from Sept. 6th to Sept. 9th, both days inclusive, will receive all their pay according to rank.

G. W. BENNETT, Major,
Acting Adjutant.

The Hibernians Now In Convention At Ottawa

Opening There Yesterday of the Tenth Semi-Annual Gathering of The Ontario Organization

THEY ATTEND HIGH MASS

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—Special — The tenth semi-annual provincial convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Ontario, at which are three delegates from Peterborough, was opened yesterday morning with high mass in St. Patrick's Church, at Ottawa, at which the delegates attended in a body after assembling in St. Patrick's Hall. The ceremony was also largely attended by the parishioners.

Archbishop Duhamel presided and was assisted by Very Rev. Canon Sloan and Rev. Father Harkin, of Almonte, provincial chaplain of the Order, while Rev. Father Newman officiated, Rev. Father Whelan assisting in the ceremony.

Rev. Father Harkin delivered an eloquent sermon on Faith, in which he set forth its power, its glory and its immortality as shown by early history. Dwelling on the words "Blessed is he who has believed and has not seen," he stated that faith was first of all a divine gift. "Left to himself, man, no matter how great his intelligence, could never receive faith, said Father Harkin, "for it must proceed from Almighty God alone. To receive it, man must humiliate himself, but the greatest act of man in life is to acknowledge God. How wide the extent of faith. It is a divine virtue, it reaches far beyond man's comprehension, it penetrates into even the most inmost recesses of Heaven itself."

Continuing Father Harkin touched upon the tests of faith which the Almighty had applied to His people as shown by the Scriptures. The rich man, whose flocks had been scattered, whose family had died, and, finally, who, himself, had become an outcast, had yet never renounced his faith or disclaimed providence. Again Abraham, when ordered by God to slay his only son he whom he had looked forward to as the great son of his posterity, had not hesitated in the least to obey the Divine order. "What beautiful faith was his; one would believe it to be a picture of another world." St. John, the Baptist, even to death itself had remained firm to His mission. St. Joseph, the foster father of Jesus Christ, had given himself wholly up to a life of virtue that he might fulfill the Divine commands that hundreds of martyrs had faced wild beasts and other tortures without the least resistance but their belief in God and in His doctrine, had never wavered. " My people, you know, that there never was a miracle performed (without strong faith, that strength of faith with which the martyrs persecuted in the Roman Amphitheatre, gave up their blood for Him who had given up His blood for them."

Spreading the Faith

In the year 432 St. Patrick, imbued with that noble faith, performed the dearest desire of his heart by spreading it north and south, east and west, throughout the whole of Ireland, in but sixty-one years. Truly this was the golden age for Ireland. But, alas! the sounds of praise to the Almighty were not left alone."

Father Harkin then outlined the wars and persecutions against the Irish which followed and were only ended by the valient efforts of King Brian Boru, whose standard was a cross. But the churches and chapels had been completely destroyed; the struggle had been a fight for faith and faith was still triumphant! Even the work of reconstruction had been carried on in the face of the severest persecution from the heads of other lands and included even the tortuous contrivances of the Roman period.

"Job, after his trials," said the speaker, "was generously remunerated by God; Abraham had his great desire realized, to see his son mighty; St. John, the Baptist, found a glorious death, while the Virgin Mary is seated at the right side of the Heavenly Throne. Then is it not possible that the Irish people, who for centuries have borne so much for the faith, shall not be rewarded by obtaining that which they most desire self-government!"

It was hoped, he said in conclusion, that the Archbishop would pronounce his blessing with that desire.

Archbishop Duhamel then pronounced his blessing upon all present.

Special music was rendered throughout the service by the organist, Mr. E. Bonner.

The delegates, in a body, returned to St. Patrick's Hall, where the credential committee began its work.

Yesterday afternoon a civic welcome was extended to the visitors in St. Patrick's Hall by Mayor Scott. Over one hundred delegates were in attendance.

Yesterday evening a banquet was held in the Victoria Hotel, Aylmer, at which addresses will be delivered by a number of prominent speakers.

A BEAUTIFUL PAINTING AT TORONTO EXHIBITION

"Christ Walking on the Sea," loaned by H.R.H. the Duchess of Albany to the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, is a beautiful painting that is worth travelling many miles to see on its own account. It illustrates the particular text, "And about the fourth watch of the night He cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them. But when they saw Him they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out." The picture is remarkable as being a very original and realistic rendering of the Scriptural narative, and for the careful study of the movements of the waves and of their aspect under the effects of the light of the moon and the light shed from the Divine Figure.

FOUR BIG STEAMERS ON CLEAR LAKE TOGETHER

On Clear Lake yesterday afternoon the rare sight was to be seen of four large steamers almost together. They were the Stoney Lake, Empress, Otonabee and Water Lily. Some say a little race occurred. The Stony Lake had the lead to begin with, and maintained it, probably gaining something on the other three.

Monaghan Council Take Action Against Radial Railway Company

To Recover Amount Paid for Clearing Snow Off Lock Street—A Business Meeting of Council Held

ESTIMATES BROUGHT DOWN

The North Monaghan Council met in the Town Hall on Monday, Aug. 24th at 3 p.m.

All the members were present, the Reeve presiding.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Accounts were handed in as follows:

Messrs. Peck & Kerr, account for damages, cost, etc., in the action of Reynolds vs. Cavan and North Monaghan.

Wm. Stevens, labour on culvert at Dobbin's wood, in 16 con. line, $27.20.

Chas. Adamson, labour on same culvert, $16.50.

E. Tuck, labour on same culvert, $24.00.

John Weir, refund of booth license, $2.00.

Jos. Batten, rod and spikes for repairing culvert on Gravel Road, $1.50.

On motion of Messrs. Foster and May, these accounts were passed and ordered to be paid.

The clerk presented the signed approval of each member of the council to the authority given to the Reeve and Clerk to consent to the registration of a plan of sub-division of pt. of lots. nos. 17, 18, 19 and 20, in lot 15, in con. 11, showing Cherbourne street, Albertus street and Morrow street thereon, each of a width of 60 feet.

This was ordered to be entered in the minutes and fyled. It was moved by Messrs. Howden and Dobbin, that the Reeve and Clerk be directed to employ a solicitor and take action against the Peterborough Radial Railway Company to receive the amount expended by the township in cleaning Lock street from snow piled thereon by said Railway Company. This was carried.

Mr. Peck wrote the council enclosing a cheque for $40, being the amount of money assigned to the township for advance made to defray the expenses of Mr. G Dundas to the Northwest. This was ordered to be placed to the credit of the township.

Requisitions for school moneys were received from the several Boards of Public School Trustees, and the Roman Catholic Separate School of the City of Peterborough and the County of Peterborough, as follows:—

School Section No. 1...	$600 00
School Section No. 2.....	1200 00
School Section No. 3.....	475 00
School Section No. 5.....	500 00
Separate School.....	80 00
County Schools	88 00

A requisition was also received from the County Treasurer, asking for the sums necessary for county purposes in 1908, as follows:

General County purposes ...	$1616 06
House of Refuge	288 68

The annual estimates of receipts and expenditures of the township was then prepared as follows:—

Receipts.

Provincial Taxes.....	$ 40 00

Dog taxes'.....	160 00
Com. of Statute labour... ...	1044 00
Miscellaneous	40 00

	$6920 64

Expenditures.

	$7402 64

It therefore leaves the sum of $1182 to be raised by a general township rate, which on a total assessed value of $670,482 would require a rate of 1.7 mills on the dollar.

The estimate was then approved and bylaws numbers 603 and 604, to levy rate accordingly, were then introduced and finally passed.

Council then adjourned until called by the Reeve.

WEDDING BELLS

ARCHER—STAUNTON

A pretty church wedding was this morning solemnized at St. John's Anglican Church at nine o'clock, the principals being Miss Sarah Elizabeth Staunton, daughter of Mr. Wm. A. Staunton, 29 Benson avenue, and Mr. James Pavitt Archer, of the firm of Ferris and Company, Campbellford, and son of Mr. Wm. Archer, of that town. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. J. Reid, of Christ Church, Campbellford, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, on account of recent bereavements in the family of the former.

The bride wore a silk mulle princess wedding gown trimmed with Irish pointe lace, and a large white hat with plumes. Her travelling dress was lady's blue broadcloth trimmed with black, and she wore a large black hat. The bride and groom were unattended. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mr. R. J. Dewey, organist of St. John's Church. After the ceremony the wedding dinner was served in Staunton's restaurant, at 20 Benson avenue, and on the 11.26 C. P. R. Mr. and Mrs. Archer left on their honeymoon trip to Montreal and Quebec. On their return they will reside in Campbellford.

CRISIS EXPECTED IN THE STRIKE

C. P. R. Labor Leaders Are Meeting in Montreal.

MAY CALL GENERAL STRIKE

If They Favor Continuance of Deadlock Effort May Be Made to Tie Up the Entire System—Five Strikers Wanted by the Police — Kier Hardie Addresses Strikers In City of Montreal Yesterday.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—The crisis in the C. P. R. strike is expected before the end of the present week. Authoritative word has been received from Montreal that executive officers representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and the Order of Telegraphers have assembled in Montreal to hold a conference respecting the machinists' strike.

If the representatives of these five executives consider that the strike should be continued, supported and fought to a finish, steps are to be immediately taken with a view to tying up the C. P. R. system.

Each of the five orders has grievances which, if deemed advisable, can be forwarded to Ottawa early next week with formal applications for the appointment of arbitration boards.

Montreal, Aug. 26.—Warrants for the arrest of five strikers were issued yesterday as the result of a disorderly demonstration, by which a gang of 200 men set upon four employes of the company who were leaving the Angus shops. One of the four had his leg broken and the others were roughly handled.

The leaders of the strikers disavow the act and say few strikers were among the assailant. They point out they have advised the men all along to refrain from acts of violence. The mob was of all nationalities, and, armed with sticks and stones, stationed itself in the vicinity of the C P. R. tracks on Papineau road, at the spot where the train usually stops for the convenience of the workers living in that neighborhood.

The open air meeting held within the enclosure back of picket headquarters on Rachel street, was attended by over 2,000 of the strikers. Everybody appeared satisfied at the progress made and are looking for a break in the ranks of the company's officers. It is generally known that the company's officers are not a unit on the matter of policy, and early developments are looked for.

Speaking last night in the Monument National, on the C. P. R. strike, Keir Hardie, M.P., advised the men to hold together.

"A strike is war," he said, "and in the field of battle the man who flees and deserts his comrades is a coward and traitor. The same is true of the striker who goes back."

During an address of an hour Mr. Hardie defined socialism as a movement by which law and the industrial affairs of the country were to be acquired by the public and used for common good and not private ends.

"Socialism," said the speaker, "is the only remedy for the present poverty and hunger of the world."

Mr. Hardie leaves to-day on a visit to western cities.

Loop Claims Couple.

Rochester, N.Y., Aug. 26.—A special from Hornell, N.Y., says Thomas Hurley, a trick bicyclist, was fatally injured there yesterday morning. Hurley was at the top of a 60-foot ladder making ready for a loop-the-loop act, when he fell to the ground. At the hospital it was found that both of Hurley's legs were broken and he is injured internally.

Hurley had just returned from Albany to see his wife who is dying from the effects of a similar accident.

They demanded an increase of wages on the lieu of the tips and on being refused they declined to work.

HE SAYS HE WANTS TO KILL HER

Toronto Woman Charges Husband With Attempted Murder.

CASE BEFORE AUTHORITIES

Mrs. Eugene Cutts Says Her Husband Has Tried Three Times to Take Her Life by Poison, Chloroform and Gas and She Has Gone to Live With Her Father—Complains to the Attorney-General.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—Alleging that his son-in-law, Eugene Cutts, had made three attempts upon Mrs. Cutts' life, J. G. Croucher, 122 Dupont street, has taken his daughter-in-law under the protection of the parental roof and has called the attention of the Attorney-General's Department and Louis Monahan, acting county crown attorney, to the affair.

Mrs Cutts, who is 29 years of age, tells of having lived contentedly with her husband for eight years until last November, when Mr. Cutts became infatuated with a young Toronto girl of good family connections.

Mrs. Cutts objected and so did the young woman's father and the matter was taken before Police Inspector Archibald, when a settlement was reached.

The first attempt upon her life was made, Mrs. Cutts affirms, in March, when she was ill and a neighbor who has some knowledge of nursing, had been attending her.

One morning as she was laboring under violent pains in the stomach the neighbor called to see her and the husband locked the door. The woman insisted upon getting in, however, and he opened the door, but did not want her to go upstairs. But she would not be put off, and upon reaching Mrs. Cutts' chamber found the patient suffering from what she suspected was poisoning. Quickly, she asked the husband for milk. He refused. The woman threatened to call the police and he gave her the milk. An emetic was administered and Mrs. Cutts recovered.

In June Mrs. Cutts claims her husband made some tea and gave it to her, but the taste was nauseating and suspecting the tea was poisoned she asked him to taste it. With an oath he threw the tea, cup and all, out of the window.

On the night of July 20th after she had retired, Mrs. Cutts states, she heard a noise in the house and upon calling out who was there, Mr. Cutts' voice answered. A few minutes afterwards a cloth containing chloroform was thrown over her face. Marks of burning are still noticeable on her face.

Mr. Cutts claims that when he came home he found me unconscious on the bed and immediately went for a doctor.

"When the doctor arrived he found all the gas cocks turned on and the windows and doors closed, although," says Mrs. Cutts, "I had opened the windows before retiring. The doctor restored me to consciousness and left a tablet for me to take, but a little later Mr. Cutts threw this out of the window."

The next day Mrs. Cutts went to her father's house with two of her children and has been staying there ever since. Her two other children were left with Mr. Cutts' mother.

The facts as given above have been given to the Attorney-General's Department by Mrs. Cutts' father, J. G. Croucher, superintendent of the Toronto Electric Light Co.

TORONTO STOCK YARDS BURNED

Damage of $125,000 Done by Fire at West Toronto.

LOSS OF CATTLE IS SMALL

Slack Day After Market Prevents Heavy Damage to Stock Usually In Pens—More Than Twenty Acres Are Completely Swept of Buildings Only Half Insured—Eight Dwellings Are Wiped Out.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—Fire which swept the stables of the Union Stock Yards at West Toronto early last evening caused a loss roughly estimated at about $125,000. This includes the destruction of a row of eight dwellings on Albany road, just outside the yards, six of the houses being the property of the company.

The insurance will run about half the damage.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but some boys state emphatically that they saw three men on bicycles ride up to the yards at Albany road and throw burning paper in among the straw in one of the pens. They then got on their wheels and rode off westward, so the boys state.

The cattle and sheep pens destroyed covered an area of 500,000 square feet and were completely destroyed.

Luckily it was not a market day and the only stock lost were 96 lambs, 2 steers, and 4 bulls. A day earlier and a great barbecue would have resulted.

Five hundred tons of hay were also burned. This it was that caused the great pall of smoke.

The absence of a strong wind at the beginning gave the firemen a better chance, but it was a hard, hard struggle. At 8.30, however, the flames were under control.

It was about 6.45 when smoke was seen coming from the glass ally by workmen who were stabling their horses preparatory to going home. A moment later, before an alarm could be given, flames burst from every side of the large building, which was used for show purposes. This was a building almost entirely glass, 300x180 feet. The evening breeze carried the fire rapidly to the north.

Before the West Toronto firemen arrived the wind veered to the southeast and the fire was beyond control. The sheds which were of pine 30x300 burned like tinder.

From one to the other the fire jumped until twenty-six were a mass of flames.

The Toronto fire department sent 20 men with 1,800 feet of hose and an engine.

As night came on the scene was spectacular in the extreme. Viewed from Franklin street on the west the sight of 20 old acres all in flame with the hay barn, in which there was 500 tons of hay, as a background, is beyond description. In all the sheds covered 30 acres. Of these but six acres remain.

The C. P. R. roundhouses were constantly in danger, but the watchfulness and hardwork of the employes held them safe.

THE EXAMINER'S SPORTING PAGE

MOHL HAS A GREAT RECORD, ONLY MAN TO BEAT CAZEAU; WILL BE A FAVOURITE HERE

A telegram received by Manager Naylor this morning informs him that Yankee Rogers has left his home in Cornwall as arranged, and will be in Peterborough to-night. He is accompanied by Mrs. Rogers. The big Yankee very rarely gets into a town in which he has a match before the exact day, and it will be remembered that on his last visit here he did not arrive until the morning of the match date. On this occasion, however, he has broken that habit and will have time to get climatized or anything else he wants before he gets up against this big Germa . He evidently thinks this match is a serious affair, and in fact any man who looks over the record of the German champion must acknowledge that it is a serious affair.

Mohl first came to this country four years ago as wrestling partner to George Hackenschmidt, the Russian lion, and was then acknowledged to be one of the best Graeco-Roman wrestlers in Europe. He wrestled and beat all American wrestlers at that style, and on only one occasion was he beaten and that was after a terrible struggle.

Hjalmar Lundin, the champion Swede, wrestled Mohl in Lewiston, Maine, and beat the man who is up against Yankee. The first fall went to Lundin in 37 minutes, the second fall went to Mohl in 26 minutes and the last and deciding fall to Lundin in 49 minutes. Tom Jenkins of Cleveland, the late American champion, refereed the match and was reported by the press as saying, "it was the match of a lifetime for both men." Since that day Mohl has not been defeated at his own particular style. He has beaten Pat Rooney, the Chicago police giant; Stegemiller, who took his place as Hack's partner; Karakanoff, the Terrible Turk, and was the only man in America who got a decision over the big Frenchman, Cazeaux, who was the pride of the Bohmer Park habitues last season in Montreal.

Fritz is sure to be a favourite with the Peterborough fans before the match is over on Friday night.

THE T.A.S. ATHLETIC CLUB WAS ORGANIZED LAST NIGHT

At an enthusiastic and largely attended meeting in the St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society's rooms last night the T. A. S. Athletic Club was organized, with most encouraging prospects for the future. The young men of the society have apparently entered heartily into the spirit of the undertaking, and there seems no reason why the new organization should not flourish greatly. It is the intention of the club to enter into all branches of sport, including hockey, baseball, Rugby and athletics. In this latter regard there is plenty of promising material for a good track team. Many good runners and jumpers belong to the society, and they will turn out a track team that will take a lot of beating. The members of this particular department of the club's work will make their debut in Lindsay on Labour Day, when a big meet will be held in the Sougog town. Several long distance runners, who give promise of great things, have attached themselves to the club and will be entered in the ten-mile road race at Lindsay on the holiday.

The club promises to turn out some likely entries for the Examiner's big road races on Thanksgiving Day, and President Picord stated this morning that they will make a big effort to carry off the event.

Mr. J. J. Hanrahan presided at last night's meeting and the following officers were elected:

Hon. President—Rev. Dr. O'Brien.
Hon. Vice-President—J. F. McCarthy.
President—L. J. Picord.
Vice-President—John Deannard.
Secretary-Treasurer—J. J. Hanrahan.
Manager—W. E. Meagher.
Assistant Manager—Joe Dwyer.
Executive Committee—Wm. Heffernan, Wm. Landry, R. J. Begley and Leo Derocher.

BOTH WRESTLERS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE IN THE CITY TO-DAY

Mr. Chris. Graham has received a telegram from Fritz Mohl, the German heavyweight wrestler, who is up against Yankee Rogers in the great wrestling match in Brock street rink on Friday evening next, in which he says he will leave Buffalo, N.Y., this afternoon, getting into Toronto in time to get the last train to Peterborough, arriving here at midnight.

Yankee Rogers, his husky opponent, wired his manager also, and has left on the International Limited, as arranged, and will be here on the afternoon train via Port Hope.

Fitzpatrick, the local boy, who is in business at Rochester, is also in the city and was around the Oriental last night. He looks in capital shape for the match with Crough, and intends to get the purse which the management has offered. Fitz did quite a lot of wrestling whilst he was in Rochester last season and was up against some of the good men, too. He stayed fifteen minutes with Kid Cutler, who is perhaps better known as the sparring partner of John L. Sullivan.

He says Yankee is a great card in the States, and has a big following everywhere, many good judges thinking he is the equal of Gotch.

BELLEVILLE WINS THE PROTEST

Game at Port Hope Ordered to be Played Over

At a meeting of the executive of the Trent Valley Lacrosse League, held last evening at the Examiner office, the protest of the Belleville club against the game played with Port Hope in that town on August 12 was taken up, with the result that Belleville's protest was granted and the game will have to be replayed.

There were present Messrs. R. J. Begley, Peterborough, in the chair; Currie and Brundrette of Port Hope, McClavie, Trenton; Ray, Belleville, and McCoy and R. M. Glover, Peterborough.

It will be remembered that Belleville protested the game on account of the fact that the goal nets were not of the proper size and that the referee had not been appointed by the league. The Belleville team left the field before the game was over, with Port Hope leading. Last night's meeting decided that the game would have to be played over.

It was also decided that Lindsay was to play the first of two home-and-home games at Peterborough to decide the championship of this district, but no date was set for the games.

BROTHERS TO BATTLE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Of Nicholls Oval Tennis Club Tournaments—Game This Week

Last night in the first of the finals in the Nicholls Oval Tennis Club's tournament, F. Cressman defeated Collier 6—4, 6—1. The final game for the club's championship between F. and H. Cressman will be played this week and should prove an interesting contest.

SEATS SELLING FAST FOR THE MATCH

Half Reserved Seat Plan Spoken For Last Night—On Sale This Morning

Seats for the big wrestling match between Yankee Rogers and Fritz Mohl were put on sale this morning at the Oriental Hotel. Only ringside seats are advance sale, and nearly all these coigns of vantage were spoken for last night. The stage is built exactly in the centre of the rink and is three feet high. The ringside seats are within a few feet of where the men will be working, and is the exact spot and location for those who like to see the men working from a close point of view. The lighting arrangements are such that everybody in the rink will be able to see every movement of the men. The mat is twenty feet square and will enable the men to work to the best advantage.

OLD RUGBY UNION TO REMAIN IN EXISTENCE

Montreal Rugby Men Under Watchful Eye of Chancer Elliot

Although no regular practices will be held till September 5, Mr. Percy Roberts, the new captain, and Chaucer Elliott, the coach of the Montreal Football Club, are having some of the aspirants for senior honours out almost every night on the Montreal A.A.A. grounds.

Last night several new men were out including a gentleman who has played the English game both in the Lower Provinces and in South Africa, and who may shape well as a valuable member of the Montreal outfit.

That there will be a great many changes is almost a foregone conclusion, and some surprises may be looked forward to.

It is pretty certain at present that unless the Federationists bother the Hamilton athletes too much in connection with Bobby Kerr, the old Rugby Football Union of last year will remain in existence.—Montreal Star.

STRATHCONAS ANSWER WEST ENDS

Advise Them to Get Busy And Chase the Pigskin

To the Sporting Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir,—We again noticed some of the hot stuff which the would-be ball players of the Wild West asked for publication in your valuable issue of last night.

The West Ends tate that the game between them is called off and no doubt it is. The West End Club state that they did not want to be professionalized by playing for a sum of money, so decided to call the game off. Also they did not show any signs of putting up the required sum, but stated that they had a supporter that they thought would put up the necessary amount, and if we have to wait till this gentleman does so, the game, no doubt, will be played in the present century.

We advise the down and out club to put away their display of kickery and take a run after the pig skin, which is the present sport to talk about.

Thanks for space.

THE CANADIAN FARMERS GETTING RICH

Instead of Keeping Up the Manufacture of Dairy Produce are Doing Less Arduous Work

The fact that the Canadian butter exports for last year have shown that they were no less than 14,000 tons less than they were three years ago has once more called attention to the fact that Canadian farmers are turning their attention less and less to the manufacture of dairy produce, and are steadily decreasing their output. That there is an improvement in the quality of the exports, such as they are, does not minimize the fact that there is a most serious decrease in the quantity of both cheese and butter that at one time found a ready market in the United Kingdom. At the present time there are greatly improved methods of curing. There are more facilities for transit, and it would have been thought that Canadian dairy farmers would have taken advantage of these and increased, instead of decreasing their manufactures.

As it is, Australia and New Zealand are making use of the opening and are sending more of their products to the market of the United Kingdom and are taking the position once held by the Canadian farmer.

In conversation with a prominent butter and cheese dealer this morning, the Herald endeavoured to obtain further information on the subject. "There is nothing new in all this," he said, "for it has been going on for years. There is no doubt that for some time this decrease has been in progress and it is difficult to see that there is likely to be any improvement. At the present time the stocks in Montreal are very heavy, no less than 200,000 and while the present absurd prices are maintained there can be no shipments, or very few. Why, in London you can buy the very best cheese that Canada can produce for seven pence per lb., and compare that with the price that we are being asked there.

"The farmers are just doing what is done in nearly all branches of trade where there is prosperity. They are making money fast and now they are turning their attention to work that is less troublesome and arduous. I do not say that they are to be blamed, for they are only following out what is the case in all industries.

"All I can say is that until there is a general lowering of prices it will be impossible for heavier shipments to take place. We cannot afford to do it."—Montreal Herald.

A Choice and Complete Stock is what people want nowadays. We have it. We are always particular what we buy in the country. We don't buy all the farmer has on his farm to get it a little cheaper, but we take good care and select the best and pay the farmer a little more, then we give our customers the choicest at a reasonable price and will not be undersold by anyone. Our readers and buyers are experienced men and our meat is slaughtered in one of the best abattoirs in the County of Peterborough. You will always get what you ask for from us. WAS SENT UP FOR SIX MONTHS

Vagrant Will be Looked After on the Hill.

Moses James, a middle aged man, who is partially paralized, appeared before Magistrate Dumble at police court this morning on a charge of vagrancy. He has been lingering around the parks lately and admitted that he had no money or place of abod. The Magistrate asked if he did not think that a term in the gaol where he would be looked after would not do him good, and the old man expressed a wish to try the treatment. Accordingly he was sentenced to six months in the county goal.

The Magistrate in commenting on the case, remarked that James' condition was due to the excessive use of tobacco in his youth.

ENJOYABLE EVENING AT THE GROVE

Choir of Knox Church Were Entertained by Mrs. A. Patterson Last Night

Mrs. A. Patterson entertained the choir of Knox Church and their friends at Crawford's Grove last evening. The grove was most tastefully decorated with flags and illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and the tents were covered with a profusion of water lilies and vines. A splendid bonfire was lit, and around this the guests listened to the entertaining strains of the bagpipes and an orchestra, especially invited for the occasion.

Hot boiled corn was one of the features of the entertainment. Candy was also served in souvenir bark canoes. Mr. Allen very kindly placed his yacht at the disposal of the guests, who returned by street car, which, by special arrangement met them at the city wharf at twelve o'clock. A most enjoyable time was spent by all.

PETERBOROUGH'S MAGNIFICENT NEW COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE WILL BE THROWN OPEN FOR USE ON TUESDAY

Messrs. Langford and Sheehy Will Have Finished Their Work by Saturday and Public Will Have an Opportunity of Viewing the Splendid Building

THE INTERIOR IS SUPERB

When the Collegiate Institute pupils commence the fall term of 1908 next week they will find themselves quartered in one of the most modernly constructed and planned, most commodious and handsomely finished school buildings in Canada. The new Collegiate Institute, the realization of many years of dreaming, will be completed this week; in fact, the massive pile in Central Park lacks only the finishing touches, and Principal Kenner and his staff will be able to meet their pupils in the new building for the first time on Tuesday of next week, when the school term commences. The contractors, Messrs. Langford and Sheehy, expect that they will be able to throw the building open to the public on Monday, when an opportunity will be given the citizens to thoroughly go over the magnificent structure before school work commences.

Will Astonish the Public

It is safe to say that they will be astonished and delighted with everything connected with the school, especially the interior. The austere, if not altogether plain, architecture of the exterior does not convey any idea of the beauty inside. Only a visit to the school will show the public what has been done there, and, no doubt, a very large number will avail themselves of the opportunity offered them on Monday to examine Peterborough's newest educational centre.

Too much praise cannot be given the contractors, Messrs. Langford and Sheehy, for the way in which they have carried out the plans. Not only have they pushed the work ahead rapidly, but they have put the best skill at their command into the labour, and the beautiful building that they are just furnishing is most decidedly a credit to them. They are being warmly congratulated by the citizens, who have had an opportunity of inspecting the building. They have lost no time with the contract. Work was commenced on May 1st, 1907, and has been going on steadily ever since.

700,000 Bricks Used

The new Collegiate is a big building, bigger perhaps than the majority of local people who have only viewed the structure from outside, imagine. A better idea could perhaps be gained from the statement that some 700,000 bricks have been used in its construction, and that there are enough bricks in each of the four chimneys to build an ordinary sized house. The outside dimensions are 125 feet in length and 90 feet in width, and the building consists of three stories and a basement, or practically four storeys, for the basement is almost above the level of the ground. Fifteen class rooms are available, and Contractor Langford estimates that the school will accommodate 600 pupils, so that it will be seen that it is large enough to do for many years to come and that there will be no danger of congestion for some time.

Lavatories in Basement

The basement of the building contains lavatories for boys and girls, the former situated in the southwest corner and the latter in the northwest, chemical and physical laboratories, boiler and coal rooms and a room in which the cadet corps will store their rifles. Everything is conveniently arranged. There are two entrances to the girls' lavatory, one through their cloak room upstairs and the other by means of a door on the north side of the building. The laboratories are large and well lighted, and will be most completely equipped with all the apparatus necessary for the study of chemistry and physics, arranged so that it can be used to the best possible advantage. Mr. Hodgson, the science master, is himself superintending the fitting of these rooms, and pupils who have studied the subjects under the disadvantages of the old Collegiate will be delighted with the as-

PETERBOROUGH MAN ON HIS WAY WEST MEETS A SUDDEN DEATH IN BOARDING A MOVING TRAIN

The Bank of Ottawa here received this morning a despatch conveying the distressing intelligence that Mr. George Young, of North Monaghan, was killed while attempting to board a moving train at Brandon. The telegram also stated that the remains would be sent to Peterborough, arriving, perhaps, on Saturday.

The late Mr. Young was a son of the late Andrew Young, of North Monaghan, who died about five years ago, and was about twenty-six years of age. He had a fine farm property, the Young homestead, situated upon the "Gravel Road," about five miles from the city. Last spring he decided to quite farming. After the sale of his live stock he leased his farm to Mr. Wm. White, and removed to Peterborough with his mother, who died two weeks ago. Residence in the city not agreeing with Mr. Young's health, he had decided to return to the farm. However, before settling down he took a trip to the Northwest, leaving on his journey west, on August 18th, in company with several of his North Monaghan neighbours.

He was unmarried and the last member of his family. He was a nephew of Messrs. George and John Young, 569 Park street, and of Mrs. Israel Tuyne, Lock street.

MANY FAMOUS ATHLETES FOR Y. M. C. A. BIG INDOOR MEET

The date for the big Y. M. C. A. Harriers' indoor meet has been set for Thursday night, Sept. 17th, in the Brock street rink and promises to be the most successful event of its kind ever held in this city. It will be held along similar lines as that of last year, which was a grandsuccess in every way. The meet will be marked by the presence of some of the most famous athletes in Canada, including a number of members of the Canadian Olympic team. Assurances have already been received by the management, of the presence here of Bobby Kerr, Canadian, British and world's champion 200 metre sprinter, and the only Canadian to win a first prize at the Olympic games in England; Archibald, champion Canadian pole vaulter; Jack Tait, the crack middle distance runner, and last, but not least, Tom Longboat. In addition several other members of the Canadian team will be here, including Mr. J. H. Crocker, the manager of the team, who will superintend the arrangements.

The programme will include 50-yards and 220-yards handicap races, with Bobby Kerr starting at scratch, and races for boys under eighteen years of age, 220-yards and one mile. There will be three and one mile races in which Jack Tait, of Toronto, and Ernie Wilson, Chas. Thorpe, Peter Wallace and other local men will start, and a special invitation five mile race between Longboat and Simpson, an event that will be worth the price of admission alone. In addition, Archibald, who holds the title of British pole vaulting champion, will give an exhibition of pole vaulting. As Archibald usually vaults in the neighborhood of twelve feet this turn will be well worth watching. Arrangements are also being made to have Mike Creed, the Irish-Canadian's high jumper, who clears the bar at six feet, to be present and to give an exhibition of his skill.

It will be seen that the Harriers are offering the best programme of its kind that has ever been given here and the public may count upon a grand night's sport.

Examiner Race Will Provide Some Very Keen Competition

The competition in the Examiner road race this year promises to be keener than ever, judging by the number of men who are in training already for the event. Trainer Dick Baker, of the Y. M. C. A. Harriers, who has already turned out two winners for the senior event, will have a big squad of distance men to look after this year, and expects to carry off the honours for the third time with one of the blue and white jersied men. The Y.M.C.A. Harriers will, however, have opposition of a serious nature this year. The newly-formed T.A.S. Athletic Club numbers among its members some likely long distance runners, and will be well represented in both senior and junior events. A number of the men have already gone into training and will likely run in the ten-mile Marathon at Lindsay on Labour Day, so that the public will be able to get a line on them. The biggest field in the history of the event will likely face the starter in the Thanksgiving Day events. It is certain, at least, to be the best trained field, for the men are going into training early, having realized the mistake made on the part of some runners last year, who imagined they could cover the distance without much preliminary work.

YANKEE ROGERS ARRIVED IN GOOD SHAPE; IS CONFIDENT

Yankee Rogers, the well known American champion wrestler, arrived in the city last night, and is accompanied by Mrs. Rogers. The big fellow looks in much better condition than when he was last here, and says he is ready for anything or anybody. He is very confident that he can beat Fritz Mohl, but says he knows he is a hard nut to crack, being keener at the game, a great mat general and pretty rough. Still anyone who knows, "Yank," knows that the rough part of the transaction will not trouble him very much, as he cannot be called a parlour artist himself. Everything appears to point to a very big crowd to-morrow night, and the public will certainly get their money's worth. Yankee will have a workout to-night with Fitzpatrick and Dixon, just to get any stiffness out of his bones.

Ring side tickets are on sale at the Oriental Hotel, and should be secured at once if disappointment is not wanted.

DRESSED LIKE A MAN; SOBBED LIKE A WOMAN

Her Identity Discovered and She Was Arrested

New York, Aug. 27.—Special—Having beaten her way to New York from Ohio, dressed as a man, Mrs. Gertrude Williams, 26 years old, who said she lived at Stapleton, S. I., was arrested in Union Square Park yesterday.

"Are you a man or a woman, and what's the matter?" asked Officer Winters, who observed the occupant of a bench in tears.

Mrs. Williams could not suppress an indignant "Sir!" and her attitude when she straightened up was so feminine that she was arrested.

She tearfully confessed that she had lost her employment as a chambermaid in a small town in Ohio, and with what was left of her money bought a suit of men's clothing and beat her way back to New York. She was paroled in the custody of the probationary officer.

ATE BROTHER'S WIFE AND FOUR CHILDREN

Strange Case of Cannibalism Reported From Siberia

St. Petersburg, Aug. 27.—Special—Details are given in Yakutsk newspapers of a revolting case of cannibalism among the nomadic tribe of Lamuts, living on the river Kerkodin, in extreme northwestern Siberia. One of the nomads, driven desperate by hunger, devoured the bodies of his brother's wife and four children. A party of hunters came upon the deserted encampment, found the remains of the bodies and reported the case. There was no vestige of food on the premises.

THE FLAG.

The Examiner has received from the Department of Militia and Defence, Ottawa, a beautiful book entitled "The Flag," published by the Daily Mail, for the benefit of the Union Jack Club of London, England, the club for the soldiers and sailors of the Empire. It was opened by the King on Dominion Day, 1907. The success of the club has necessitated enlargement of the premises, and to raise the necessary funds, "The Flag" has been published, and the sale has already reached a quarter of a million copies. Major H. F. Trippel, the home editor of "The Flag," has come to Canada with 50,000 copies of the book, to be sold in the Dominion. "The Flag" is a handsomely printed and illustrated quarto volume of 115 pages, with stirring contributions on patriotic and imperial themes by Owen Meredith, Rudyard Kipling, W. Pett Ridge, Baden-Powell, Sir William Gilbert, W. Clarke Russell, Marie Correlli, Sir Gilbert Parker, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, W. W. Jacobs, and other literary eminents, all articles signed with autograph fac similes. It also has interleaved five and twenty pictures by first-rate artists. Every military and militia man should have a copy. The price is absolutely reasonable — twenty-five cents. Orders and communications should be addressed to Lieutenant-Colonel Biggar, Director of Transport and Supplies, Militia Department, Ottawa.

The object of the enterprise is imperial and empire-building in character. A quotation from "The Flag" from an article by Sir Edward Ward, K.C.B., K.C.V.O. (the Permanent Under Secretary of State, War Office, London, and the Hon. Colonel of the Canadian Army Service Corps), says:

"Union Jack Clubs throughout the Empire will be a sign that a nation has recognized and does recognize the service of her warrior sons. Will the nation, whose great heart, once stirred, has never failed to care for the wants of her sailors and soldiers, still further support this extension of benefits which are so worthy, both of those who give and those who receive? We know that she will."

TWO SIDES OF THE QUESTION.

The Toronto News shows that in its new-found zeal for Conservative party interests it can be unreasonable as well as rabid. In discussing the woollen duties it says:

The plain disposition of the Ottawa Government seems to be to punish Ontario for daring to send a Conservvative majority to the House of Commons.

According to the contention of the News and its journalistic confreres, the persons who suffer most from the present conditions in connection with the woollen duties are those directly interested in the woollen industry. The people of Ontario, about two millions, benefit by the present scale of duties. While the former are entitled to all the encouragement practicable they can be regarded as the people of Ontario only in the same way as the Tooley street tailors could be regarded as the "people of England." The Liberal Government's object in providing and maintaining the present woollen duties is to protect the large body of consumers, who have equal rights to consideration. It is infinite smallness of view that can put upon any government the absurd charge of enacting class legislation to punish any section of the community. If the Liberal Government really had any desire to inflict punishment upon Ontario, it would welcome a large Conservative representation. There are two sides to every question.

THE COLCHESTER ELECTION.

Under circumstances of less equivocal import, than those connected with the election of Mr. Stansfield, the Conservative member for Colchester, Hon. Mr. Hyman of London resigned his seat. Mr. Stansfield pledged a pure election contest and it was as dirty as corruption could make it. At a Conservative convention held in Truro before the election, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas the laws of the country for the prevention of corrupt practises and other illegal acts at elections have provided severe penalties and imprisonment for the commission of the following offences: giving or receiving bribes, treating (whether intoxicating liquor or other refreshments,) intimidation, hiring of teams for voters, payment of travelling expenses of voters, personation, subornation of personation and perjury, therefore resolved; that we condemn the commission of any of the above offences and that we each and every one of us pledge ourselves to use every effort and energy to prevent the commission of any of the above offences at any election contest in this county." Further resolved: That we devote our zeal and our energy to the detection of any person committing any of the above offences, and we pledge ourselves to prosecute to the full extent of the law any person detected committing any of the above corrupt practises."

Mr. Stansfield in his card to the electors said:

"I endorse now as I did then this resolution, I will do all in my power to see that it is carried into effect during the present campaign."

The revelations of the courts show how far apart the practice was from this beautiful preaching. By the most systematic corruption the Conservative candidate was elected. He was floated into parliament on whiskey and the session being on, his seat was safe from attack for the time. As remarked, the courts gave us a partial glimpse of the methods adopted, to conduct a pure election. The Conservative managers, not content with their seasoned experience of their party in crooked methods, imported a Yankee election expert who with the skill which his experience of American election methods gave him, speedily organized an efficient system for the application of the principles of electoral purity adopted in the above resolution, by the distribution of money in lots from $5 to $50 and of whiskey in flasks left on the voters' door steps, and in "grips of booze." All this is not surprising. It is the Conservative habit to denounce their Liberal opponents for corruption, and to claim exceptional purity, and under the cover of these subterfuges, to practise corruption of the most practical kind. The Colchester case is a revelation of what obtains under varying circumstances elsewhere, not a thousand miles from West Peterborough and not a hundred years from the last Provincial Election. We have yet to see the Conservative journal that condemns the election practices of Colchester. They are rather excused, and to this extent, justified. Conservative practise must square a little better with profession of political virtue before their claims to be the party of purity are accepted.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Weekly Sun announces that it wants "a back number." We might send it the editor of a newspaper who opposes the building of a transcontinental railway and the building up of a new empire in the Canadian West.

Last year the people of Canada used woollen goods to the value of nearly $20,000,000. Of this amount $14,873,000 were imported and paid duty, on the average of all classes of goods, of 30 per cent. Thirty per cent. seems a pretty fair protection for an industry. Any industry that can increase its prices $30 on every $100 over its foreign competitor, should be able to get on fairly well.

In the Canadian West, two hundred towns have been established this year. A few years ago one could not see a farm from the train anywhere in the Regina district—it was said to be too dry to grow wheat. What have we now? The estimate is that the whole district will produce from twenty-three to twenty-five bushels per acre. What made this district to blossom as the rose? Faith, translated into enterprise, and population of a wholesome, energetic kind. And railway communication made population possible, and is the prime cause of the prosperous conditions and rush of growth in the Northwest. The building of the C. P. R. has been justified, and the same justification exists for the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The Little Canadian is getting squeezed into a pretty small corner.

The Ground Floor

As one ascends into the ground floor he is first struck with the size of the hall into which he enters. The corridor here, which runs from the front to the back of the school, is fourteen feet in width and splendidly lighted. In the northwest corner is situated the library, a large bright room, which will be used as a board room as well. West of it is the principal's room, and on this floor also are located six splendid class rooms, 32 feet by 22 1-2 feet, containing on an average six windows each, so that it can be seen that the question of light has been well looked after. These class rooms all open off the main corridor and the old method of having an individual cloak room for each form has been done away with. Instead the pupils will find two large cloak rooms on this floor, one in the north west corner for the girls and the other in the southeast corner for the use of the boys. They will be fitted out with racks and it is expected will be found a big improvement over the old style.

Commercial Form

The next floor is in many respects a duplicate of the one below it, there being the same arrangement of class and cloak rooms. Here the commercial forms will be located and their rooms are being fitted out with special desks. A type-writing room is situated next to one of these commercial rooms with a connecting door so that the commercial master will have the pupils at work there under his supervision. On this floor also are lavatories for lady and gentleman teachers.

The Assembly Hall

The feature of the building is found on the third storey, where the assembly room is located. Here the citizens will be surprised to find a beautiful hall, the largest in the city, and capable of providing seating accommodation for eight hundred people. A splendid stage has been provided for at the west end of the hall, in size 32x20 feet, while on each side with doorways leading to the stage, are two dressing-rooms 22 feet square. The room, which is of light green metal, is half circular in shape, while the back and roof of the stage resemble a shell. The whole effect is charming, and it is easy to see that the public will be delighted with this feature of the new building. Two stairways lead to the assembly hall, the main stairway being in the southeast corner. At the head of this is a box-office, and at the east a room 20 feet square which may be used as a cloak-room. On the northeast corner is another room, 22x35 feet, that can be called into service at any time as a class room.

Beautifully Finished

The floors throughout are of maple, while the stairways have oak handrails and balusters with maple threads. The woodwork is all of southern pine, with an oil finish that has been greatly admired by all who have seen the work. All the class room doors have plate glass windows, and the ceilings throughout are of metal, painted a light green colour, the whole effect being very pleasing.

The building has been well provided for in the matter of ventilation. Four immense chimneys running from the basement up through the building and far above the roof, have been constructed. From these there are two openings into each room, one of which carries off the foul air and the other provides fresh air, brought by means of the chimneys.

No Risks From Fire

The school has also been excellently planned in regard to protecting the pupils from danger in case of fire. There are two six-foot staircases connecting each floor, and there are four exits from the basement, and the same number from the ground floor. All the doors, of course, open outwards, and there would be no trouble in clearing the school quickly in case of fire breaking out.

The building outside is of red brick with a nine-foot-high foundation of Longford stone. The monotony of the brick is offset by the belt courses above the windows, which are of the same material as the foundation. The main entrance, facing George street consists of an arch of dressed stone 16 feet high, with magnificent quartered-oak doors, containing bevelled plate glass, while the rear entrance closely follows this design. Mr. Sheehy has superintended the stone and brick work, while Mr. Longford has looked after the woodwork. The contractors are deserving of the greatest credit for the work they have put into the building, and everyone who has inspected it has been loud in his praises. The painting, in fact, everything but the plumbing, heating and lighting has been done by day work under the supervision of the contractors.

Mr. D. R. MacGregor had the heating and wiring to instal, while the plumbing was done by Mr. Duranceau.

Outside, some efforts have been made to beautify the premises, but, of course, nothing much along that line could be accomplished this year. A broad pavement has been laid in front of the building, while other concrete walks lead to the different entrances.

Mr. John Belcher was the architect for the building and he is to be congratulated upon the modern and commodious structure that he has provided. With the funds at his disposal, $52,000 in round numbers was the contract price, he has accomplished wonders, and the building that his plans have produced will compare most favourably with any Collegiate Institute or High School in the Dominion.

PROPOSED DATE OF THE ELECTIONS

Polling Day Will Probably Be October 28 or 29.

PROGRESS IN VOTERS' LISTS

Lists In Ontario Will Be Same as In Provincial Election and Those In Other Provinces Will Be Same as In 1907—Data For 1908 Are Not Ready For Printing Yet—The Leaders Will Stay In East.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—Satisfactory reports as to the progress being made in the work of getting the voters' lists printed and ready for the coming general election are received by the Secretary of State from various points where the lists are now being printed. It is now pretty well assured that everything will be in readiness for polling by the end of October, and, as already foreshadowed, the election date will probably be either October 28 or 29.

The lists to be used will be those of 1907, the lists for 1908 not being yet prepared or ready for printing. In the case of Ontario the lists to be used will be those of the recent provincial elections, and in the cities there will be no new registration of voters under the provision of the election act relating to manhood suffrage in cities. According to the act, the special registration in cities is allowable before a general election only where a year has elapsed since the last registration. The lists for the coming election will contain fully 250,000 more voters than the aggregate of the lists of 1904.

In view of the approach of the elections, R. L. Borden does not expect to be able to travel far west this fall, nor will Sir Wilfrid Laurier be able to find time for a trip west of the great lakes. He will be wanted for a number of meetings in Quebec, and may speak at a couple of places in the Maritime Provinces.

Flaws In Woman's Story.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—The Government detectives, after a week's search, have picked these flaws in the story of Mrs. Cutts, who charges her husband with trying to kill her.

The woman's accounts varied, it is said; she was very excitable and nervous. No direct evidence was found against the husband. There had been frequent quarrelings between the two, and the home was not a happy one, and she, it is believed, brooded over her lot.

The story about the poisoned cup of tea was dismissed as impossible of corroboration, as all traces of it had naturally long disappeared.

Missionaries Coming Out.

Edmonton, Sask., Aug. 27.—There was a notable gathering in the Oblate Mission House preparatory to the departure for France, where a general chapter of the order is to be held, of Father Lacombe, with 56 years' missionary service; Bishop Girouard, 46 years, and Father LaTreste, who has been 25 years in the wilds without coming out.

Father Giroux is preceding the others, to pay a brief visit to his parents before representing his district as the elected representative to the chapter, a distinction he shares with LaTreste.

Canada's Route Cheapest.

New York, Aug. 27.—The Trunk Lines Association has formally refused the petition of the transatlantic steamship companies that a reduction be made in grain rates to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, to meet the competition through the port of Montreal.

The trunk lines say the reduction in rates east of Buffalo necessary to equalize the rates of competitive all-water routes leading to Montreal would result in rates wholly unremunerative.

Miners Entombed.

McAlester, Okla., Aug. 27.—Nearly 80 miners are believed to have perished in Haileyola coal mine No. 1, at Haileyville, 14 miles east of McAlester, last evening, when fire destroyed the hoisting shaft and cut off air from the men below. It is impossible to enter the mine.

Twenty-five dead bodies were removed from the mine last night, following a successful three hours' battle with the flames. It is believed that six or eight more will be brought out.

Was Water In the Milk.

Aylmer, Aug. 28.—Judgment was rendered Tuesday by Magistrate Bradley in the case of the Government milk inspector against two well-to-do farmers by the name of James, each defendant being fined $25.

Tony Pastor Dead.

New York, Aug. 27.—Antonio (Tony) Pastor, the theatrical manager, died at his home at Elmhurst, Long Island, last night, after an illness of several weeks, at the age of 71 years.

Diarrhea

There is no need of anyone suffering long with this disease, for to effect a quick cure it is only necessary to take a few doses of

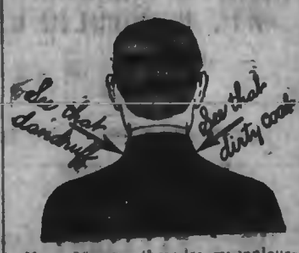
Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy

In fact, in most cases one dose is sufficient. It never fails and can be relied upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

In the world's history no medicine has ever met with greater success.

PRICE THIRTY-FIVE CENTS.

A FILTHY CONDITION



Many a man, otherwise scrupulously clean, is dandruff dirty. The small, persistent germs of dandruff working all day as well as night are constantly throwing off the small white dandruff scales which, falling on the shoulders of a coat, give it a filthy appearance which is repulsive to the friends of the victim.

Many men allow this condition to exist because they believe there is no cure for dandruff; they have tried various so-called cures with unsatisfactory results, and naturally condemn all.

The famous prescription called Parisian Sage is put up in America, but only by the Giroux Mfg. Co., of Buffalo, N.Y., and Fort Erie, Ont. It is for sale in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, who guarantees it to cure dandruff in two weeks, or money back.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed to do more; it will make short, thin hair grow long, lustrous and luxuriant; it will stop hair from falling out; it will cure all diseases of the scalp. Wm. Madill guarantees it — every bottle of it. The price is only 50 cents, and if you want to stop the filthy dandruff flakes from lodging on your coat and disgusting your friends, get a bottle at once.

A HOME REMEDY THAT REDUCES FAT

Would you like to have a nice, firm figure, but escape the tiresome, bone-breaking exercise or the soul-sickening diet of the old-time plan of reducing excess flesh?

Then go to the druggist and ask for this inexpensive mixture: 1-2 ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 4 3-4 ounces Syrup Simplex. Take a teaspoonful after meals and bedtime, and in a few weeks you can be as fit physically as a fawn. Mix these ingredients at home if you wish, but see that you get the Marmola in a sealed package. When fresh it acts quicker.

THE REFUSAL

. . . He seized her wrists—almost roughly—and in a hoarse voice pleaded with her once more to come . . . to come away with him. Again she answered "No!" . . . She would not come! A thousand times "No!"

And yet, though her thoughts were bitter toward him, she could not help thinking how handsome Robert looked at that moment, standing there with flushed face, and a mute appeal in his eyes, in the uniform that became him so well . . . standing there looking so strong, so big!

Everybody loved him; why couldn't she?

He would take her away from all this, and she would be cared for and watched over like some precious jewel! Oh, yes! she knew that he wanted her and longed to take her away there and then in his big strong arms! But . . . oh, the shame of it! It was only yesterday that she had seen another woman in these very arms and now he dared . . . dared to ask her to go with him . . . How could he? How could he? How could he? But, then, all men were traitors, cowards, and plural voters. Time was when she had looked to this man in all her little difficulties. Would she ever forget that awful day in the storm when he escorted her to the Island and made light of the great "white horses" which had made her almost afraid to cross? No, she would never forget; but neither could she forget what was due to her womanhood!

That was her answer! No! No! No! . . . What was that?

"Here, Bill," Robert was saying, "give us a hand with this young lady: I can't make her leave go of them railings. That's right; now, miss, you must come with me quietly, please."

And with a last triumphant shout from the prisoner of "Votes for Women!" the little party moved off in the direction of Cannon Row.—Westminster Gazette.

CANADIAN MARATHONERS WOULD BEAT THE WINNERS UNDER FAVOURABLE CONDITIONS, IS THE OPINION OF MANAGER J. H. CROCKER

Delivers Impressive Address at the Y.M.C.A. Banquet—Tells of Olympic Games—Some of Fred Simpson's Remarks—Eulogy For Trainer Dick Baker

PRESENTATION OF PRIZES

Peterborough's prominent athletes, together with a large number of their friends, assembled last night around the banquet board in the Y. M.C.A., and besides spending a pleasant social evening, listened to a number of profitable and interesting addresses, the outstanding feature of which was the address delivered by Mr. J H Crocker, manager of the Canadian Olympic team. It was the occasion of the Y.M.C.A. athletic banquet and the presentation of silver cups and other prizes won in recent athletic events, held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association in Peterborough.

The preliminary portion of the evening's programme was the supper. This was arranged by the Coleman Bros., and the guests were waited upon by a number of young ladies, whose careful attention in looking after the needs of the young men was received with many complimentary remarks. When the sharp edges of the appetites of the banquetters had been worn off, the post-prandial part of the evening's events was proceeded with.

The chairman was Mr. H R H Kenner, a man who has always taken a deep interest in amateur sport in Peterborough. Before introducing the first toast, Mr. Kenner said he was pleased to see so many around the banquet board and paid a tribute to the young ladies who had performed the duties of waitresses. He referred to the honour reflected upon the Harrier Club of the Y.M.C.A. in having such a prominent man in athletic circles present as Mr. J H Crocker, manager of the Canadian Olympic team. Canada had done very well at the Olympic games considering everything. Many Canadians were expecting too much and probably were a little disappointed.

Eliminate Marathon

Mr. Kenner believed that the Marathon race should be eliminated from the Olympic sports. There was nothing in the history of the ancient Grecian games to warrant it being held. A ten mile race was long enough. He dealt briefly with the ancient history surrounding the origin of the Marathon race and in an eloquent and eulogistic manner proposed the toast to King Edward—the greatest sovereign of the world. This was heartily drunk and was followed by a song splendidly sung by Mr. Chas. Thorpe.

The Y. M. C. A.

The toast to the Y.M.C.A. was moved by Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Charlotte street Methodist church. It gave him great pleasure to meet the young men of the Association in Peterborough and he traced the history of the Association from the time of its origin until it has grown to one and a quarter million.

Mr. G F Hunsard in response said he was glad to have the privilege of performing the duty assigned him because of his connection with the Y.M.C.A., because of his connection with it in Peterborough and because of the cause it stands for. It was instituted to make the ideal man and in doing so it serves to promote the physical, mental, social and spiritual sides of his nature.

Mr. E A Frowde then favoured the banquetters with a song which was very heartily received.

Athletics in Peterborough

Athletics in Peterborough, was the toast proposed by Mr. W D Campbell. He very appropriately dealt with sport here in years gone by, mentioning a number of the most prominent athletic men who appeared above the horizon and stood out prominently as examples for the rising generation.

Mr. R F McWilliams responded. He referred to the present condition of sports in Peterborough and to a policy for the future. Peterborough had shown her prowess in the leading sports in recent years and had a splendid record. A high standard of sportsmanship was needed and every man's motto should be to win and win fairly. The city should have an Athletic Union to put vim into all the sports that came under its sway and the young men should be gotten into it.

Canadian Olympic Team

This toast was proposed by Mr. J H. Burnham and responded to by Mr. Crocker, whose presence at the banquet was greatly appreciated. He had been asked to speak, he said, on the different phases of the Association work, but he found that everybody wanted to hear something of the Olympic games. But as he had to make an official visit later, and as there were representatives of the press present, he could say but little on that subject as yet. He had studied every phase of the Marathon, and knew the why and the wherefore of that great race. There never was a better trained group of men to toe the mark of a Marathon. There were ten Englishmen in the contest, seven of whom were superb runners, and two of whom, under ordinary conditions, would be strong enough to beat Canada's best, and, in fact, any long distance man on the American continent.

The Olympic games in England were probably the best ever held in the world. Twenty-one nations were represented. Men of all colours and nationalities were there from the four corners of the earth. Bobby Kerr brought honours to Canada and he had 86 competitors to meet. In the middle distance events England showed her superiority over all nations, and in the Marathon the Canadians feared only the Englishmen. In Price and Duncan, England felt confident, but the Canadians were also confident.

Since the Marathon he had cultivated quite a love for Longboat from the fact, if from no other, that so many falsehoods were in the air regarding his honesty in the race. He had tried to win, and the speaker would always take his part.

Eulogy For Simpson

"Simpson is a better man," added Mr. Crocker, 'and of all the men who did themselves proud in England, it was Simpson when he ran a victor in the 20-mile trial race."

There was no trouble with him. When he wasn't working or eating, he was sleeping.

The trial race was not run two days before the Marathon, as had been erroneously reported in some newspapers, but two weeks previous to it. In that race Simpson couldn't be held. The road was a little muddy and the day admirably suited him. He galloped into the Stadium in 1.56, as fresh as a daisy, with the words on his lips, "I got tired staying behind."

In the Marathon he went out with twelve other Canadians, and every man was well fitted for the race. All were most anxious to get away and show their prowess. After it was all over all were explaining why they didn't win. Simpson's answer was probably the most unique of them all.

("Legs wouldn't go, that's all," was his laconic reason.

The atmosphere was humid and sultry, and this condition must have affected the men, who were usually full of life and ginger," remarked the manager.

He had no hesitation in saying that under more favourable conditions Hayes, Dorando and Hefferon would have gone down to defeat before the Canadians and Englishmen. These men would not have run any better than they did and they would have been defeated by ten or fifteen minutes. In England to-day Dorando is the winner of the Marathon.

The Disputes

Much has been said and written about the protests made during the Olympic games. The Canadians had no trouble. One of the best set of officials looked after the games that could possibly have been gotten together. Their work was trying, but the patience, persistence, perseverance and impartiality with which they did it was wonderful.

"Our friends to the south were looking for something they didn't win," added Mr. Crocker

Association Work

Mr. Crocker dealt for a few minutes with the phases of the work in connection with the Y. M. C. A., touching upon the relationship of the physical department of it to the others.

"The years of our life in which we are interested in athletics, are years in which we are susceptible to religious influences," he remarked.

The great church problem now is, "How can we reach the young men?" and in attempting to do this, churches have made mistakes in trying to do athletic work without the proper supervision.

A change of environment from outdoor to indoor life is a period of degeneration and the deficiency can be supplied by the gymnasium. "Muscle gives expression to thought."

More than two-thirds of the brain power has to do with the muscles. The man with the larger muscle development has the larger brain development. Athletics teach a man to have self-control—they develop will power. They give poise and balance. The men to-day who have gripped God's plan in life are the men who play the game fairly and for a purpose. The man who will sell this gift of play sells one of the priceless gifts of God. When a man goes out to play the game he should play it strongly and steadfastly and use it to develop greater opportunities in life.

Tribute to Dick Baker

Before concluding his impressive address, Manager Crocker paid a pretty compliment to Mr. Dick Baker, who had gone over as assistant trainer to the Canadian Olympic team.

"Baker was one of the most useful, patient and strenuous workers we had and I can assure you he lessened my load not a little. He was a great source of help, he knew the country and the people, he was an encyclopaedia in time of doubt and he played as valuable a part on the Olympic team as any of the competitors."

Trophies Presented

The banquet was brought to a close by the presentation of the prizes by Mr. J H Burnham. Those who received silver cups were Harry Munro, Jack Crough, Harvey Staunton, (Captain of the Tiger Basketball team): and medals were presented to Jimmy McMartin, Geo. Fowler, Chas. Walsh, Harry Munro, Chas. Thorpe, Ernest Wilson, Dick Evans, Geo Fowler, (Otonabee Athletic Club,) Peter Wallace, F O'Connor, Fred McGrath, Percy McFadden, R Hillier, F Halpany, G Fitzgerald, W Davidson and Joseph Hughes.

The evening's programme was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

Mr. Louis Mendel took a flash light photo of the company before it dispersed.

PURSER OF "OTONABEE" FINED $14.10 FOR ASSAULTING STEWARD

Jas. Henderson, purser of the steamer Otonabee, was fined $10 and costs, amounting to $4.10, at the police court this morning, on a charge of assaulting Norton Chambers, steward of the same steamer, on Wednesday. Chambers, with his left eye hidden by a shield, appeared in court to press the charge.

Chambers was the first witness. He stated that Henderson had approached him as he was sitting on the railing of the Otonabee at the wharf on Tuesday night, and had without warning struck him heavily in the eye. Witness had sprung to his feet and grappled his assailant and the two fell over a water cooler, the witness on the bottom. While they were on the ground, he stated, that the defendant struck him three times.

Cross examined by Mr. R. F. McWilliams, who appeared for Henderson, the witness stated that he had some trouble with Henderson about an hour and one-half before. Henderson had come into the booth, which was in charge of the witness, and where the defendant had no right to be, and was ordered out, which caused the trouble.

The magistrate, in imposing the fine on the defendant, remarked that there had been plenty of time for the defendant to cool down after the previous encounter, and said that the assault was a cowardly one, in which no excuse could be offered.

Wife Complained That Husband Slept With Razor Under Pillow

A home life that is not all that it should be, was revealed at the police court this morning, when a married woman asked to have her husband bound over to keep the peace, alleging that he had used threatening language to her, had stated that he would poison her and had slept with a razor under his pillow, so that she was afraid that he would do her serious bodily harm. Mr. E. A. Peck appeared for the defendant, and the case was finally dismissed, after the magistrate had listened to the story of both parties.

The complainant, in telling her story, testified that her husband had abused her and threatened that he would knock her brains out. On one occasion he had said that he would either poison her or take poison himself. He had been sleeping with a razor under his pillow, and she was afraid of him, she averred.

The husband denied that he had ever threatened her, although he admitted that he might have told her that he would poison himself to end it all. He further denied that he had carried a razor upstairs, or slept with it under his pillow.

The magistrate dismissed the case. He informed the woman that he did not think that she had laid the information in good faith, and was not convinced that she was afraid of her husband. He rather considered that she had taken the step to prevent him from leaving her, and accordingly allowed the defendant to go.

Charge Of Carrying A Revolver Was Dismissed By Magistrate

Bert McMillan was charged at the Police Court this morning with carrying a revolver without sufficient reason, but after considerable evidence had been given the case was dismissed, it being shown that the defendant had reason to believe that his person was threatened.

The evidence showed that McMillan had been at the New Oxford Hotel and there had some words with a man named Dennis Sullivan. Before leaving the hotel he was informed that there was a bunch waiting for him at the corner of George and Simcoe streets, and, accordingly, he had borrowed the revolver from the bar-tender. When he reached the corner mentioned, Sullivan started to follow him, and he had turned around and shown him the revolver, which, the defendant stated, he had held by the barrel. Sullivan had drawn back at the sight of the revolver, but Peter Thompson, who had been with him, ran at McMillan, who turned and ran around to the police station. Here he was locked up by Special Officer Lytle and P. C. Meharry, on the officers being informed that the defendant had drawn a pistol on the others.

The Magistrate dismissed the case, remarking that the young man had evidently reason to believe that he was in danger.

A young man charged with being drunk was fined $2.00.

In addition to paying for the steamer, the Sunday school had something over to lessen the debt against their new hall.

The sail was a most enjoyable one and a very pleasant time was spent on the island, where the usual races were run off. The committee in charge of the excursion, Messrs. F. Kitney, Pert Long and T. Pammett, deserve great credit for making such successful arrangements.

ANGLICAN HYMNAL NEARS COMPLETION

Bound Copies to be Ready This Week—Acceptance by General Synod

There has been no little interest in the question of the arrival of sample copies of the new Anglican Book of Common Praise in time for the meeting of the General Synod next month in Ottawa. Inquiry at the Oxford Press, Richmond street, elicits the fact that the bound copies were shipped by the steamer Teutonic and are expected in Toronto for distribution to Synod delegates on Friday. Delegates who wish their copies sent to other than the house addresses should notify the Oxford Press. The publishers present the "words" edition in one style for the inspection and sanction of the Synod. This will be complete in every respect as to all the hymns, indices, etc. The music editions will be represented by about two hundred hymns, printed in full, with the music in the size of the organ edition, the rest being in blank. The indices, however, showing the tunes their setting, etc., will be complete so that musicians will be able to see clearly what the book will be. It is expected that the music edition will arrive in time to be sent direct to Ottawa for distribution to the delegates there. As soon as the Synod ratifies the work of the Hymnal Committee this book will become the authorized hymnal for the use of the Church of England in Canada.

CROP STATISTICS FOR JULY

A Depreciation in The Yield On Account of Drouth

The Census and Statistics Monthly for August, issued by the Dominion Government, has the following on the crop reports for July:

The heat and drought of July have lowered the condition of field crops all over Canada, but less in Ontario and Alberta than elsewhere, because the ripening season in those Provinces has been earlier. Measured on the basis of 100 for a standard condition, being a full crop of good quality, wheat fell during the month from 84 to 78, oats from 90 to 81, barley from 83 to 80, rye from 92 to 78, peas from 82 to 79, mixed grain from 84 to 81, and hay and clover from 87 to 82. The condition of beans at the end of the month was 75 per cent., or one more than at the end of June. Other crops show conditions for the end of July of 78 for potatoes, 74 for turnips, 73 for sugar beets, 75 for other roots, 77 for husking corn, and 83 for fodder corn.

It was too early at the end of July to give estimates of production for the Lower Provinces and British Columbia, but from the reports of correspondents in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the yields of principal field crops per acre and total yields are good.

ORANGEMEN HOLD ICE CREAM SOCIAL

Under Auspices of The New Duke of Manchester L.O.L. No. 50

Duke of Manchester, L. O. L. No. 50, held a very successful ice cream social last night at Brayley's School House, North Monaghan. Almost every bus in the city was out, in addition to a number of single vehicles. Supper was served from six to 8.30 o'clock. The 57th Regiment Band rendered a number of selections during the evening, and after supper the tables were removed and the young folks enjoyed a pleasant dance on a platform especially prepared for the occasion.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in full suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. The New York Ladies' Tailoring establishment have removed their parlours and workshop from 658 George street to 387 Reid street, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral, for the better accommodation of their patrons, and are prepared to take orders in any line of ladies' garments. WEDDING BELLS

ARCHER—STAUNTON

A pretty church wedding was this morning solemnized at St. Joan's Anglican church at nine o'clock, the principals being Miss Sarah Elizabeth Staunton, daughter of Mr. Wm. A. Staunton, 20 Benson avenue, and Mr. James Pavitt Archer, of the firm of Ferris & Co., Campbellford, and son of Mr. Wm. Archer of that town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Reid, of Christ Church, Campbellford, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, on account of recent bereavements in the family of the former.

The bride wore a silk mullo princess wedding gown trimmed with Irish pointe lace, and a large white hat with plumes. Her travelling dress was of lady's blue broade'otn trimmed with black, and she wore a large black hat. The bride and groom were unattended. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mr. R. J. Devey, organist of St. John's Church. After the ceremony the wedding dinner was served at the residence of the bride's father, and on the 11.26 C. P. R. train Mr. and Mrs. Archer left on their honeymoon trip to Montreal and Quebec. On their return they will reside in Campbellford.

REMAINS OF MR. LEFEVRE LAID IN RESTING PLACE

Yesterday at the Hillside Cemetery, Lakefield—The Pall Bearers

The funeral of the late Mr. H J LeFevre, of Uplands, Lakefield, took place from the family residence yesterday at 2 p.m. Owing party to uncertainty as to the time of the funeral and partly to the widespread belief that the interment was to be a private one, comparatively few were present to pay their last tribute of respect to one who was so widely beloved and esteemed in the community.

After a short service at the house the body was conveyed to St. John's Church, and from there to the Hillside Cemetery, where the remains were interred beside those of the late Mrs. LeFevre.

The pall bearers were Rev. A W Mackenzie, Mr. E B Tate, Mr. G B Hilliard, Mr. R C Strickland, Mr. Jas. Watson and Mr. J P C Atwood.

Among those present from a distance were Mr. Chas. Band, of Toronto, and Messrs. R A Morrow, D Hughes Charles, Cyril Hill, Hazen Ritchie and B G Brown, of Peterborough.

THE MICROSCOPE

Proves That Parasites Cause Hair Loss

Nine-tenths of the diseases of the scalp and hair are caused by parasitic germs. The importance of this discovery by Prof. Unna of the Charity Hospital, Hamburg, Germany, can not be over-estimated. It explains why ordinary hair preparations, even of the most expensive character, fail to cure dandruff; because they do not, and they cannot, kill the dandruff germ. The only hair preparation in the world that positively destroys the dandruff parasites that burrow up the scalp into scales called scurf, or dandruff, is Newbro's Herpicide. In addition to its destroying the dandruff germ, Herpicide is also a delightful hair dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00. McDermid & Jury and the Market Drug Store, Special Agents.

Last evening between the buoys on the fishing ground at Sturgeon Lake, they succeeded in landing a 25-lb. maskinonge. The beauty measured 47 inches long and 18 inches girth. The head measured 11 inches in length. The ladies are being warmly congratulated on their splendid catch.

JOHN ANDERSON DIES IN JAIL

Brockville Bigamist Only Serves Three Months of Sentence.

DISGRACE HASTENED END

Man Who Married a Clergyman's Daughter Spent Most of His Brief Prison Life In Hospital — His Shame Brought Death to Aged Mother — Lied About Queen's Degree — School Inspector.

Kingston, Aug. 27.—The death occurred at the hospital in the penitentiary last night of John E. Anderson, the Brockville school inspector, who was sentenced three months ago to seven years on a charge of bigamy.

Anderson in April last married the daughter of a clergyman at Renfrew, and by forged certificates secured the position as school inspector. Early in May it was found that he had already a wife, she being located in Toronto. His arrest took place in Renfrew at the home of wife No. 2.

After spending a short time in jail he was sent to the penitentiary.

He had been ill ever since he entered the prison. Disgrace broke him down, and he suffered besides from a tumor in the throat and could not be cured.

Deceased was 59 years of age, although at the time of his marriage he claimed to be 39.

After his trial, Queen's officials found that his claim of being a graduate of the university was false, and investigation revealed the fact that he had forged documents to make the showing.

Anderson's aged mother died shortly after the trial as a result of her son's disgrace.

Laymen Plan Campaign.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—At a meeting of the Canadian Council of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, held in the city yesterday, the plans for the autumn campaign were largely settled.

The council expects to introduce the movement to all parts of the Dominion by holding a series of meetings covering a period of six weeks, and extending from Halifax to Victoria, beginning on September 13.

Hains, Jr., U.S.A., at the Bayside Yacht Club on August 15, knew that Hains was seeking to kill him, maintained a private detective service to warn him as to Hains' movements and carried ready for quick action a Mannlicher automatic pistol, one of the deadliest types of weapon known, with the avowed intention of shooting Capt. Officials and Men Deny Rumor—Striker Refused Bail.

Montreal, Aug. 27.—Rumors reaching here yesterday as to alleged friction between the C.P.R. officials and its operating staff are given an unqualified denial. C.P.R. officials state that there is not the slightest friction, and their trainmen are perfectly satisfied. At any rate, they point out that the Lemieux Act will prevent them from going on strike in sympathy with the mechanics.

A report from Toronto that the executive officers representing the engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and telegraphers have assembled here for the purpose of holding a joint conference with regard to the mechanics' strike, is denied by representatives of all these organizations in the employ of the C.P.R.

Bail was refused yesterday by Judge Leet for Leon Martel, a C.P.R. railway striker, accused of having said to a workman: "Be careful, we are watching you. If you work to-day we will catch you to-night."

Mr. Lavelle declared he would appeal to the Superior Court in the interests of his client.

Fourteen warrants were issued yesterday for the apprehension of Polish strikers.

FINDER GETS DIAMONDS.

Ten Thousand Dollar Prize For Montreal Man.

Montreal, Aug. 27.—Some time ago $10,000 worth of rings and diamonds were found in the C.P.R. station by a man named Augustus Cooper. He was arrested on a charge of stealing them, but now they will become his property. This is the effect of a communication received from Mr. Ulric Lafontaine, clerk of the crown, who is returning from England, where he was sent as special commissioner to enquire into the case. Mr. Lafontaine in his letter states that Mr. and Mrs. Burrows of London, the supposed owners of the diamonds, refuse to give evidence, and waive all claim to the jewels. The diamonds are at present in the possession of the police, but will be turned over to Mr. Cooper.

Pursuit of Wounded Farm Hand.

Middletown, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Wm. Monroe, a farm hand, who last Friday assaulted five members of the Deye family, near Palts, then fired a barn on the premises and fled, was discovered yesterday near Greenwood Lake, badly wounded.

Ever since Monroe made his escape, armed men have persistently followed him, once having the man in custody, but he again eluded his pursuers. His arrest is expected shortly.

Winnipeg, Aug. 27.—Harold, the youngest son of G. D. McKay, president of McKay, Williams & Co., was killed by the accidental discharge of a cartridge. Wants Crippled Husband.

Hamilton, Aug. 27.—Joseph Erwood, a city employe, is seeking to prevent the marriage of his 19-year-old daughter with a man 45 years of age. Erwood says his prospective son-in-law is a cripple and will be unable to support his daughter.

CONSTABLE UNEARTHED THE LOOT

Cache of Humber River Pirates Discovered at Toronto.

BELIEVED TO BE ENGLISH

Memoranda Discovered Point to Robbers Being Recent Arrivals In Canada—Launches, Clothes, Money, Jewelry Tools, and Checks Are Among the Spoils — Officers Hot on Trail of Thieves.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—Two gasoline launches with a quantity of jewelry, clothing, tools, money and checks, a valuable gramaphone and an awning are the proceeds of the thefts of the men whose cache was discovered on Tuesday by County Constable Simpson on the Humber river.

The launch found has been identified as that stolen from William Sutton of Hamilton some four weeks ago. He came to the city yesterday and will take the craft back to Hamilton.

The city police have been called to work upon the case and yesterday Detectives Murray and Guthrie and P. C. Cronin set out in a gasoline launch at 10 o'clock from Sunnyside. They scoured the lake as far as Port Credit for the men of which Constable Simpson has furnished a description, but no sign of them was found.

Among the goods found in the launch hidden in the bushes on the Humber and in the bush nearby was a gramophone with 100 records, valued ot $150. There were also a number of tools which might be used for house-breaking or safe-breaking.

Among the effects found in the "hide" were a number of disjointed memoranda made by the thieves and evidently referring to their thefts. One of these seems to outline their plan and with other papers points to their being Englishmen who have carried on their profession of thieving in the Maritime Provinces. It runs:

"Can sink L (launches) and B (boats) in good places for uplifting, and move to Halifax, then dispose in England and vice-versa. When enough money set up in big."

Other notes seem to point directions to places at the Humber, Mimico, Sunnyside and Balmy Beach. Others seems to refer to proceeds of thefts as one disgustedly sets out "grub only."

"Instruments" are referred to several times and many want ads. have been clipped from papers of places where such wares could be disposed of. Much of the property has been identified as belonging to summer cottagers living along the lake front.

Beats His Affinity.

Monroe, N. Y., Aug. 27.—The trouble between Ferdinand Pinney Earle and his "soul-mate" wife, Julia Kutner Earle, which landed the artist in jail on a charge of wife-beating, gave promise yesterday of an early adjustment. Both Earle and his wife are said to be desirous of a reconciliation and it is not believed Mrs. Earle will consent to appear in court to press the charge on which he is held. He passed a sleepless night in the jail at Goshen and was constantly watched by guards, who feared he would attempt to end his life.

Prisoners Scale Wall.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 27.—Two convicts working in the yard of the state penitentiary in this city yesterday afternoon scaled the high stone wall which surrounded the prison and jumped to the sidewalk below.

One of them broke his leg in the fall and was captured after a fight by the prison guards. The other convict John Burger, dashed away, and although pursued by a large crowd he escaped.

Feet Caught In Sewer.

New York, Aug. 27.—Fighting desperately for life in a sewer in East 81st street, into which waters from flooded cellars poured in a furious torrent, John Lynch, a sewer department employe, with one foot wedged beneath a cellar pipe yesterday, watched the swirling waters rise to his waist, to his throat, and then his life was blotted out.

RAINS BENEFIT WHEAT.

Reports From West Say Frost Did Little Harm.

Winnipeg, Aug. 27.—The late wheat and oat crop will be greatly benefitted by the rains of Tuesday.

From Lacombe, Alberta, the director of the experimental farm wires the Department of Agriculture as follows:

"Most of spring wheat still standing, but ripening fast. Heads very plump and well filled.

"Weather favorable. Frost of 20th does not appear to have injured wheat much.

"Barley all cut. A large acreage of oats also cut.

THE EXAMINER'S SPORTING PAGE

BURNS AND HIS TERRIBLE SHADOW, JACK JOHNSTON

For months and months, and then some Tommy Burns, the reputed heavyweight champion of the world, has been dodging the "dark cloud," Jack Johnston, but now on top of his victory over Squires for the third time comes the announcement that Tommy will hook-up with the sensational negro.

So it is that there may be something in the report that James Waldorf Coffroth, the premier pugilistic promoter of the Pacific coast, will bring the men together for a forty-five round battle for a purse of $45,000.

And that should be a battle worth travelling many miles to see. The writer has not any use for the men of colour, but he has a wholesome regard for Johnson's prowess as a boxer and fighter.

That cablegram this morning from Sydney which announces that Burns is willing to take on the coloured man must have been welcome news for the shifty black man, for if ever a man trailed another, Johnson has Burns.

When Johnson heard of Bill Squires' proposed invasion of the United States he was in San Francisco, endeavouring to get a match on with any of the big fellows. Philadelphia Jack O'Brien persistently side-stepped him, while all the other big fellows gave him a wide berth. At that time Burns was content with fighting second-raters regularly, steadily climbing towards his coveted goal, but he also thought it wise to allow Johnson to wander on his way.

Then came the famous Burns-O'Brien fiasco in Los Angeles, which will forever be remembered in the world of fistiana. In the first Burns-O'Brien battle the Canadian double-crossed the Philadelphian, but was lucky in getting a draw. Then the second battle was "arranged." I say arranged, because Burns and O'Brien had come to an agreement whereby O'Brien should walk off with the honour of the battle, while Burns got the coin.

At this moment Coffroth had arranged for a visit from Squires, and Jack Johnson had it all arranged with the promoter to have the first battle with the Australian. Both Burns and O'Brien thought they saw some easy money in the bout with Squires, and gave Coffroth an interest in the Los Angeles fight, providing he would give the winner the battle with the man from the Antipodes. This Coffroth promised, and Johnson was shut out in the cold.

Jim Coffroth was kidded by Burns and O'Brien into the belief that their second match was on the level. It wasn't, for Burns double-crossed O'Brien the second time, and as confessions were in order at that particular moment on the Pacific Coast, O'Brien promptly told the whole story. Incidentally, he confessed to every pugilistic job he had ever participated in in his career, and it made mighty juicy reading. This did not place Burns in any too good a light, but as subsequent events told, Coffroth gave Tommy the match with the Australian.

But to return for a moment to Johnson. The black man had hiked across the Pacific Ocean, and got into Australia long before Squires sailed. He was accorded a royal welcome and given a series of matches with a number of Squires' old opponents. Johnson trimmed them all, but when a Squires' match was broached the Australian said "Nay, nay," and rushed off to 'Frisco.

It was sad what Tommy did to Squires that hot fourth of July day, at Colma, but nothing more than Johnson would have done to the Australian on his native heath.

Johnson rushed back to the States after the battle, camping at Tommy's heels, but never getting a crumb of encouragement. Then followed Burns' invasion of England, Jack Johnson followed, not creating as much enthusiasm as the "champion," but always receiving a royal reception. They butted into France, Burns leading and Johnson bringing up the wake.

The English papers ridiculed the position Burns took with the nigger, and declared that the Canadian was not a real champion pugilistic, but a champion money-gatherer. At that in this latter line, he trimmed Philadelphia Jack O'Brien's reputation, when he cleaned up the English heavies.

And then Burns flew away to Australia for his third battle with Squires, leaving Johnson high and dry in the Old World.

And now comes the news that Burns is "really anxious" to fight Jack Johnson, and that arrangements are already under way to pull off the battle.

The news is altogether too good to be true.

But if the pair ever hook up, for goodness sake don't place too much dependence on either man.

If another James J. Jeffries ever develops during the career of these globe-trotters he will lick them both in the same ring.—Toronto News.

MOHL WILL PERFORM SOME FEATS OF STRENGTH TO-NIGHT

Fritz Mohl, the famous German athlete, arrived on the late train last night from Buffalo, as arranged, and called at the Examiner office this morning. All that has been said about him since the match was first proposed hete, goes.

He is a finely developed man, standing very erect, and looks full of activity and strength.

This morning he said he was feeling in excellent shape and was ready for the fray. "I have heard so much about your famous lift look that I am just going right over there now to see the wonders without any delay."

To-night Mr. Mohl intents to give a free exhibition of strength, skill and pluck at the Peterborough Bowling Club's alleys, George street. Mr Mohl will allow and challenge any bowler in this city to throw a regulation bowl down the alley at a full deck of large pins, and he will catch it while the pins are flying around him.

This is a feat of great daring and requiring more than the average skill and pluck that is usually allotted to man.

The feat has never been attempted nor duplicated by any living man and has been the cause of much discussion in bowling circles in all the principal cities in America.

Mohl has also a playful way of bending with his bare hands nice healthy looking six-inch spikes. This he will also do while here.

DODGE MOHL'S DEADLY HANDSHAKE

Examiner Staff is Crippled by Shaking Hands With German Wrestler

Fritz Mohl, the German wrestler, who is to meet Yankee Rogers in the Brock street rink to-morrow night, dropped into the Examiner office this morning to shake hands with the boys, and the result is that the members of the staff are going around this afternoon with their right arms in slings. Mr. Mohl has a playful little habit of squeezing hands, something that comes all right from a nice little girl over the garden gate in the moonlight, but Mr. Mohl's squeeze is something more serious and not quite so pleasant, although the thrill that it produces exceeds those in the other case. We like Mr. Mohl alright, but if he comes around here again looking for someone with whom to shake hands, he will be received with the loaded shot gun with which we round up delinquent subscribers. And by the way, here's a tip to the general public, dodge Mr. Mohl's handshake, it's loaded.

JOLLIFFE BROTHERS IN MINSTREL SHOW

They Assist as End Men at Grimsby Park

Grimsby Park, Aug. 27.—The Minstrel Show under the management of Geo. A. Dixon was a pronounced success. Nothing that goes to make up the best show of the kind was wanting. The end-men were exceptionally good, and really "out-darkeyed" any darkey. The local hits met with rounds of applause, especially from those who escaped notice. The solos by the ladies, and the chorus to each, were well chosen and catchy. Especially worthy of mention was "The Farmer's Song," by Mr. Gordon Jones. He certainly was inimitable, both as to delivery of his song and his fetching attire. After the show the members of the troupe were all invited to a corn-roast on the beach. Mrs. (Dr.) Brown of "Wayside Cottage" and her guest, Mrs. Cole of Woodstock, were the hostesses, and it was near to the "wee sma' hours" when the party broke up. The interlocutor for the show was Mr. Geo. A. Dixon, with Messrs. Frampton, Gordon Jones, Norman and Ernest Jolliffe, Wm. Lawson and Claude Meyer as end-men.

OBITUARY.

PEARL RICHARDSON

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Richardson, of Asphodel, were bereaved on Tuesday of last week by the death of their eldest daughter Pearl, in her sixth year. The little one had been convalescing from an attack of scarlatina, but had previously been in poor health, and although she did not show any alarming symptoms and seemed almost recovered, she suffered from a relapse which proved fatal. The funeral was held on Wednesday, to the Norwood Cemetery.

WILLIAM CHAS. MILES

The death occurred last night of William Charles, aged four months and three weeks, and the youngest son of Mr. Wm. Miles, 489 Elm street. The funeral was held this afternoon under the auspices of the Salvation Army, at 2.30 o'clock to Little Lake Cemetery.

Rev. D. A. Johnston will preach the opening services a week from Sunday.

The death of Edward Sargent, Sr. on Friday evening last removed one of the oldest and most respected residents of Asphodel. Deceased had for the past month been a sufferer from gangrene and his death was no unexpected. He was a lifelong resident of Westwood, for many years being blacksmith on the stone shop, but of late farming west of the village. He was 78 years of age, a member of the Methodist Church, and a Liberal in politics. The funeral took place on Sunday to the Westwood cemetery and was largely attended, the services being conducted by Rev. H. A. Frost. His aged widow, one son, John Sargent, general merchant, and one brother, Samuel Sargent, of Otonabee, survive.

Music was furnished by Mr. James Guerin, John Smith and Edward Howley. Mr. Dennis Sullivan acted as floor manager, and also deserves credit for his management. BRIGHT ENNISMORE GIRL PASSES AWAY

Sad Death of Miss Nellie Galvin, Aged 17 Years—Had Promising Future

Seldom is it that the hand of death falls upon so young, so promising, so clever and youthful a person as Miss Noellie Galvin, who last night passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital at the early age of 17 years. The deceased young lady was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Galvin of Ennismore, in which township she was greatly beloved by both young and old, and where the news of her sad death was received this morning with universal regret. She was a particularly bright girl and was just concluding her High School course. Her death was due to an acute attack of appendicitis.

Miss Galvin was a sister of Rev. Father Galvin of Peterborough and also of Sister Bernadette, a nun at St. Joseph's Hospital. Besides these, three sisters and three brothers are residing at home.

The funeral will be held to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence at the Cross, Ennismore, to St. Martin's Church and thence to the new cemetery in Ennismore.

FIRE BRIGADE HAD BUSY DAY

Were Called Out No Less Than Three Times Yesterday

Yesterday was the biggest day yet for the fire brigade since the new system was organized, the brigade being called out no less than three times. Shortly after five o'clock in the afternoon an alarm was sent in from Albert street, where there was a slight blaze at the residence of Wm. Thompson. At 9.45 the brigade was called out to extinguish a fire in the barn belonging to the Parker Dye Works, and the men were hardly back in the hall when an alarm was sent in from Box 16 at the corner of Perry and Bethune streets, and after a long run it was found to be a false alarm. The brigade got out in good style in response to all three calls.

EVIDENCE HEARD IN PERJURY CHARGE AGAINST LEVASSEUR; ENLARGED UNTIL TUESDAY NEXT

Several Witnesses Testified To-day to Having Bought Lager From the Defendant—Paid 15c and 20c per Bottle

WILL LIKELY BE COMMITTED

The preliminary hearing in the charge of perjury against Joseph Levasseur, Jr., was taken before Magistrate Dumble at police court this morning, and the defendant will in all probability be committed for trial on the charge, although the case was enlarged until Tuesday morning at the request of Levasseur's counsel. This was done by the Magistrate, because Judge Weller is out of the city and in the case of committment the defendant would not be able to renew his bail until after the Judge returned.

The charge against him was that in the course of an action under the Liquor License Act he had falsely sworn and deposed that he had not sold any of the lager beer purchased from the Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company at a profit, while in fact he had sold lager at a profit on Sunday, Aug. 2, to two young men. Crown Attorney Wood conducted the prosecution while Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for the defendant.

Jas. Drain, secretary of the Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company, was the first witness and told of the defendant buying lager in large quantities from the company.

Robert Lingard, driver for the Calcutt Company, gave evidence in regard to delivering lager to Levasseur on four different occasions and to hearing him swear that he only got it for men who were going down the river.

Joseph Stewart, license inspector for West Peterborough, swore that he had laid the information against defendant for a breach of the Liquor License Act. The case had come up for hearing on Aug. 14th, and he had heard Levasseur swear that he obtained all his lager from the Calcutt Company, and that he did not sell any of it, merely getting it from those who hired boats from him, paying him in advance for the lager.

Chief Rossel testified that Levasseur had sworn in court that he purchased lager from the Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company. He had stated that the lager was all ordered for parties who had paid for it in advance at $1.40 per case.

A young man testified that he had seen Levasseur at the shack on the river bank on Sunday, August 2. Witness, with a companion, had obtained three bottles of lager there, paying for the first bottle at the rate of five cents per glass, and 15 cents each for the other two bottles.

Another young man corroborated the evidence of the previous witness in regard to the procuring of lager at Levasseur's place on Sunday, 2nd of August.

Two other young men testified to procuring lager from Levasseur on August 2, for which they had paid 25 cents for two bottles. They had not ordered the liquor in advance and one of the witnesses stated that he knew he could get it there.

That concluded the evidence for the Crown, and there was no evidence for the defence.

Mr. Wood pointed out that in selling lager for 15 and 20 cents a bottle which cost him only about six cents per bottle, there was certainly some profit.

At the request of Mr. McWilliams, judgment was reserved until Tuesday next, September 1.

HARRY SCHRIBER UNDERTAKES TO CANVASS WOODSTOCK CHIEF OF POLICE AND IS ARRESTED

Examiner Special

Woodstock, Aug. 28.—Harry Schriber, a young man of about 35 years, boarded the lion in his den, figuratively speaking, last evening. He tried to persuade Chief Thompson to give up $4 for the Canadian Courier and an accompanying book of drawings. When he finished his arguments the Chief informed the agent that he was sorry it was his duty to put him under arrest.

"Who, me?" queried the agent, in apparent great surprise.

Yesterday Chief Wright of Ingersoll showed Chief Thompson a description of a man named Schriber who was wanted by the Stratford police on a charge of theft. Chief Thompson took some notes of the description and resolved to keep a lookout for the man.

Early last evening as the Chief was sitting in his office, engaged in smoking his pipe and looking out of the open window, he saw a man coming down towards his office from Dundas. He immediately came to the conclusion that it was the man, Schriber. The man went by, and the Chief got up and prepared to follow. Then he saw the stranger turn around and come back. He went into the office and began to work for the Chief's four dollars. He pronounced his arguments with a good deal of energy until he was rudely closed off by the news of his arrest.

The man denied vigorously that he was the man wanted, and gave his name as Harry Webber. The Chief sent him upstairs with a constable while he telephoned the Stratford Chief, and at the end of the conversation he was satisfied he had the desired man. When the prisoner was brought downstairs again he admitted that he was Schriber and told the Chief he was sorry he had lied about his name.

The Stratford authorities will send a man here for the prisoner to-morrow.

ASSYRIAN ABOUD'S HEALTH IN A SERIOUS CONDITION

On account of the non-appearance of Crown Attorney Wood, who was engaged at the city police court, Magistrate Edmison did not give judgment on the theft and assault charges against James Baldwin, accused of beating half to death Abraham Aboud, an Assyrian, a few weeks ago. His Worship therefore remanded the prisoner for one week.

It is learned that Aboud has during the past week been lying seriously ill at his home in Norwood, and grave fears are entertained as to his recovery. Should the Assyrian die, a new phase of the case will present itself.

JOSEPH FORTIN IS SENT FROM OTTAWA TO PETERBOROUGH

Examiner Special

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—Joe Fortin, the eleven year old boy who struck the City Hall lately and said he had come all the way from Blind River, and that he had run away from home, did not tell Mr. John Keane, of the Associated Charities Office, the truth. Mr. Keane got at the real facts through a telegram he received last night, which said the boy had been sent to the House of Providence at Peterborough, Ont., but instead had reached here. On learning this and other facts, which did not at all tally with Joe's story, Mr. Keane put him on a train and sent him to Peterborough and he is likely in the institution there by now. This youthful hero told a story of his parents making him work too hard, but it turns out both his father and mother are dead.

Special Train On Last Day Of Peterborough Industrial

Secretary F. J. A. Hall has been receiving numbers of inquiries for prize lists for the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. The majority of these so far have been coming from persons who have not before exhibited in Peterborough, which fact tends to show that prospects for the greatest exhibition in Peterborough's history are very encouraging. He expects the entries to begin to come in in the course of a week or two.

A specialty of the exhibition this year will be the poultry. Birds will be here from many outside points to compete for the prizes against those of the members of the Peterborough Poultry Association, which has been doing good work since its organization.

For Saturday night—the final day of the fair—a special G.T.R. train will leave Peterborough at 7.30 o'clock to carry exhibitors and visitors home along the Keene, Hastings and Campbellford line.

Co-operation is what the directors want, and they are assured of a fine exhibition this year in Peterborough.

A SPECTACULAR FIRE IN BARN

Streets Were Lit Up for Blocks by Blaze Last Night

DAMAGE WAS NOT LARGE

A spectacular fire, presumably of incendiary origin, partially destroyed the large barn of the Peterborough Dyeing and Cleaning Works last night and furnished a brilliant blaze that attracted an enormous crowd to the spot. The alarm was sent in by Mr. Robt. Wolstenholme, while Bruce Fowler, who was first on the scene, displayed considerable presence of mind and deserves great credit. He succeeded in getting the two horses kept in the barn out of danger, and also rolled a barrel of gasoline stored there from the fire zone. Everything of value was gotten out of the building in plenty of time. The brigade responded to the call quickly and extinguished the flames in a short time. Little damage was done to the building and the loss will not be heavy. The fire was confined to the top of the barn, where there was a small quantity of hay, which burned fiercely. The flames shot up to a considerable height, and the neighbourhood all around was illuminated by the red glow. At a little distance it looked like a serious conflagration and citizens gathered from all directions. It is thought that the blaze was of an incendiary origin, and it is stated that three boys were seen running away from the building.

TWELVE YEARS OF LAURIER

It is difficult for those accustomed to the pace at which development in Canada has proceeded for the last ten years to adequately realize how much has been done in that time, and how far we have travelled from the condition in which the Dominion was before the forward movement definitely began. How many, for example, stop to think what the railway activity has been, and what it means? How many realize that the Canadian Pacific people have issued nearly a hundred millions share capital in that time, and have used it to honeycomb the West with branch lines fully equipped for business and to supply the stations, shops, cars, locomotives and other equipments necessary for that work? How many realize that the Mackenzie-Mann system, with its sixty millions of bond issue, has grown up altogether in that time? How many realise that the Grand Trunk, transformed in the East from a broken down line to one of the best on the continent, is now running trains over its western lines, which cost many millions to build? Six thousand miles of railway, were laid in Canada between 1896 and 1907, six miles of new, for every sixteen of old. Sixty-four tons of freight were carried in 1908 for every twenty-four carried in 1896, and the most of the new roads had not yet more than begun to do their work. They ought presently to be carrying a hundred million tons.

This is an indication of the order of growth that prompted the construction of the new National Transcontinental Railway, to be operated, when ready, in connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific. Tremendous sums have already gone into the West, but the West is not all Canada. The Dominion must have regard for growth of girth as well as length of limb. Between the lakes and Hudson Bay lies the problem of the present, just as certainly as the conquest of the West by means of the Canadian Pacific was the work of the eighties, just as certainly as the linking of the Provinces by means of the Intercolonial was the work of the seventies, just as surely as the opening of old Canada by means of the roads that ultimately became fused in the Grand Trunk was the work of the sixties. We can no more leave an underslop wilderness between the height of land and James Bay than our forefathers could obey the regulation which said that all the land between Montreal and the American border must be left on in a state of nature. So the National Transcontinental was undertaken, is under construction, will be finished, and will remain as a permanent memento of the regime of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Desperate efforts have already been made by interested persons to strike at the project through its author. Efforts as desperate may be made again, and before many weeks. Nevertheless, it is right to assume that the wish of the people of Canada will be to have this great work completed, as it will be by 1912, or thereabouts, under the supervision of the man by whose prestige it has so far been upborne. It is to be, as becomes the twentieth century railways, the finest transcontinental roadway, in point of easy grades and the consequent ease with which freight may be moved, in existence. It will cost a good deal more than the next best kind, but it will be worth the difference. The hundreds of millions that have been put into railways in the past twleve years have been, in large part, to meet immediate demands. This National Transcontinental project looks farther forward to the future, just as the Grand Trunk, the Intercolonial and the Canadian Pacific in their early days looked forward. The really significant thing is that, with so much else on hand to do, we should so soon be ready to tackle such a work with confidence that finds justification as the work progresses. Let Laurier finish his work.

The Toronto World figures out a Conservative majority of 3 after the next election. La Patrie, on the other hand predicts a Liberal majority of 41. That is the difference between the point of view of Ontario and that of Quebec. Both are a little out in their reckoning. Prophesying is skating on thin ice, but if we add the World's majority of 3 to La Patrie's majority of forty-one, we shall get nearer the mark, but possibly and probably not quite up to it. The World must have borrowed Sir Charles Tupper's mantle for its vaticination. It is the only journal that has ventured to put its hopes into figures.

THREE PLANKS MISSING.

Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party in Canada, is not overworking his Halifax platform which he formulated last year. His "adequate protection" plank is hardly ever mentioned now. The plank declaring for public ownership of railways and great public utilities has been rather contemptuously treated by its author. There will be splendid opportunity last session for Mr. Borden to purge the adoption of a great public policy like this. The Liberal Government did not favour this policy. The country has had some experience of public ownership of railways in the Intercolonial. Though that line is now better managed, better equipped and operated with greater attention to public requirements than ever before, yet the financial outcome does not encourage the idea of further excursions in the field of public ownership. The policy preferred is Government control, as effective, if not more so, and more practicable, in the protection of the people, which is, after all, the main idea, and far less expensive. In pursuance of its policy, the Liberal Government established the Railway Commission, composed of a body of men independent of the Government, independent of Parliament and independent of the railways, and gave it the largest possible powers of control and regulation over the railways. Three years ago the control and regulation of the express companies were added to the powers of the Commission, and last session its powers were further extended to include control of the telegraphs and telephones of the country. Here was an opportunity for Mr. Borden to urge the claims of his public ownership policy. But we heard not a word of it in the form of positive action. Mr. Borden could show a mighty zeal and waste no end of time of Parliament in obstructive tactics and a scandal and slander propaganda; but he did not dare to oppose the increase of the powers of the Railway Commission, which, according to his contention, was directly antagonistic to his policy of public ownership. Thus the most important plank of Mr. Borden's Halifax platform is abandoned by himself and by his followers in Parliament, for the legislation opposing the extension of the powers of the Railway Commission was almost unanimously assented to, and the public approve of the action taken and will endorse the policy of public control when the opportunity presents. The political purity plank of Mr. Borden's platform has also suffered from a little dry rot. While the Conservative convention, sitting in Halifax to nominate Mr. Borden, was passing resolutions of political purity and condemning electoral corruption, at that very moment an election agent of Mr. Stanfield, the Conservative candidate in Colchester, was being proven guilty of distributing whisky and money broadcast in the interests of Mr. Borden's candidate. The intense opposition to the stringent election law of the Liberal Government, intended to promote electoral purity, by Mr. Borden and his followers in Parliament, though based on alleged solicitude for the integrity of the Provincial lists, did not show any burning desire on the part of the Conservative party to provide machinery for the purification of political methods. The "adequate protection" plank of Mr. Borden's Halifax platform seems to have been laid aside. The public ownership plank seems to have been abandoned, and the political purity plank has been sent adrift on a sea of Colchester whisky. Thus three of the main planks of Mr. Borden's platform have been practically abandoned, and these were about the only positive planks he ventured to insert, the others being largely chipped away by "whereases," "howevers," "provideds" etc.

$7,000,000—AND FOR WHAT.

The total value of the woollen goods imported into Canada in the nine months ending with March 1907, the latest period for which revised figures are available, was $14,873,000.

Of this total ten and three-quarter million dollars' worth came in under six headings: fabrics composed wholly or in part of wool; cassimeres, cloths, and doeskins; tweeds; ready-made clothing; coatings and overcoatings; women's outside garments. The minimum tariff in all these cases, under the British preference, was thirty per cent. Not a small proportion of these goods paid more than 30 per cent. For instance, women's and children's outside garments were imported to the value of $445,000, and of this total 246,000 came from Germany, and paid duties to the amount of $115,000. In that case the duty was almost 47 per cent.

Another $2,000,000 worth of woollen goods came in under the two headings—carpets and socks and stockings. In these cases the minimum tariff was 25 per cent. Here again rather more than a negligible quantity paid more than the lowest rate of duty. We imported $88,000 worth of socks and stockings from Germany and the duty in this case amounted to $41,000—a little over 46 per cent.

It is true that in some cases the duty on woollen imports is less than 25 per cent. But, in nearly all such instances, the reduction is intended to benefit, not the consumer, but the manufacturer. For example, a certain class of yarn, imported to the value of $597,000, was allowed entry under the preference at 12 1-2 per cent.; but the same law which allows this low rate of duty says such goods are to be imported at this rate only when brought in "by manufacturers of woollen goods for use exclusively in their own factories."

On the total imports of woollens in the nine months—even including those which came in at an exceptionally low rate as the raw material of manufacturers — the duty paid amounted to $4,397,000, or an average of more than the even 30 per cent. on the $14,873,000 worth of goods imported.

The tax paid on imported woollens does not represent the whole of the burden imposed on the consumer by reason of this form of protection. Home manufacturers produced about $4,500,000 of woollen goods in the nine months referred to, and the manufacturers were enabled by reason of the protective tariff to charge 30 per cent. more than fair market value for these home-made goods, or over one and a quarter million dollars in all. Thus in the nine months the direct burden levied upon users of woollens because of the existence of the tariff, leaving the profit charged by the wholesalers and retailers on the duty first paid by the former out of account altogether, amounted to over $5,600,000. For the full year the total would be well over $7,000,000.

The Canadan Year Book informs us that the total wage bill paid by manufacturers of woollens, carpets, and all knitted goods in Canada in 1905 was about two and three-quarter millions. In this case, therefore, it is quite clear a protective tariff is not making the country rich.

SIR WILFRID'S TOUR.

It goes without saying that the toure of Ontario by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which is to open at Niagara Falls on Sept. 15th, will be a magnificent success. It is doubtful if Sir John Macdonald himself filled so large a place in the public eye, even when at the height of his power, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier fills to-day. To charming personality and graceful presence there is added in his case a gift of oratory which is not surpassed in any part of the English-speaking world at the present time. Under such circumstances it is not surprising that his leadership has called forth a feeling of intense personal loyalty among his followers, while the solid achievements which mark his administrative career appeal to the hard-headed sense of a severely practical people. The tour has been so well planned, too, that the Premier's popular strength will be given an opportunity of making itself seen and felt. While only six meetings are to be held, these have been wisely distributed, at convenient location, over the whoole of Western Ontario. A new record will have been made in Ontario political demonstrations before September closes. —Toronto Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is satisfactory that the story of the outrages by west-going harvest excursionists is officially denied. Some sensation-monger must have sent the yarn east.

Mr. Borden hasn't opened his mouth about the "adequate protection" plank of his Halifax platform for months. He doubtless feels that there is general satisfaction with the present stable, equitable and smooth-working tariff devised and applied by the Liberal Government of the Dominion.

La Presse, Montreal, says that, before his departure for Ontario, Sir Wilfrid Laurier will hold an assembly at Sorel on Saturday, Sept. 5th, to which all interested in the Liberal cause are invited. He will be accompanied by members of the government and members of Parliament.

Sir James Whitney tells a London newspaper that what he wants in Canada are farm labourers with sufficient money to acquire improved farms and men to settle in the great wheat belt. Now see a certain Little Canadian journalist get after Mr. Whitney. Settling the wheat belt calls for population and railways; these the said journalist objects to and Sir James should feel the weight of his wrath.

We have had a little pinch of dull times, but the country is still hopeful; and there are a good many signs of returning conditions of prosperity. The authorities of the Canadian National Exhibition report that never in the history of the Exhibition have there been received so many applications for space in the manufacturing and allied departments as are pouring in this year. This indicates that manufacturers have confidence in the future, or they would not be so anxious to advertise their products through the medium of the Exposition.

The indications that times are picking up multiply. An important one consists in the announcement that the Canadian Pacific has placed an order with the Lake Superior Corporation, at the "Soo," for 85,000 tons of 85-pound rails for delivery soon. The company has also been assured of big contracts from the Grand Trunk Pacific. When the Canadian Pacific, with a big strike on its hands, places an order representing an outlay of about $2,500,000 the shrewd management of this live line do not certainly see dull times ahead. This order will send 1,500 men back to work.

Speaking of the Trent Valley Canal, the Belleville Ontario says: "There are only fifty-eight miles of canalized streams to be made navigable, and upon thirty miles of this, from Campbellford to Trenton, work is being rapidly pushed, and surveys have been made of the northern missing link, which, when completed, will open up continuous barge navigation from Fort William and Port Arthur, the present distributing point of Northwest wheat, to Liverpool, the chief ultimate market. This will give a route for our wheat (and for an expenditure of ten or twelve millions) four hundred or five hundred miles shorter than the Erie Canal, which will require the expenditure by the United States of $101,000,000 to make it of even inferior carrying capacity to the Trent waterway."

The vitality of the cat with nine lives was, says Goldwin Smith in the Weekly Sun, nothing to that of economical fallacies. British finance is in peril, as it was likely to be when to an enormous increase of naval expenditure was added an old age pension of indefinite amount. "Raise the import duties" is immediately the cry, eagerly taken up by protectionism, under the alias of "tariff reform." We fail to mark that the cry comes from the manufacturer, who, when foreign competition was excluded, would make us pay a higher price for his goods. The manufacturer who proposed to put a wall as high as Haman's gallows between us and a neighbouring market, would no doubt himself gain by the raised price of his goods; but so would not the community at large.

The edition is replete with illustrations of Canadians who are in the public eye and, among the original contributions are, articles under the captions, "Beautifying the Capital City of Canada," "Vivid Impressions of the West," "What Good Roads Mean to Business," "How Mr. Taft Spends His Holidays in Canada," "The Young Man as a Factor in National Life," "The Supremacy of Christian Ethics," and "A Man Who Stands by his Convictions." There is a generous instalment of good fiction that will help to pass away pleasantly and profitably many an hour during the evenings that are perceptibly lengthening at this season of the year. In a word, Busy Man's Magazine for September is what you are looking for. It will not prove a disappointment to any member of the household.

THUGS KILL HOTELMAN.

Charles Thomet of Midway, B. C., Is Victim of Masked Robbers.

Phoenix, B. C., Aug. 28.—The town of Midway, 12 miles from here, was the scene of a sensational hold-up on Wednesday night, when Charles Thomet of the Midway Hotel was shot and instantly killed by highwaymen.

Two masked men entered the hotel at 9 o'clock, and at the point of a gun, four men, including Thomet, were told to throw up their hands. Thomet being behind the bar, put his hand on a revolver and opened fire on the intruders, wounding one. The strangers retaliated, Thomet receiving a bullet in the shoulder and abdomen, after which he staggered through a side door into a room.

The desperadoes got into the room through another entrance and shot three more bullets into the body of the dying man. Then they made their escape.

Blood hounds are being brought from Spokane to trail the criminals. One of the desperadoes is thought to be seriously wounded.

WOMAN RIOTER TAKES ACID.

Leader of Mob at Springfield Prefers Death to Jail.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 28.—Mrs. Kate Howard, one of the leaders in the recent riot in this city, committed suicide by swallowing acid soon after being placed under arrest. She died as she was being led to the jail. She was the first person indicted and was held on several counts in the sum of $10,000. When she was released she said she would never be arrested again.

After another indictment was returned against her charging murder in connection with the recent lynchings, Deputy Sheriff Kramer was sent to Mrs. Howard's rooms. She secretly swallowed a large dose of poison, then said: "I'm ready to go now."

Just as she was entering the door of the jail she fell dead.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

True Blues End Belleville Session—Hamilton Next Year.

Belleville, Aug. 28.—One hundred delegates to the grand lodge of True Blues ended their 34th annual convention yesterday. Hamilton was chosen as the next place of meeting.

The following grand lodge officers were elected: Grand master, James I. Hartt, Orillia; deputy grand master, W. I. Cole, Belleville; grand secretary, N. Ingram, Port Perry; grand treasurer, W. H. Seth, Picton, grand chaplain, R. Fulcher, Marmora; grand lecturers, J. Bragg, Brantford; and J. Brandon, Fenelon Falls; grand inside guard, R. Cole, Belleville; grand outside guard, Charles Phillips, Kingston; grand D. of C., James Irvine, Vancouver: grand auditors, B. McGill, Toronto, and C. W. Sherriff, Picton.

Kingston as Grain Port.

Kingston, Aug. 28.—The Daily Standard announced yesterday that a group of influential capitalists, headed by J. H. Plummer of Montreal, has purchased the Moore elevator here and purposes to make Kingston an important transhipping point for grain.

It is understood that a number of large steel grain-carrying barges will be built, with capacities ranging from 48,000 to 60,000 bushels each to ply between Kingston and Montreal.

"The Yellow Peril."

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—R. Hemphill, secretary of the Asiatic Exclusion League, is here to see Premier Roblin and enlist his sympathy in the struggle for a "white Canada."

At the coast, he states, there are 95 Orientals employed to every five white men.

A mill man will discharge a white man getting $3.50 a day and take on three Japs. It costs the Orientals 20 cents a day to live.

Governor to Choose Judge.

New York, Aug. 29.—Governor C. E. Hughes in a letter received yesterday by District Attorney Darrin of Queen's County, stated that he would empanel a special grand jury to hear evidence in the case of the Hains brothers, accused of the murder of William E. Annis.

The governor also said that he would select a judge to preside.

Treaty May Fall Through.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—Strong influences are at work against the ratification of the new Franco-Canadian Treaty of Commerce by the French Senate, and it is extremely doubtful under the circumstances whether the treaty will pass into law in its present form.

It is most distasteful to those who are endeavoring to arrange a reciprocity treaty between France and the United States.

Child Crushed to Death.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 28.—The three-year-old daughter of B. H. Kerr of Milltown, had hold of the reins of a horse which was used in hoisting hay into the barn when some gearing gave way and the horse was jerked backwards with such force that it fell on the child, causing instant death.

O. R. A. MATCHES.

Montreal Man Wins "City of Toronto" Gold Medal—Elmett Second.

Long Branch, Aug. 28.—Corporal C. Copping of the 3rd Victoria Rifles, Montreal, won the gold medal in the City of Toronto match, at the Ontario Rifle Association matches yesterday, which was fought out in two series, the first stage of which was shot Tuesday with seven rounds each at 500 and 600 yards, and the second stage yesterday with 10 rounds each at 800 yards.

It is notable that in the last stage yesterday afternoon, Lieut. T. F. Elmett, 43rd Regiment, Ottawa, made 11 straight bulls-eyes at 800 yards, but it didn't get him anything better than second place on account of the tremendous lead which Corpl. Copping came over with from last Tuesday.

Major W. C. King, 46th Regiment, won the silver medallion and $25 in the Duke of Cornwall and York match by the close margin of 1 point with five men close upon his heels with 67 points each.

The shooting throughout the day was better than ever in the history of the association.

WHISKY AS TOMATOES.

Liquor Was Shipped Into Colchester Under False Designation.

Truro, N. S., Aug. 28.—The Bayne trial in connection with alleged bribery in the bye-election in Colchester re-opened yesterday. A large number of new witnesses were summoned, including many active Conservative workers in and around Truro. The courthouse was crowded.

The town has now joined in the prosecution of Bayne, and is represented by J. J. Power, K.C., and S. D. McMillan. The accused takes his situation very lightly.

C. R. Coleman, agent for the Dominion Express Co., swore that on Nov. 26 he received a consignment of ten cases marked "Choice Tomatoes," consigned to a man unknown to him in Truro.

P. W. Clinton, agent of the Canadian Express Co., when asked to refresh his memory from his books said he had been instructed by his superior officers not to produce his books. He was ordered to refresh his memory and return to give evidence.

CLASHES AT NORTH BAY.

Strike-Breakers Are Hustled by Crowd—Refuse to Repair Plow.

North Bay, Aug. 28.—Strike-breakers at North Bay are becoming weary of being hived up in the boarding cars, and some of the more adventurous are daily testing the hospitality of the townspeople. Wednesday two were hustled out of a hotel bar and driven back to the cars, retaliating by throwing stones, one of which struck Dr. Brandon, a local physician, on the ankle, inflicting a painful wound. Two strike-breakers visited a barroom again yesterday afternoon and became abusive. A fight resulted, and one of them was badly injured, the other seeking safety in flight.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—A gravel plow of the C. P. R. was sent to the Ottawa & New York shops to be repaired. The men refused to work on it.

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—Nothing new has developed in the C. P. R strike situation, although it is understood that a number of the union leaders have gone to Montreal for some purpose not made public here.

Boys Caused $15,000 Blaze.

Port Arthur, Aug. 28.—Two boys named White and Hansen, aged about 12 years, confessed to starting a fire yesterday morning which did damage to the extent of nearly $15,000.

The burned building was that on Cumberland street known as the old Toronto House.

An Arabian Nights Story From Banks Of The Humber

Appearance of the Robber's Cave Discovered Short Distance From Toronto—Launches, Gramophones and Furniture There

LOOT OF ALL KINDS THERE

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Special.—A veritable robbers' cave has been discovered in the peaceful precincts of the Humber River. Two miles up, under a bank protected from the gaze of passers-by by high, thick bulrushes County Constable Simpson made the find on Tuesday night. There were two gasoline launches loaded to the gunwale with loot of every description, and from letters found it is evident that the law-breakers were only embarking on a career of crime which included the sinking of every craft afloat on the stream, and its subsequent shipment to England for sale after the excitement had died away.

County Constable Robert Burns, who has had his eye open for the gang of housebreakers who have almost terrorized the county for the past few months, was patrolling the bank on Monday evening. He saw two men in a launch, almost hidden in the bulrushes. He spoke to them casually, not in the least connecting them with any of the robberies perpetrated of late. He passed on, but reflection made him bend his steps in that direction on Tuesday. This time the men were gone, and the launch was covered with canvas. Burns was just curious enough to investigate, and he stripped off the canvas.

Filled With Candy

The launch was filled with confectionery, a canvas awning, carpenter's tools, and a gramophone and 100 records, stolen from the residence of Mr. G Plunkett Magann, of 19 Laburnam avenue. The confectionery belongs to Mrs. Cornish, whose shop was burglarized last week, and the clothing to Mr. T. W. Rea, of 631 Huron street. A check signed by the Gurney Foundry Company for the Quebec Battlefields Fund, and stolen from the Fetherstonhaugh residence on the Lake Shore Road, was among the loot.

Mrs. Rea accompanied a county officer to the scene and identified a number of articles as taken from her summer home near Mimico Creek. She was asked if her husband's launch had been stolen, and she replied in the negative. On Tuesday night Mr. Rea was to use this launch, but when he went for it, it could not be found. He reported his loss, and the same band is thought to be in possession of it.

Searched Waterfront

The county officials have called the city detective department to their assistance, and Sergeant Verney and Detectives Tipton, Murray, and Guthrie searched the waterfront all day yesterday. The two latter intended going to Hamilton, but the heavy sea prevented them. Several citizens turned in reports of suspicious characters, but one yielded nothing, while the others came just as darkness was falling.

William Sutton, of Hamilton, arrived in the city yesterday and claimed the launch in which the goods were found as his. He said that it had been stolen four weeks ago. A note found in the launch proposed that all launches should be sunk, raised when the hue and cry was over, and shipped to Halifax, thence to England as soon as the gang had money enough to carry out the work.

Letters mentioning W. P. Gray, of Port Credit, and other, no doubt, prospective victims were also found.

Two canoes were stolen from Centre Island on Tuesday night.

Some Letters Found

Here are a few extracts:

"Sunday, arrange to go to cache up Humber to look over things."

"Monday, steal paint at Mimico."

"Tuesday, go to Port Credit, and if satisfactory, on to Hamilton on Wednesday."

The camp is about two miles from the Humber mouth, and the entrance to the haunt, a long narrow lane of water which leads through the rushes, is so concealed as to be hardly discernible until one is almost upon it. The reporters with difficulty pushed their canoes through the passage for about a quarter of a mile.

It was thoroughly concealed from the river by the marsh in front and a high tree covered hill, rising sheer from the water's edge in the rear is the "cave."

Old bags, tarpaulin, fishing rods, empty cap bottles which had not contained soft drinks, all lay scattered about. Overhead two poles were hung, and over these a piece of awning was thrown, and there the gang lived as cosy as could be.

Love Messages Too

Lying on the ground were the letters found by George Whitworth yesterday. There were insurance blanks, business letters, letters from the Old Country to relatives here, and even love letters.

Nearly all the envelopes were addressed to Mimico, and some of the names were Harry Holmes, Geo. Hinds, F. Carlson, William Charles Henry, H. H. Hote, A. McCabe, Miss Winnie Hutchins, Wm. Beal, Miss Alice McGraw, Orchard Beach, Ont., and Mr. J. A. Brown, Port Hope. A number of A. Werden's bill heads were also found. Mr. Werden keeps a grocery store and the postoffice at Mimico.

A clue that may be of value was the discovery of a stencil containing the name of Frederick C. Wheeler, and the finding of a picture on which was the name "Fred." The detective department have some details regarding a man of this name, who has been going back and forth between here and England on cattle boats, and who has been under police surveillance, but it is not yet known whether or not this is the same man.

The discovery this morning of a knotted bag full of letters, proves this, that mail robbery was another indulgence. There were about 500 letters.

Alarm Sent Out

High Constable Ramaden has telephoned to the police at Port Credit, Oakville, Hamilton, Bronte, Grimsby, St. Catharines and Port Dalhousie.

"I do not believe that these men are professionals at all. Their methods do not look like it. I think they imagined that they had struck a wild part in the Humber, and their cave looks to me like a dime novel proposition, that skilful crooks would not resort to.

"I have not so far succeeded in getting a good description of the men, but I can get it, and we hope to have them shortly. It would be impossible for them to go east, because the wind has been blowing from there for some days. They must have gone west, and I think they will be picked up."

The High Constable thinks that women may have had a hand in the gang's operations.

Not a Mail Bag

"We discovered this morning a section of canvas that looked something like a mail bag, bit I don't think it was a mail bag, with a great number of letters in it, posted most of them at the Mimico Postoffice about June 21. This robbery makes the offences at once even more serious, and while I do not know, I imagine that postoffice detectives are working to clear that theft up.

Governor Chambers to-day said: "I would not be at all surprised to find when these men are caught that two or more of them may turn out to be those escaped from the jail. But I have no knowledge to strengthen this opinion."

"SLATS" RILEY IN FUNNY PREDICAMENT

Was in Bath Tub When a Fire Alarm Came in

"Slats" Reilly was caught in a funny predicament when the fire bell rang last evening. Rielly had just stripped and was in the bath tub, when clang! clang! went the bell. It didn't take George half an hour to make up his mind, and he pulled out his trousers and came down the brass pole with his coat in his hand. a tug did service for a pair of braces and rubber boots were donned without stockings. The rubber coat covered any deficiencies in dress, and George was on the fire waggon. — Lindsay Warder.

HOW ZAM-BUK SAVED A GIRL'S HAIR

A Lesson to All Mothers

When eczema, ulcers or ringworm break out on the scalp, generally the first thing the doctor orders is to have the hair cut off. Don't do it before trying Zam Buk, which can cure without a sacrifice. Mrs. J Butler, of 5 Bannockburn Avenue, Montreal, says—

My daughter, Annie, caught eczema. It broke out on her face and scalp and the disease was quickly transmitted to Herbert and Edith, and to their cases not only their heads, but their hands and faces were covered with sores and scaly places.

I tried various blood-purifying remedies in vain and then consulted a doctor. He applied all kinds of lotions but the sores remained the same. He next ordered that the hair be all shaven off from the girls' heads in order to get down to the disease on the scalp. They each had nice long hair and I thought it such a pity to cut it all off. I refused. He there upon withdrew his services altogether.

After that I bought first one thing and then another, but it was all no good until we got Zam Buk. That proved equal to the case and in a few weeks it cleared every trace of skin disease from each child. With it in use there was no need to cut off the girls' hair or take any other extreme measure. It just went to work and healed the sores in fine shape.

Zam Buk cures blood poisoning, cuts, bruises, old wounds, running sores, ulcers, boils, eruptions, scalp sores, eczema, itch, barber's rash, burns, scalds, and all skin injuries and diseases. Best cure for piles yet known. All druggists and stores at 50c box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Among Shipment Made to Peterborough —Weighs 710 lbs.

Norwood, Aug. 28.—Special—Mr. W. T. Buck shipped a car load of hogs to Peterborough on Tuesday. The shipment included one very large animal—probably the largest that has ever been shipped from this station. It tipped the beam at 710 lbs., and brought the owner quite a bunch of money.

Many Changes To Greet Pupils Upon Re-opening Of School

Strengthening of The Staffs—The Term Begins Under Favourable Conditions

ALTERATIONS IN DETAIL

On Tuesday, September 1, when the schools re-open, it will be found that the Public Schools of the city have received careful attention by the Board, as well as the Collegiate Institute.

The Central School has been thoroughly cleaned, and the two basement rooms have been converted into playrooms, the classes formerly occupying these having been transferred to the old Collegiate building, where excellent accommodation has been provided for them.

At the South Central, the space between the front of the building and the fence has been covered with concrete. This will afford space for the pupils on which to line up, and will facilitate fire drill. A permanent partition has been placed between the kindergarten and the primary forms, which will be appreciated by pupils and teachers alike.

The Queen Alexandra School will be occupied by Public School pupils exclusively for the first time. All the rooms have been fitted up and there will be classes from the kindergarten to the entrance classes inclusive. Parents in the northern section of the city are reminded that a kindergarten class will be organized in this school when it re-opens. The class will be in charge of Miss Warner and Miss Gillespie.

The only change in the King Edward has been the fitting up of another room. This makes the school one of eight rooms, and a fourth book class will be organized.

The West Ward School has undergone extensive repairs. A much-needed system of heating and ventilating has been installed, and care has been taken to improve the sanitary condition of the building.

It was found difficult to do much with the East City School. Improved seats have been put into the principal's room, and other minor changes have been made.

The staffs of the various schools have been considerably strengthened. Four of the schools will be in charge of new principals. Mr. Downey takes charge of the Central, Mr. Dunlop of the Queen Alexandra, Mr. Richardson of the King Edward, and Mr. Rossel of the West Ward School. Several assistant teachers have been added to the staffs and will be found in their places on the re-opening on Tuesday.

The term begins under most encouraging conditions, and there is every prospect of a most successful school year.

GOVERNMENT REPORT FOR THE CONDITION OF CROPS FOR JULY

Heavy Rains in Some Parts of Ontario and Drouth in Others, Do Damage—Oats are Excellent

ROOT CROP PROSPECTUS

Authentic reports are collected each month regarding crop conditions in Canada by the Dominion Government and these are published in a neat little pamphlet known as the Census and Statistics Monthly. The report for Ontario during the month ending July 31 follows:

The cutting of fall wheat began about the middle of July and was reported as all or nearly all in barn by the end of the month. The crop has fulfilled the fair promise it showed a month ago. Heavy rains which fell from about the 16th to 23rd, followed by very warm weather, caused sprouting in the cops of wheat then out, especially in the southwest counties; but grain cut subsequently was well saved. Spring wheat is reported as short and thin, and as ripening fast. In the central and northwest counties it is attacked by rust. The northern counties appear to have suffered most from the heat and drouth. Oats is an excellent crop, the estimated yield per acre being 38 bushels as compared with 28 1-2 bushels last year. Cutting of the early sown crops has commenced. In the central counties the harvest is fully two weeks earlier than usual owing to the hot dry weather, and this notwithstanding the lateness of the spring. In many cases the straw is short and the grain is ripening too fast. Rust is reported as very general and rather severe amongst the later sown fields in the northwest counties. Barley has nearly all been harvested in good condition. The straw is short, but the grain is good. Rye, though it has fallen off somewhat during the month, is turning out well, the average yield per acre for the Province being estimated at 18 bushels, which is 2 1-2 bushels more than last year. Beans, too, are excellent. Late sown peas have been greatly injured by plant lice, so much so that in some cases the crops are hardly worth cutting. Hay and clover have been saved in good condition with a few exceptions caused by injury during the heavy rains of the middle of the month. Root crops have benefitted greatly from the rains and present a fairly good appearance. In some townships of the northwest counties however these crops have hardly recovered from imperfect germination: owing to drouth at seeding time. Potatoes will prove an under average crop, the weather having been too dry and hot. In many cases they came up very unevenly. Bugs have been numerous and destructive. Blight is reported as having appeared in central and eastern counties. Corn, both for husking and fodder, presents a good appearance, and the percentage of standard condition for the Province is over 80. Live stock have all suffered more or less from the heat and drouth, and the scarcity and high prices of oats have lowered the condition of horses. Milch cows have generally continued in good condition, but the flow of milk shows a tendency to decrease owing to the heat and the flies. In parts of the northwestern counties, the milk flow is stated to be from 25 to 33 per cent. less than in June. Pastures are generally excellent, the rains of mid July having been very beneficial. Grazing cattle are doing well, though flies have been troublesome in many parts.

The Canadian Grain Routes Benefit From Buffalo Rates

Combination of the Railways and Boatmen on Rates Forces the Business Through Canadian Channels

SOME OF QUESTIONS ASKED

The Buffalo Evening Times wants to know what is the matter with their grain trade and in the same breath points out that the combination of Railways and Boatmen on rates drives business through Canadian routes. This is what it says:

Why are 200 canal boats, worth between $400,000 and $500,000, tied up at Buffalo, doing nothing all summer?

Why is there a fleet of the Great Lake carriers tied up in the port of Buffalo, doing nothing all the year, though the investment thus idle runs into millions?

Why has the amount of grain handled in the port of Buffalo thus far this season amounted to but 32,000,000 of bushels against 62,000,000 at the same time last year, and 100,000,000 for the same time ten years ago in the season of 1898?

Why have the scoopers in Buffalo lost thus far this season $64,000 in wages as compared with the season of 1907, and $145,000 as compared with the season of 1898?

Why are the package-freight men earning one-half the usual earnings of men in their business at this port?

These are questions of highest business importance not only to the city of Buffalo, but to the State of New York and the city of New York.

There is one answer in brief which explains the whole situation, and that is that the railroads refuse to make proper rates between the Great Lakes and the seaboard and the Erie Boatmen's Union refuses to make rates appreciably lower than the railway rates. The consequence is that Montreal is overwhelmed with the grain business because the Canadian lines make a three-cent rate to tidewater.

Ten years ago, at the time of the Symons report on the canal proposition, it was shown that the average freight charge a bushel for carrying grain from Buffalo to New York was 2.67 cents. For several years the boatmen have regarded it as a profitable price to carry the grain at three cents a bushel. When the season is well advanced, and there is a great crop to move, competition for boats would send the price a little above that figure, but there was good money in it at that price.

Destructive Rate

"Now the railways have made a rate that is totally destructive of the grain business, and the Erie Boatmen's Union, who can hold nearly all the boats on the Erie Canal, have put their price up to 5 cents a bushel, and during the whole season they are doing hardly anything. It is natural to ask how the men who own those boats are making a living. One answer, not based on fact and probably purely imaginary, credits the railways with making up a pool to support the boat owners in idleness for the season, but that is of no consequence. The point is that the boatmen are in league with the railways, and between the two there is no business coming to Buffalo while Montreal is unable to take care of the trade carried down to her receiving structures.

"What then is the remedy proposed for this disastrous situation?"

"It is to build and equip a fleet of boats controlled by shippers themselves that shall make such rates as to bring business back through this State. A single firm of independent owners is carrying grain, and their boats have already made four trips this year because their rates are somewhat nearer a proper figure, and enable the shipper to have his grain handled without loss. A company of capitalists is understood to have been practically agreed upon, men of very large resources, and discouraged at everybody in over the miserable progress made in building the barge canal. These men plan to build a fleet of boats to use on the present canal, believing that before the barge canal will be fit for service boats constructed even now will be worn out and ready to be cast aside when a larger boat becomes profitable on the new waterway.

Hurry the Barge Canal

"This city has had had the enmity of the roads for many years and every effort has been made by them to divert business from this port in order that the roads might have a longer haul from points further west. Now that the Erie Boatmen's Union have seemingly made league with the roads, the situation of Buffalo as a grain port becomes such as to require capital and brains to meet it.

"The proof that a waterway is cheaper than a railway for the handling of grain is overwhelming and no one in his senses would ever again raise the cry to the contrary. Fortunately, the people own the state waterway and private citizens may put their boats on that waterway and run them just as readily and with the same consideration that is shown the largest corporation engaged in the use of the channel.

"The moral of the case is that the Erie Canal should be finished as soon as possible."

HOW THE WESTERN GRAIN WAS AFFECTED

Touched by Frost On Thursday of Last Week

The Edmonton Bulletin has the following to say about the frost scare:—

When the mercury took a run down the thermometer on Thursday night it revived all the old-time theories as to the possibilities and probabilities of damage having been done to the growing crops. To ascertain if possible just what this might be a Bulletin representative drove out the Namao road yesterday evening. It was found that in the country, as in the city, the garden vegetation, such as potatoes, beans and peas had been badly frosted. The crops, however, are not thought to be seriously affected. Several patches of green oats showed the effect of frost, but most of the oats are well enough advanced to withstand several degrees of frost. Late sown wheat has undoubtedly been touched but a field which may be taken as fairly representative of the stage at which most wheat fields are at present showed that the kernels are well filled and some small shrinkage in the grain will probably be the only effect.

There was a considerably higher temperature last night in the district and consequently all fears for a successive frost have for the present been removed.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITIONS

—All cities over the Province are preparing for their exhibition, and Peterborough is no exception to the rule. It is the time we meet our old and new friends, and those who are not our friends. It is also the best time for the introduction of the newest and smartest cuts in fall suits and where they can be shown to the greatest advantage. The New York Ladies' Tailoring establishment have removed their parlours and workshop from 558 George street to 387 Reid street, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral, for the better accommodation of their patrons, and are prepared to take orders in any line of ladies' garments. Burned Block In Havelock Is Likely To Be Rebuilt

The Sufferers Secure Temporary Quarters — Insurance Men Do Good Business—Oddfellows' Excursion

LATE DR. DENIKE'S FUNERAL

Examiner Special

Havelock, Aug. 28.—The Oddfellows" excursion around Stony Lake on Tuesday, Aug. 25th, was a decided success. The day was everything to be desired and a large crowd took advantage of the last trip of the season, which was indeed most delightful, as well as interesting for those who had never been up around the lakes before. The boat arrived at Mount Julian at one o'clock, leaving there for the return trip at 2.30 o'clock, giving the passengers good time to rest and enjoy the beautiful scenery around the pretty summer resort, "Mount Julian." Dancing seemed to be the chief amusement on the boat, not only for the young but also for the older folk, as the saying is "Out for a day's fun." The boat arrived at Peterborough at 7.30 in the evening, allowing the passengers to take the local train home, which arrived at Havelock at about nine o'clock, being a little late.

Some of the residents who were the unfortunate ones to have their property destroyed by fire, have found dwellings where they will locate for the time being, until other arrangements can be made. The following is a list: T. P. Lancaster, editor, is in the building opposite Dr. Crawford's office down stairs, dwelling over office; J. V. A. Coon has taken up residence in part of Presbyterian Manse; Kenneth McKay has opened up his tailoring business in front of dwelling occupied by Mr. Milton Neil and opposite Phillips' hardware store; Mrs. Hart has moved into the house lately occupied by Mrs. Dobson, on Ottawa street, until her home which was badly damaged by the fire and water, is repaired; Mr. McGregor, who conducted the bakery business, will commence at once to build and until then arrangements have been made to have bread supplied from Peterborough.

The other merchants as yet seem undecided, but in all probability the whole block will be built up again in a very short time. A number of the insurance agents were in town looking over the damage, but stated that the inspectors will not be around until the beginning of next week. The insurance agents did good business yesterday, as many who had no insurance on their homes or business had insurance put on, while others who had some, increased.

The remains of Mr. Denike were conveyed to their last resting place at Campbellford on Tuesday afternoon, services having been held at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Ed. Fennell, on King street, at one o'clock. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. J. A. G. Stirling, of town, and was largely attended by sorrowing friends and acquaintances, who paid their last respects to the memory of the departed. The many floral tributes received testify to the high esteem in which he was held.

Mrs. (Dr.) Denike, accompanied by her children, Jane and Dorothy, will go to her home at Cobourg, where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Armstrong are spending a week with friends up around Stony Lake.

Mrs. Jim Farmer, accompanied by her father, Mr. Neil Donnelly, left by midnight train Tuesday for her home in Brownville, N. Y., after a month's vacation at her home here.

Misses Georgie Falkner and Lillian Webb were in Norwood on Wednesday.

Mrs. Jas. Webb and daughter Pearl, who have been the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Graham for the past six weeks, left for their home in Parkdale, Toronto, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Thompson, of Calgary, Alberta, formerly a resident of Havelock, was a guest of Mr. Ed. Williams for a few days last week.

Mrs. E. Murphy is visiting with friends at Hamilton and Toronto.

Miss Stella Armstrong left on Thursday for an extended visit with friends at Muskoka and Toronto.

Mr. Fred Fenton, of Campbellford, visited friends in town Thursday. Mr. Fenton is camping at Treat Bridge.

Mr. Munro and Miss Munro, of Peterborough, were guests at the Armstrong House this week.

Mr. Weir, of Norwood, was in town on Thursday.

Misses Carmichael, of Toronto Junction, were the guests of Mrs. Charlie Powers on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. McWilliams and son, Clarence, of Marmora, were the guests of her daughter, Mrs. Clarke, of town on Thursday.

Mrs. Pearce, of Norwood, was the guest of Mrs. W. J. Boyd, on Tuesday.

Miss Mollie Johnson spent Wednesday at her home in Norwood.

Mrs. S. Walton returned home from Toronto, where she has been attending her daughter, who underwent an operation for appendicitis about two weeks ago.

Miss Lizzie Walton visited friends in Peterborough last week.

The junior football team journey to Marmora on Friday when they will play against the Marmora eleven.

Children's EYES

Need the most careful and persistent attention. Early headaches and other troubles frequently emanate from defective eyesight, which in itself, may have originated in early neglect of the eyes. The trouble is, parents seldom know their children's eyes are weak until it is too late.

School will be opened shortly, you had better bring your children to us, as we make a specialty of examining the eyes of the young and fitting them with the proper lenses.

REAL ESTATE BUSINESS IN REGINA

Mr. A. J. Gibson Forms Company—A Splendid Season

Mr. A. J. Gibson, real estate agent, Regina, in writing to a friend in this city, tells of business along his line during the past summer. Mr. Gibson has been very successful. Finding his work becoming too arduous for himself to handle, he formed a company known as A. J. Gibson & Co., in which he is the president and manager. The vice-president is Mr. J. R. Hicks, and the secretary-treasurer Mr. R. N. Weir. Their office is situated in the Black Block, Hamilton street.

He reports a good year in real estate, despite the general depression. Up to the present he has turned over $80,000 worth of business, which certainly denotes progress. The only difference from other years is that a person has to get out among the people and hustle.

A WAGE CASE HEARD IN POLICE COURT

M. Succee Must Pay $5.00 to Wm. Heal Says the Court

A wage case occupied the attention of the magistrate for some time at the police court to-day, Sam Heal, on behalf of his son, Wm. Heal, sought to recover from M. Succee, a market gardener, the sum of $6, which he claimed as balance of wages due him from the defendant.

Young Heal stated that he had worked five weeks for Succee, and that he was to be paid $2 per week, with no fixed term of service set. He had been paid $4 and claimed the balance. Succee claimed that he had hired the boy for three months at $6 per month, and that he had left without any notice. He did not think that he should pay any more wages.

The magistrate gave judgment in favour of the complainant for $5.

INJURED PLAYING ABOUT CAPSTAN

House Rolling Down Water Street to Wescott Street

A former Dublin street house is on a long journey. It is now rolling along the middle of Westcott stree, on its way down to Perry street. This morning, Norman Graham, a young lad who was playing around the capstan used to haul the building along, received an injury which might easily have proved more serious than it was. The start in the capstan suddenly loosened and swerving around struck him in the side, tearing his clothing as well as his flesh.

SCHOOL REOPENS ON TUESDAY

END OF THE SEASON

Mr. S. Hunter, Toronto World Cartoonist, who is summering at his cottage, "Pepacton," McCracken's Landing, has contributed the following to the Millbrook Mirror on the end of summer:—

The summer is about at an end.
The birds are taking wing.
We hear them overhead these bright cool August nights, calling to each other as they fly southward.

They are the early migrants from the far north, flycatchers, thrushes, Vireos, wood warblers. From Hudson Bay to South America is a far flight—and the Northern lights have been flashing the signal "It is time to go!" So the summer nests in muskeg and tuntra have been abandoned, gay feathers exchanged for sober ones of brown or grey or olive, and with untried fledglings they are once more hurrying southward for the winter.

They go also by boat, some of these northern summer "birds," the boating costumes and summer gowns moulted for dull tweeds or quiet travelling dresses. The shutters of summer cottages are shut to autumn sun and marauding chipmunk, the tea kettle finally emptied, wiped, and put away, the bait can shoved under the boat house. Back to offices, to schools, to the cares of home and pickling. The owl hoots derisively to-night over many a camp fire, grown suddenly cold and grey. No one is there to answer when he peers downward suddenly demanding "Who?" "Who?"

Though there has been many of the lakes this summer the season started late and has not been one of great profits to boarding houses or summer hotels. The fishing has been fairly good and the weather all that could be desired from a camper's point of view. It has been unusually dry, however, and trees and plant life in the woods and fields give evidence of the long continued drought.

Of the five thousand or more people who have camped, cottaged or boarded on these lakes this season the steamers will probably have taken up the return tickets of four thousand nine hundred before next week closes. Then shall the girlies and their summer swains in white ducks and variegated hats, finally disappear, and the camp fires which knew them shall know them no more for another year. Their place shall be taken by the man with the duck-gun and the decoys. He, too, shall have his brief day, and be followed by the man in search of deer and b'ar. He in turn shall be succeeded, like as in "the seven ages of man," by the bewhiskered trapper of pelts, who shall 'stay with the game' till the lakes and streams are frozen over. And the settler, as he draws in his ma'se bay will meaningly mark the spot of the old camp fire, and finally remark with the preacher "Vanity of vanities, what a 'durn lot of fools'."

Stony Lake, Aug. 24th. S. H.

BODY WAS MUTILATED HORRIBLY

Remains May Probably Arrive Here on Monday for Burial

According to a telegram received this morning by Mr. A. Comstock, the remains of the late Mr. George Young will arrive here about Monday. The telegram was briefly ut intimated that the body of the young man was horribly mutilated in the accident. The report that he was attempting to board a moving train at Brandon was probably correct.

The remains when picked up could scarcely be identified, the head being practically severed from the body.

FLAGMAN LOCATED AT REID STREET CROSSING

The Grand Trunk this week placed a flagman on the Reid street crossing to look after the safety of the traffic, according to the recent order of the Railway Commission. Mr. John Londry is temporarily looking after the work.

Up to the present no steps, so far as is known, have been taken to protect persons crossing the C. P. R. tracks on Aylmer street, which was also ordered.

INDIANS ARE RESTLESS IN THE WEST

Band at Kamloops Threaten to Go on Warpath.

FEAR LOSS OF PRIVILEGES

They Are Afraid Fishing Rights Are to Be Taken From Them and Are Now Beyond Control of Local Authorities — Two Chiefs Rescued From Jail—Supt. Hussey Hurries to the Scene.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 28.—One hundred Indians at Salmon Arm, just south of Kamloops, are threatening to go on the warpath, fearing that they are about to have their fishing rights taken away from them. Superintendent Hussey of the provincial police left last evening for the scene, the local authorities stating that it has got beyond their control. The situation is a serious one.

On Wednesday two Indian chiefs were summoned by the Dominion Government fishery authorities for setting fish traps illegally. They were convicted and sentenced to pay a small fine. A band of fifty Indians swept down on the court house, rescued the chiefs, and made off with them.

Constable Fernie at Kamloops was despatched to the scene, but he reported that the Indians were very uneasy. Chief Hussey has received instructions to assuage the passions of the red men by peaceful measures if possible, but to bring them to terms if they will not prove amenable.

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 28.—In a public proclamation issued yesterday from the summer capital, Governor Ford declares that unless the excise law is observed in Atlantic City, which he calls a "saturnalia of vice," next Sunday, and all saloons and cafes closed tightly he will call an extraordinary session of the grand jury and may send the New Jersey state troops to the famous resort, declaring the city to be under martial law.

Huber Must Sign.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Mayor Huber of Berlin must sign the power contract adopted by the Town Council there with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

The mayor's objections were understood to be personal in connection with the town solicitor and other officials. Justice Latchford issued a mandamus yesterday at Osgoode Hall to compel him to do the will of the council.

Victim of Black Hand.

New York, Aug. 28.—Ciro Bivono, who conducts a grocery store on First avenue, was shot and fatally wounded on his doorstep after talking with alleged Black Hand men. At Bellevue Hospital Bivono identified an Italian as one of the men who had fired upon him, but later said he had never seen him before. His wife, however, said he was the man who had shot her husband.

HON. MR. GIBSON'S NEW POSITION

Hamilton Man to Be New Lieut.-Governor of Ontario.

IN HARNESS FOR 29 YEARS

Former Attorney-General Entered the Legislature in 1879—Appointment Is Not Yet Gazetted So Col. Gibson Will Not Discuss It, But He Does Not Deny Report—Held Three Provincial Portfolios.

Hamilton, Aug. 28.—The rumor of the appointment of Col. J. M. Gibson as Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario has been confirmed. When asked last evening about the report Col. Gibson said he could not discuss the matter, because he had not yet received official notification of his appointment. His colleagues, however, make no secret of the fact that the colonel is preparing to sever his official connections with the company.

EX-ATTY.-GEN. GIBSON.
Who Will Succeed Sir William Mortimer Clark.

the Township of Toronto on New Year's Day, 1842; had an excellent career at the university and the law school and entered the practice of law in Hamilton. From 1860-1895 he was an active member of the militia, retiring as colonel of the 13th Regiment. His connection with rifle shooting has been very prominent. As a young man he was secretary of the Hamilton Reform Association; and was elected to the Legislature in 1879. He was in various Cabinets as Provincial Secretary, Commissioner of Crown Lands, and finally as Attorney-General. He is a good entertainer.

Game Was Failure.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 28.—John Miller was arrested yesterday charged with having written a letter to John Bain, a grocer, in "Black Hand" style. Main was told to place $200 at the corner of his barn, or he and the store would be blown up. With a policeman Main waited until Miller came along Wednesday night after dark and commenced looking over the ground with the aid of a match.

Neepawah Abandoned.

Collingwood, Aug. 28.—The steamer Neepawah has been abandoned to the underwriters. She grounded recently on the shoal near Otter Head, Lake Superior.

The steamer Neepawah was practically a new boat, having been on the lakes but a few years, and was one of the Suez Canal freighters brought to this country from England. Her value was about $100,000.

Emetic Proves Fatal.

Espanola, Ont., Aug. 28.—Smothered with mustard and water is the verdict of the coroner's jury empanelled to investigate the mysterious death of Mary Carriers, caused by mustard and water administered by a member of the household under the belief that the unfortunate girl had taken poison. The jury held all persons blameless.

It appeared that the girl had been brooding over disagreeable circumstances through which she had passed not long ago; and this was what prompted the belief that she had taken poison, when she was discovered in an unconscious state by a member of the priest's household in which she was employed.

Slept With the Dead.

New York, Aug. 28.—Driven from the city parks and streets by the storm, 200 homeless men and women Wednesday night sought shelter in the city morgue, at the foot of East 26th street. During the height of the storm such numbers applied for shelter that officials opened the morgue to the homeless. Some, when they learned that they would be obliged to sleep in the same building with the dead, turned back into the night and the storm, but others, not so superstitious, slept soundly.

Big Fire at Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Aug. 28.—Fire at Lake Superior Corporation yards yesterday afternoon resulted in loss of about $100,000. It started in the lumber yards near the saw mill and destroyed about 3,500,000 feet, estimated to cost $30 per thousand. The lumber was owned by Miller & McCool, the Algoma Commercial Co., and the Saginaw Lumber Co.

Says Annis Boasted.

New York, Aug. 28.—The name of a hitherto mysterious witness who had represented himself as ready to testify to having heard W. B. Annis boast of his conquest of Mrs. Peter C. Hains, wife of Capt. Hains, was revealed last night. He is C. A. Curtis of Princetown, N. J., and Washington, D. C.

SOUTHERN STATES IN GRIP OF FLOODS

Fifteen Dead in Augusta, Ga., and Many Missing.

DAMAGE NEARLY A MILLION

This Estimate of Losses in Stricken City Takes No Account of Ruin in Surrounding District — Water Is Subsiding and Communication Is Restored—Water, Five Feet Deep, Sweeps Through City.

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 28.—The flood waters at Augusta began receding yesterday afternoon. They reached the height of forty feet, probably as high as the flood of 1888, which caused damages amounting to one million dollars.

Rain has ceased in the upper valley, and there is no danger of further losses. The damage is approximately $750,000 to $1,000,000.

The loss to farms, farm lands, crops and live stock in the valley is not included in this estimate. The bottom, cotton and swamp corn, an immense annual production, is ruined.

Thousands of mill operatives will be idle for several months.

While the flood was at its height five fires broke out, adding to a night of terror.

There have been ten to fifteen drownings, mostly of negro laborers.

Last night was a night of tension. Reports of whole families being missing are being repeated from month to mouth. The Chronicle (morning) got out its Thursday edition in a breviated form at 9 p. m.

The Herald (afternoon) could not publish Wednesday or Thursday.

From 4 to 6 feet of water was the guage on the principal streets. In different sections of the city it is reported that many spent the night in trees, as they could not find their way through the torrent of water, which has been estimated as rushing through the city at the rate of twenty miles an hour.

Boat owners, quick to see their opportunity, have charged exorbitant prices for moving those unfortunate enough to be caught.

Baby Run Over.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Rosa Williams, aged 19 months, died yesterday as the result of injuries received by being run over by a junk wagon while playing in front of her home with her 12-year-old sister, Lola.

The driver, Joseph Turner, swerved his horse to avoid running over the older girl and the horse placed its foot on the little one's spine.

She was attended by Dr. Conboy and removed to the hospital by the police ambulance, where she died 20 minutes after her entry.

Teacher Starts Run on Bank.

Berlin, Aug. 28.—There were most exciting scenes around the Friedrichberger Bank in the eastern district of Berlin in consequence of rumors that the institution was in difficulties.

The rumor of the bank's difficulties was set on foot by a school teacher who, during lessons, advised his pupils to inform their parents that the bank was insolvent.

A warrant is out for his arrest.

Brave Boy Saves Two.

Ingersoll, Ont., Aug. 28.—Harry Cline, the 13-year-old son of W. A. Cline of this town, is a hero.

While swimming across the Thames river, east of here, with his 8-year-old son, Melvin, on his back, Harry's father was seized with a cramp.

Harry, who was on the bank, stripped off his clothing, and diving, rescued both father and brother from fifteen feet of water.

Russell Sage's Fortune.

This fact became known yesterday for the first time through the signing of the order for the transfer tax payable to the state.

Of this amount Mrs. Sage's share under the terms of the will left by her husband, who died July 22, 1906, is $63,000,000.

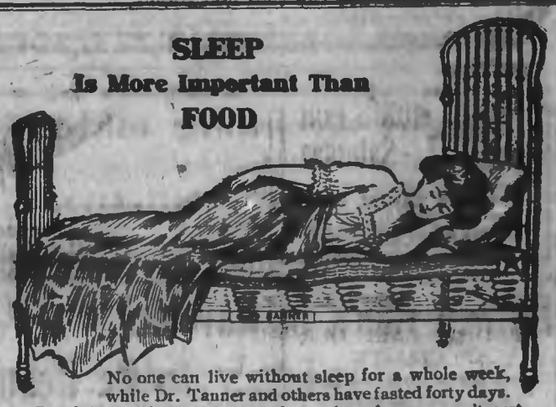
SLEEP

Is More Important Than

FOOD



No one can live without sleep for a whole week, while Dr. Tanner and others have fasted forty days.

Restful sleep is necessary to do good work—you can't rest in a hammock, or on a spring bed that sags to the centre—your body should be supported throughout, and yet be on a level surface, which yields to every move.

A "Star" Felt Mattress and a "Banner" Spring fill this bill exactly—will give you comfort and rest—will prevent that tired feeling next morning.

The two cost less than a cheap hair mattress, and are good for an ordinary lifetime—no cleaning—no repairs.
